CHICAGO'S GREAT GRIEF.

The City Overwhelmed With Sorrow and Shame.

Universal Mourning for the Murdered Mayor.

The Assassin Shows No Sign of Regret for His Crime.

He Simply Claims That He Did His Duty—Numerous Tokens and Messages of Sympathy—The Funeral Arrangements.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Chicago today is overwhelmed with sorrow and shame. Her citizens mourn for the man who stood closer to the people's heart than any other who has lived or died within her boundaries, or has been in any way connected with the city's growth and progress. The feeling of shame is that just at the close of the greatest and most glorious period of her municipal history; just at the dawn of a brighter period than she ever before experienced, the dark crime of murder should leave a red blot on her record. From all ranks and conditions of men there comes but one voice, and it is that of grief. Carter Harrison was without doubt the most popular man among the residents of Chicago. He had more of the spirit of audacity, endurance and activity characteristic of Chicago, than any other man. The feeling of sorrow is not stronger than the mortified civic pride which burdens them down. There may be for Chicago days of greater pride or higher glory than she has yet beheld; there can never be a day of greater grief or more poignant sorrow.

The remains of Mr. Harrison lay all day in the room which was always occupied by him as a sleeping apartment. Late this afternoon a death mask was executed, and the result is said to be a most life-like representation. Tomorrow the body will be made ready for lying in state at the city hall.

THE CORONER'S INQUEST.

The inquest on the body of Mayor Harrison was held today at his late residence. Except for a technical description of the wounds, but little new information was elicited. The verdict was in accordance with the facts, and recommended that Prandergast be held for murder until discharged by due process of law. Prandergast was present at the inquest, and maintained stolid indifference, except when attracted by the presence of Mrs. Chalmers. He asked if she was Mrs. Harrison, and said he wanted to tell her he was sorry for her trouble.

The Harrison residence was thronged with sorrowing friends all day, and the sidewalks in the vicinity were impassable. The members of the family bore up bravely under the terrible affliction, the real significance of which could hardly be realized by them. Miss Howard, the late mayor's fiancée, although prostrated by the shock, rested quietly during the day.

TOKENS OF SYMPATHY.

Telegrams and letters of sympathy in great numbers were received from public and private friends of the late mayor in various parts of the country. Secretary of State Gresham telegraphed from Washington his sympathy.

At the request of Mrs. Potter Palmer, the reception in her honor by the national commissioners, to be given tomorrow evening, has been postponed indefinitely on account of the tragic death of the mayor. The farewell reception to the French commissioners has also been postponed. The number of societies that held meetings today to take action in the death of the mayor is legion, and the family is literally overwhelmed with copies of resolutions of sympathy adopted.

Ex-President Harrison telegraphed from Indianapolis: "My daughter joins me in offering the fullest sympathy in your appalling sorrow."

Messages of condolence were received from Henry Irving and the Japanese commissioners to the fair.

FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS.

The arrangements for the funeral of the murdered man will not be made until after the special meeting of the city council tomorrow. It, however, has been decided that the obsequies will take place Wednesday. Mayor Harrison's body will lie in state at least one day in the city hall. The active pallbearers will be eight police captains. The honorary pallbearers include Hon. Thomas W. Palmer, H. N. Higginbotham, Gen. Nelson A. Miles, ex-Governor Oglesby, Judge Trumbull, Gen. Fitzsimons, P. D. Armour, ex-Mayors Roehbe, Medill and Washburne.

EVIDENCES OF SORROW.

Seldom has anything awakened such deep sorrow among the residents of Chicago as the death of Mr. Harrison. The most signal evidence of sorrow will be the absence of all festivities at the fair tomorrow. Director-general Davis has issued general orders announcing that the ceremonies scheduled for tomorrow in connection with the closing of the exposition will be wholly dispensed with, and the public requested to assemble in Festival hall at 1 o'clock to take suitable action on the death of the mayor. It is further ordered that the flags upon all the buildings within the grounds shall remain at half mast.

THE MURDERER'S CELL.

Prandergast, Harrison's murderer, is now lodged in a cell at the county jail. He still sticks to the story that he killed the mayor for no other reason than that he was not made corporation counsel, and insists that he had entire right to do as he did. The cell in which Prandergast is lodged is the one in which Louis Lingg, the anarchist, and Dr. Souder committed suicide.

HE DID HIS DUTY.

When Prandergast was lodged in the county jail he was not disposed to talk, but asked to see the papers. They were handed him, but the local pages containing the story of his crime were not given him, and he quickly asked for an account of the murder. He read it in a mechanical manner and then said: "I did my duty."

"Did Harrison say anything to you when you met him in the house?" was asked.

"No, I drew my revolver and fired. At the first shot Harrison shouted 'murder,' but I did not hear him say anything else."

Oscar D. Withers, city comptroller of Chicago, who, by the death of Mayor Harrison, becomes acting mayor, is a Republican. He is a native of New Hampshire, but removed to Chicago many years ago and became a prominent lumberman. Something like 12 years ago he was elected to the city council of Chicago, and served for at least two terms as chairman of the finance committee. Three years ago he was elected president of the Globe National bank, and last spring, on Harrison's election, Mr. Withers was appointed comptroller. He is about 60 years of age.

COURAGE OF THE MOORS

It Amazes the Legions of Proud Old Spain.

Spanish Soldiers Driven Before the Moorish Mob.

Desperate Fighting in the Trenches About Melilla.

The Death of the Spanish Commander Has Created a Sensation—The War to Be Prosecuted on a Large Scale.

By the Associated Press. MADRID, Oct. 29.—The battle yesterday and Friday night about the trenches before Melilla, and which, as exclusively cabled to the Associated Press, resulted in the death of General Margallo, who commanded the Spanish troops, caused a profound sensation here. The Spaniards were amazed at the courage shown by the Moors. In the face of a terrible fire the Moors charged recklessly, driving the Spaniards before them and cutting the telephone and telegraph wires. The Moors again attacked with the intention of cutting off the retreat of the Spaniards. The movement would undoubtedly have been successful had it not been for the skillful manner in which the gains of the Spanish warship Venancio were handled. The Spaniards retreated inside the forts.

CARNAGE IN THE TRENCHES.

The Moors, regardless of danger, succeeded in entering the Spanish trenches and capturing two modern field pieces and a supply of ammunition. But the Moors, unable to withstand the attack of cold steel in the hands of the Spanish soldiers, began to retreat. The Spaniards directed an attack against the Moors, who recaptured the two guns which the Moors had been using freely against the forts and warships. Nothing seemed to stand before the charge of the Batemadur regiment and a battalion of soldiers undergoing punishment for breaches of military law. They pressed onward, beyond the Moors who made any stand, and managed to recover the two field pieces.

A HAND TO HAND CONFLICT.

During the panic which followed the death of General Margallo, the Moors succeeded in carrying off the body of the Spanish commander, and it was this more than anything which enabled the Spanish officers to rally their men and make the charge which drove the Moors from the trenches. During the rush toward the Spanish troops, a detachment of them pursued the Moors who were carrying away the general's body, and after a desperate hand to hand conflict the Spaniards succeeded in recovering the body of their late commander, and eventually escorted it into Melilla.

REINFORCEMENTS NEEDED.

No systematic pursuit of the Moors was attempted, owing to the insufficient force of soldiers at Fort Carabizas, but it is understood General Ortega is making preparations to take terrible vengeance upon the Moors for the death of General Margallo when he has enough men under his command to make a movement in force enough to chastise the Moors.

When a steamer brought the above details of the battle to Malaga, firing was still proceeding, and it is reported the Moors made another attack upon the Spanish troops. General Ortega is known to have sent an urgent dispatch asking for reinforcements and expressing his inability to do any more than hold his own unless reinforced by a large body of troops.

WAR ON A LARGE SCALE.

Spain is now making war preparations on a very large scale, which will tax the resources of the government to the utmost. There was a monster demonstration here today. Crowds were parading the streets, bearing banners and singing patriotic songs and doing everything possible to urge the government to hurry reinforcements to Melilla in order that the loss suffered by the Spaniards may be promptly avenged.

FIGHTING CONTINUED.

Additional dispatches received this evening say the fighting continued today, and it is rumored there has been serious loss of life. The situation of the Spaniards is said to be growing desperate. General Campos, commander-in-chief of the Spanish forces, advised the government to promptly issue an order for the mobilization of all the reserve troops in Spain. A crowd of people, excited by the rumors in circulation, made an attack upon the civil governor at Puerto del Sol, causing the governor to take refuge in the bureau of the minister of the interior, where the men at the door were severely beaten by the angry crowd.

Redmond's Declaration.

DUBLIN, Oct. 29.—In a speech today John Redmond, Parnellite leader, declared the parliamentary session of 1894 should be devoted to English legislation, and said the Parnellites would support the government upon the condition that one week of the Autumn session be devoted to the evicted tenants bill and registration bill providing for elections every where on the same day.

SPEZIA, Oct. 29.—The British squadron left today for Gibraltar. Enormous and enthusiastic crowds bade farewell to the British sailors.

Toulon, Oct. 29.—The Russian squadron left at 2 p. m. today. The departure was witnessed by immense crowds of people. The French warships manned their yards and exchanged salutes with the visitors.

A Statue of La Salle.

PARIS, Oct. 29.—A dispatch from Lunenburg says General Loiselvon, minister of war, presided today at the unveiling of the statue of La Salle.

RIOTING IN LIMA.

Disgraceful Scenes Unchecked in the Capital of Peru.

New York, Oct. 29.—The Herald's Lima, Peru, special says: Disgraceful rioting here still goes on unoppressed by the police. A group of Cassariens entered through the various streets of the city last night shouting: "Long live Cacares and death to congress," abusing persons whom they met and flourishing revolvers. The police did not interfere with the demonstration in any way. Another gang attacked the office of the newspaper Commercial, which is opposed to Cacares, and began shouting through the windows and doors at the employees.

LIMA, Oct. 29.—There is no disturbance here, though considerable excitement, and the resignation of the cabinet is regarded certain. Dr. Oalcare will enter into a contest for the presidency.

VIEWED THE WRECK.

Ten Thousand Excursionists to See the Stranded City of New York.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 29.—Nearly 10,000 people in excursion boats went out to Point Bonita this afternoon to view the wreck of the steamer City of New York. The wind was light, the ocean smooth and the vessel resting easily. Wreckers were busy, however, stripping her. Heavy pumps will be put to work at low tide tonight and a final effort made to float the wreck, though there is a bare possibility, only, of success.

NO MONEY TO GO HOME.

A Whateam Man Societes at Terre Haute, Ind.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Oct. 29.—A Maier, of Whateam, Wash., committed suicide at the Germania hotel here yesterday by taking morphine. A note written in German was found, saying: "All the money I had I was robbed of at Chicago, and I have no means to take me home. This makes me take this step. Long life to all."

Thirty-four cents in a photograph of a young bride couple taken at Cincinnati, Ohio, were found on his person.

MR. RILEY IN TROUBLE.

A Large Drygoods Importer Arrested for Customs Frauds.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—W. H. Riley, senior member of the large drygoods importing house of W. H. Riley & Co. of New York and Paris was arrested today, charged with entering imported goods at custom houses by means of false invoices at a valuation far below the worth of the goods. The amount of which the customs authorities have been defrauded is said to run far into the thousands.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 29.—A special to the Sentinel from Lebanon, Ind., says: The jury in the Wessner murder case brought in a verdict of acquittal at 2 o'clock this morning, and James C. Brown was declared a free man.

A WRETCHED SYSTEM.

DISCONTENT OVER THE SUFFRAGE IN PRUSSIA.

Elections for Members to the Lower House of the Diet on Deck—The Social Democrats Refrain from Voting.

[Copyrighted by the Associated Press.] BERLIN, Oct. 29.—Tuesday the election of "wahlmann" takes place, who elect deputies to the new lower house of the Prussian diet. The fact that the electoral system of Prussia is based on a property qualification and indirect suffrage accounts for the interest taken in the election being reduced to the minimum. Since the opening of the campaign the Radical organs have shown a feeling of antagonism against each other, and should the quarrel continue the result will probably be the wing of the Radical party will be the gainers against the candidates put forward by the section of the party presided over by Herr Richter. The Social Democratic party has decided, as usual, upon taking no part in the election, in view of the present "wretched electoral system," as they describe it.

The mare was valued at $15,000. The Atna stables' string of 12 horses, including Rudolph and McBeth, arrived at the track this morning from Louisville.

VOORHEES' CALCULATIONS

The Repeal Bill Will Pass the Senate Today.

It Will Have a Majority of Ten or Eleven Votes.

No Time Will Be Lost in Rushing It Through the House.

The Special Session of Congress Will Probably Be at an End by Thursday—General News Gleanings.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—If Senator Voorhees' calculations do not miscarry, the repeal bill will be disposed of by the senate tomorrow. There will be a few more speeches, and the amendments will all probably be voted down, after which a vote on the main question will be taken. The bill will be passed by a majority of 10, or possibly 11 votes, and the long contest ended.

If the house should lose any time in disposing of the repeal bill, the senate has quite a large calendar upon which it can draw for material.

It is probable that the senate during the week will dispose of the house bill extending the time in which Chinese laborers may be allowed to register. The probabilities are that after the repeal and Chinese bills are out of the way, the time will be devoted to private bills and other measures of minor importance. There will also be an effort to clear up executive business.

The senators are counting upon an adjournment or recess by Thursday. Prominent members of the house after disposing of the repeal bill one day after receiving it. When the repeal bill comes to the house tomorrow or Tuesday, if the unexpected does not happen, Wilson will be recognized to move concurrence in the senate amendment. If the silver men show a disposition to filibuster, a rule will be brought in by the committee on rules, that will force a vote, a few hours may be allowed before the previous question calling off all debate. The repeal men expect 200 members present when the bill comes to a vote.

MURDER WILL OUT.

A Number of Arrests for a Fatal Crime at Martinez, Cal.

MARTINEZ, Cal., Oct. 29.—On the morning of October 16th the body of John J. Maloney was found lying beside the railroad track two miles from Cornwall station, with his skull cut in two, and every evidence of having been killed by a passing train. Upon examination of the body, however, a bullet hole was found in the skull, which led to the suspicion that the man had been murdered. The testimony before the coroner's jury strengthened the suspicion, and the jury returned a verdict of murder by parties unknown. Yesterday the sheriff caused the arrest of Richard Yates, keeper of a saloon where Maloney was last seen alive, and James Madden, John Smith, John Casey, G. A. Cunningham, J. Devry, John Donela and John Walsh, section men employed on the Cornwall section of the Southern Pacific railroad at the scene of the murder. They were brought to Martinez and are now lodged in the county jail. Their preliminary examination will be held on Wednesday next, and the officers are quite confident the guilty ones will be held to answer before the superior court.

QUIRINAL AND VATICAN.

Rampoli's Policy Opposed by Other Influential Cardinals.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—A correspondent to the Standard in Rome says Cardinal Rampoli, having learned that several influential cardinals urged upon Pope Leo the expediency of a change in the policy of the vatican to one less hostile to the Italian government, requested leave to resign his office as secretary of state to his holiness. The French ambassador at the vatican, hearing of this, had a private audience with the pope. The pope afterward summoned Cardinal Rampoli and told him he could not accede to his request. The Standard's correspondent, is much impressed by the discontent of the cardinals.
