

PASADENA.

A Curious Case of Insanity from Bad Medical Treatment—Local Affairs. PASADENA, Nov. 9.—Upon a warrant issued from Justice Lawrence's court this morning Geo. J. Dalton of North Pasadena was taken before the supreme court at Los Angeles this afternoon to be examined upon the charge of insanity.

The board found that the man was the victim of malpractice, from the effects of which he had lost his reason. The case promises to develop into quite an important affair before it gets through. As will be seen from the decision of the board of examiners, there are excellent grounds for a civil case against the physician who had the case in charge.

FOR TEARING OF THE STREET. Mr. E. S. Frost was arrested this morning upon complaint of Street Superintendent Brown, charging him with a misdemeanor in tearing up the public street in front of his property on East Colorado street, without having obtained a permit to do so from the office of the street superintendent.

The case was called in Recorder Koster's court this afternoon, and upon request of defendant was set for Tuesday next at 10 a. m. Mr. Frost was digging a ditch for the purpose of putting in some new water pipe, and had no intention of violating the law. It seems under the circumstances that more zeal than necessary was exhibited by the officer, as it has long been the custom to make these small improvements without going to the trouble of obtaining permits.

There is a lively complaint all along the line from our merchants over making them clean the sidewalk of everything in the shape of a display of goods. It is claimed that with such season, the proper display of wares, even if a small portion of the sidewalk is used, helps much the appearance of our business streets, while it affords many merchants their only opportunity for showing goods. While the privilege of using the sidewalk has doubtless been abused in many cases, it seems that if the displays are kept in reasonable bounds there would be no complaint from the public, and our merchants would be given a much better show.

STREET PAVING FIGHT. Two men employed on the street paving work got into a lively fight this afternoon over some dispute which arose between them and furnished considerable amusement for the crowd of bystanders, until they were collared by a policeman and marched off to the lock-up. Later they were arraigned before Justice Lawrence, where they gave the names of Jack McOutchen and Terry Conley. The trial will be heard tomorrow. Meanwhile the paving will have to struggle along without their valuable assistance.

NOTES. Another balloon ascension is talked of for Saturday. The overland has been arriving promptly on time for the past few days.

Those who fail to hear the concert in the Universalist church tomorrow, Friday evening, will miss a rare musical treat. A large audience is assured. Orange growers should not fail to attend the meeting called for Friday afternoon at the board of trade rooms, when the local organization will be completed. It is important that there be no farther delay.

The students of Throp Polytechnic Institute have formed a football team in addition to the athletic club which was mentioned in yesterday's HERALD. The club has not yet fully organized, but Mr. Smith has been chosen captain, and Mr. Ferguson business manager. The club has been organized under the Southern California Inter-collegiate association, and will participate in the meets of this organization, which includes all college football teams in this section of the state.

Antoniating Fact. SUFFERED BY COMPARATIVELY FEW.—Things that embody the most truth are frequently among the last to be recognized. Incredibly as it may seem one in four have a weak or diseased heart, the early symptoms of which are, short breath, oppression, faint and hungry spells, fluttering, pain in left side, smothering, swollen ankles, dropsy, wind in stomach, etc. Levi Jones, Buchanan, Mich., suffered from heart disease 30 years. SANTA ANA.

The New Street Car Motor—Local Affairs—Orange Notes. SANTA ANA, Nov. 9.—Your correspondent was invited to visit the new Hoskins "cheap motor" that was mentioned in the Herald a few days ago, and see the machine work. We are somewhat of a machinist ourselves, and it does seem to us as though this new invention is one of the most wonderful pieces of mechanism ever invented.

What the inventors claim is this: They have beyond a doubt demonstrated that they can get from a one-horse power engine at least five-horse power, which would, at the very least calculation, save four-fifths of all fuel used for power purposes. This would be a grand thing for Southern California.

We may expect in the near future to hear more of this invention and the inventors. Alizandro Bivelno, the Spaniard who was nearly suffocated in jail yesterday, was brought before Acting City Recorder C. W. Humphrey, charged with holding a cell key and instead of returning it selling it and filling up with "forty rods" on the proceeds. He became very boisterous, and Special Officer A. C. Custico arrested him. Judge Humphrey fined him $20 or 10 days in jail. The former he and not, so the latter was Hobson's choice.

A good investment in Santa Ana is for some one to build some good rentable houses, as they are in great demand just now and will be for some time to come. S. H. Purcell was called to Los Angeles this afternoon on important business. He will be absent till tomorrow. Adam Foster negotiated the sale of a house and lot on the corner of Bush and Third streets today.

The Old Plaza hotel has been leased by the city authorities and will hereafter be known as the city hall. The southern room is being fitted up for a library and reading room and the books will soon be on the shelves in the new quarters.

Mrs. G. W. Vance arrived home on Friday from a visit to her daughter, Mrs. W. F. Link, Kirksville, Mo., and other relatives in the east. She arrived in time to be present at the first anniversary of the birth of her little grandson, George, which was celebrated on Saturday.

A 12-year-old lad named Bohem, living with Mr. Charles Harter, was kicked by a horse on Thursday last week and his jaw smashed in. The wound was a very painful one, the bones of the jaw being driven into the roof of the mouth. Dr. W. B. Wood attended to his injuries and the lad is doing as well as can be expected under the circumstances.

The work on the river on the section west of Orange is not making very rapid progress. The bank of sand forming the foundation of the dike is in place, about 100 yards of the brush and stone facing at the northeast end completed and about 200 yards partially covered. The dike will be about one-third of a mile long. The driving of piles for the first wing dam, which is being located about 100 yards below the Santa Fe bridge, is completed. Eight such wing dams will be put between the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific bridges. The delay experienced is caused by the non-arrival of brush and rock.

A Widely Prevalent Malady

While it is perfectly true that swamp vapors, morning and evening mists along the banks of slow winding turbid streams, and the effluvia exhaled by the sun from moist and decaying vegetable boges malaria, it frequently breaks out where no such conditions exist. It is, in fact, a malarial fever prevalent of which it is in many cases impossible to discover the origin. But though its causes are often obscure, the testimony, professional and public of the inhabitants of the banks of other lands, leave no reasonable doubt; not only that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters uproots this insidious disease when fully developed, but fortifies the system against its first attacks. Chills and fever, bilious intermittents, Liver trouble, always present in malarial disease, dyspepsia, constipation and kidney complaint succumb to the Bitters.

POMONA.

President Baldwin's Great Scheme of an Electric Road.

POMONA, Nov. 9.—There is quite a feeling of assurance among the greater portion of our live business men and progressive ranchers that the interest taken in, and the proposition touching, an electric system of railways by President Baldwin of Pomona college, looking to the linking together of Claremont, Ontario, Chino, and possibly Lodeburg and Spada, with Pomona as the central figure, and by him out before our people, through the board of trade, in detail, will be apt to take a well-developed, tangible form; and by his aid and the efforts of the committee, Messrs. Stein, Baldwin, Bassett, Hanson, King and Gird, appointed by the board of trade, will before the expiration of many months, be in existence.

It is, beyond any discussion, a thing to be desired, and when consummated could not but prove an actual benefit as well as convenience to every inhabitant within the valley, and especially to Pomona, as the central point.

President Baldwin is well enough known to this entire community to emphasize in its mind any project that he suggests as probable and practicable. The late Mr. Richard Mason, an invalid of about 70 years of age, who has been known for several years past to almost every one as he wheeled along in his rolling chair, passed away this morning from heart failure. The funeral takes place from the Baptist church at 2 p. m. tomorrow, Rev. E. R. Bennett officiating.

The two old landmark trees, set out by Mr. L. D. Conner 17 years ago, that we mentioned as being cut down the other day, turned out five cords of good wood. Pretty good that for two eucalyptus yard trees.

Mr. Harry M. Martin and family returned this afternoon from their trip east. Mrs. Macey is expected tomorrow.

The front of the Newman building, on Second street, is to be remodeled. Her friends will be glad to learn that Mrs. H. G. Estel has just returned from her extended eastern tour, and that she is in very good health.

The session of the Congregational association will end its labors this evening, according to the program published. The corner of Second and Louisa streets seems to be undergoing preliminary preparations for nursery stock.

The Republicans Ratified McKinley's Election Last Evening.

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 9.—The Republicans will meet this evening in front of the hall of records, on Court street, and celebrate their victory of last Tuesday in the east. No formal programme has been prepared, but the meeting is expected to be the spontaneous expression of sentiment. A salute in honor of the election of McKinley as governor of Ohio and the probability of his being the selection of the Republican convention as a candidate for the presidency will be fired. Impromptu addresses will conclude the programme. Should the weather be unfavorable Manager Menzel has kindly offered to donate the use of the opera house for the occasion. A large crowd is expected to be present.

SANTA MONICA.

A Wanton Killing of Sea Birds Which Should be Stopped.

SANTA MONICA, Nov. 9.—The hot baths at the North Beach bath house seem to be the Mecca for those suffering with la grippe and nervous troubles who come down daily on the trains for the express purpose of taking a hot ocean water bath. The curative qualities of which have gained a well earned reputation. Today they are a luxury.

A number of young men have recently made it a practice of shooting from the old wharf and beach at the coots, etc., in the bay near shore wounding many who linger in their sufferings several days before dying a miserable death. It is a wanton taking of life which should be put a stop to, especially when there is an ordinance with a $10 fine attached against shooting inside of the city limits. The coots, pelicans, etc., are beach scavengers and should be protected instead of destroyed.

Among the recent arrivals at the Hotel Arcadia are George Gregg, W. C. Van Arsdale, Los Angeles; Miss N. F. Bennett, Miss Scofield, Hotel Westminster; Reginald M. DOWNY.

DOWNY, Nov. 9.—At last Downy wakes up and sees a creamery about to be planted in our midst. The engine is here and the lumber at the station, and things will be in motion as soon as the building can be erected.

Now that will be one of our wants supplied, what more do we need? Downy is now agitated and talked over before our next crop of lemons comes on and we should talk fast, as we need lots of time to get the people to see and act.

Our orange men are now beginning to put a scheme on foot to not only the middle class of the fruit producers, but put their own men in the forefront of production and get a living price for their production. Another orange meeting will be held next Saturday, and then a set of laws and regulations will be offered suited to their needs and protection.

The Streets Lighted—Local News and Personal Notes.

LONG BEACH, Nov. 9.—Tuesday evening our new street lamps were all lighted for the first time, and, while not equal to the electric, are a great improvement over the old style, every man his own lantern bearer when obliged by business to be out after dark.

RIVERSIDE.

Raisin Makers Out of Luck—A Big Orange Crop.

RIVERSIDE, Nov. 9.—The raisin crop is moving very slowly. A few carloads have been packed and shipped, while the greater portion of the crop is still in the packing houses.

Only two packing houses are employing hands at present, and it looks as if the packing was going to be very late this season. Of late the weather has been very undesirable for drying and the growers are experiencing considerable difficulty in bringing raisins to a desirable state.

This state of affairs causes considerable loss, not to say anything of the extra expense to the growers. The orange crop is doing nicely and bids fair to be a very large crop. The navels seem to be maturing the latest.

Dr. J. W. Perry and J. H. McCanna, of Perris, were in town yesterday.

THE DEATH OF THE EARTH.

It Will Be Occasioned by the Gradual Extinction of the Sun.

M. Camille Flammarion says that in all probability, notwithstanding all the circumstances which threaten it, our planet will die, not of an accident, but of a natural death. That death will be the consequence of the extinction of the sun, in 80,000,000 years or more—perhaps 30,000,000—since its condensation in a relatively moderate rate will give it on one hand 47,000,000 years of existence, while on the other hand, the inevitable fall of the meteors into the sun may double this number.

Even if you suppose the duration of the sun to be prolonged to 40,000,000 years, it is still inconceivable that the radiation from the sun cools it, and that the temperature of all the bodies tends to an equilibrium. Then the earth and all the other planets of our system will cease to be the abode of life. They will be erased from the great book and will revolve, black cemetaries, around an extinguished sun.

Will these planets continue to exist even then? Yes, probably in the case of Jupiter, and perhaps Saturn? No, beyond a doubt, for the small bodies such as the earth, Venus, Mars, Mercury and the moon. Already the moon appears to have preceded us toward the final death. Mars is much farther advanced than the earth to the same destiny. Venus, younger than us, will doubtless survive us. This little world loses their elements of vitality much faster than the sun loses its heat.

From century to century, from year to year, from day to day, from hour to hour, the surface of the earth is transformed. On the one hand the continents are crumbling away and becoming covered by the sea, which insensibly and slowly degrees tends to invade and submerge the entire globe. On the other hand, the amount of water on the globe is diminishing. A careful and reasonable calculation shows that by the action of erosion alone all the land on our planet will be covered by water in 10,000,000 years.

Bronze Powder Making. Nearly a hundred establishments are engaged in the manufacture of bronze powder in and near the cities of Furth and Nuremberg, Germany. It is composed of copper, tin, zinc and antimony melted in proper proportions and cast first into rods of half an inch in diameter and about three feet long, these rods being rolled until about two inches wide and then cut into suitable lengths for hammering. The pieces go to the hammers, where they are broken into a very small fraction of their former thickness, and are then taken to a sulphuric acid bath, where each sheet is washed to remove all impurities, rust and dirt.

After being thoroughly dried the sheets are again hammered by steam hammers until no further reduction is possible, there being a limit to which machinery can be used. Up to this stage the treatment which the metal receives, whether intended for powder or metal leaf, is identical, but now the process changes. If intended for metal leaf, the further beating is done by hand, but if for bronze powder the sheets go to the shears, where they are cut up into small particles and become known as slippings. These are now ready for the stamp mills, which are run in batteries, enabling one man to run or attend 50 or more. When sufficiently pulverized, the powder is sifted in a special manner, the heavier and better qualities going to one receptacle and the inferior grades to another.—New York Sun.

British India. Great Britain has been stretching her wings over India. In 1843 she laid claim to 626,000 square miles of that country. She made additions to this every year except 1843, 1845 and 1852, down to 1856, when her possessions aggregated 1,856,000 square miles. Advances were made in 1866, 1883 and 1886, and now the area of India under British rule is 3,277,887 square miles. British India is larger than the whole part of the United States lying east of the Mississippi river and its population five times as great as the present population of this whole country. Great Britain may not be able to acquire much more of India. Indeed there is likely to be difficulty in retaining what she has with native dissatisfaction and the watchfulness of her aggravating enemy on the north, who in the last 40 years has moved his boundaries over many degrees of latitude.—Texas Siftings.

GLOBE CLOTHING CO.

SPRING ST., NEAR THIRD.

Women and Actors. Capoul, the French tenor, was the recipient of volumes of letters from lady admirers both here and in Paris. On the English stage, besides Mr. Irving, Mr. Alexander, Mr. Hare and Mr. Bancroft have been overwhelmed with a goodly number. But I am told by one who knows that no actor living ever received such a number of admiring epistles from the fairer sex as the late John Clayton.

Among actresses Mrs. Bancroft has perhaps been treated to the kindest attentions. Mrs. John Wood, too, on the first or last night of her play had always her dressing room converted into a perfect bower of flowers, and little gifts of jewelry literally poured in upon her. There was one angle with the inscription "Bless your art." Whether it was Mrs. Wood's heart or art that was blessed remains a riddle to this day.—London Gentlewoman.

The Mexican Boundary Line. The international boundary line between the United States and the republic of Mexico is marked by pyramids of stones placed at irregular distances along the line all the way from the Rio Grande to the Pacific ocean. Whenever it was found practicable to do so these pyramids were built on prominent peaks at road crossings, fords, etc. The line was not surveyed, as is the usual custom, the location of the monuments being based on astronomical calculations and observations.—St. Louis Republic.

SENATOR BATE'S CIGARS. Why He Never Lights the Costly Weeds He Always Uses.

William B. Bate, twice elected senator from Tennessee, never lights a cigar. He has always one in his fingers or between his lips, but no match is put to it. He is a familiar figure in the upper chamber—his abundant snow white hair, a carefully tended mustache of the same color, his stooped form and lined face, with massive underhung jaw, making him marked in an assembly of strong personalities. His advocacy of the "dry smoke," as it is called, and his habit of using 25 cent weeds as chewing tobacco, have continued for more than a quarter of a century. A story is attached. He is the last man in the world whom one would suspect of superstition, but his avoidance of matches is due to that part of our natures and to nothing else.

He entered the war as a private when his state seceded from the union, and rose through the successive grades of lieutenant, captain, lieutenant colonel, colonel, brigadier and major general. He had a taste of military life in the Mexican war and embraced the first opportunity to re-enter it. One day toward the close of the long and bitter struggle, when the two stars of the major general were on his shoulder, his corps, which was a part of the army of the Tennessee, was engaged in a battle in the mountain.

At that time he was an inveterate smoker. Always cool in action, his cigar case was as much a part of his makeup as his horse and saddle. Along toward noon, when the fire from the Federals under assault was particularly heavy and vicious, he moved up to an exposed position in order to give countenance to his men. His brother went with him. Senator (then General) Bate reached for his breast pocket and took out a cigar. He bit off the end with customary nicety, scratched a match on the back of his saddle and settled down in his stirrups to enjoy himself.
