

THEATRICAL COMMENT

Tomorrow evening at the Los Angeles theater Fanny Davenport, supported by Melbourne McDowell and her own company, including a chorus of 100 voices, will begin an engagement of five nights and a Saturday matinee in Victorian Sardou's Cleopatra, which will be presented in the same manner and with almost the cast seen during her engagement in this city last year.

The Burbank theater on Main street, between Fifth and Sixth streets, will be opened to the public on Monday evening next. The Burbank is the peer of any theater in the city or on the Pacific coast, and as the prices have been placed at the extremely low figure of 15, 20 and 30 cents, with box seats at 50 and 75 cents, it will no doubt become the popular theater of the city.

Lottie Winnett has been engaged for the In Old Kentucky road company, in which Laura Burt will play the leading role.

The Orient Express, a new comedy by F. C. Burnand, was produced October 25th by Augustin Daly at his theater in London.

Robert Downing will shortly produce in Denver an English version of Sameon, in which the elder Salvini used to score heavily.

The new Bijou theater in Brooklyn, a very handsome house, was opened last Monday by Henry E. Dixey in Adonis at the attraction.

Wilson Barrett will begin his American tour at the Globe theater, Boston, on Monday next, producing a new version of Virginia.

Manager John Mahoney of the Lyceum, at Memphis, which was burned last week, will be given a benefit by the citizens next Monday.

It is said that Mr. Dixey has found a new backer in the person of a rich resident of Cleveland, and will produce a new piece next season.

"Handsome Dan" Hart of the Operator company was run over by a cable car and killed in Chicago on the 5th. He was buried by the Elks.

Robert Buchanan has written a children's play for the holidays at the London Comedy theater, founded on the story of The Pied Piper of Hamelin.

It is rumored that Camille D'Arville, the prima donna, now singing in Venus, will star the season after next in a military opera, under E. E. Rice's management.

The rumor that Manager Daley will return to New York with his company earlier than was originally intended is emphatically contradicted by Richard Dorney, his manager.

Peter F. Daley has made a great hit at San Francisco in McNally's latest play, The Country Sport, opening his third week at the California theater on Monday to standing room only.

Harrigan's latest play, The Woolen Stocking, bids fair to run through the entire season at his New York theater. Mr. Harrigan has written 22 plays that have each run more than 100 nights in New York.

The Milwaukee Theater company, lessees of the Davidson theater and the academy of music, at Milwaukee, ceases to exist, but the present season, and L. J. Rodriguez has organized a company and leased the academy of music.

AT HUMILITY BEND.

Leander Richardson has no connection whatever with The New Dramatic News. He is resting at his pretty farm on Long Island, and amusing himself with writing a play for Nat Goodwin and one which Charles Frohman will produce this season at the New York Empire theater.

The performance of As You Like It, by a cast composed entirely of ladies, at Palmer's theater, New York, next Tuesday, is looked forward to with a great deal of curiosity. The proceeds will be devoted to the fund of the Professional Women's league.

Henry Irving, Joseph Jefferson, Lotta and Agnes Ethel-Rondel have each sent checks for $100, and W. E. and W. L. Sinn and Mrs. Kendal have forwarded $50 each.

Comments by the London theatrical people on the disastrous number of unemployed actors in this country seem rather cruel. The London Star says: "We do not doubt that heroic efforts have been made by American actors to save themselves and their families from want; but profession that allows itself and all that is dear to it to drift by the thousand into the shame of idleness and the horror of starvation is not a profession of men."

SOCIETY

The Comus, a dancing club of young ladies and gentlemen, gave the first party of the season at Lawrence hall on Thursday evening. The hall had been most artistically decorated with the graceful papyrus, palms and smilax, making a fit setting for the pleasing picture of lovely, beautifully gowned ladies and their gallant partners.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hamilton, Mrs. T. Mesmer, Misses Chancie Ferris, Lucile Meade, Cora and Edna Foy, Maude Remick, Nan Gotschalk, Onie Howell, Angie Anderson, Jaenette Havemann, Tillie Hammel, Fines and Bernice Messer, Edna Foy, Loomis, Forrester, Whipple, Lawrence, Martin, Kirkpatrick, Hill, Vance, McLaughlin, Clegg, Wilkie Edwards, Barnes, William Edwards, Dr. Bryant, Dr. Williams.

The society event of the season in musical circles will be the opening concert of the Society Amateur Opera club, at the Grand opera house, Tuesday evening, December 5th. A remarkably fine programme has been prepared by Madame Fabbri-Mueller, and the active members of the club have been rehearsing the same for the past three months with commendable results.

The subscription list greatly exceeds that of last season, and that the Grand opera house will be filled on the night of the concert is a forgone conclusion. The patronesses announced for the opening of the club comprise the following well known society ladies: Mrs. E. H. Childs, Mrs. O. W. Childs, Mrs. T. D. Stimson, Mrs. Senator Stephen M. White, Mrs. E. F. C. Klokke, Mrs. S. Hellman, Mrs. H. Hellman, Mrs. George J. Ainsworth, Mrs. J. S. Stanton, Mrs. J. E. Sheppard, Mrs. Henry T. Hazard, Mrs. F. A. Eastman, Mrs. J. B. Lankersheim, Mrs. M. A. Newmark, Mrs. W. S. Maxwell, Mrs. L. N. Van Nuy, Mrs. H. Newmark.

Miss Ethel Levy, of 713 Maple avenue, entertained her circle of friends on Wednesday evening, the 22nd, in a cordial and hospitable manner. The cozy cottage was beautifully decorated with rare flowers and smilax, and bountiful refreshments were served throughout the evening; bon bons were distributed, and after the little folks had gaily decked themselves numerous games, recitations and dancing was enjoyed.

Miss Ethel was the recipient of many lovely and useful presents. Among those present were the following: Mamie Andrews, Hattie Andrews, Ruth Smith, Daisy Rendall, Lizzie March, Lida Preston, Florence Fortson, Minnie Ebinger, Neva Rich, Ida Smith, Hermina Adams, Bessie Moody, Maggie Brant, Estelle Pynn, Aubrey Anstine, Arthur Rebb, John Rebb, Hattie Andrews, Ruth Smith, Robbie Hawland, Paul Bynum, Frank Seaver, Ralph Rich, John Emmerick, Herald McGee, Oscar Ebinger.

Los Angeles circle No. 151, C. of F., held a very pleasant meeting on Wednesday evening last. There was a large attendance of the members, as it was a dancing evening, and Prof. Campelans presided at the piano with his usual ability. During the intermission the professor gave several delightful selections from Il Trovatore and other operas, which were most enjoyed.

The circle will give a grand ball on December 5th at Armory hall. Lowinsky's orchestra will be in attendance. The executive committee will spare no trouble or expense to make this a grand social success, and the officers and companions and their friends throughout the city are earnestly requested to assist in making this ball a success.

The next meeting is a summoned meeting to elect new officers. All members are urged to be present.

Mohammed Council No. 1 of Southern California will give a masquerade ball at Armory hall next Wednesday evening. The main fault with the majority of these balls is that the dancers love to unmask too early in the evening. With the present ball the mask will be lifted until the very end of the evening.

Miss Selma Weid, daughter of Hon. Ivar A. Weid of this city, who is now in Denmark with her mother, will be married on Tuesday next to Olavson Von Kase, an army officer in the dragons in the Danish army. The nuptials will take place at Adense, Denmark. The bride and groom contemplate an early trip to Los Angeles.

The Tuesday Evening club, which is composed of the young society people of the city, will begin the winter's festivities with a dance on December 5th.
