We all know this cannot be said of all beds. As you value your life and the life of your loved ones, be careful in this regard—when buying a folding bed to get a SAFE one. Come and see the Welch.

NEW QUEEN OF THE OCEAN.

The Columbia Outclassed by the Olympia.

Twenty-six Knots Per Hour Her Maximum Speed.

The Official Trial Again Abandoned on Account of Fog.

A Wet Wave Slowly Moving Down the Coast—The Evans Jury Not Yet Completed—Pacific Coast Happenings.

By the Associated Press.
SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 27.—A heavy fog hanging over the upper end of the channel prevented the Olympia from finishing her trip today. The cruiser returned to the harbor at 1:30 p. m., after having made a run of 30 miles from Sumnerland beacon, the beginning of the course to beyond the light house, averaging close to 22.25 knots. At this point the fog closed in so thick that the beacons could not be seen and the stake boats were shut out from view.

The patent log shows that the Olympia made the distance of 13 knots at the rate of 25.50 knots per hour, and for a shorter distance 26.

So far as she went, the cruiser worked to perfection. Every run develops more speed, and when the official trial comes off there is no doubt in the minds of the representatives of the Union iron works on board, that the proud title of "Queen of the Ocean," now given to the Columbia, will be wrested from Cramp's new cruiser of the 21-knot class by the Olympia of the 20-knot class.

The Olympia made an early start this morning. It was thought then that the fog would soon lift from the channel so that she could proceed. At 7 o'clock she made an attempt to get off over the course, but the mist soon settled down so that the beacons could not be seen. After steaming around the channel for five hours the fog had disappeared to a considerable extent, and the speedy ship again started at 11:30 o'clock for the great 86-knot run.

The effects of the heavy wind of Saturday were not yet over, for outside the help line large swells were rolling against the bow of the cruiser as she plowed her rapid way toward Point Conception. The spray flew over the ship and at the bow and stern the sea was foaming. The engines were making over 140 revolutions per minute and the steam pressure was greater than 160. On the first few miles of the run the speed increased with every mile until the engines recorded 141 revolutions and the steam pressure went up to a higher point. Over the side the patent log for 13 miles showed an average of 25.50 knots. Then it crept up to 26 knots.

The fog getting thicker soon shut out the land, and it was seen that the trip could not be finished. It was with reluctance that Captain Connel ordered the bow turned again toward Santa Barbara, the idea of reaching Point Conception being given up until another day. The cruiser's average for the 30-mile run was 22.25 knots, according to the actual time between the land beacons. Mr. Scott has decided to make another attempt to complete the official trial before returning to San Francisco.

RAIN IS COMING.
The Northern Storm Shows a Tendency to Move South.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—The storm which had been moving eastward and which was this morning central over Eastern Washington, has been by the high pressure from the British provinces forced back, and tonight is central again off the mouth of the Columbia river, with a tendency to extend southward. The storm also has been forced eastward which will continue rain over Washington, Oregon, Nevada and Northern California for the next 36 hours. Tonight the pressure is decreasing over the entire Pacific slope, which, if continued, will allow the rain area to move southward over Southern California by Tuesday night. The rains have been unusually heavy about Eureka, where 2.21 inches fell during the past 12 hours. In the same time .12 of an inch has fallen at Red Bluff and at Sacramento and San Francisco. .06. No rain has fallen at Fresno or south of that point. The weather in Southern California is clear.

WHERE IS YUMA AT?
The Arizona-California Boundary Line Question in Court.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 27.—The question of the boundary line between Arizona and California came up in the federal court today, and it is probable that it will be proven that Yuma is in California. William Hyde, indicted by the federal grand jury for selling liquor to Indians, through his attorney, Calvert Wilson, denies the jurisdiction of the court to try the case. He cites as authority the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo and the recent reports of the international boundary commission to show that the line runs directly west from the convergence of the Gila and Colorado rivers, leaving Yuma in California. Previous to 1877 the San Diego county (Cal.) officials attempted to collect taxes in Yuma and were arrested by the Arizona authorities, since which, by common consent, the question has been dropped. The land office authorities always evade the question, making no committing decision.

BOOTH'S BLOODHOUNDS.
Practice With the Man Hunters at San Bernardino.

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 27.—Under Sheriff J. C. King, who has charge of the two thoroughbred bloodhounds recently purchased in Texas for the purpose of trailing criminals here in the mountains and on the desert, took them out for a practice run at Rialto yesterday. Shorty Burr, a trusty prisoner, was sent out to make a trail through the sand and chapparal four miles in length, ending by climbing a tree in the Lytle creek wash. The dogs followed him successfully in four trials, in the last of which Shorty came near losing his life by descending the tree before king came up. As he descended, the ferocious dogs made a dash at him, barely missing his pantaloons. Shorty springing for the lower limbs just in time to save himself. Shorty was contented to stay in the trees after that until the keeper had secured the dogs.

A CUNNING CONVICT.

It Seems Impossible to Keep Him Behind Prison Walls.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 27.—John Dryden, alias Hawthorne, alias O'Neil, under five years sentence for burglary, and one of the most dangerous criminals in the northwest, escaped from the county jail yesterday. Three street preachers held services at the jail and Dryden joined in prayer and singing and when they went away he walked out with them, carrying a hymn book past the guard. He told the preachers that he had just received a pardon and was determined to lead a better life. Dryden was not missed until late at night, when his wife, Mrs. Wilson, the widow of the man with whose murder Evans is charged, were present the entire day. Twenty-one talemen were examined during the day and only two accepted to try the case, making eight jurors secured thus far. At this rate the criminal will be exhausted before the panel is completed. The people have used six peremptory challenges and the defense eight.

THE EVANS TRIAL.

Only Eight Jurors Secured to Try the Case Thus Far.

FRESNO, Nov. 27.—The work of securing a jury in the case of Chris Evans was resumed this morning, the return of a special venire of 75 having been made by E. J. White. The wife of the defendant and Mrs. Wilson, the widow of the man with whose murder Evans is charged, were present the entire day. Twenty-one talemen were examined during the day and only two accepted to try the case, making eight jurors secured thus far. At this rate the criminal will be exhausted before the panel is completed. The people have used six peremptory challenges and the defense eight.

DEATH OF CAPTAIN KOHL.

A Noted California Pioneer Crosses the Great Divide.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—News of the death of Capt. William Kohl, founder of the Alaska Commercial company, has been received here from the east. The deceased was 72 years of age and a pioneer of this state. He arrived in 1849 with Peter Donahue and Captain Marucci. The latter built the first steamboat in California, which was operated between here and Sacramento. Captain Kohl was interested in the venture and made considerable money. He was also interested in the trading business. At the time of his death he was a millionaire.

MIDWINTER FAIR RATES.

The Pacific Coast Steamship Company Will Make a Cut.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—The Pacific Steamship company announces that it has under consideration the question of lower round-trip rates during the midwinter fair. A schedule of cut rates will shortly be published. It takes in Puget sound and Northern California and San Diego and other Southern California ports.

District Court of Appeals.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27.—Hereafter the circuit court of appeals will meet twice yearly for the purpose of hearing argument, instead of quarterly as heretofore. The court will open on the first Monday in October and the first Monday in April. The court will meet on the first Monday of each month, however, to hear such motions as may be brought to its attention and to decide on submitted cases. District Judge Morrow has been designated to sit as judge in this court on the first Monday of every month.

A Statehood Convention.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 27.—Delegates from the 10 or 12 counties of Arizona were in session today as a statehood convention. Able representatives from all parts of the territory were present. Much enthusiasm was manifested. During the forenoon temporary organization was perfected with Hon. E. J. Edwards of the Globe temporary chairman and Charles F. Hoff secretary pro tem. At the afternoon session Judge C. W. Wright of Tucson was chosen permanent chairman. His address was an earnest appeal for concerted action in the endeavor to get into the union. The session will probably last three days.

Receivers Appointed.

SALT LAKE, Nov. 27.—The Central Trust company of New York today brought suit in the district court asking the appointment of receivers for the Utah Central railway. The railway company's attorney consenting, the court appointed as receivers James McGregor, general manager of the road, and Clarence Carey, an attorney of New York, representing the trust company. The Central Trust company held a mortgage on the property of the Utah Central for having guaranteed $225,000 bonds issued by the railroad company, which has defaulted the last two payments.

Governor Hughes' Colonists.

YUMA, Ariz., Nov. 27.—Rev. Fathers Bierchause and Gampa, agents for the Italian colony negotiated for by Governor Hughes, arrived in Yuma this morning and are negotiating for lands for their people. Their plan is to put 500 families of grape growers into Arizona this fall and winter.

On the Ocean.

There is no place where ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTER will prove their value. Augustus Sala, the well-known English writer, writing of his trip across the Pacific, says: "I especially have a pleasant remembrance of the sailor doctor—a very experienced mariner—who administered the plaster to me most kindly during a horrible spell of bronchitis and spasmodic asthma, provoked by the sea fog, which had swooped down on us just after we left San Francisco. But the doctor's prescriptions and the increasing warmth of the temperature as we neared the tropics, led me to try the plaster. A couple of ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS clapped on—one on the chest and another between the shoulder blades—soon set me right. BRANDRETH'S PILLS always act uniformly."

THE MASTER WORKMAN.

Mr. Powderly's Resignation Duly Accepted.

Sovereign of Iowa Elected as His Successor.

A New Executive Board of the K. of L. Also Chosen.

No Change in the Lehigh Strike Situation—Overtures for Arbitration Rejected—General News Gleanings.

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27.—James R. Sovereign of Iowa was elected general master workman of the Knights of Labor this afternoon by a vote of 23 to 3. James Campbell of Pittsburgh being his opponent. The afternoon session was characterized by very peaceful and harmonious proceedings. General Worthy Foreman Bishop occupied the chair.

Upon assembling the delegates announced nominations for the general executive board, and H. B. Martin of Minnesota, J. W. Kenna of Indiana and D. L. Roy of South Dakota were elected. T. B. McGuire of New York was elected Friday, making the complete board of four.

The next business was the resumption of balloting on General Master Workman Powderly's resignation, which was accepted by 23 to 13 votes. James R. Sovereign, Jas. Campbell, and T. B. McGuire were then nominated for the office but McGuire withdrew. Only one ballot was taken which resulted as follows: Sovereign, 23 and Campbell, 3. The news of his election was immediately telegraphed Sovereign, who is expected to be present before the adjournment of the general assembly.

Powderly was seen shortly afterwards by an Associated Press reporter. When asked for an opinion of the assembly's action he said: "Sovereign will have no heartier support by any individual of the order than he will receive from me. He is eminently worthy of the position and I believe he will fill the office as well as any man can."

CHINESE REGISTRATION.

The Treasury Department Somewhat Concerned.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The treasury department is somewhat concerned over the prospect of Chinese registration under the new law passed upon the eve of the adjournment of the extra session, and under which the department of justice has issued regulations. The supposition is that the Chinese will comply with the law, but no one can say definitely until the experiment is tried. The officials themselves are as much in the dark as any one. If they should again refuse, the situation will be awkward. It is said the intelligent Chinese generally do not object to registration and really look upon it as a means of personal protection, but the bulk of them will be controlled by their employers, now, as formerly. They do not seem to have any kindly to having their photographs taken for the purpose of identification, but there is no reason to suppose that this objection will long stand in the way of compliance with the law, if the Six Companies and their attorneys will not obstruct.

SILVER WILL NOT DOWN.

The White Metal Will Figure in the Tariff Debate.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Silver will assert its right to a hearing, in connection with the tariff. It will come in the shape of a proposition to put a duty upon silver importations. In the senate, if the plans of those who have the matter in charge do not miscarry, efforts at this innovation will be made in connection with the metal schedule, and it will be coupled with the item concerning lead and silver-lead ores. The purpose of this movement is twofold. It may prepare the way for free coinage of American product of silver, and it is expected to prevent the counterfeiting of the American dollar in other countries and the sending of the counterfeit coins to the United States.

THE LEHIGH STRIKE.

The Contending Parties as Far Apart as the Tariff Debate.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27.—The second week of the Lehigh strike opened with the contending parties apparently as far apart as ever. President Wilbur of the road today declined the overtures of representatives of the state board of arbitration of New York and New Jersey, saying there was no occasion for arbitration, there being no issue between the employees and the company. At Wilkesbarre feeling between the contending parties is growing in bitterness, and while no serious disturbance is in the place, numerous small demonstrations have been the order of the day, both at that place and in the vicinity.

A Bank-Wrecker Finds GUILTY.

NORMAL, Ill., Nov. 27.—William H. Schureman, who was president of the defunct Exchange bank of this place, pleaded guilty today to embezzlement in receiving money for deposit when the bank was insolvent. He was sentenced to a year in the penitentiary and to pay a fine amounting to twice the sum of deposits involved.

An Ex-Congressman's Death.

SAWDUST OR DYNAMITE.

An Infernal Machine Sent to Chancellor Capivi.

BERLIN, Nov. 27.—Chancellor Von Capivi yesterday received a small wooden box from Orleans. It was handed to the chancellor's aide-de-camp, Major Ebner, who becoming suspicious, examined it and found it was an infernal machine. Another report says the whole affair was the work of a practical joker and that the box only contained sawdust.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—A dispatch to the Daily News from Berlin says the box containing an infernal machine, received by Chancellor Von Capivi, was accompanied by a letter dated Orleans, November 23d. The letter stated that the box contained a sample of wonderful radish seed. In attempting to open the box, Major Ebner noticed grains of gunpowder falling out of it. This made him suspicious that the box contained a bomb, and he called a police expert. They found in the interior of the box a hammer which was kept down by bands of india rubber. The hammer was so arranged that if the box was opened in the ordinary way it would strike the cap of a nitro glycerine cartridge. The cartridge was the length of a finger. The whole thing was skillfully made.

DIVIDED AGAINST ITSELF.

Rebellion Rife in All Parts of Brazil. Para Revolts.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—The Times has received from a trustworthy source in Pernambuco a telegram saying Para revolted yesterday against the government. The ships and the artillery on shore joined the insurgents. Rebellion exists in the northern, southern and intermediate provinces. The dispatch also says it is believed that the government is seriously crippled financially.

The Times tomorrow will publish the following: RIO DE JANEIRO, Nov. 27.—Monday a small party of insurgents landed near Armaco. They were opposed by a party of government troops, and in the engagement 2 officers and 30 men were killed, while five were wounded. During the past week over 200 troops were killed on the Niteroi side by the artillery fire of the insurgents. Up to the present the insurgents seem to be gaining. The English flag is constantly fired upon from the shore. The senior officer of the fleet reports that yesterday one of the government batteries shelled a launch displaying a white ensign and containing a commissioned officer and crew. The British commissioner has sent a protest to the Brazilian government.

REPORTS FROM ROME.

Sensational Rumors Denied by the Vatican—A Papal Encyclical.

Rome, Nov. 27.—The Vatican has formally denied the report that Monsignor Satolli is to be made a cardinal, and that his successor as papal delegate to the United States has been named. The Vatican also denies that there is any truth in the alarming reports circulated about the pope's health. A papal encyclical will be issued tonight on asceticism regarding the Bible. The encyclical contains instructions with a view to establish the authenticity of the Bible by the study of ancient languages, monuments and modern sciences.

Perrier for Premier.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—The correspondent of the Daily News at Paris says President Carnot is very desirous that Cassimir Perrier shall become prime minister, owing to the general respect and confidence in which he is held. Besides he is known to be backed by a majority in the chamber of upwards of 200 members. Nevertheless it is doubtful whether so large a majority would remain faithful to the Centrist minority.

THE WILSON TARIFF BILL.

It Aims to Right the Evils of McKinleyism.

The Long Expected Measure Promulgated.

Mr. Wilson Publishes an Explanatory Statement.

A Large Addition to the Free List and Sweeping Reductions in Duties. A Radical Reform Measure.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The meeting of the ways and means committee today was very brief. All the Democratic members were on hand, but the only Republican members present were Reed, Burrows, Hopkins, Payne and Dalsell. Immediately after roll call Chairman Wilson spread the new tariff bill before the committee and the clerk instantly thereafter supplied it to the members of the press on the outside. The only advance copy furnished was one given to a White House messenger half an hour previous for transmission to the president. No business was transacted by the committee. The Republican members were supplied with copies of the bill, a few local remarks being made, and the committee adjourned to give time to the minority to examine the measure. Most of the Republican members declined to express any opinion on the bill until they should have an opportunity to examine it in detail. The Democratic members expressed themselves as highly pleased with the bill, regarding it as directly in line with the party platform and pledges.

A REFORM MEASURE.

The New Tariff Bill Satisfies the Most Radical Reformers.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The Democratic tariff bill was given out today. Its provisions fulfill every expectation of those who predicted it would be a measure of radical reform. In many respects it is a surprise even to the Democrats, as it is unprecedented in many provisions. The free list is of a liberal scope sufficient to satisfy the most radical advocates of reform, and the reformation of the principle of reciprocity is decided and emphatic. Thus the bill, in addition to tariff reforms, will, if passed, necessitate the readjustment of the treaties with the South American countries which enjoy practical or theoretical reciprocity with the United States. The bounty on sugar, instead of being repealed, will be repealed by easy gradations and will not reach its full effect till after the close of the present century.

THE FREE LIST.

Beginning March 1st next, the following articles are added to the free list: Bacon, hams, beef, mutton, pork, meats of all kinds prepared or preserved, not otherwise provided for; baryta, binding twine made in whole or part of thistle or Tumpico fibre, manilla, sisal, sunn, single ply, meaning not more than 600 feet to the pound; stuffed birds not suitable for millinery; bird skins prepared for preservation; blue vitriol, bone, coal, bituminous and shale, and slack or cut coke; coal tar not colors or dyes not specially provided for; oxide of cobalt, copper ores, old copper, clippings from new copper, all compositions of which copper is the chief component of value; regular and black copper and copper cement; copper plates, bars, ingots, pigs and other forms; copper wire, cotton seed diamonds, dust or for jewels used in the manufacture of watches and clocks; yolks of eggs of birds, fish and insects; crude down, fresh fish, undressed furs, iodine, reubminated iron ore, including magniferous iron, dross of burnt pyrites, sulphur pyrites in natural state; lard, lemon juice, mica, crude metallic minerals and unwrought metals; ochre ochery earths, sienna and sienna earth, amber and amber earths; cotton seed oil, paintstuffs and statuary; plows, tools, die hammers, harvesters, reapers, drills, mowers, horse rakes, cultivators, threshing machines, cotton gins; plush, black, for making men's hats; quicksilver, salt, silk not further advanced in manufacture than carding or combing; soap not otherwise provided for; sulphate of iron or salt cake, or nitre sulphuric acid, tallow and wool, grease; straw, burrstone, bound into millstones; freestone, granite, sandstone, limestone and other building or monumental stone, except marble undressed; all wearing apparel and other personal effects, on identity being established under regulations to be established by the treasury; timber, hewn and sawed; spar and wharf timber, squared or sided timber, saved boards, planks, deals; other lumber, lath, pickets palings, shingles, staves and manufactured wood, provided the same duties as now exist shall obtain in all cases in which an export duty is laid on any article in the above schedule; chair cane or reeds; woods named cedar, lignum-vitae, lancewood, ebony, box, grandis, mahogany, rosewood, satinwood; all forms cabinet woods, in the log, rough or hewn; manufactured bamboo and rattan; briarroot or briarwood, reeds and sticks of partridge; hairwood, orange, myrtle and other hard woods in the rough; hair of sheep, hair of camel, goat, alpaca and other like animals; wool and hair on the skins; oils, yams, waste, card waste, burr waste, rags and flags, including all waste or rags composed wholly or in part of wool.
