EVEN CHILDREN HISS THEM.

The Solid Six Have a Disagreeable Experience.

Public School Pupils Take an Active Part in the Proceedings.

Remarkable Example of the Slight Hold the Board Has on the School Children—The Ben Tyler Case. Junket Demands.

About 100 boys and girls attending the high school treated the board of education to an unpleasant surprise at their meeting last night in the council chamber.

They had heard that the case of Ben Tyler, son of Captain Tyler, was to come up for action, and marshalled in force to stand by their fellow student.

This case, which has been before referred to, is quite a simple one in some respects, but has stirred up the school children tremendously.

Ben Tyler had trouble with Prof. Cates of the high school, in which the professor struck the boy on the head with his fist, and in which the boy gave the professor a short arm blow on the nose.

He had told the boy to do something, and he obeyed very reluctantly, so much so that Prof. Cates considered it insubordination. The boy was suspended, and an investigation was had yesterday afternoon by the teachers' committee. It was to hear the result that the children assembled.

They were not a bit backward about testifying their approval and disapproval of the proceedings, and it had a tendency to wake up the solid six, to see themselves savagely denounced by the boys and girls.

All the members of the board were present, and the meeting was a decidedly lively one.

An invitation from the teachers of the Santa Fe school asking the board to attend Thanksgiving exercises at that place was received and filed.

The resignations of Miss Lillibridge as teacher in the high school and Miss Bessie M. Cox as teacher in the schools were accepted.

Superintendent Brown reported that he had appointed Mattie M. White, Ova Flint, Mary L. Mitchell, Lola A. Clegg, Nettie Kennedy and Jessie A. McGraw as volunteer assistants in the kindergarten department. Approved.

A BOND ELECTION ASKED FOR.

A petition signed by about 300 citizens was read as follows:

Whereas, it appears from the report of the superintendent of city schools for the month of September, 1893, filed October 9th 1893, that the schools of the city are in a crowded condition and many of the children are in school only half of each day for want of room, when they are entitled to a whole day's schooling; therefore, we, the undersigned residents of the city of Los Angeles and citizens of the United States, respectfully request and petition your honorable body to call an election as soon as possible to vote bonds to make the necessary enlargement of the school houses of the city so that all the children of school age may be accommodated fully and furnish the required furniture and apparatus for their use.

Mr. Trask moved to place the petition on file pending the action of the special committee appointed at the last meeting of the board.

Mr. Hughes said that the recommendation referred to allowed but $7000 in the Fifth ward and that for improvement.

President Pepper said that the committee would look into the matter.

The motion to file was then carried.

A communication from a number of people expressing their satisfaction with the Pearl street kindergarten was received and filed.

A number of demands were reported by the committee and approved.

Mr. Trask's demand is the one that does not include the $3.65 he put in his first demand for railroad fare to San Bernardo.

Mr. Stein from the committee on buildings reported that the lot about the Seventeenth-street school had been filled up. The committee was authorized to have the lot well filled, the dirt being purchased, as President Pepper explained, very cheaply.

A SENSATION CAUSED BY HIGH SCHOOL CHILDREN.

The teachers' committee reported, recommending that Ben Taylor be reinstated in the High School.

Mr. Stein moved that the portion of the report about Ben Taylor be considered separately, as he understood it was a case of flagrant disobedience.

Dr. Willis said it was rather a case of assault. Capt. Tyler, whose son had been so connected with the difficulty, was a man who had held trusted positions, and it did not at all appear that the remarks about his son were justified.

The phalanx of students, both boys and girls, enthusiastically applauded Dr. Willis.

Mr. Hughes thought the boy had been sufficiently punished, and that he should be reinstated.

Mr. Platt remarked that he hated hypocrisy.

"I do too," said Dr. Willis.

Mr. Platt continued and said he thought it a case of gross disobedience, and he wanted the teachers and pupils to understand he was for discipline. He understood young Tyler declined to apologize and moved he remain suspended until January 2, 1894.

This called forth loud hisses from the young people in the galleries.

Captain Tyler asked to be heard.

Mr. Patty was willing if he confined himself to facts.

Captain Tyler in response to questions said that Mr. Trask had got up from his seat as if to insult Mr. Cates. Mr. Tyler said he was not angry but he proposed to see this thing through. If he could not get justice from the board he would see that he was protected in other ways. He did not wish to make threats but he would see that he had justice. [Applause.]

President Pepper: Repetition of the noise will cause the galleries to be cleared.

The vote being taken the boy was suspended until January 2, 1894, by a vote of six to three. Messrs. Wells, Patty and Mrs. Hughes voted in the negative.

As soon as the vote was announced the boys and girls in the gallery left in a body amidst great confusion. A perfect storm of hisses was hurled at the school board, who sat silent beneath the scorn of the children and did not appear to relish it any more than they have the public light let in upon their official acts.

When order was obtained Mr. Trask, in a sorrowful tone of voice and with a long face, commented upon the remarkable exhibition of youthful indignation, calling it insubordination and insolence. He seemed to delight in saying that it was all a reflection by the pupils on their teachers, and did not take it to himself, and the possible loss of dignity which has come to the board through its "window shade" and "junketing" acts.

Mrs. Hughes, however, called attention to the fact that while she did not uphold the children in insubordination, still she could not think that they had intended to do more than show loyalty to their fellow student, whom they thought had been unfairly treated.

Superintendent Brown thought it a bad case of insubordination, and made some quite severe remarks about the action of the young folks.

On motion of Mr. Trask, the president appointed him, Mr. Patty and Mr. Platt to investigate the discipline of the high school.

The Thanksgiving vacation approved by the board begins November 30th and closes December 4th, and the Christmas vacation begins December 22d and closes January 2, 1894.

The board then adjourned.

A BOLD MASHER.

He Appears on the Surface With Plenty of Gail.

An ex-county official, who has figured more or less before the public for several years past, is apparently making himself obnoxious to the residents, and to ladies who happen to pass in the vicinity of Sixth and Broadway. This man is fast becoming notorious in the neighborhood mentioned, as being a professional masher. His wife obtained a divorce from him a few months ago, and since then he has devoted most of his time in manhandling unprotected women who chance to pass in his view. The writer observed him deliberately insult unaccompanied women on the street on several occasions, and his audacity has become so great that business men in the vicinity have appealed to a Herald reporter to make their grievance known, as the fellow has on more than one occasion insulted lady patrons of their respective establishments. Last night, the fellow referred to, grossly insulted an unprotected woman, who had to appeal to a bystander for protection.

Headache and Dizziness.

FREQUENT CAUSES OF PROSTRATION AND PARALYSIS.—The most recent and profound researches in this direction by specialists have developed conclusively that the above disorders frequently result in death or permanent disability. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is the greatest remedy for either of these apparently insignificant causes. Nothing approaches it in merit. Mrs. W. E. Burns of South Bend, Ind., who has suffered from it for three months, was cured by it. The daughter of Daniel Myers, Brooklyn, Mich., had been insane for 10 years, and was having from 15 to 25 fits a day. Nervine cured her of both fits and insanity. Sold on a guarantee by C. H. Ranco, 177 S. Spring. Get a bottle free.

TURF NOTES.

Some Interesting Gossip About Races Spirit of the Times.

The meeting at the Bay District track, San Francisco, has so far proven very successful. Some of the best known performers that have won at the meeting are Flambeau, Racine, Wildwood, Ballarat and Santiago. Flambeau and Racine both seem to be in fine shape, and there is some talk of a special sweepstakes between these two, Morello and Rudolph. Gloaming has arrived at the track and Mr. Mason is quoted as saying that he would be willing to enter his fine mare in such a race. Morello had some feet, the result of improper shoeing, when he left Chicago. The trouble, however, is not thought to be serious. Dow Williams has been superseded as trainer of the Santa Anita stable by Henry McDaniel. Morris and McClain will remain as jockeys for the stable. The best 2-year-olds that have shown so far at the meeting are said to be Articus and Last Chance. B. C. Holly is so far the biggest winner at the meeting.

The winter meeting of the Crescent City Jockey club will begin at New Orleans December 9th with every prospect of a season of most brilliant racing. The climate is unrivaled and the club has taken gigantic strides forward in providing appointments and accommodations fully up with the times. The course has been widened, raised and thoroughly drained, making it the finest and safest mile track in the south. New stables and a large covered paddock have also recently been erected, which, with other extensive improvements, places the course in the front rank as the best equipped winter race track in the country. In addition to the regular programme, which is in itself attractive, special races with from $500 to $1000 in added money will be arranged for special days. Already the club has received applications from a large number of owners to be assured of a very successful meeting. For information about rates and the shipment of horses application may be made to Harry White, of the St. James hotel, 1133 Broadway, New York, or to Gore's hotel, 268 Clark street, Chicago. C. S. Bush is manager and Sheridan Clark secretary of the club. The judges at the meeting will be Messrs. Simmons and McDowell.

Gen. W. H. Jackson has purchased of Chris Smith of the Kendall stable the breeding qualities of the speedy filly Maid Marian, the price being $2500. Maid Marian will be a great acquisition to the Bella Meade stud, where her dam, Sude McNairy, is already owned. She has the potent King Tom blood through her sire, Great Tom, and her dam is by Enquirer, out of Nannie McNairy, by Jeff Davis; 3d dam Elizabeth McNairy, by imp. Ambassador.

Elmer Railey of Lexington, Ky., has lost by death from lockjaw the yearling colt by Powhattan, dam Jamaica (dam of Foxhall). The colt was valued at $5000.

J. D. Patton, the St. Louis turfman, has retired to the stud his 5-year-old mare Ethel Gray, by the Duke of Kent, out of Goldbug. Ethel Gray has been one of the best mares of the western circuit of recent years.

C. J. Fitzgerald has made a trade with Jack Bennett, by which he acquires the 4-year-old brown colt Temple, by Tremont-Nannie Bay. He gives in exchange the 3-year-old chestnut gelding King Kelly by Wilfrid-Miss Glennon, to be used for saddle purposes. Mr. Fitzgerald will send Temple to Canada for use in the stud. The colt is half brother to that promising young stallion, Hayden Edwards.

THE PREACHERS.

Resolutions Adopted at Their Monday Morning Meeting.

The preachers of Los Angeles held their regular meeting at the Y. M. C. A. rooms yesterday. Among other things considered was an appeal on behalf of the executive committee of the Los Angeles Keesley league, presented in addresses by Thos. S. Barnes, president of the league; General B. P. Runkle and Jas. K. Kennedy. The practical work in the way of temperance, which is now being accomplished all over the world, through the agency of Dr. Keesley and his wonderful remedies, was presented by these gentlemen to the assembled clergyman, in a very forcible and convincing manner, and asking of the ministers their moral support in this regard.

The result of all this talk was a resolution adopted by the meeting on the motion of Rev. Dr. Hutchins, which is as follows:

Resolved, That we express our sympathy with the objects of the Keesley league, and will gladly lend it our moral support and will give the helping hand to the men who are thereby rescued from the disease of drink, and that a committee be appointed to communicate with the executive committee of the league concerning the best means for our co-operation.

The chairman appointed the following committee as directed by the resolution: Rev. Dr. Hutchins, First Congregational church; Rev. D. B. Colmeary, Third Presbyterian church, and Rev. Will A. Knighten, Grace M. E. church.

Golden Rod Their Emblem.

A charming woman's rights advocate at a recent Niagara county convention gave voice to these stirring sentiments and proclaimed the golden rod as the emblem of woman's suffrage:

"We welcome you as soldiers in the army for woman's emancipation. The hour has struck at last which ushers in the dawn of 'Woman's Age.' The bugle sounds from the battlements of justice and right, summoning us to the field. We are here today for better organization to discuss plans which shall qualify woman to be crowned queen of a free republic, that shall open to her every avocation in life which the Maker designed her to fill, and to wield intelligently that most potent weapon, a free ballot. When the shackles of prejudice, welded by blinded bigotry, shall fall from our hands, then, and only then, shall many of the evils of this world be conquered, many of the crooked places be made straight, many a dirty political pool be cleaned, for Uncle Sam needs a good housekeeper, and the nation needs a mother's influence.

"We have learned to love this flower the golden rod because of the honor this nation has bestowed upon it. Not many months since it was only an obnoxious weed, growing rank by the roadside and on barren fields. Its day came. A great nation has crowned its golden plume with honor, and we gather it with eagerness and think of it with a patriotism akin to that which we feel toward the stars and stripes.

"It stands by the roadside today, still true to its nature, not crying out to be a rose or a lily, still fulfilling the mission its Creator intended, a glorified weed.

"Its color is the fitting emblem of our order, for it points to the golden days when woman shall be freed by the sanction of this great republic be taken from social, moral and political bondage and crowned with womanly glory.
