CARNOT'S TROUBLE ENDED

The French Cabinet Crisis Tided Over.

Casimir-Perier Accepts the Premiership.

M. Spuller Not Equal to the Occasion.

A French Duel on the Tapis—A Large Italian Banking House Asks for an Extension—General Foreign News.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Nov. 30.—Spuller found difficulties in the formation of a cabinet, and after a conference with President Carnot and Casimir-Perier, the latter undertook to form a cabinet. He will be premier and minister of foreign affairs. Spuller will be minister of justice.

The latest forecast of the cabinet is as follows: Premier and minister of foreign affairs, Casimir-Perier; interior, Raynal; finance, Bardeau; education, Spuller; justice, Dubest; commerce, Jonnart; war, General Mercier; public works, Loubet; husbandry, Kerjégat; colonies, Delmas; marine, Rither; admiralty, Lafenr or Lefevre.

It is stated that Spuller's failure to form a cabinet was due to a difficulty between himself and President Carnot as to the admission or exclusion of Constant as a member of the ministry. President Carnot, it is said, at one time was so disturbed over the possibility of a protracted crisis that he was considering the advisability of resigning the presidency.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—The correspondent of the Times at Paris says: President Carnot, in securing Casimir-Perier at the head of the ministry, displayed one of the rarest qualities among Frenchmen, namely, tenacity. The acceptance by Casimir-Perier of the premiership is proof of the absence of that quality in his composition. President Carnot now is the only trump card in Republican politics.

ASKED FOR A MONITORIUM.

The Credito Mobiliare of Rome in Financial Trouble.

ROME, Nov. 30.—The Credito Mobiliare has asked for a moratorium. It has a capital of 60,000,000 lire. It is stated, allowing for all losses, the bank has a surplus of 30,000,000 lire untouched. It has many branches throughout Italy. The shares of other banks have suffered depression as a consequence. The general position is critical.

The Credito Mobiliare is one of the strongest banks in Italy. Moratorium means a request for an extension of time to make the payments. The twenty-four hours' delay in the liquidation of the bank's business has been granted by the chamber of commerce in consequence of the Mobiliare trouble.

The management of the Mobiliare announced that at the most moderate estimate over two-thirds of the assets remain intact. The hope is expressed that the institution will be able to resume the regular course of business at an early date. The capital amounts to sixty to seventy-five millions paid up.

The refusal of all the statements who have been invited by Zanardelli to accept portfolios in the cabinet, have made the position of Zanardelli so difficult that it is expected he will give up the task of trying to form a ministry.

SENT BY ANARCHISTS.

Infernal Machines Intended to Frighten German Official Circles.

BERLIN, Nov. 30.—It has been definitely ascertained that the box sent to Capri contained an exceedingly powerful explosive, necessitating its being submerged 18 hours before it was opened. The rubber band over the Gramer which was to have struck the cap was, by this long soaking, greatly weakened, and the box opened without danger. The sending of infernal machines to the emperor and the chancellor is believed to be the work of Anarchists, aware that the boxes would not reach the people to whom they were addressed, and who were indifferent as to who was killed, provided they caused a scare in official circles. The German government, while not willing to initiate international action against anarchists, is willing to co-operate with other powers in adopting measures for the suppression of anarchy.

The Campaign in Morocco.

MADRID, Nov. 30.—General Campos telegraphs from Melilla that his forces have begun the work of rebuilding Fort Gnariach. The general says if the Moors attempt to interfere with the work he will attack them from the front and on the left flank. A later dispatch from General Campos says there is no sign of a movement from the Moors.

MEXICAN REVOLUTIONISTS.

An American Agitator Arrested at El Paso, Texas.

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 30.—Victor L. Ochoa was arrested this afternoon on complaint of the Mexican government on the charge of being an instrument of Santa Ana Perez and the revolutionists in stirring up Mexicans on this side of the Rio Grande. Ochoa is an American of some prominence and editor of the Hispano-American, a weekly paper. When Ochoa was arrested he had on his person a copy of the original and a translation of the pronouncement issued by Santa Ana Perez several days ago, besides several other papers considered inflammatory. He told the officer that he had the first paper mentioned simply for the purpose of translating it for his newspaper, which is known to be a fact.

Other arrests will follow in quick succession. The consul thinks he has the names of the men who have organized the provisional government and will get at least three of them in a few days.

The Company, However, Seems to Be Able to Get Along Without Them.

A Small-Sized Riot at Wilkesbarre.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30.—General Manager Voorhees, of the Lehigh Valley, stated tonight that the strike is entirely over as far as the company is concerned. He says all trains are running full and making good time. The Wyoming Valley division is now in good running order. Chairman E. F. Clark at midnight stated that so far he had not received any intelligence how Wilbur's ultimatum had been received by the strikers. The men were willing to take advantage of everything honorable opportunity may offer in their present trouble.

He declared to the Associated Press that the Lehigh men would win their struggle, but declined to say if the men on other roads would be called out to assist. He is in correspondence with other leaders in Philadelphia. The men are also as firm as ever, but the Lehigh officials say they are running trains as usual.

President Peixoto of Brazil Assassinated.

A Rumor to That Effect in Circulation.

Rebels Making Progress in the South of Brazil.

The States of Bahia and Para Said to Be in Rebellion—Bombardment of the Forts at Rio Continued.

By the Associated Press.

MONTVIDEO, Nov. 30.—A doubtful rumor is current that President Peixoto of Brazil has been assassinated.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—The Times will publish the following, giving Rio de Janeiro advices to November 26th:

Artillery fire on the forts continues. The insurgent general, Saravia, with 6000 irregular cavalry, is reported 80 miles south of Sao Paulo. The government ordered the national guard of the state of Sao Paulo to proceed south to meet the insurgents. The national guard refused to comply with the order and the government will send 1200 men from Rio against the enemy. The Aquidaban is at Rio awaiting the rendezvous of the Aurora, Bahia and Tiradentes. She will then proceed to the attack. Admiral Gama states positively that he will not bombard the city unless the city fires upon his ships. Eight thousand men are waiting at Desterro ready to march against the government forces. Political arrests continue in Rio. Fifteen hundred persons are now in prison. President Peixoto has become alienated from all sympathy of decent people and stands alone with his army. Many persons join the insurgents daily. The states of Bahia and Para favor the insurgents.

Buenos Ayres, Nov. 30.—The insurgents of Rio Grande do Sul were victorious in a battle with the government forces near Baga. General Isidor of the government forces was taken prisoner. Both sides suffered heavy losses. The government forces at Rio continue to cannonade the insurgent war ships.

The transport Magella has been set on fire by the explosion of a shell from the forts, and the Aquidaban, the most powerful of the insurgent fleet, has been seriously damaged.

New York, Dec. 1.—The World's special dispatch from Buenos Ayres says: The Rio Grande do Sul insurgents achieved a great victory on the Rio Negro on Monday. The battle lasted all day, and on Tuesday General Isador and troops, number 1000, surrendered. The victorious insurgents are now besieging Baga.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—The Brazilian minister has received a dispatch from Rio denying the reported defection of the state of Para.

ROME, Nov. 30.—A dispatch from Rio de Janeiro says Admiral de Mello sailed with several warships in an unknown direction. It is believed the fleet went south.

New York, Nov. 30.—Admiral Stanton, who was relieved of the command of the South American squadron for securing the flag of the rebel admiral, Mello, arrived here on the steamer Spree late last night. He declined to speak of the incident which led to his recall. Concerning the bombardment of Rio de Janeiro he said he had been through the city several times and beyond a piece of cornice chipped off here and there only little damage was done to the city.

New London, Ct., Nov. 30.—Admiral Stanton arrived this afternoon. Stanton claims he simply saluted the flag and not the squadron of the Brazilian rebels, and says there are precedents for such action.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Action in the case of Commodore Stanton has been deferred until his arrival in Washington. He is expected about the middle of December.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The Nietheroy is awaiting at the West Indies the arrival of her consort, America. The two steamers will start together for Rio, which it is expected they will reach in about seven days. Minister Mendonca says: "I do not put any confidence in the report that Mello has left port and is going south. I do not believe he has left at all. It is possible some vessels outside of Rio will attempt to check the Nietheroy and America, but as the fastest vessel Mello has outside the bay cannot make 14 knots an hour, we do not anticipate any trouble, because our ships are much faster."

Sacramento's New Charter.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 30.—Mayor Steinman informed a Bee reporter today that the city trustees will be mandated next Monday to show cause why they should not grant certificates of election to the newly elected city officials. This will throw the question of the validity of the new charter into the supreme court, and the matter will be decided before January 1st, in time for the installation of the new city government.

AMERICANS CELEBRATE IN BERLIN AND ROME.

The Festivities at the Former Place Were of Unusual Brilliance—No United Celebration in London.

BERLIN, Nov. 30.—The most general celebration of Thanksgiving outside of the United States took place at the Kaiserhof hotel this evening. The hotel was bright with flags and 300 American consuls and their American friends dined there under the leadership of United States Ambassador Runyon. The celebration was on a larger scale than ever before witnessed in Berlin, owing to the desire of the Americans to do honor to the raising of the United States flag to the dignity of an embassy.

United States Ambassador Runyon proposed the health of Emperor William and also toasted President Cleveland in an eloquent and flattering speech.

A cablegram was sent to President Cleveland over the signature of the ambassador, as follows: "Over 300 Americans assembled at a banquet in the Kaiserhof to send you patriotic greetings. The festivities of the day are an immense success."

GIANTS OF THE GRIDIRON.

Yesterday's Football Games Hotly Contested.

Stanford and Berkeley Again Play a Draw.

The Yale Champions Downed by the Princeton Tigers.

Harvard's Crimson Waves Triumphantly Over Pennsylvania—Cambridge Clay Mopped with the Quakers.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30.—Stanford, 6; University of California, 6, was the score of a desperately fought football game this afternoon. A drizzling rain sifted down all day, but 10,000 people sat in the stands and on the bleachers and bawled for their favorites. The grounds had been soaked by five days' rain, and patches of mud and puddles of water were numerous.

Scientific play was out of the question, and the players slipped and fell and fumbled in their efforts to get over the ground.

Although the game was not called until 2 o'clock, the crowd started out to the field before 12 o'clock, and when the game was started nearly every seat was filled. Stanford was the favorite in betting, two to one, but the conditions were against them, and, as predicted, the Berkeley men proved to be the better mud-larks.

Neither side attempted any tricks, and the game was simply struggle and push, with an occasional attempt at a run around the ends.

During the first half Stanford played in hard luck. A brisk wind was blowing against them, rain was driving in their faces, and they had to work the ball up hill towards the California's goal. Berkeley also suffered in the loss of Hunt, their star player, who was injured and compelled to retire shortly after the game commenced. Smith took his place at the left end.

The game commenced with the ball in Stanford's possession. At the start off Walton got through Berkeley's line and made 40 yards, but Stanford soon lost the ball on downs and Berkeley punted it from the field for 50 yards. Stanford could not get back the lost ground, and Berkeley worked the ball to their opponents' goal, securing a touch-down. Taylor kicked a goal and the score stood: University of California, 6; Stanford, 0.

Stanford made a desperate effort to score, but the end of the first half came too soon, though by bucking Berkeley's left end they made great gains.

The second half commenced with the wind and slope in Stanford's favor, and by Walton's great run around the end got the ball within five yards of Berkeley's goal, but Walton slipped and fell and Stanford lost the ball.

At this juncture Benson, of Berkeley, and Code, of Stanford, were disqualified for fighting, their places being taken by Wilder and Harrison. Easton, of Berkeley, worked the ball to their opponents' goal, securing a touch-down. Taylor kicked a goal and the score was tied.

During the remainder of the second half neither side could gain the advantage and time was called with the ball exactly in the center of the field.

No one in the city today could be unaware that the great football match between the State and Stanford universities was on the tapis. Scores of students of the rival institutions paraded the streets in the forenoon bedecked with ribbons of their college colors. By 12 o'clock the crowd around the Baldwin hotel, headquarters of the State university team, was so dense that only with the greatest difficulty could passers-by get through. At 1 o'clock the Berkeley eleven busied into occasion, and, escorted by a howling mob, started for the grounds. Their two disabled men, Morse and Hunt, were seen to be among the number.

The Stanford team took a less ostentatious departure for the gridiron, which was the Mecca toward which all San Francisco seemed to be making its way. The street car lines and buses were all taxed to the utmost, and every private conveyance seemed to be in the procession bound for the Haight street ground.

In betting circles least affected by college patriotism, Stanford took the precedence in betting, odds of 2 to 1 being freely offered.

During the first half Berkeley outplayed Stanford at every point. When the half was ended, the men who had wallowed in the mud and slush looked more like scavengers or sewer hands at the end of a hard day's work than like the young men who entered the field 45 minutes before in bright new uniforms. They were encased with mud and blackened and dripping with slush from head to foot.
