BRADBURY-BANNING.

THE NOTABLE WEDDING OF RECENT OCCURRENCE.

No Reason for the Secret Way in Which the Event Was Conducted—An Account of the Ceremony, Etc.

The announcement of the marriage of John Bradbury and Miss Lucy Banning, in Oakland, on Monday last, occasioned a decided social sensation hereabouts.

Mr. Bradbury is well known as one of the heirs to the Bradbury estate, and the hero of a number of high-rolling episodes.

Mrs. Bradbury is a daughter of the late General Phineas Banning, and is wealthy in her own right. She is a remarkably intelligent, bright young woman, and is one of the handsomest girls in the state.

It does not appear that there was any necessity for the secret way in which the couple were married, for it is stated that the parents of both were not opposed to the match.

In the San Francisco Chronicle of Tuesday is given the following account of the affair:

John T. Bradbury, the son of the well-known capitalist of Southern California, was quietly married in Oakland last night to Miss Lucy Banning. The wedding is said to be a genuine love match, and by some it was thought to be a romantic elopement. The couple are not known in Oakland at all, and, in fact, they had to get the advice of a hackman whom they knew before they could get wedded.

The couple arrived in the city shortly after 7 o'clock, and it is supposed that they came in on the southern train. They had been in the city but a short time when they hunted up George Dunham, a hack driver. This young man had worked for the Bradburys, and John Bradbury knew that he was located in Oakland.

Dunham steered the couple to the Fashion livery stable on Broadway, and here they remained for nearly an hour in the private office. They joked and talked, and made no secret of their intended wedding. It was a queer affair all around, and even the hack driver was somewhat mystified over the proceedings.

The cause of the long wait was due to the fact that the county clerk's office was closed and the couple had to wait until a deputy clerk could be hunted up. Edward Noblett, one of the proprietors of the stable, was interested in the secret marriage, and he consented to get the clerk so that a license could be issued. Time seemed to be the essence of the matter, and the deputy clerk came dashing down Broadway in a hack. He was ushered into the presence of young Bradbury in the stable.

"What do you want?" asked Mr. Bradbury.

"A marriage license, sir, at any price," said the young man.

Mr. Bradbury was only too willing to make the county $2 richer, and the party was soon driven to the office of the county clerk.

"Who are you, Mr. Bradbury?" was asked.

"I am 22 years old, a native of Mexico and a resident of Los Angeles," replied the young man.

"How old are you, Miss Banning?" "I am over 18 years," replied the young lady.

Clerk Fury was somewhat suspicious at this statement, and asked the young lady to raise her veil. This she did in an instant, but the clerk was unable to judge from appearance whether she was under the 18-year-old mark. The best thing he could do was to swear her to the statement, and she took the oath like a little major.

The license was then issued and the party proceeded to the home of Rev. Benjamin Akery, an Episcopal minister, who lives on Adams street. The wedding ceremony was short and sweet, George Dunham, the hack driver, and M. K. Ackerly acted as witnesses, and the couple were soon declared to be man and wife.

There were few congratulations, for no relatives were present. The ceremony being over, the young couple hurried to San Francisco and announced that they were going to take quarters at the Palace hotel.

Bradbury paid everybody well who assisted him to hurry up the wedding. Mrs. Bradbury is the daughter of the well-known railroad man for whom the town of Banning is named down south. He is said to be quite rich.

The bridegroom is a very wealthy young man. His father, who died recently in Los Angeles, owned the real estate block in that city and other vast real estate interests in the southern portion of the state. Young Bradbury obtained considerable notoriety last April by being dragged into the stories which were then published in the newspapers concerning the adventures which he posed as the Viscountess d'Henriot, but who in reality was plain Bonnie Rieley of Portland, Ore.

The woman claimed to be engaged to Johnny Bradbury, and protested her love for the young millionaire in the most emphatic terms. She claimed that he had broken off his engagement with a Miss Winston in order to marry her.

Young Bradbury laughed at the stories published at the time. He admitted that he knew the viscountess, but denied that he had ever been engaged to her.

but denied that he was engaged to be married to her.

THE COUNTESS LEAVES. There has been considerable interest manifested hereabouts regarding the way the Countess Vera d'Orléans Hastings d'Henriot would take the news of the wedding as she had announced several times her intention of marrying the young man herself.

That the celebrated young woman would be desolated by the event was expected, but the facts cannot be learned for the countess, with her black pearls, silver bath-tub, and toilettes de Worth was yesterday found to have taken her congé, and for San Francisco.

If she is there still she is not liable to be still there, for her forte is not quietude, but if she should make a grande eclandre it cannot do her any good under the circumstances.

An impression was current yesterday among the vivacious, that the belle comtesse had received a suitable consolation, and that she was travelling towards her chere Paris in a special car, with her pocket-book well filled with billets de banque. Considering the subject the French is excusable.

THE CITY FINANCES.

Report of City Treasurer Shoulters for November. City Treasurer Shoulters filed his report for the month ending November 30th with the city clerk yesterday, showing the condition of the county finances.

There was on hand November 1st, $345,348.20; received during November, $339,522.31; total, $684,870.51. The disbursements for November were $284,214.48. Balance November 30th, $400,656.03.

Licensed to Marry.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday by the county clerk to the following persons:

Frank Healy, native of Canada, 33 years of age, and Grace E. Seabrooke, also of Canada, 24 years of age; both residents of Pasadena.

Lewis Wardell, native of Canada, 29 years of age, and Esther Avers, 21 years of age; both residents of Glendale.

Edward A. Meisenburger, native of California, 22 years of age, and Minnie E. Buckingham, native of Mississippi, 19 years of age; both residents of this city.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50¢ and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.
