TOM REED'S PROPHECY

And the Alleged Fulfillment Thereof.

Facetious Remarks by the Autocrat.

Banquet of the Boston Home Market Club.

Senator Hoar and Ex-Speaker Reed the Principal Speakers—They Gloat Over the Late Republican Victory. Boston, Nov. 22.—The annual banquet of the Home Market club of Boston, the leading Republican organization of Massachusetts, was held at Mechanics' building tonight. Portraits of McKinley, Garfield, Harrison, Hayes, Senator Hoar, Thomas B. Reed and other Republican lights hung about the place. Upon the platform, beside the party forming the reception committee, were Gen. Russell A. Alger of Detroit and Rev. Edward Everett Hale of Boston. After due attention had been devoted to the viands, Colonel Clark arose and extended the cordial greetings of the Home Market club to the assembly. Colonel Clark then introduced governor Greenhalge, who extended a welcome to the guests for the people of Massachusetts.

Belief in our doctrines. We need teaching which comes from practical results. We need a distribution of the facts. When I say to you that protection will cheapen goods and make better goods you may yield assent, but it may not be a fighting faith. But when I show my facts and figures, that ground glass, for example, though raised a hundred per cent by the McKinley tariff, has reached almost the same price as before, the consumer gets American glass worth 20 per cent more and every inch of it made by American labor. I show something that is an ever present answer to all the theories of the world. "During the next two years this country needs the help of every man who has the slightest morsel of truth in his possession. Why do I insist on this? Because the stream cannot rise higher than the source. If we had an absolute, despotic monarch, could we hope for laws which would be better than he knew? Who is our ruler? The sovereign people of the United States, more despotic than any monarch that ever sat on a throne. Now, it is impossible to have laws more sensible than the people are. We have had a mighty victory, the greatest in the history of our country. It was won, not by our organs, but by our principles. But great as our victory is, there is a greater we must win. By our wisdom, moderation and good sense we must govern this country that the great questions of the next six years may be solved in a solution as the great questions of the day have been. The hands of the great Republicans who preserved the union, upheld the honor of the nation and gave the people 30 years of peace, prosperity and progress." The secretary read a telegram from Governor McKinley in which he said that such occasions in the past had been like homecoming after the harvest of the year. He congratulated both the club and Mr. Reed upon the magnificent voting of 1894.

MORMON MISSIONARIES.

THEIR FRUITFUL LABORS IN THE SOUTH SEA ISLANDS.

Two White Children Brought by Elders From Samoa Refused Admission at the Port of San Francisco.

San Francisco, Nov. 22.—The steamer Mariposa, which arrived today from the South sea, brought seven Mormon elders who have been proselyting in the islands. They are en route to Salt Lake. Their missionary work has been done in Samoa, the Friendly islands and New Zealand. They claim to have converted over 400 natives in Samoa and to have 3000 followers in New Zealand. They, with 20 elders who remained in the islands, have been carrying on their work for three years past. "Traveling with the elders in the steamer were a girl and boy, aged 8 and 11 years, who are detained on board the steamer. The local commissioner of immigration refuses to allow the elders to land them. The children, who are white, are from the Samoan islands. The elders claim to have been given the custody of the children by their parents. They say it was their intention to educate the little ones at Salt Lake. However this may be, the local authorities threaten to send the children back to Samoa.

AN AMBITIOUS PROJECT.

The Largest Telescope in the World for San Diego.

Chicago, Nov. 22.—The North side astronomer, Louis Gathmann, inventor of the sectional lens, has been approached by a California syndicate and asked to figure on the largest telescope in the world, to be located on San Miguel mountain, a short distance east of San Diego. The syndicate people own a large strip of land near San Diego and they are trying to boom it. They say that a wealthy resident of that region is willing to put up the money. What they want is something that will eclipse the world's best efforts. According to the way in which they are now talking, they want to build a telescope to figure on the construction of a 200-inch telescope which will have from 20 to 40 times the power of the Lick telescope. The climate near San Miguel mountain is said to be almost perfect and it is said that it would be an ideal spot on which to establish a telescope. The San Diego men do not expect to have the lens completed in less than four or five years, and they are not quibbling as to the cost. Mr. Gathmann during the last session of the Chicago syndicate established himself in California, but he says he does not want to go there unless he is obliged to, but if the offer is made, with the requisite amount of cash back of it, Mr. Gathmann will surely leave this city, as it has been the ambition of his life to establish the largest telescope in the world. He, however, laughs at the idea of constructing so large an instrument as the western people suggest.

ESTEE ACCEPTS DEFEAT.

He Will Not Contest Budd's Election.

His Managers, However, Will Try It On.

Dan Burns Again Gets Unenviable Notoriety.

Attorney A. L. Hart Sues Him for Fees for Defending Him Against the Charges of Embezzlement.

San Francisco, Nov. 22.—M. M. Estee will not contest the election of Budd. He has written a letter to the Republican state central committee to that effect. Although conceding his own defeat, Mr. Estee congratulates the party on a victory which has given it every state office but two. While he believes frauds were committed in San Francisco on the face of the returns, causing a plurality against him, he requests that whatever action may be taken his personal advancement may not be a factor in their disposition. He says he ended his fight with the canvass and leaves the result with the honest people of this state to do only what is just and legal. In spite of the letter issued by M. M. Estee to the effect that he would not contest the election of Budd for the governorship of the state and would not authorize anyone else to make a contest, it is said that the Republican state central committee has finally decided to contest the election in the legislature on the ground of fraud.

BOSS BURNS SUED.

Attorney A. L. Hart Demands His Hard-Earned Fees.

San Francisco, Nov. 22.—Ex-Attorney-General A. L. Hart of San Francisco, who was a thorn in the flesh of Col. Dan Burns at the last Republican convention, today began suit against Burns for $23,000 and costs. Hart, in his complaint, recalls the scandal that arose concerning the alleged embezzlement by Burns while secretary of state of $31,574.64. Hart sues to recover the balance due on his fee of $25,000, which amount he says is justly due for defending Burns on several actions based on the alleged defalcations. Hart says that $2000 has been paid him on account, and he now desires a speedy settlement.

THE HATCH TRIAL.

More Witnesses Connect the Defendant With the Train Wreck.

Woodland, Cal., Nov. 22.—The witnesses at the morning session of the Hatch trial were Lieutenant Perkins, ex-Fireman Winne and A. J. Casselman. Winne testified that on the day of the wreck he drove out from Sacramento on a delivery wagon to take provisions for a body of strikers camped in the willows near the trestle, ostensibly sent there to guard railroad property. One of the guards, Connor, told him that his real purpose was to shoot the engineer who should attempt to take a train out. On his way back he met a three-seated rig containing seven or eight men going in the direction of the trestle, and Hatch was one of the party. The last witness at the morning session of the Hatch case was J. Casselman, a hog-grower on the Sacramento river. In addition to his testimony at the Woodland trial, he said Hatch was one of the six or seven men he met on the morning of the wreck near his farm when Worden wanted to take a near cut to Davisville by going through his hop ranch. When the witness told them they would have to go via Elkhorn, Hatch responded, "All right, Jake." S. K. Shutz, who is a cook, also saw the carriage containing Worden, Hatch and others going north on that day. At the preliminary examination Shutz identified Mullen as Hatch. Today he explained his mistake by saying he was looking at General Hatch when the question was asked, and not in the direction that his finger was pointed. A. W. Vickers, a new witness, was next on the stand. He met Hatch and five others on the morning of the wreck near the school house north of Washington. Hatch inquired for a boat to cross the river, and got in a cart with the witness and rode to Erickson's and the Merkeley place, but got no boat. They rode back to the school house and separated. Hatch was going in the direction of the river. The defense tried hard to tangle the witness, but failed. The prosecution has 30 more witnesses and will not conclude before Saturday.

PULLED HIS NOSE.

J. Morris Sues "Young Mitchell" for $200 Damages.

San Francisco, Nov. 22.—J. L. Hergert, better known as "Young Mitchell," the pugilist, has been sued for $200 damages for pulling the nose of J. Morris. Morris keeps a cigar stand in front of Hergert's saloon, and during an argument over personal affairs, the pugilist pulled the nose of the cigar man. Morris alleges in his suit that the pulling and wrenching of his nose by the defendant made him ill and subjected him to the ridicule of the passers by, to his damage in the sum of $200.

FIIZ-AMMONS EXONERATED.

He Is Not Held Responsible for Riordan's Death.

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 22.—The inquest over the body of Prize Fighter Riordan, who, while sparring with Bob Fitzsimmons Friday night last, was knocked out and died later, was held here tonight. Many witnesses were examined. The jury, which was composed of some of the representative business men of the town, brought in a verdict of "clock exploding Fitzsimmons' District Attorney Shove" says that despite the verdict he will present the case to the grand jury.

Disabled While Making the Wharf at Santa Cruz Island—Passengers Taken Off by the Steamer Santa Cruz.

Santa Barbara, Nov. 22.—[Special]. The steamer Santa Cruz, southbound, picked up in the channel six men and the second mate of the Pacific Steamship company's steamer Coos Bay, which had broken her shaft while making the wharf at Santa Cruz island, Wednesday night. The men were on the way to this port for assistance. They were brought to this city, and on orders from the company the Santa Cruz proceeded to the island to take off the passengers, who were brought here this evening. The disabled steamer will be taken in tow by the Pomona tomorrow night.

FREMONT'S REMAINS.

The Pathfinder's Body Laid in Its Final Resting Place.

New York, Nov. 22.—A party of about 50 people journeyed out to Rockland cemetery in Sparkhill, N. Y., this afternoon to attend the ceremony of placing Gen. John C. Fremont's body in its final resting place. The services at the cemetery were of the simplest description. The burial service was read by the Rev. Ward Dennis, rector of Christ church, Sparkhill. Rear Admiral Meade made a brief address, in which he referred to General Fremont's labors in behalf of the slaves. He was followed by the Rev. R. C. Dowell, who spoke of General Fremont's personal characteristics. General Fremont died July 13, 1890, and the remains were temporarily placed in a receiving vault in Trinity cemetery.

A ROOLESS HOLDUP.

An Oregon Stage Robbed by a Lone Highwayman.

Klamath Falls, Ore., Nov. 22.—The Klamath Falls-Ager stage was held up yesterday afternoon about four miles from Ager by a lone highwayman, in plain view of a number of laborers who were at work on the wagon road. The laborers were unarmed and were unable to lend any assistance. The robber stepped up to the stage from the roadside and ordered the driver to throw out the express box. He did so without a protest. The box contained nothing of any value to the highwayman. The mail pouches and two passengers were un molested.

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS.

In accordance with the suggestion of Japan, the state department has notified Minister Dun at Tokio and Denby at Peking to transmit any direct offer China may wish to make to Japan. The Chinese delegation here is not notified as to what course its government will take. An Associated Press cable from Japan states, however, that China has intimated a willingness to pay an indemnity of 100,000,000 taels and in addition all the war expenses incurred by Japan. As the war expenses reach 150,000,000 taels, the total offer of China would be 250,000,000. A tael is a Chinese silver coin worth about 75 cents at the present exchange. It is believed here arrangements between the two nations could be effected on terms providing for a smaller war indemnity. Diplomats say that under ordinary circumstances it would take some time for China to formally present its offer to Minister Denby; but as the Japanese are now at the walls of Port Arthur, about to make a last blow at China's greatest fortress, it is anticipated that China may hurry negotiations to a conclusion. It is expected Minister Denby will transmit an offer by telegraph to Tien Tain and Shang hai and thence by cable to Yokohama.

CHINA'S ILL LUCK.

The Most Powerful Warship in the Chinese Navy Disabled.

THE CHEN YUEN LOST.

The Vessel Ran on a Torpedo and Her Commander Suicided.

OVERTURES FOR PEACE.

An Envoy Sent to Japan to Arrange a Settlement—A Large Indemnity Offered—Fighting at Port Arthur.

Washington, Nov. 22.—The Chinese have lost the finest and most powerful vessel of their navy, the great battleship Chen Yuen, which stood the brunt of the fighting at the battle of the Yalu river. A cable received at the navy department today states that the Chen Yuen, in leaving Wei Hai Wei harbor on the 18th inst., accidentally struck a torpedo. She was beached, but was rendered useless for lack of docking facilities. In despair at the catastrophe, the commander, Commodore Lin, committed suicide.

The Shen Yuen was a magnificent fighting machine, very much like our own battle ship Maine. She was built in Europe in 1892 and was of 7450 tons displacement. It would seem from facts in the cable that the ship fell a victim to one of the torpedoes planted by the Chinese themselves to guard the entrance of Wei Hai Wei, which was the last of the great naval strongholds of the empire save Port Arthur, now tottering to its fall.

It was well that Commodore Lin committed suicide, for he would doubtless have lost the finest and most powerful vessel of his navy. It is believed here this loss has deprived the Chinese navy of its offensive power. There remains the Ting Yuen, a powerful battle ship, and a few lesser ironclads, but without the aid of the Chen Yuen they would hardly dare to make an offensive campaign, and probably will remain in port to assist in the defense.

THE ADVANCE ON PORT ARTHUR.

The advance on Port Arthur is regarded as having an important bearing on the peace negotiations. Lieutenant Miyoko, naval attaché of the Japanese legation here, says the advance movement has been most cautious, as the ground for 40 miles around Port Arthur has been found fairly alive with powder mines connected with electric wires to Port Arthur.

Three days ago the Japanese were within a day's march of the fortress, but it was necessary to send ahead a small scouting party to pick a route away from the mines and electric wires. The regular troops cannot be used for the artillery, as it would have been blown up, and accordingly the big guns have had to be moved in circuitous routes through woods and morasses. It is regarded as likely this cautious march will have been completed today, and the Japanese legation is hourly expecting word that decisive blow has been struck, though a long siege may be necessary, as the fortress has one of the strongest defenses of modern times. It is believed that a Japanese success would quickly close the peace negotiations, but that a rapids would impel China to hold off further.
