

THE KING'S DAUGHTERS

Held Their Regular Monthly Meeting Yesterday

IN THE FIRST M. E. CHURCH

Routine Business Was Transacted and Reports Read

An Interesting Account of the Day Nursery, Its New Cottage Home, and Its Happy Family

The regular monthly meeting of King's Daughters was held yesterday afternoon in the Sunday school room of the First M. E. church.

Mrs. Robinson, who is acting as secretary pro tem in the absence of Mrs. Weaver, read the minutes of the previous meeting and routine business and reports from the various circles occupied the rest of the afternoon.

Mrs. Jarvis told of the yearly visit that the Tropic circle had recently paid the Newsboys' home, when a certain number of shirts for the small chaps, and necessities to the amount of $5, in the way of table cloths, handkerchiefs and towels were presented, as is the custom upon each visit.

A new Whatsoever circle was reported as having been formed in July, to meet at Mrs. R. K. Weston's; and an invitation was presented from the two months' old King's Daughters' home at 212 West Thirtieth street.

Mrs. Jarvis read the matron's report from the day nursery, that is conducted by the day nursery circle, which showed gratifying results in the short time the nursery has been in existence.

Before the end of three months it had outgrown the room in Bethlehem church where it was first started and is now located in a pleasant cottage of four rooms at the corner of Jackson and Center streets.

Where the children are kept in a room of plenty of fresh air and sunshine, the beneficial effects of which are noticeable in their ready and prompt response to the call at meal times.

An interesting account of a Sunday school picnic, which the older children had attended, followed, and although the hour for starting was 9 a. m. one small citizen aged 7 years left his home at 4 a. m. in order to "be there" on time.

Attending physicians visit the nursery each week and there has been so far no illness to report, and the behavior of the children is excellent.

The suggestion was made that "the difficulties and burdens now resting upon the finance committee might be lightened if contribution boxes could be placed in the nursery and other places a building fund also might be started.

Mrs. Landt reported the gratifying work that is going on at the county hospital under the able supervision of Mrs. O'Neil in her vigorous and unexcelled house cleaning.

Mrs. Wheeler announced that the Prospect Park circle will give an ice cream social at that place next Tuesday night, and the meeting closed with the unanimous vote to postpone the annual assembly meeting until the first Saturday in October.

Mrs. Helen Birdsell, the president, will have ready from the east, and many of those now absent at the beaches will be again in the city.

THE BOARD OF POLICE COMMISSIONERS will have more than the usually important list of applications for saloon licenses to act upon at its next meeting to be held on Tuesday morning.

Otto Wannack has filed an application for a license at 180 Downey avenue. The premises are known as the Baron Reupial property.

Here it is where the Wannack brothers, who recently arrived in Los Angeles from Germany, intend to fit up a casino and pleasure grounds, the like of which has never been seen anywhere on the Pacific coast.

The brothers intend to spend over $10,000 on the premises. The property embraces a little more than three acres.

Theodore Bauer has an application before the board for a saloon license in what is known as the Pacific coast, on the east side of Aliso street, near Marchessault. The locality is behind the celebrated fence, and Bauer alleges that the women in the neighborhood do not want the saloon through the public streets, outside of the barred territory, when they want liquor.

His saloon is intended to end this supposedly evil practice and thus fill a long felt want.

Frank Hoffman, who the board refused a license at 328 North Spring street, has filed a new application. The merchants in the block are protesting against the granting of the license; but Hoffman wants a relaxing.

George Bernstein had an application before the board at the last meeting, for a license at 328 West Second street. The locality is in the first ward district, and the application was refused on the ground that the vicinity is a residence portion of the city.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA BOY J. Will Rice, of This City, the Crack Swimmer

Arranging Races to Be Held at Santa Monica. A Bright Record in the Athletic World—Has Many Medals

J. William Rice of Los Angeles, champion 100 yards swimmer of Southern California, who has held that position for the last three years against all comers, is arranging with Ray Jones of Santa Monica a series of short distance races, to be held at that delightful seaside resort during the summer.

J. W. RICE, Champion 100-Yard Swimmer of Southern California

He received as his first prize for the victory. He was highly complimented by Prof. Chas. Doyle for gallantry in saving several lives on that occasion when a stand collapsed and a large number of people were precipitated into the water.

In June, 1894, the San Francisco Examiner printed a sketch of Rice's career as a champion swimmer, illustrating it with a full length picture of a young athlete in a Y. M. C. A. gymnasium costume.

The Examiner said: "Justus W. Rice of the association is the champion short distance swimmer of that part of the state. The first race he won in Los Angeles was at the natatorium in June, 1891, when he made the hundred yards in one minute and seven seconds.

At the same date and place he made a quarter of a mile in three minutes, fifty-nine seconds. He now has a 100 yard record of one minute twelve seconds. He has swum at all the Southern California seaside resorts, and has never been defeated at any distance up to a quarter. He is only 17 years old, and has been swimming for three years. If any amateur is anxious to try consistency with him, Mr. Rice will be more than ready to make a match.

Rice is now 19 years of age, is in prime condition and is ready to back up the statement in the preceding paragraph. He holds his medal entitling him to the 100 yard championship for three years successfully. The last medal earned by this crack swimmer was taken at Santa Monica only three weeks ago. It is a handsome gold and silver shield with two bars above, skillfully engraved and inscribed with his name and record. It was given by the Southern Pacific to him as winner of the half-mile surf swim, held July 14. Rice was a pupil of Captain Jack Williams, the champion swimmer of the world and his future as an athlete is regarded as most promising. He has numerous medals for victories received. He is employed in an abstract office and is very highly esteemed by his employers and friends.

AN ADVERTISING SCHEME

The Street Signs to Be Put to New Use

An enterprising individual wants to take a contract off the hands of the Municipality

An enterprising individual has come to the front with a proposition which is intended to prevent the expenditure of considerable of the public funds, while at the same time putting a few surplus dollars into his own pockets.

A proposal is to be submitted to the council tomorrow to furnish the city with all of the street signs needed free of cost, the contractor to be granted the privilege of using one side of the signs for advertising purposes.

Street signs are now placed in position by the superintendent of streets, the signs at present used being wooden affairs which are easily broken and which cost the city about $900 a year.

A SALOON ENTIRELY BURNED

The Grand Pacific Ruined by Fire Yesterday Morning

The Proprietor Was Asleep and Nearly Perished in the Flames—Said to Have Been an Objectionable Place

The Grand Pacific saloon at 1538 San Fernando street, owned by J. H. Bridges, was completely destroyed by fire yesterday morning, shortly after 3 o'clock.

When the fire department arrived the saloon had been practically burned out. There was the bar-room while on the side and in the rear were several card and wine rooms.

G. Miles, the barkeeper, said that he went home shortly before 12 o'clock at night leaving Bridges in charge with another man in the saloon.

Bridges was insured for $300 and the barkeeper estimated the value of the business at about $1400. Mrs. Bernero, the owner of the property, said that Bridges informed her he had purchased the outfit for $100 from Kelly, the former proprietor.

The people in the neighborhood assert that Bridges conducted a most objectionable place. The piano was always going until 1 o'clock each morning and drunken men and women maintained orgies nearly every night.
