CELEBRATION BY COMPANY D

Of the Anniversary of Its Organization

DANCING AND BANQUETING

Fill Up the Hours Not Spent in Speechmaking

Prisoners of War Ask for a Charter News Notes From the Crown of the Valley

PASADENA, Dec. 24.—Company D, in command of Captain Bangham, celebrated its sixth anniversary last evening at East San Gabriel hotel. The members turned out to the number of about sixty and went down to two tallies and other conveniences, and were accompanied by lady friends and a few invited guests.

Though ex-Governor Markham and General East, who were expected, could not attend, those present enjoyed a delightful evening. Immediately after arriving, the company, led by Lieutenant Lippencott and Miss Lippencott, filed into the spacious ballroom, which the host had appropriately arranged, and dancing was indulged in for two hours. At 10 o'clock the party adjourned to the diningroom, where a sumptuous collation was served under the eye of Captain Bangham, as toastmaster, and Colonel Hansen and wife and Colonel Shreiber and wife.

The banquet was followed by speeches from Colonel Hansen, in response to a toast to the governor, from Captain Bangham, Colonel Shreiber and Sergeant Garlick. Colonel Hansen spoke highly of the company, but Colonel Shreiber was enthusiastic, declaring that there was not a better drilled company in the regiment and advising the boys to issue a challenge, that would prove his assertion, to any aspiring military organization in these parts. Judge Rossett, in response to a toast to the old and ex-members of Company D, dwelt upon the burning question of war with England, and expressed the opinion that such disputes would be easily adjudged as long as we support free institutions. Sergeant Garlick's speech was in the nature of a happy surmise to Captain Bangham, at least. Saluting his commander with a few verses appropriate to the occasion, he presented him with a tribute from the soldiers in the shape of an elegant officer's sword.

Dancing was resumed after the banquet

HAPPENINGS AT SANTA ANA

The Jury's Verdict in the Salladay Shooting Case

Eucalyptus Lane's First Fair is a Tremendous Success—A Bold Burglary—Term Trial Jurors Chosen

SANTA ANA, Dec. 24.—The evidence at the inquest over the remains of Wesley Salladay, killed Monday by the accidental discharge of his own gun, differed very little from the account given in THE HERALD. The name of the companion of Salladay was given as Lortier; it should have been Kitchin. The relatives of the unfortunate young man were found in Los Angeles, and his parents, his brother, E. E. Salladay, and sister, Mrs. E. Unger, came here on the morning train. The verdict of the jury was that he came to his death from the accidental discharge of a gun in his own hand. The funeral occurred from Mills & Turner's undertaking rooms at 3 p. m. yesterday. The mother of the young man is greatly prostrated, and all are greatly shocked at his loss.

LANE'S FIRST FAIR

A Garden Grove fair, baby show, and flag raising came off at the village of Garden Grove under the auspices of Eucalyptus Lane, general manager, as per announcement last evening. There were fully 200 people present. There were felicitous speeches by Dr. W. Head and E. Lane of Garden Grove, a very good speech by Z. B. West of Santa Ana, and some very good vocal music by Messrs. Harry and Ed Lane, Mr. May, Miss Robinson and Belt and others.

The flag with Missouri doctrine accoutrements went to the top of the mast, specially erected for the occasion, amid much enthusiasm. There was a fine display of vegetables including pumpkins from 150 pounds up to great big ones.

Spuds that would make an admirer of that article enthusiastic, corn in great variety and in quantity, from good to magnificent. Other vegetables were in abundance and of fine quality.

Mr. Burkinshaw won first prize on pumpkins.

Harry Oldfield gathered the plum with his potatoes and Miss Elin's White's beautiful bouquet won first money.

Mrs. Ernest Chaffee's baby wears the blue ribbon. A number of other prizes were worthily bestowed, and late in the evening all went home assured that Lane's first fair at Garden Grove was a success.

A BOLD BURGLARY

There was a bold burglary committed yesterday about 2:30 p. m. L. Goepfer's residence on West street being entered, some $5 in money and several articles in jewelry being taken, valued at about $15 in all.

The thief seems to have been fixed with skeleton key and nerve to use them, as the place is near other houses, and the occupants saw them pass along the street and approach the front door and enter. Mrs. Slack, who says him, not knowing the Goepfer family was absent, paid no attention to the matter.

Sheriff Nichols is quite sure he knows the man, and he will be likely to have him in the following week.

TRIAL JURORS

The following names were today drawn as trial jurors to appear January 2: T. J. Cook, G. W. Bissett, J. B. Ameron, S. Holman, V. R. Durfee, F. A. Kern, P. T. Adams, Benton Flood, H. M. Neill, A. T. Cole, John Goodrich, C. C. Collins, W. G. McPherson, F. Rafferty, J. S. Bell, W. G. Paine, T. Ford, H. Jensen, W. J. Hill, J. J. Cook, W. B. Artz, A. N. Alderman, H. H. Edwards, M. Nissen, W. D. VENTURA

A Little Earthquake—A Burglar Scared, Also the Watchman

VENTURA, Dec. 24.—A severe earthquake shock was felt here last evening about 9:30 o'clock. It was noticed by nearly every one in town. It was not severe enough to do any damage.

For several months past some one has been entering the Castle saloon, owned by Z. Carrillo, and helping himself to whisky and cigars, taking each time a bottle of fine whisky and a box of cigars. For some time Carrillo has had a man watching the place, and this morning, about 10 o'clock, the watchman, hearing some one enter the saloon, stepped out to the sidewalk and ordered the thief to come out. He came, and with a run flew by the guard before he could raise his gun and disappeared around the corner. The watchman recovered sufficiently to shoot off his revolver a couple of times after the retreating burglar to accentuate his speed. It is evident the two didn't care to see each other very much. In his haste the burglar failed to leave his card and the watchman did not recognize him.

THE POLITE WORLD

One of the delightful dancing parties of the season was given last night by Miss Emma Graves at her home on South Pearl street. The spacious house is especially adaptable for an affair of the kind, and the rooms on the lower floor that were all thrown into one were canvased and brilliantly lighted and with the accessories of beautiful decorations and the merry throng of young guests, the scene presented was a gay one. The rooms were draped in fish netting. This pretty form of decoration was carried out in all the rooms with grace and artistic skill. Women in the meshes were bright flowers, each room having a different scheme of color, and pink roses and chrysanthemums were banked on the mantle in the drawing room, and mingling in with the fragrant flowers were pink satin ribbons ending at the posts with graceful bows. A canopy formed of alternate pink crepe and strands of smilax, which radiated from the chandelier, made a charming finish to the arrangement. The back drawing room bright yellow held sway, and the dining room was adorned with the fragrant flowers were pink satin ribbons ending at the posts with graceful bows. PERSONALS

Thomas D. Ogg, agent for the Southern Pacific railroad at Saugus, is in the city, accompanied by his wife. Miss Lizzie Chute of this city went to San Bernardino yesterday, where she will pass the holidays with her parents. R. Garner Curran has returned from San Francisco and will take charge of the Press Clipping Bureau in this city on January 1st. Hartley Shaw, son of Judge Lucian Shaw of department five, came down from San Francisco on Monday to spend the Christmas vacation with his parents. Mr. Shaw is attending the Hastings law school in San Francisco.

Applied Christianity

The Los Angeles Institute of Applied Christianity met last night at the Simpson tabernacle to discuss the question, Is Labor Entitled to the Value It Creates? Louis K. Webb, the secretary of the Los Angeles branch, opened the discussion, and W. H. Stewart and Mr. Smith of Oakland closed the affair. All three discussed the matter from the biblical standpoint, and made good arguments in favor of the laborer.

Christmas for the Poor

The Associated Charities will dispense today the gifts received from the Los Angeles high school, in the nature of clothing, edibles, etc. Many responded to the call for offerings to the poor from the Cudahy Fair company, with the result that the poor of the city will have some of the cheer of the season. All organizations of the city will be remembered.

The Sheriff Will Entertain

Sheriff John Burr will today entertain his deputies in a royal manner at Jerry Hill's, where they will eat a fine Christmas dinner as the guests of the high p. m. officer of Los Angeles county. The prisoners at the county jail will also receive a Christmas dinner of English plum pudding and roast beef.

Little Miss Alice Clary gave a charming afternoon party yesterday at her home to a number of her friends. A brilliant Christmas tree laden with pretty trifles delighted the children the first part of the afternoon, and the blowing of horns and looking at the pretty toys passed the time until the little ones fled into the dining room, where a table bright with holly berries was spread with tempting viands. There was music during the afternoon, and at 4 o'clock the guests departed, thinking Santa Claus very generous old fellow. Those entertained by the charming little hostess were: Hillard M. Gowan, Natalie and Dwight Whiting, Esme Childs, Harriet Branch, Margaret Salter, and Mary both Hicks, George Caswell, Teddy L'roy, Louise Polk, Louise and Lina Winato, Clarisse Stevens, Willie Gibbon, Donald and Harry Winato, Willie Newkirk.

Another home where Santa Claus left a generous quantity of toys was at General Johnson's, on South Hope street, where the guests of the preceding night, perhaps the most jolly of the day, it was petite Katherine J. Bond who made her little friends happy by adding them to her gorgeous tree. There were presents for each and all and the little 2-year-old hostess was not lacking in true, whole-souled hospitality. Her guests were: Margaret Salter, and Mary both Hicks, George Caswell, Teddy L'roy, Louise Polk, Louise and Lina Winato, Clarisse Stevens, Willie Gibbon, Donald and Harry Winato, Willie Newkirk.

Mr. M. P. Dorteas had a very pretty tree for her grandchildren, Mercedes, De Luna and Richard Perez, at her home on West Washington street. A veritable Santa Claus branch, opened the discussion, and W. H. Stewart and Mr. Smith of Oakland closed the affair. All three discussed the matter from the biblical standpoint, and made good arguments in favor of the laborer.

Mr. Guy Cochran is at home from Stanford for his vacation. Mr. Cochran has the distinction this year of being captain of the football team at the university.

Miss Clara Carpenter, who has been visiting in Berkeley for several months, is at home again.

Mrs. R. Du Puy, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Johnston, in Louisville, Ky., has returned to her home at 1101 West Street.

Harry Turner, Stanford '97, a member of Zeta Phi Psi Fraternity, is in town.

British Army Pensions

The ordinary pension to the widow of a lieutenant in the army is $200, and $300 each child. A captain's widow has $250, and $60 for each child; a lieutenant colonel's widow, $450 and $80 for each child; a general's widow, $800 and $100 for each child. If death is directly traced to fatigue, privation or exposure, the pensions are increased by half as much again; if the officer is killed in action, or dies of wounds within twelve months of the battle, the pensions are doubled. The ordinary pensions are not granted if the officer was twenty-five years older than his wife.

Took His Death Mask

There were a number of pathetic incidents connected with the death of Rev. Samuel P. Smith, D. D., author of the national hymn, "America." He had made an engagement with Cyrus Cobb, the sculptor, to sit for the following Monday for a bust. On the appointed day Mr. Cobb went to the studio to await the coming of Dr. Smith, and taking up a newspaper, for the first time this Saturday evening found that he had died. Thereupon, on the day that Dr. Smith was to sit for his bust, the sculptor went to his house and took his death mask.

The casual visitor of the bland disposition leaned over the shoulder of the regular bureau.

"Yes," the police reporter hastened to say. "He even sees the funny side of his own jokes."—Cincinnati Enquirer.
