BRIDES ENTERTAINED.

Mrs. Albert Crutcher was the hostess for the Brides' club yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Wm. Barnes. The afternoon was one of the most delightful enjoyed by the club, and in all the appointments and pleasures provided by the hostess there was a care given to the expression of her excellent taste. Tree characteristics was the game chosen to pass the hours away, the score being kept on daintily tinted cards that were artistically done in pen and ink. In the hall was a distribution of dark red chrysanthemums. Tall stalks of papyrus added a beauty to the flowers and in the drawing room and dining room the exquisite bowls and vases holding pink and white cosmos and pink roses. Bamboo was used to good advantage in these rooms. The guests' prize was a fernery filled with growing ferns, which was won by Miss lone Parsons. The first club prize was a pretty vase, which was captured by Mrs. Pemberton; the second, a cut glass pitcher, went to Mrs. Wm. Barnes. The guests departed late in the afternoon, after being served to a tempting repast. Those present of the club were Mrs. Pemberton, Mrs. Wm. Barnes, Mrs. Jevne, Dick Brenden, Braly, Barnes, Pemberton, Valentine, Jenkins, Burke, Blinn, Poy, Jauch-Goodhue. The guests were Mrs. W. L. Graves, Peck, Wells, S. S. Stribby, Clifford Page, Rodman, R. E. Page, Misses Sibley, Parsons, Grier and Overton. In the evening Mrs. Crutcher entertained in honor of her husband's birthday with progressive euchre. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. John Jackson, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Percy Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Edman, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mathews, Dr. and Mrs. Salisbury, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Parker, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dunne, Mrs. Page, Mrs. Clifford Page and Mr. Bohon.

MOTHER GOOSE PARTY.

One of the swellest functions of the season for the little folks was a Mother Goose party given Saturday afternoon by little Miss Barbara Taylor, who has only recently recovered from a serious illness caused by a fall. Her recovery makes the little one's birthday a time of extra rejoicing. Miss Margaret Taylor, the little daughter of Rector B. W. R. Taylor of St. John's Episcopal church, assisted the tiny Barbara in receiving. The invitations were each decorated in water colors with the character of the little guest, personated. Kings, ham hocks, tennis, tailing the donkey and other games were enjoyed in the spacious grounds of Mr. Frank Taylor, corner 4th and Grand avenues. The house and tables were profusely decorated. The souvenirs were little games. Refreshments were served and a bountiful supply of candy and other sweets so dear to the little folks. Those participating were Margaret Taylor, Mother Goose; Barbara Taylor, Miss Muffit; Marian Ewald, queen in the kitchen; Dorothy Taylor, Jill; Velveteen, wife of Tailor on Carrion Court; Barbara Taylor, Red Riding Hood; Maude Bell, Mother Hubbard; Ellis Taylor, Jackey Goose; Edward Taylor, Humpty Dumpty; Howard Taylor, little groom; Frederick Taylor, Jack Horner; Baby Alma Taylor, Baby Didot; Porter Bovard, a blacksmith; Miles, Arthur and Herbert Howard, Pierre Mason, Ollie Posey, Roy Swaine, Lois White, Samuel and Albert Bonnell, Hugh Porter, Ethel English, Margaret Arnold, Grace Merriman, Mary Lindley, Agnes Whitaker, Virginia Walsh.

TWO PLEASANT AFFAIRS

Mrs. J. Philip Erie entertained charmingly at luncheon Wednesday, at her home in Hollenbeck Park, west in honor of Mrs. T. Fisher of Coronado. The other guests were Mrs. Othman Stevens and Mrs. C. E. Jones. The table was prettily decorated with La France roses. The hostess entertained again very delightfully the following afternoon, the guest of honor being this time the little godson of Mrs. Erie, Philip Erie Steele. Games, music and a dainty repast constituted the pleasant time spent. Each guest was the recipient of a pretty souvenir. Mrs. Erie was assisted by the Misses Florence Steele, Lizzie Workman, Mattie Bacon, Mabel Clute and Florence Clute. The little guests were the Misses Alma Holmes, Nellie Steele, Alberta Trenwith, Josephine

AN ANNIVERSARY.

Tuesday evening Arbor Vitae Rebekah lodge No. 83, commemorated their twelfth anniversary at the I. O. O. F. hall. A large crowd was present. The hall had been tastefully decorated in pink and green for the occasion. Mrs. Augusta Reichert, the noble grand of the lodge, cordially welcomed the guests, after which the following musical and literary program was rendered, which was heartily appreciated. Music—Harwood Mandolin and Guitar club. Vocal duet—Hazel and Ethel Baldwin. Reading—Theresa Burkhardt. Piano solo—Mrs. Augusta Reichert. Recitation—Little Ella Lane. Music—Mandolin and Guitar club. Vocal solo—Ethel Baldwin. Piano solo—Maud Rooney. Vocal duet—Mrs. A. Liddell and Mrs. A. Reichert. Recitation—Edith Sawyer. Comic songs—Hazel Baldwin. Music—Mandolin and Guitar club. After the program much amusement was caused by the penny puzzle. Each guest was provided with a card bearing twenty-three questions on it and the answers were to be found on a penny. Mrs. A. Liddell won the first prize, a card that was artistically done in pen and ink. This closed the evening's entertainment, after a social time was had by all present.

But eminently laughs the brook of Fate: And History, breathless, hears it polishing Five pebbles for some epoch-marking slings. —Gutfrid, "Tull in the Arena."

CARLETON AS A STUTTERER.

Henry Guy Carleton, the brilliant playwright and writer, was a Chicagoan once upon a time, and his impediment of speech was sometimes the means of bringing about amusing incidents. "I have you lady admirer of his here once said, 'Do tell me, Mr. Carleton, you won't think me rude—have you always stutted?'" "N-n-not a-lways," replied Carleton. "Oh, yes," said the damsel, and then, as if determined to be sure of the commencement of the stammering habit, she continued, "but when did you begin to stutter?" "W-w-when I b-b-began t-t-to talk," responded Carleton. At another time a newspaper friend of his, who was also a great stutler, approached Carleton in the Press club rooms and said, "C-C-Carleton, h-h-have you g-g-got h-h-half an hour t-t-to spare?" "Wh-wh-wh-wh-wh, is it B-B-Billy?" asked Carleton. "W-w-well," replied his friend, desperately, "I-I-I w-w-want to h-h-have about f-f-fifteen m-min-utes' c-c-conversation w-w-with you." —Chicago Chronicle.

THE FUTURE.

Still giant wrong stands boastful and elate. But eminently laughs the brook of Fate: And History, breathless, hears it polishing Five pebbles for some epoch-marking slings. —Gutfrid, "Tull in the Arena."

THE STRAIGHT TIP.

The girl stood on the burning deck. Of course, you know her fate— She left because she wasn't sure Her bonnet was on straight. —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

IT ALL HELPS.

"Papa, what do the men on the cable cars ring the bells so much for?" "Because, my boy, it helps to confuse pedestrians." —Truth.
