

NO MONEY OR DISPLAY

But Silverites Are Ready for Battle

THEY WILL RATIFY BRYAN'S ELECTION

Preparing for a Great Justification November 7

CHAIRMAN HILL CONFIDENT

Speaker Reed's Expenses Paid by the Illinois Steel Company

He Receives One Thousand Dollars Per Day for Speeches

If the Ones He Made Here Are Samples He Is Overpaid—B. C. Kenyon and His Railroad Pass. Political Notes.

The Democrats, the Populists and the silver Republicans will have no special leaders of the Southern Pacific Railroad company here in this campaign to talk for Bryan and silver, either from the state or from the province of New Brunswick.

There is going to be no attempt made to have a big parade before the election. To do so would necessitate an expenditure of between $3000 and $4000 and the Democrats have not at hand to expend. Neither have their allies. Of course it is an easy matter for the Republicans to raise $5000 for their parade. The silverites have no such coin to spend on any such gaudy display. But next Tuesday they will get out the vote and then will be done the grandest volunteer work in every voting precinct in this country that was ever done by citizens of any country.

On Saturday evening, November 7th, Dr. Hill, chairman of the Democratic county committee, announces that there will be held in Los Angeles the grandest ratification meeting that was ever held in the west. On that occasion it is proposed to bring together the silver forces from south of the Tehachap mountains to ratify the election of William J. Bryan as president of the United States. All the necessary arrangements will be made in due time. Hill has already taken the matter in hand and has commenced the work.

It is proposed to bring all Southern California and Arizona into Los Angeles to participate in the celebration which will outrank anything of the kind ever seen west of the Tehachap mountains. Next Monday evening the governor of the state of California will be here to talk to the people. James H. Budd will tell every citizen what he should do to the polls on Tuesday next and cast his ballot for Bryan and silver.

Governor Budd will undoubtedly be given a warm and cordial greeting at the hands of the people of this city for they demonstrated only two years ago that they had faith in him as a man of rare discretion, great judgment and unimpeachable integrity.

The Republicans in Los Angeles who voted for James H. Budd were sufficient in number to elect him governor of the state. They will undoubtedly turn out in larger numbers to hear him discuss the issues of the campaign.

By the way, be aware of the fact that the Illinois Steel company, one of the gigantic corporations of the east, is a corporation whose industry is highly protected but who has not only not paid down labor more than even Carnegie, is responsible for the appearance of those B. C. Kenyon and his railroad pass.

Well, it is just the same. The Illinois Steel company pays all of the expenses of the gentleman and his party and in addition pays him $1000 per day for his speeches.

This is why Tom Reed appears on the coast at this time, not to explain his case against the exclusion act, but to plead with the voters to stand by Hanna, McKinley and the gold standard.

The people here know of Mr. Reed's close alliance with W. E. Harting, the Southern Pacific, and the Southern Pacific, but not all of them are perhaps aware of the fact that when Mr. Reed reached Los Angeles he was the first time the Southern Pacific road. He had traveled to California over the Santa Fe.

As soon as he arrived Mr. Reed was tendered a special train by the officers of the company by the way from San Francisco. This is a fact and it cannot be successfully refuted.

The railroad company appreciates what Mr. Reed has done for them in the past as well as what he will do for them in the future and what he is trying to do now. Therefore he is given all the courtesies in the way of special trains, etc.

The Democratic committee endeavored to obtain some special rates from the railroad companies to bring people into Los Angeles for the election of Gov. Budd. The corporations without exception declined to make any rates. Gov. Budd talks for Bryan and he talks very ably for him and the principles he represents. Therefore the railroad companies desire as few people to hear him as possible.

Any Republican they do not only make special rates for but they also count hundreds of people free of charge.

Tuesday 3500 people came in over the Southern Pacific and 2700 over the Santa Fe to hear Tom Reed. And when they left they were a dissatisfied crowd.

CUCAMONGA FOR BRYAN

The Largest and Most Enthusiastic Meeting of the Campaign

The largest and most enthusiastic meeting of the entire campaign at Cucamonga was called together last Monday night by its Bryan Free Silver club to hear Wyllys Abbott of Los Angeles. Cucamonga has been a hot-bed of protection and gold sentiment, but it has been swept by the free silver landslide into the Bryan column. It has 130 votes. Half of them are sold for free silver and the scattered votes must come from the other side. The Cucamonga Bryan Free Silver club has done noble work. N. J. Dewey is president, John Maddock treasurer and Thomas Graham and Jas. McKilvey secretaries.

Some of the open advocates of Mr. Bryan among the voters there are Charles and Clifford Mottisinger and Mr. Mawrer, old acquaintances and friends of the next president. M. E. Post, ex-member of congress from Cucamonga, and one of the largest ranches around Cucamonga and partner of George D. Haven, one of Utah's biggest miners. C. W. McKilvey, jr., of the G. A. E. W. L. Stroud, once a Republican, and his son, Walter Stroud; W. C. James, a retired leather merchant from Boston, and two men working on his ranch; the whole Kincaid family, containing four voters, M. N. S. P. Jeff and Ross Kincaid, will vote for Bryan. So will Mr. Carlson, an ex-Republican, and Will Rooney, one of the best-read men in the county; so will F. O. Nickel, Harry Milner, Mr. Miller, Sr., Douglas W. Stevens, I. M. Crosswell, Robert Stevenson, Mr. Davis, Mr. Vershing, J. H. Cooke, Frank Van Vleet, Mr. Way, James Hirst and Mr. Hirst, Sr., Louis Romero, Frank Carpana and as many more, besides a number who wear McKinley badges but will vote Bryan ballots.

The local glee club of a dozen musicians, vocal and instrumental, furnished unusually good music. J. H. Stewart of San Bernardino, an old soldier, ex-Republican of course, who had voted for Fremont, and will vote for Bryan, sang a song of 76 in a twenty-minute speech. Mr. Abbott, who had canceled an engagement to speak with Congressman C. A. Barlow at Inglewood that night, spoke for an hour and a half. It was more like a love feast in celebration of assured victory than anything else. The applause, laughter and enthusiasm were uproarious and unabated to the end.

Cucamonga is all r-r-right! Mr. Abbott will speak with C. M. Edson at Temple street and Union avenue tonight.

THIS WEEK'S MEETINGS.

Speakers for Bryan and Silver Throughout the County.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 29.
Clearwater—W. D. Gould.
Lordsburg—A. J. Utley.
San Fernando—J. H. Palmer, A. R. Sprague.

Palms—J. H. Humphreys, W. R. Steele.
Whittier—C. C. Wright, H. C. Dillon.
Chino—J. A. Waldron.
East Rock—Frank Scheidler, C. F. Harris.

Anaheim—S. A. W. Carver, E. A. Rogers.
Redlands—Shirley C. Ward, A. A. Montana will also speak in Spanish.

Los Angeles City, wigwam—Rev. R. M. White, J. H. Palmer, W. R. Burke, F. Carrere and Wyllys Abbott.

Los Angeles city, wigwam—2 p. m., Hon. Zach Montgomery, J. H. Stewart, Wilmington—George S. Patton, N. Newby.

Santa Ana—Gov. R. B. Smith of Montana, Hon. J. H. Palmer, General H. B. Sargent and E. A. Rogers.

Los Angeles City, Central avenue station—10 a. m., J. H. Stewart, Wilmington—George S. Patton, N. Newby.

Santa Ana—Gov. R. B. Smith of Montana, Hon. J. H. Palmer, General H. B. Sargent and E. A. Rogers.

Los Angeles City, Central avenue station—10 a. m., J. H. Stewart, Wilmington—George S. Patton, N. Newby.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 30.
Acton—F. B. Guthrie.
Alhambra—Hon. Zach Montgomery.
El Monte—A. J. Utley.

East Rock—Shirley C. Ward, W. R. Burke.
Monrovia—George S. Patton.
Calabasas—A. R. Sprague and others.

Los Angeles City, wigwam—Gov. R. B. Smith of Montana under auspices of the Bryan Silver club. Wigwam—2 p. m., J. H. Stewart, Wilmington—George S. Patton, N. Newby.

Pasadena—J. N. Phillips.
SATURDAY, October 31.
Norwalk—2 p. m., E. A. Rogers.
Pomona—H. C. Dillon and others.

Los Angeles City, wigwam—Hon. S. M. White, S. A. Waldron, chairman.
SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 1.
Los Angeles city, wigwam—Colonel J. R. Berry.

MONDAY, November 2.
Burbank—Colonel J. R. Berry.
Ontario—J. N. Phillips.
Monrovia—N. Newby, G. W. Albright, Glendale—A. J. Utley.

San Fernando—Shirley C. Ward, S. A. Waldron.
Norwalk—C. C. Wright.
Long Beach—Good speakers.

Glendale—E. W. Wright, W. R. Burke, Riverside—I. E. Messmore, E. A. Rogers.
Soldiers' Home—9:30 a. m., A. J. Utley and others.
Anahelm—J. F. Carrere, Frank Scheidler.

Fullerton—J. R. Rush.
Los Angeles city, wigwam—Governor J. H. Budd, Hon. W. H. Alford, chairman state central committee; Hon. R. M. Widney, W. R. Burke, chairman.

BRYAN CENTRAL SILVER CLUB.
Gov. R. B. Smith of Montana Will Speak. Two Rousing Meetings.

The Bryan Central Silver club will hold two immense meetings at the wigwam tomorrow afternoon and evening. Fine speakers will be on hand at both meetings. At the afternoon meeting, to be held from 1:30 o'clock to 4 p. m., the Women's Central Silver club will give the Central club in carrying out the following program:

FRIDAY AFTERNOON MEETING.
1:30 o'clock—Song, America, by the club.
Address—Mrs. Anna B. Anderson.
Song—Prof. J. G. Clark.
Address—Judge A. J. Utley.
Address—Gen. Johnstone Jones.
Address—Rev. Geo. E. Dye.
Address—Judge J. N. Phillips.
Song—By children; Sixteen to One.
Address—H. R. Steele.
Address—Hon. J. W. Gould.
Exercises—By school children.
Address—Col. I. E. Messmore.

Speakers in the afternoon have been listed to fifteen minutes, which limit will be rigidly enforced.

FRIDAY EVENING MEETING—7:30.
Song—America, by the club.
Song—By the Salyer children.
Recitation—Miss Andrews.
Address—Gov. R. B. Smith of Montana.
Recitation—Mrs. Rena Earl.
Address—Col. John R. Berry.
Song—The Misses Andrews.
Address—Hon. J. W. Mitchell.
Come early and secure good seats before the great crowds arrive.

A GREAT SPEAKER.
Hon. Zach Montgomery at the Wigwam This Afternoon.

Hon. Zach Montgomery, who is to speak at the wigwam at 2 p. m. today (Thursday) was United States assistant attorney-general in President Cleveland's administration from May, 1885 to March, 1889. He has recently published a pamphlet giving conclusive proof that the silver question is not a matter of choice either bimetalism by the ballot, but a question of the masses or a bloody war of classes. He advises study of the financial question and says it is not half so hard to understand as the money sharks would have you believe.

As Mr. Montgomery understands the subject thoroughly and as he is clear in thought, vigorous in expression, and has not only convictions but the courage of them, as evinced in a recent article by him in The Herald, the voter had probably better embrace this first and last opportunity to hear him in this campaign.

Following Mr. Montgomery Dr. W. L.

Brown of South Dakota will continue the discussion of political issues in this campaign, as seen by an old-time Republican, but more recently Populist organizer of the non-partisan Silver league of his state. He will be a most sparing no efforts to make the exercises of this afternoon especially interesting, entertaining and instructive.

The young men's quartet will be present and contribute to the interest and entertainment of this occasion.

HE HAD A PASS

B. C. Kenyon Already Has a Record With the Southern Pacific

Brewster C. Kenyon, who is running as the Republican nominee for the assembly in the Seventy-second district, may perhaps have forgotten it, but the people have not.

The constitution of the state of California forbids any state officer or member of the legislature to be interested in or to receive any salary or other compensation from any railroad corporation.

Despite this fact, Mr. Kenyon got a pass from the Southern Pacific company to go on a trip, but an annual good throughout the state. This was exposed by The Herald at the time. In the spring of 1896, Mr. Kenyon was in the city and he did not deny the facts. He is now and always has been a railroad man.

This latest charge of his to obtain reelection to the legislature was a contemptible deal. San K. Adams insists that Kenyon paid him money to persuade an old man to vote for Bryan. He has his name put on the ballot by petition to run as a Silver Democrat for the assembly. By this nefarious device Kenyon expected to have a large vote. He was drawn from W. R. Steele, union candidate for the assembly, to give him a plurality of the votes. But the scheme failed miserably. It will be the testimony of Smith himself, and it will certainly fall now of its purpose.

CHILDREN TURN OUT.
They Should All Turn Out for Rehearsal and the Final Rally.

The following announcement fully explains itself:

To the Parents of Los Angeles: The Bryan silver forces will hold their last grand afternoon rally at the wigwam Friday from 1 o'clock to 5 o'clock. Every boy and girl, large and small, is invited to be at the wigwam this (Thursday) afternoon at 1 o'clock. They will be fed, lodged and practice the singing for Friday.

Parents, we appeal to your patriotism and loyalty to the Chicago platform to give your children a half-holiday on Friday, so those living at a distance can get there on time and receive their flag.

Prof. Housch of the High school will extend the same kind courtesy as he did on Tuesday and dismiss school at 2 o'clock. Parents, please have your children ready to contribute their "mite" toward electing William J. Bryan, our next president.

THE PROGRAM COMMITTEE.
REV. R. M. WEBSTER.

He Will Address the People at the Wigwam Tonight.

Of all those who have exposed the people's cause in this campaign there is no one more thoroughly in sympathy with working people themselves and their real interests than Rev. R. M. Webster of Pasadena, who speaks at the wigwam tonight. He knows men, he comprehends their motives, he understands the main springs of action, he has canvassed the causes of present conditions and has in mind means of relief, remedies to be applied in earnest in improving political methods, governmental results, social relations industrial conditions. Being thoroughly well informed, a candid and sincere man, and a speaker intensely in earnest in relation to the issues in this campaign, he will be sure to interest and help all.

The people's poet, James G. Clark, will participate in the exercises at the wigwam tonight, adding the charm of music and recitation to the other attractions of that time.

HE WILL WIN
This Is No Joke, but It Is an Actual Fact

The Democrats of the Third ward, that is the delegates to the city convention from that ward, met last evening and nominated Nicholas P. Wynne for the city council.

Mr. Wynne will be indorsed by the Populists and he will make a good, strong race.

He is a well known local pharmacist, an old citizen, of excellent character and reputation.

The convention originally nominated John Brink, but that gentleman was not eligible, he having been a resident of the ward for less than the period of two years required by the city charter.

The nomination of Nicholas P. Wynne will give universal satisfaction to the voters of the ward.

FREE SILVER AT INGLEWOOD.
Congressional Candidate C. A. Barlow and C. M. Jay, chairman of the Union Bryan club of Carpana, and W. S. Morgan of Pico Heights, a fusion candidate for supervisor in the Fourth district, were greeted at Inglewood on Monday night at a meeting of the Bryan club for Inglewood under the charge of Committeeman Cook of the People's party and Chairman Carter.

Many ladies were present, and the number of gold bands worn showed many there still seeking salvation at the fountain of free silver.

Mr. Morgan reviewed the business results of the campaign for the past few years and pointed out needed reforms in detail. Congressman Barlow talked for an hour and a half and reached especially to the farmer, who is the principal exposition men of the entire state can be secured to this plan.

It would be expedient to draw up a petition to the members of the legislature from Southern California setting forth these points and asking their support in the coming session on the understanding that the state board of trade will do the same with regard to the northern and central sections of the state. Respectfully submitted.

(Signed) J. R. NEWBERRY, J. H. STACY, J. E. CLARK.

Committee on Ways and Means.

The mining committee tendered a report with a bill establishing a bureau of silver in this city with English capital, declaring that the chamber will favor the establishment of such an enterprise.

Will Sweeney was elected a delegate to the irrigation congress at Phoenix, Ariz.

On board then, on motion, adjourned. During the session of the board the Ventura band paid its respects to the chamber by a serenade. The board inquired of W. E. Carter, eighth ward, Patterson made a few remarks, and the band was served with light refreshments.

EXHIBIT NOTES.
The contributions to the chamber of commerce since last report comprise:

Three cases of canned fruit from G. A. Waters & Co., Eugene, Ore.; a box of lot of fine pomegranates from H. N. Rust, South Pasadena.

A lot of soft-shell walnuts and one of hard-shell walnuts from Col. P. T. Swain, Los Nietos.

English walnuts and apples from the Orange county chamber of commerce.

And W. H. Potts, Mr. Potts has voted for fourteen presidents, from Henry Clay down to the present time. He is an old union soldier, at first a Whig, an open sinner, a Republican, on Tuesday he will vote the Democratic ticket for Bryan and free silver. He roused the patriotism of the audience to utmost Democratic enthusiasm. The meeting was a grand success.

FRIENDS OF SILVER ATTENTION.

The silver campaign committee, composed of twenty-one members, seven from each of the Democratic, People's party and silver Republican organizations, met at headquarters at 313 West Second street, have had their plan of campaign which contemplates volunteer workers and volunteer carriages in each precinct, to be carried out on election day—the free will offering of the struggling people as against plutocracy and Mark Hanna's money. Hand in hand with the campaign must be carried out as early as possible, remembering that no item in this great work can be commenced too soon.

WILLIAM R. BURKE, Chairman, Secretary of Bryan Silver Campaign committee. Headquarters at 313 West Second street.

EIGHTH WARD SILVERITES.

The Eighth Ward Bryan Silver club will hold a meeting this evening at Painter's hall, 233 Aliso street. Mr. C. J. Dahl, president of the club, will preside. Capt. A. H. Blauvelt, who is captain of the French Legion, will deliver an address in the French language. All French-speaking people are cordially invited.

AN APPROPRIATION ASKED
To Make a Proper Display at the Great Paris Exposition

Action Taken by the Directors of the Chamber of Commerce—Report of the Committee—Notes.

The board of directors of the chamber of commerce met yesterday at 3:15 o'clock. The following directors were present: Cohn, Duque, Forman, Bluet, Groff, Jacoby, Johnson, Koepfl, Newberry, Patterson, Slauson, Story, Vetter, Waters. President Patterson occupied the chair.

The committee on ways and means tendered the following report on the subject of legislative appropriations for exhibition purposes:

First—We are profoundly impressed with the necessity that this state should make an adequate showing of its resources and its immigration advantages at the International exposition in Paris in 1900. We believe the money which was expended by the state in putting up a first class building and making a good display at Chicago has all come back to us in the form of immigration.

Second—The chamber of commerce has already acted, May 13, 1898, through its board of directors on the question of the trans-Mississippi exposition, putting the state to the test in a large way. The chamber has been instructed to send to all the Southern California members of the legislature a memorandum of the action of the chamber, and to urge the passage of a bill to give the chamber authority to appropriate, therefore, seems to be out of the jurisdiction of this committee.

Third—With regard to the display at the Tennessee centennial exposition, your committee learns that the exposition is to be a very considerable affair, being probably, in excess of the standard of the Chicago and St. Louis expositions.

Fourth—The chamber of commerce has already acted, May 13, 1898, through its board of directors on the question of the trans-Mississippi exposition, putting the state to the test in a large way. The chamber has been instructed to send to all the Southern California members of the legislature a memorandum of the action of the chamber, and to urge the passage of a bill to give the chamber authority to appropriate, therefore, seems to be out of the jurisdiction of this committee.

But the sentiment of the leaders in the movement is that the nomination of Martin would be both unwise and unpopulous. In this place, Martin has behind him the very element in politics that the League for Better City Government has been organized to eliminate.

In the second place, Martin, as the situation now is in local politics, is the candidate of the water company. The corporation is for him, and through its various influences it is putting forth its every effort in his behalf.

But almost universal sentiment of those who have been interested in the league from its inception, and who desire to see it a success, and partisan politics, is that the nomination of Martin would be both unwise and unpopulous. In this place, Martin has behind him the very element in politics that the League for Better City Government has been organized to eliminate.

In the second place, Martin, as the situation now is in local politics, is the candidate of the water company. The corporation is for him, and through its various influences it is putting forth its every effort in his behalf.

But almost universal sentiment of those who have been interested in the league from its inception, and who desire to see it a success, and partisan politics, is that the nomination of Martin would be both unwise and unpopulous. In this place, Martin has behind him the very element in politics that the League for Better City Government has been organized to eliminate.

In the second place, Martin, as the situation now is in local politics, is the candidate of the water company. The corporation is for him, and through its various influences it is putting forth its every effort in his behalf.

But almost universal sentiment of those who have been interested in the league from its inception, and who desire to see it a success, and partisan politics, is that the nomination of Martin would be both unwise and unpopulous. In this place, Martin has behind him the very element in politics that the League for Better City Government has been organized to eliminate.

In the second place, Martin, as the situation now is in local politics, is the candidate of the water company. The corporation is for him, and through its various influences it is putting forth its every effort in his behalf.

But almost universal sentiment of those who have been interested in the league from its inception, and who desire to see it a success, and partisan politics, is that the nomination of Martin would be both unwise and unpopulous. In this place, Martin has behind him the very element in politics that the League for Better City Government has been organized to eliminate.

In the second place, Martin, as the situation now is in local politics, is the candidate of the water company. The corporation is for him, and through its various influences it is putting forth its every effort in his behalf.

But almost universal sentiment of those who have been interested in the league from its inception, and who desire to see it a success, and partisan politics, is that the nomination of Martin would be both unwise and unpopulous. In this place, Martin has behind him the very element in politics that the League for Better City Government has been organized to eliminate.

In the second place, Martin, as the situation now is in local politics, is the candidate of the water company. The corporation is for him, and through its various influences it is putting forth its every effort in his behalf.

But almost universal sentiment of those who have been interested in the league from its inception, and who desire to see it a success, and partisan politics, is that the nomination of Martin would be both unwise and unpopulous. In this place, Martin has behind him the very element in politics that the League for Better City Government has been organized to eliminate.

In the second place, Martin, as the situation now is in local politics, is the candidate of the water company. The corporation is for him, and through its various influences it is putting forth its every effort in his behalf.

But almost universal sentiment of those who have been interested in the league from its inception, and who desire to see it a success, and partisan politics, is that the nomination of Martin would be both unwise and unpopulous. In this place, Martin has behind him the very element in politics that the League for Better City Government has been organized to eliminate.

In the second place, Martin, as the situation now is in local politics, is the candidate of the water company. The corporation is for him, and through its various influences it is putting forth its every effort in his behalf.

But almost universal sentiment of those who have been interested in the league from its inception, and who desire to see it a success, and partisan politics, is that the nomination of Martin would be both unwise and unpopulous. In this place, Martin has behind him the very element in politics that the League for Better City Government has been organized to eliminate.

In the second place, Martin, as the situation now is in local politics, is the candidate of the water company. The corporation is for him, and through its various influences it is putting forth its every effort in his behalf.

But almost universal sentiment of those who have been interested in the league from its inception, and who desire to see it a success, and partisan politics, is that the nomination of Martin would be both unwise and unpopulous. In this place, Martin has behind him the very element in politics that the League for Better City Government has been organized to eliminate.

In the second place, Martin, as the situation now is in local politics, is the candidate of the water company. The corporation is for him, and through its various influences it is putting forth its every effort in his behalf.

But almost universal sentiment of those who have been interested in the league from its inception, and who desire to see it a success, and partisan politics, is that the nomination of Martin would be both unwise and unpopulous. In this place, Martin has behind him the very element in politics that the League for Better City Government has been organized to eliminate.

In the second place, Martin, as the situation now is in local politics, is the candidate of the water company. The corporation is for him, and through its various influences it is putting forth its every effort in his behalf.

But almost universal sentiment of those who have been interested in the league from its inception, and who desire to see it a success, and partisan politics, is that the nomination of Martin would be both unwise and unpopulous. In this place, Martin has behind him the very element in politics that the League for Better City Government has been organized to eliminate.

In the second place, Martin, as the situation now is in local politics, is the candidate of the water company. The corporation is for him, and through its various influences it is putting forth its every effort in his behalf.

But almost universal sentiment of those who have been interested in the league from its inception, and who desire to see it a success, and partisan politics, is that the nomination of Martin would be both unwise and unpopulous. In this place, Martin has behind him the very element in politics that the League for Better City Government has been organized to eliminate.

In the second place, Martin, as the situation now is in local politics, is the candidate of the water company. The corporation is for him, and through its various influences it is putting forth its every effort in his behalf.

But almost universal sentiment of those who have been interested in the league from its inception, and who desire to see it a success, and partisan politics, is that the nomination of Martin would be both unwise and unpopulous. In this place, Martin has behind him the very element in politics that the League for Better City Government has been organized to eliminate.

In the second place, Martin, as the situation now is in local politics, is the candidate of the water company. The corporation is for him, and through its various influences it is putting forth its every effort in his behalf.

But almost universal sentiment of those who have been interested in the league from its inception, and who desire to see it a success, and partisan politics, is that the nomination of Martin would be both unwise and unpopulous. In this place, Martin has behind him the very element in politics that the League for Better City Government has been organized to eliminate.

In the second place, Martin, as the situation now is in local politics, is the candidate of the water company. The corporation is for him, and through its various influences it is putting forth its every effort in his behalf.

But almost universal sentiment of those who have been interested in the league from its inception, and who desire to see it a success, and partisan politics, is that the nomination of Martin would be both unwise and unpopulous. In this place, Martin has behind him the very element in politics that the League for Better City Government has been organized to eliminate.

In the second place, Martin, as the situation now is in local politics, is the candidate of the water company. The corporation is for him, and through its various influences it is putting forth its every effort in his behalf.

But almost universal sentiment of those who have been interested in the league from its inception, and who desire to see it a success, and partisan politics, is that the nomination of Martin would be both unwise and unpopulous. In this place, Martin has behind him the very element in politics that the League for Better City Government has been organized to eliminate.

In the second place, Martin, as the situation now is in local politics, is the candidate of the water company. The corporation is for him, and through its various influences it is putting forth its every effort in his behalf.

But almost universal sentiment of those who have been interested in the league from its inception, and who desire to see it a success, and partisan politics, is that the nomination of Martin would be both unwise and unpopulous. In this place, Martin has behind him the very element in politics that the League for Better City Government has been organized to eliminate.

In the second place, Martin, as the situation now is in local politics, is the candidate of the water company. The corporation is for him, and through its various influences it is putting forth its every effort in his behalf.

But almost universal sentiment of those who have been interested in the league from its inception, and who desire to see it a success, and partisan politics, is that the nomination of Martin would be both unwise and unpopulous. In this place, Martin has behind him the very element in politics that the League for Better City Government has been organized to eliminate.

In the second place, Martin, as the situation now is in local politics, is the candidate of the water company. The corporation is for him, and through its various influences it is putting forth its every effort in his behalf.

But almost universal sentiment of those who have been interested in the league from its inception, and who desire to see it a success, and partisan politics, is that the nomination of Martin would be both unwise and unpopulous. In this place, Martin has behind him the very element in politics that the League for Better City Government has been organized to eliminate.

In the second place, Martin, as the situation now is in local politics, is the candidate of the water company. The corporation is for him, and through its various influences it is putting forth its every effort in his behalf.

But almost universal sentiment of those who have been interested in the league from its inception, and who desire to see it a success, and partisan politics, is that the nomination of Martin would be both unwise and unpopulous. In this place, Martin has behind him the very element in politics that the League for Better City Government has been organized to eliminate.

</