It does not show that the Spanish government or any officials in Havana were participants in the crime. I think there were any mines in the harbor, I have not the slightest knowledge of what the decision of the naval court of inquiry will be, or when it will reach Washington. Such information as I have is entirely of a non-official character."

United States extended the time to May 1st. Both governments refuse to describe this intimation as an ultimatum to Spain. It has been given, continues the correspondent, entirely irrespective of the Maine affair, or of any other complications which may arise in the meantime. There was no suggestion as to what action the United States would take on May 1st, should it still be in the case, the rebellion still be suppressed.

ALL DISPUTES ENDED
BETWEEN BROKER SCHULLER AND HIS WIFE
A QUARREL OVER FINANCES
Settled by the Fatal Wounding of the Wife and Suicide of the Angry Husband

Associated Press Special Wire
SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—About 5 o'clock this evening Andrew Schuller, a financial and mining broker, fatally shot his wife and committed suicide at his office, 420 California street. It is believed that the tragedy was caused by a dispute over business affairs.

Schuller, who was 70 years old, had been separated from his wife, a well preserved woman of 40, for over two years. She had been married before, her former husband, Eugene Owles, who died in 1882, leaving her a valuable estate. She frequently accused Schuller of having diverted the greater portion of this property to his own use, and she stated this evening that the object of her visit to his office today was to obtain some money he had promised her. What passed between them in the office is not known.

Suddenly two shots, fired in rapid succession, were heard, and J. C. Bunner, a well-known civil engineer occupying an adjoining office, rushed into the hallway just in time to see Schuller, pistol in hand, pursuing his fleeing wife. She fell to the floor and, as she lay prostrate, the enraged husband fired three more shots at her, emptying his revolver. He then attempted to beat her over the head with the butt of the pistol, but was prevented from striking his victim by Bunner, who had promptly interfered and who narrowly escaped being struck by one of the flying bullets. Schuller, who was excited to the point of frenzy, exclaimed that he was tired of being hounded by the woman, to whom he applied the most vulgar epithets. He then returned to his office, while Bunner assisted the wounded woman to the street door. It was locked, and Bunner was surprised to discover that he had the keys of the building in her pocket. How she obtained them is a mystery. The woman was at once taken to the branch receiving hospital, while Bunner and a policeman returned to the office of her husband. As soon as they knocked at the door a shot was heard, and the body of the dead body was found on the floor, the shot he had fired with suicidal intent having done its work instantly. An examination made at the hospital showed that Mrs. Schuller had been struck by three bullets, two penetrating the lungs from the back and one passing through the chest and lodging near the spinal cord. She cannot recover.

The London Markets
LONDON, March 13.—The money market has tightened considerably and an advance in the bank rate is mooted. The American demand for gold has exceeded all expectation, and in addition to all the bar gold about £40,000 in Japanese yen has been bought in New York. This has caused the withdrawal of cash, has induced the Bank of England to raise the price of Japanese, French and German gold coins to 76 1/2 per ounce. The stock exchange is unsettled. The sharp advance in Madrid exchange is interpreted as foreboding an imminent collapse in Spain, unless Paris assists her. Foreigners generally are depressed.

AT SANDY HOOK
Soldiers Ordered to Man the Coast Defenses
NEW YORK, March 13.—Behind the harmless looking concrete walls and sand pits of Sandy Hook engineers, artillerymen and laborers by the hundreds are actively engaged in mounting guns and completing masonry and the quarters for the officers and men.

Four companies of artillery of about sixty-five men each, drawn from Fort Wadsworth, Fort Hamilton and Fort Slocum, have been ordered to the Hook. Lieut. Macgregor is in charge of the engineers' department.

"If they arrive before the completion of the buildings," said the lieutenant, "they will camp in tents. That is not considered a hardship for soldiers."

Wives of many of the workmen employed at the Hook have returned to their homes in Atlantic Highlands. They said that orders were issued last Friday that all women and boys under 16 years of age should leave the hook.

By special train from Jersey City, thirty 12-inch mortar guns from Watervliet arsenal were brought to Highland beach, Sunday. They were loaded on truck cars and sent over the government railroad toward the Hook. The ends of the big mortars were hoisted up. Patriotic hands had inscribed in chalk on their sides the words: "Three cheers for the red, white and blue."

About a half mile beyond Highland beach across the beach, is a guard house and tent, where artillerymen are quartered. Guards are on the alert here day and night to capture any intruders who may venture on the Hook. Other guards patrol the beach and warn off persons attempting to land without passes. Never before have such strict injunctions been issued at the Hook.
