

BIG TERMINAL STATION OPEN

LARGEST AND FINEST OF ITS KIND IN AMERICA

Cars of Pacific Electric and Los Angeles Interurban Companies Are Handled Swiftly and in Perfect Safety

Six o'clock of yesterday morning saw the official opening of the Los Angeles Interurban terminal station, the largest of its kind in the United States and the only electric terminal station of any size on the Pacific coast.

A Long Beach Pacific electric car was the first to enter the big station, was swung over from one track to the other, loaded with workmen and a few early passengers and then started on its way. From the time the car passed in through the west entrance until it departed on another track by the same way, a little over two minutes' time was required.

From 6 o'clock in the morning until midnight 276 cars passed into the station, were loaded, unloaded and then departed without a single mishap in spite of the newness of the surroundings and the anxiety of tourists and Angelenos to get in the way in an effort to see everything that was to be seen.

A conservative estimate places the number of passengers who passed in and out of the station in the eighteen hours at over 30,000, one of the small days for the Huntington lines.

At the office of the Seeling California traffic bureau, which has a prominent position in one of the waiting rooms, more than 2000 booklets describing the possible trips over the Huntington lines were given out to tourists who made application for them.

The opening of the terminal station, which was one of the primal objects in the construction of the Huntington block, sees the practical completion of the Huntington building. Called "Huntington's hobby" by those who are familiar with the pride taken in it by the electric railway magnate, the block is the largest office building of its kind in the world. It contains fourteen acres of floor space and over 800 rooms, including those of the Jonathan club on the top floor. In the long run the building will be given over entirely to railroad offices.

At the present time besides the offices of the Pacific Electric and Los Angeles Interurban railways the building contains those of the Banning company and the Seeling California company. These will be augmented within the next two months by the general offices of the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake railroad and by the offices of other transportation companies who have made application for office room.

TAKES CHARGE OF THE POSTOFFICE INSPECTORS

Postmaster General Wynne Orders Entire Corps Transferred to His Jurisdiction

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Postmaster General Wynne has issued an order transferring the entire corps of post-office inspectors from the jurisdiction of the fourth assistant postmaster general and placing them immediately under the postmaster general.

The action is taken on the ground of subserving the best interests of the government, and also as based on the fact that the inspectors of the other executive departments of the government are directly under the head of the department.

The order is effective next Monday. It affects over 200 men, scattered throughout the country, who ever since the creation of the office of fourth assistant postmaster general have been under the complete direction and control of that office.

The order is one of the most important issued by the postoffice department for a long period and may create significant developments.

Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow, who is strenuously opposed to the transfer, has given definite expression to his opposition and made efforts to avert the transfer.

Mr. Bristow later discussed the matter with the president. At the conclusion of his interview he would say nothing as to the order or regarding the course he would pursue. The inspectors were formerly directly under the postmaster general, but when Estes G. Rathbone was promoted from chief postoffice inspector to fourth assistant postmaster general a few years ago the inspectors were placed under that office and have remained there ever since.

OPPOSE DESIRE OF PRESIDENT

SENATORS AGAINST RAILROAD RATE LEGISLATION

Members of Upper House Will Combat President's Plan for Extra Session of Congress for This Purpose

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The same reception seems to await the president's plan for an extra session for railroad rate legislation in the senate that has met his plan for tariff revision in the house. Senator Elkins today declared himself strongly opposed to the former proposition and the indications are that he and other senators with similar views will proceed to organize the same against railroad legislation at this session or at an extra session next fall.

Senator Elkins said he did not want an extra session and did not believe the majority of the senators favored one, or either tariff revision or railroad rate legislation. The latter subject was too important and too intricate to be dealt with hastily. No bill dealing with it could be put through the senate at this session. As far as he was willing to go in that direction was the authorization of a joint congressional committee similar to the merchant marine commission, which would take up the whole subject of the regulation of the roads' rates and the abolition of rebates during the coming congressional recess, and make a report to the regular session of the new congress next winter.

This is the plan for dealing with the question that he favors and he was confident it was all that could be done at this session.

It can be said on the best authority that this will not meet with the president's views as he has expressed them in the last couple of days. The president is determined there shall be legislation of some sort before the fourth of March dealing with the questions of rebates and regulating rates.

The president holds to this view, notwithstanding the showing that has been made in the house this week by "stand-patters." It is evidently his belief that the sentiment of the country is in favor of a moderate revision of the more objectionable schedules of the Dingley act and that this sentiment will impress itself on congress as time goes by.

DISCUSS SWAYNE IMPEACHMENT

Representative Lamar Denies Judge's Life Had Been Threatened

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The house of representatives today devoted its entire session to the discussion of impeachment charges against Judge Charles Swayne of the northern district of Florida. A dramatic incident occurred when Mr. Littlefield of Maine called on Mr. Lamar of Florida, who filed the charges against the judge, to admit or repudiate an alleged interview which the former claimed tended to incite the people to commit an act of violence against Judge Swayne.

Mr. Lamar admitted giving an interview, but emphatically denied any suggestion from him that could be construed into advising assassination or murder. He said that, although Judge Swayne was known to be the most lawless man in Florida, he had remained secure from bodily harm.

HOUSER HOPEFUL FOR BANK BILL

WOULD PREVENT TYING UP OF PUBLIC MONIES

Los Angeles Assemblyman Confident His Measure, if Carried, Will Be of Great Benefit to the People

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 12.—Assemblyman F. W. Houser of Los Angeles, one of the recognized leaders in the lower house, is working diligently on his proposed bank bill which provides for the depositing of public moneys in local banks.

"I have talked with a number of legislators," said Mr. Houser today, "and I feel confident that the bill will carry without any opposition."

"From information I have gathered there is something like $10,000,000 tied up in California at present on account of unjust laws. This, of course, comprises a very large part of our circulating medium and for it to be withheld from use works a great hardship on the people. In some counties, I am told, financial panics have barely been avoided because of the enforcement of the present law."

Mr. Houser expects to get his bill through the legislature in the next few weeks.

A bill was introduced by Assemblyman McGowan, fixing the annual salaries of the judges of the superior courts of the city and county of San Francisco at $6000; of the counties of Alameda, San Joaquin, Los Angeles, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, San Mateo, Yuba, Sutter, Sacramento, Butte, Nevada, Sonoma, Colusa, Monterey, San Luis Obispo, Shasta, Siskiyou, Santa Barbara, San Diego, Marin, Mendocino, Tehama, San Bernardino, Kern, Placer, Humboldt, Tulare, Fresno, Solano, Yolo and Contra Costa at $4000; of the counties of Amador, Calaveras, Stanislaus, Eldorado and Tuolumne, $3000; and of the county of Alpine, $2000; one-half to be paid by the county and one-half by the state.

WASTE FIGHTS PATRONAGE

Makes Effort to Curtail Further Expenditures in This Direction

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 12.—Immediately after convening at 11:15 o'clock this morning the assembly turned out a resolution providing that each member of the house might have the names of four newspapers or individuals placed on a list for daily legislative reports.

An effort to curtail the further issuance of patronage, by providing that no positions be given out except on a three-fourths vote, was made by Assemblyman Waste of Alameda this morning. The resolution precipitated a lively debate between those who have favored patronage and the members who have stood for rigid economy. The resolution curtailing patronage privileges was finally lost by a vote of 39 to 35.

Under a suspension of the rules a bill introduced by the committee on ways and means, appropriating $25,000 for the contingent expenses of the assembly, was passed.

Bids for Armor Plate

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Bids were opened at the navy department today for 7898 tons of armor plate for the battleship New Hampshire and the armored cruisers Montana and North Carolina. The aggregate bid of the Carnegie and Bethlehem companies was identical, $3,304,700, the first delivery to be made in six months. The lowest bidder was the Midvale Steel company of Philadelphia, whose aggregate bid was $3,128,781, delivery to begin August 15 at the rate of 500 tons a month.

'READY TO FIGHT,' SAYS CHAIRMAN

PRESIDENT OF THE LIVESTOCK ASSOCIATION ANGRY

Frank J. Hagenbarth Declares That Anyone Who Imputes Dishonest Motives to Him is a Liar

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 12.—"The man who has imputed motives of dishonesty to your president is a liar, an absolute and unqualified liar, and the chair is able to substantiate it physically or otherwise."

This was the declaration of President Frank J. Hagenbarth of the National Livestock association in a speech made today to the opposition.

His words alluded to alleged statements that he had been overzealous in his efforts to obtain for the railroads representation in the governing body of the livestock association.

At the morning session of the association some sharp criticisms of the president were made by a number of delegates, who declared that he was paying too much attention to the committee meeting in which the plan of reorganization was being considered, and too little to the meetings of the convention. At the afternoon session the president appeared in person to reply to his critics. He declared in the commencement of his remarks that he had been insulted by delegates who had impugned his motives, and that he wished to take a few minutes on a question of personal privilege. He denied that he had been actuated by any idea but the good of the association; said that he had no personal interest in the admission of any group of men into the membership of the livestock association, and then made the declaration given above.

"Go on with the business of the convention," said E. J. Bothwell of Wyoming, "and don't challenge us to mortal combat. We have just as much sand as the chair."

"If you say that your president is out of order—" said President Hagenbarth.

"Yes, we think he is," replied a quiet voice from among the delegates.

"I am considered out of order?" asked the president.

"You are," said the man with the quiet voice.

There were cries of "go on" from various parts of the house, but President Hagenbarth concluded his address by the statement that he conceded that he had been out of order.

The association tonight is deep in parliamentary mire and there is no telling in just what direction it will emerge. The friends of the reorganization plan, after a hard fight, were successful in standing off until after 9:30 tomorrow morning an order from the convention directing the reorganization committee to report at once. It is barely possible that the friends of the measure may vote it through, but its passage, from all appearances, will result in the disruption of the organization, as great numbers of western men have declared that they will withdraw if the railroads are admitted to membership.

POINTS TO MURDER

Orchard Laborer Discovers Buried Body of Man With Skull Crushed

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 12.—While directing some work in the Kern County Land company's orchard this morning, James Hughes came upon a mound of earth and upon investigation he found buried a few feet below the surface the body of a man. The body bore evidences of having been buried about a month. The skull of the dead man was crushed in and the features mutilated beyond recognition. The authorities have been notified and the fact that the body was barely covered with earth points in their opinion to foul play.

My Offer to Women — A Dollar's worth Free

You deposit nothing. You risk nothing. You promise nothing. There is nothing to pay either now or later. I want every woman, everywhere, who has not used my remedy to make this test.

For mine is no ordinary remedy. It represents thirty years of experiment—thirty years at bedside—in laboratories—at hospitals. Thirty years of the richest experience a physician can have. I tell below wherein Dr. Shoop's Restorative differs radically from other medicines.

I want no reference—no security. The poor have the same opportunity as the rich. To one and all I say "Merely write and ask." Simply say that you have never tried my remedy—for I must limit my offer to strangers—those who have used Dr. Shoop's Restorative need no additional evidence of its worth. I will send you an order on your druggist. He will give you free, the full dollar package.

Inside Nerves!

Only one woman in 98 has perfect health. And almost all womanly sickness can be traced to a common cause—the nerves are weak. Not the nerves you ordinarily think about—not the nerves that govern your movements and your thoughts.

But the nerves that, unguided and unknown, night and day keep the heart in motion—control the digestive apparatus—regulate the liver—operate the kidneys—the nerves on which all the vital functions depend.

These are the nerves that wear out and break down.

It does no good to treat the ailing organ—the irregular heart—the disordered liver—the rebellious stomach—the deranged kidneys. They are not to blame. But go back to the nerves that control them. There you will find the seat of the trouble.

There is nothing new about this—nothing any physician would dispute. But it remained for Dr. Shoop to apply this knowledge—to put it to practical use. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is the result of a quarter century of endeavor along this very line. It does not dose the organ or deplete the man—but it does go at once to the nerve—the inside nerve—the power nerve—and builds it up, and strengthens it and makes it well—and that is the end of womanly weakness.

Simply Write Me

In more than a million homes my remedy is known. It has cured womanly troubles not once, but repeatedly—over and over again. Yet you may not have heard of it—or hearing may have delayed or doubted. So I make this offer to you, a stranger, that every possible excuse for doubt may be removed. Send me no money—make me no promise—take no risk. Simply write and ask. If you have not tried my remedy, I will send you an order on your druggist for a full dollar bottle—not a sample, but the regular standard bottle he keeps constantly on his shelves. The druggist will require no conditions. He will accept my order as cheerfully as though your dollar laid before him. He will send the bill to me.

Will you accept this opportunity to learn at my expense absolutely how to be rid forever of all forms of womanly weakness—to be rid not only of the trouble, but of the very cause which produced it? Write today.

For a free order for Book 1 on Dyspepsia, a full dollar bottle Book 2 on the Heart, you must address Dr. Book 3 on the Kidneys, Book 4 for Women, Book 5 for Men, which book you want. Book 6 on Rheumatism.

In connection with Dr. Shoop's Restorative it is sometimes advisable to give local treatment. If so, get Dr. Shoop's Night Cure. Both remedies are on sale at all druggists.

KING CALLS PARLIAMENT TO CONVENE FEBRUARY 14

Belief That Aliens Bill Will Be Given First Place on the Program

LONDON, Jan. 12.—King Edward at today's meeting of the privy council signed a proclamation convening parliament on February 14. The session will be opened by the king personally with full state ceremonies. The unusual lateness of the date of the opening is interpreted to mean that the government does not propose to press any redistribution bill, but to give the aliens bill, which Premier Balfour had definitely promised, the first place in its legislation program.

Recent speeches of ministers confirm the belief in an early dissolution of parliament and it seems likely that unless the intentional absence of the Chamberlains, the government will find a pretext for voluntarily dissolving parliament toward the end of March and will hand over to the opposition the seemingly thankless task of formulating the budget.

Wife of Rancher Near Watsonville Sustains Severe Injuries and May Not Recover

SALINAS, Jan. 12.—Mrs. D. A. Farnham, aged 63, wife of a prominent rancher living near Watsonville, who has been ill for some time, was seized with a fainting fit while sitting near a coal oil heater. Meanwhile the house burned furiously and soon was totally destroyed with its contents. Loss $3000, fully insured. Mrs. Farnham was seriously burned and may not recover.

Capitalist Shoots Himself

STOCKTON, Jan. 12.—After receiving a letter from his wife, who is in Oregon City visiting her brother, Parker Wilson, a young capitalist of this city, shot himself this morning at the residence of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Crothers, with suicidal intent. There have been rumors of an estrangement between Wilson and his wife for some time, but he has persistently denied that there was any trouble. Wilson may recover.

Anti-Saloon League's City Campaign

The headquarters committee of the State Anti-Saloon League of Southern California desires to announce: "In accordance with our declaration one year ago, which has been many times repeated during the year, and in compliance with the wishes of the people favorable to the work of the league, we have completed the preparation for and are now engaged in a vigorous anti-saloon campaign in this city.

"It is our purpose at a very early date to have submitted to the people of this city, under the initiative and direct legislation features of the city charter, an ordinance providing for the prohibition of the retail liquor traffic in Los Angeles. This movement, in which we are now engaged, will be pushed with all the vigor and thoroughness which have heretofore characterized the efforts of the league.

"The league is not in any sense a partisan organization and is prohibited by its constitution from forming alliances with any political party. It is a federation of all churches with temperance societies and other organizations which desire the suppression of the saloon and are willing to co-operate according to the plans of the league for the accomplishment of that result."

"This quotation from the declaration of the national league applies to every state league in the nation. We have inaugurated and shall conduct this campaign in Los Angeles as the representatives of all churches and societies favorable to the cause of saloon suppression, and we confidently expect and depend upon the loyal support of all these affiliated churches and societies and of their individual members.

"During the past year we have made immense preparation for this movement and have every reason to expect a magnificent victory if the friends of temperance reform whom we represent earnestly co-operate to that end, as we feel assured will be the case.
