

WAGNER'S PARSIFAL THE PIE DISCUSSED

SHAKESPEARE CLUB HOLDS LITERARY FEAST

Interpretation of Music to Follow in a Few Days—Pasadena News and Personal Notes of Interest

Pasadena Agency, 111 East Colorado Street.

PASADENA, Jan. 14.—The large audience of women gathered at the meeting of the Shakespeare club this afternoon was an excellent indication of the general interest in Wagner's Parsifal.

Interpretation of Music to Follow in a Few Days—Pasadena News and Personal Notes of Interest

Revel Lindsay English, accompanied by Miss Bowers, sang "The Swan Song" from Lohengrin, and "Sublime, Sweet Evening Star."

Miss Edith Ames followed with a very interesting and well written paper on "Wagner, the Musician."

Miss Ada Trotter, of Pasadena gave a brilliant picture of Bayreuth, the home of Wagner and of the presentation of the "Parsifal" which she witnessed there, closing with an eloquent description of the wonderful music of the combined human voices and the orchestra.

Two weeks from today, there will be an interesting exhibit of local handicraft of women, on the "Arts and Crafts" afternoon, in charge of Mrs. Mary Rosenbaum.

Mrs. Hayden of Denver, a prominent club woman of that city, was a guest of the Shakespeare club.

Wife of Prominent Chicagoan Dies

Mrs. C. S. Hutchins, wife of a prominent business man of Chicago, aged 78, died today. Mr. and Mrs. Hutchins came to Pasadena a few days ago. While on the train, Mrs. Hutchins was taken with a slight heart trouble, which developed rapidly after reaching here, and terminated fatally today in an acute case of heart failure.

Instead of the battery case against Marshal W. Groom, brought by Dr. S. N. Woodbridge of South Pasadena being tried this morning before Judge Klamroth, the hearing has been fixed for next Wednesday, the charge now being attempted murder.

Putting It Strong

But Doesn't It Look Reasonable?

This may read as though we were putting it a little strong, because it is generally thought by the majority of people that Dyspepsia in its chronic form is incurable or practically so. But we have long since shown that Dyspepsia is curable, nor is it such a difficult matter as at first appears.

The trouble with Dyspepsia is that they are continually dieting, starving themselves or going to the opposite extreme or else deluging the already overburdened stomach with "bitters," "after dinner pills," etc., which invariably increase the difficulty even if in some cases they do give a slight temporary relief.

This is a great secret and this is the secret of the uniform success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. This is a comparatively new remedy but its success and popularity leave no doubt as to its merit.

The Tablets will digest the food anyway, regardless of condition of the stomach. The sufferer from Dyspepsia, according to directions, is to eat an abundance of good, wholesome food and use the tablets before and after each meal and the result will be that the food will be digested no matter how bad your Dyspepsia may be, because, as before stated, the tablets will digest the food even if the stomach is wholly inactive.

The stomach may be ever so weak yet these tablets will perform the work of digestion and the body and brain will be properly nourished and at the same time a radical, lasting cure of Dyspepsia will be made because the much abused stomach will be given, at some extent, a much needed rest.

Shakespeare club has arranged for a most interesting evening next Thursday at the Opera House, when a series of almost forgotten Spanish dances and songs will be given by a group of twenty Spanish dancers and musicians.

Brilliant Double Wedding Seldom has Pasadena known of a more beautiful wedding, and a double one at that, than the one this noon, when the brides, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCauley, and the grooms prominent young men of the city, Miss Aina Louise McCauley was wedded to John D. Holmes, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Holmes of Hotel Green, and Miss Marie Blanche McCauley became the wife of Eemjamb Whitmore, son of Mrs. Rose Whitmore of West Colorado street.

Assisting Mr. and Mrs. McCauley in receiving the guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Holmes and Mrs. Rose Whitmore. After the impressive ceremony a wedding breakfast was served. Handsome gifts were showered upon these favorites of Pasadena society.

Want Big Convention Hall By far the most important action of the directors of the Tournament of Roses association at their meeting, which lasted until a late hour last night, was a resolution regarding a large convention hall. The erection of the hall is advocated, and the plan will be vigorously pushed.

It is now probable that there will be about $2500 in the treasury when all the outstanding bills are paid. The question of repeating the chariot races on Washington's birthday was thoroughly discussed, but no definite conclusion was reached, partly because of the variance of opinion.

WOODBURY DEFEATS DENTALS

Business College Boys Too Fast for Professional Men

Woodbury, 13; Dentals, 2. The baseball team of the Woodbury Business college took the measure of the team from the College of Dental Surgery, U. S. C., yesterday afternoon on the university campus.

The feature of the game was the pitching of Ganahl for the victors. He twirled nine innings of great ball, allowing only one hit and striking out his share of batters. Some of the Dentals are the real thing when it comes to playing ball, however, and they managed to bring in a couple of men with the aid of errors made by Ganahl's support and the single hit.

SUSPENSION OF JOCKEY CRITICISED

RULING OF JUDGE HAMILTON FOLLOWED BY SCENE

Rider and Official Have Words Outside Park—Racing Patrons Take Sides With Boy, Holding Ruling Was Unfair

The decision of Judge Hamilton in ruling off Jockey McMahon for his ride on Flea in the steeplechase race of Friday was followed by a lively scene outside the track between the deposed jockey and the presiding judge.

According to witnesses, Jockey McMahon, accompanied by his wife and their little baby, was standing outside the gates after the races, awaiting a car, when Judge Hamilton approached. The jockey turned to the judge and asked if it was true that he (McMahon) had been suspended for his ride on Flea.

Judge Hamilton replied that such was the case, adding, it is said that McMahon was "a thief." The former then stepped on a car followed by McMahon, who denounced the racing official as unfair and demanding apology for what he termed an unjustified insult. Judge Hamilton disclaimed to reply and McMahon, who was said to be somewhat under the influence of liquor, left the car.

Jockey McMahon when seen last night declined to discuss the scene outside the track, declaring, however, that he was much at fault as he had taken several drinks after being informed by press representatives that he had been suspended for his ride on Flea, and lost his temper, although he felt he could not be severely blamed for resenting Judge Hamilton's words, delivered unofficially. Judge Hamilton likewise refused to discuss the altercation.

"While I think Judge Hamilton's declaration that I am dishonest was uncalled for, it in no way has any dealing with my suspension," said McMahon. "The incident occurred off the race track, and I merely resented the words of one man to another. For my part in the matter I am prepared and willing to offer Judge Hamilton my apology, as I did wrong in losing my temper, which I would not have done were it not for the fact that I was excited and had taken several drinks after I learned that I had been set down."

ST. VINCENT'S BASEBALL TEAM WINS FROM COMPTON

Saints Make Grandstand Finish and Win From High School Boys in the Ninth

St. Vincents, 6; Compton high, 5. The local scholastic baseball season was opened yesterday afternoon, when the St. Vincents nine defeated the team from the Compton high school. Despite the fact that this was the first game of the season and that neither team has been training long the game was close and the spectators were treated to nine innings of really high class baseball.

The game was replete with exciting periods. Hathron made a great catch, nailing a seemingly impossible liner in a manner any National leaguer might well be proud of. In the eighth period, with the score one point to the lead for his team, two men out and the bases full, one of the Saints lit on the ball after the manner usually employed by Cravath and the ball started for the street back of the center field fence. Suddenly a long arm shot up above the fence, and when the arm came down the ball was resting easily in a big fist on the end of it.

In the fifth inning, when two Compton boys were on the bags, Fitzwilliams made a wild throw to home which brought the red shirts in on the run. Walton, who twirled for Compton, showed his class by striking out twelve men and allowing but five hits. Flick, on second for Compton, played a star game as did Fitzwilliams, his opponent on the same bag.

When the Saints came to the bat in the second half of the ninth the excitement was at fever heat, for the score stood 5 to 4 in favor of the visitors. By some quick work a yellow stocking was brought home and the score tied. Walton was perceptibly tired and the collegians fouled so many balls that the inning dragged slowly on. Fitzwilliams attempted to foul a strike and drew a punt and was out. A yellow leg stood on third awaiting transportation home, which came when Olhasso slammed a neat single out of the red shirt twirler and won the game.

St. Vincents held the intercollegiate championship last season and expect to make a strong bid for the pennant this year. Compton high school held the interscholastic pennant last year and are looked upon as the probable winners this season.

The teams lined up as follows: Compton. St. Vincents. Delleu .....R. F..... McDonald Steele .....3b..... Fitzwilliams Gordon .....S. S..... Lomar Flick .....2b..... Peck Stockwell .....L. F..... Poite Hathron .....C. F..... Winne Gemmill .....L. B..... Olhasso Schildwater .....C..... Campbell Walton .....P..... Lane Umpire, Fitzpatrick. Time of game, 2:10.

$600 with the various books; Mike Pulaski, who had a substantial bet on the chances of McMahon's mount to win; George Bentle, Bill Weir and Mart Baley, as well as Victor Gilbert, owner of Flea. Each of these men wagered on Flea on the confidence of Jockey McMahon that he could land the horse in front, despite the heavy impost.

John Brink declared that he was perfectly satisfied with the result of the race, and was confident that McMahon had done his best, and that the loss of the race was the fault of the horse and not the rider.

Mike Pulaski said: "Flea ran his race. I lost a good bet on the horse, but was perfectly satisfied with McMahon's ride. The horse tired before the sixth jump and couldn't muster up the energy to catch Allegiance and Decimo. I regret extremely that McMahon has been set down, and am one of a number of patrons of the track who believe that Judge Hamilton erred."

From the bookmakers' standpoint, the opinions are not the decision do not vary from those given by the patrons of the game, several who were seen last night declaring that they were satisfied with the race as it was run, not from the standpoint of profit and loss, but from that of fairness in riding.

George Rose, the leading penciler at Ascot, said: "From the bookmaker's standpoint, I am satisfied with the race. I do not think McMahon would do anything wrong and I believe the boy did his best to win. One of the biggest players in Los Angeles bet me $200 straight and $200 to show on Flea, the bet being made, it is a well known fact, at the instance of Jockey McMahon, and I do not believe the boy would advise this man to bet if he did not intend to try to win."

Judge Hamilton, when asked for an expression regarding the ruling, was disposed to question the right of the public to inquire into the matter of his decisions as the presiding official at Ascot, declaring that he knew for a fact that McMahon was too much under the influence of liquor to give the horse a competent ride and, moreover, that the horse was pulled. He declared that he didn't care what view was taken by the public or bettors interested in McMahon one way or another, and declined to give a view of the matter.

McMahon has borne a good reputation heretofore and is classed among the stars of the fencing game. Aside from his ability as a rider, he is regarded by those who know him as a conscientious.

In the two seasons McMahon has ridden at Ascot he has been but twice worse than third in a race.

BASEBALL SEASON TO OPEN AT PALO ALTO

Many Southern California Players Are Promising Candidates for Both Freshman and Varsity Teams

Special to The Herald.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Jan. 14.—The collegiate baseball season opens here Monday when regular practice will commence. Activity in this department of sport promises to be greater than usual, for besides the regular intercollegiate "varsity" series with the University of California, an intercollegiate freshmen contest has been scheduled. This season will inaugurate freshmen games between the two universities and the result of the experiment is awaited with interest.

Stanford starts the season with but four old men as a nucleus of a "varsity" nine. This condition of affairs would usually be discouraging, but fall practice demonstrates that there is a large amount of valuable material to be found in the freshmen class, and at the present time it is safe to predict that at least two freshmen will be members of the "varsity." Second team players remaining from last year will acceptably fill the places of veterans of last year's nine who have graduated.

Freshmen prospects are very encouraging and the baby class will be represented by a strong team. There are valuable men from all the coast states who will compete for places. Los Angeles and vicinity have given their quota. Among the most promising players from the south are A. B. Mendard of Los Angeles; R. Westwick, Santa Barbara; G. E. Horan, Long Beach; G. C. Franklin, Santa Monica; M. A. Cadwallader, Pomona; L. R. Gay, Redlands; C. A. Lantz, San Diego, and H. G. Holcomb and H. W. Martin, Banning.

Southern California has of late sent a good many athletes to Stanford and in the above list there are several players who are sure to be members of the intercollegiate team.

GILA RIVER FALLING

Arizona Floods Subside and Traffic is Slowly Resuming

By Associated Press.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 14.—Gila river is rapidly falling and was crossed at Florence this afternoon in row boats by a number of passengers for Phoenix who arrived on the Phoenix and Eastern railway.

Fifteen hundred feet of the Maricopa and Phoenix railway bridge at Gila crossing is gone. A train will leave here on that road tomorrow morning, transferring at the bridge by row-boats and traffic by that method will no doubt be resumed at once.

Centenarian Says He Caught Young Roosevelt in Mischief

By Associated Press.

AKRON, O., Jan. 14.—Thomas Dillon, who is 109 years old, a veteran of the war of 1812 and the Mexican war, claims to have spanked Theodore Roosevelt.

Dillon is now an inmate of the Summit county, Ohio, infirmary. He was a carpenter in New York and says he caught young Roosevelt, then 10 years old, pouring water in front of his shop on a winter morning.

Travis Defeats Fownes

By Associated Press.

PINEHURST, N. C., Jan. 14.—The second annual midwinter golf tournament ended today, Walter J. Travis, the English champion, defeating W. C. Fownes, Jr., of Pittsburg, by one up on the last hole. The medal play scores were only two strokes apart, 156 for Travis and 158 for Fownes.

Sacramento Defeated

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 14.—The lone high school eleven defeated Sacramento high school today by a score of 12 to 5.

TURNERS VICTORIOUS IN GREAT BASKET BALL GAME

Win From Crack Santa Fe Team by One Basket in Opening Contest of Men's League

Turners, 16; Santa Fe, 14.

Y. M. C. A. Rushers, 28; Glendale, 8. The Men's Amateur Basketball Ball league of Southern California started its schedule last night at the Turner gymnasium with a double header. The opening game was between the Glendale team and the Y. M. C. A. Rushers, the latter winning after a fast contest.

The big event of the evening was the match between the Turners and the Santa Fe five. Some time ago these crack teams met and the railroad boys won after a hard contest. The Turners went in to even things up last night, and one of the best basketball games ever seen in Los Angeles resulted. As it turned out the Turners did turn the tables on their opponents and won by one basket. Curiously enough that is exactly the extent of the Santa Fe's margin in the previous contest.

Lewis for the Santa Fe team played a star game from start to finish. The team playing of both fives was about equal and the Turners' victory was somewhat due to the fact that they were playing on their home court, while their opponents were on a strange one. A game between these speedy teams on a neutral court would be interesting indeed.

An enthusiastic crowd of partisans were present and the best of feeling prevailed between the two teams and their supporters. Of course, it is nearly always dangerous to prophesy, but many experts at the game declare that when the league season is over one of these two teams will own the pennant.

The line-up—Turners: Lees and Nible, forwards; Golding, center; Walter and Korstens, guards. Santa Fe: Lewis and Faithful, forwards; Case, center; Ruse and Gamble, guards. Officials—Umpire, F. E. Bradley; referee, M. S. Kunhy.

ORIGIN OF THE EARTH'S HEAT Some Objections to the Radium Theory A German physicist, Herr Liemow, puts forward the theory, which has been hinted by others, that there may be enough radium in the crust of the globe to account for the earth's internal heat. It is only necessary to suppose, for this object, that radium is "uniformly distributed throughout the mass of the earth in quantities of about one-thousandth of what is known to occur in pitchblende." But there are many indications that radium occurs more frequently than this in all known rocks, and that its occurrence is more frequent near the surface of the earth than in the interior. "This theory," the Electrician observes, "demolishes at a blow all our conceptions of a liquid interior at the tremendous temperatures implied by a uniformly rising gradient." It now becomes permissible to assume that the temperature rises toward the center of the earth, but attains a maximum at no very great depth, and that the interior beyond that point is at a uniform and comparatively low temperature. "This is making rather too much of radium," says the London Telegraph. What we know of volcanic phenomena in the past, of heat as a factor in the formation of La Place's theory to account for the solar system, as so many slowly-cooling bodies, negatives the supposition of there being another sufficient cause for the same effects. Besides, do we know enough of the break-up of the radium atom and its liberation of heat at such pressures as exist at great depth of rock to be sure that the phenomena of the laboratory would be present there?
