COLD RECEPTION FOR ALL BEGGARS

LOS ANGELES "NO GOOD" FOR TRAMP FRATERNITY

Police Make Work on Chain Gang the Price of a Visit to the City.

Hobo Season at Hand

Hark, hark, the dogs do bark! The beggars are coming to town! Some in rags, some in tags and some in velvet gowns.

For the past two weeks an exodus from the St. Louis fair and on their yearly migration from eastern and northern points to the southern climes, scores of beggars, tramps and hobos have been arriving in Los Angeles and attempting to live from the bounty secured over the back door route.

But Los Angeles is "no good" for the hobo and the dark stripes with the skull and letter X have been stamped on every post and milestone from far out in the suburbs to the railroad yards within a short distance of the heart of the business district, warning the brother tramps away.

The vagrants began to arrive earlier than usual this season, taking advantage of the many tourists journeying toward this section to furnish them with small change and victuals, and the hobos have been found passing through all the cities of the west making their way toward Los Angeles.

Heavy fines have been given all these wanderers from the first day of their arrival and as the season progresses the fines grow heavier until a boycott has been declared upon Los Angeles by the hobos.

Yesterday an unusual number appeared on the books of the police station, many of them charged with vagrancy, sleeping in box cars and suspicion. Each received his fine in silence and repaired to his cell with thirty days of hard work on the roads and rocks surrounding Los Angeles before him.

Nearly the entire chain gang of more than fifty members is now composed of tramps and beggars and it is proposed to replenish the working squad as soon as more pilgrims arrive.

TANGLE IN PURCHASE OF FIRE HOUSE LOT

Mayor Returns Claim for Price of Real Estate Without Signature—Trickery is Alleged

Mayor McAleer has declined to affix his signature to the claim of $1600 which was presented to the council last Monday as the purchase price of a lot at the corner of Fifty-second street and Central avenue. The lot was to have been used by the city as a site for an engine house and the purchase had been approved by the finance committee of the council.

It is now asserted there was some sharp practice indulged in with reference to the sale of the property. Houghton, the councilman from the Sixth ward, carried on the negotiations in behalf of the city.

It is said Houghton understood he was buying a corner lot. It now transpires that the lot called for in the deed is an inside lot and that the city is called upon to pay as much money for it as is asked for the corner lot. The council will make an investigation.

TROUBLE FOR BOOK AGENT

Accused of Forging; the Name of Milo M. Potter

R. H. Baldwin, a book agent, was arrested early yesterday morning on a charge of forgery, the warrant being served by Detectives Murphy and Hawley. It is alleged that Baldwin forged the name of Milo M. Potter, proprietor of the Van Nuys hotel of Los Angeles, to an order for a consignment from the Scribner Publishing company and received a high commission for the order. Baldwin, as a regular solicitor for Scribners, carried a number of blank orders for sets and editions of the works of famous authors. He received commissions for his orders and turned the orders over to E. H. Lockwood, the local agent, for the books.

Several days ago, it is alleged, Baldwin signed the name of Milo M. Potter to an order for $265 worth of books. He turned the order over to Lockwood and is said to have received $38 as commission. Mr. Potter denied having given the order for books and the arrest of Baldwin was made.

BURGLARS ARE TWICE FOILED

Attempt to Enter Buildings but Secure No Plunder

A burglar with a changeable mind attempted burglary on down town stores twice Tuesday night and in both cases either failed or changed his mind and left without taking anything. The first entry was made at the Antiseptic barber shop, 427 South Spring street. The burglar commenced work on the rear door and bored two half-inch holes through the door. He then changed his mind and left the door and obtained entrance through the window. Nothing was taken.

The store of the firm of W. P. Fuller & Company of 140 North Los Angeles street was also visited by a burglar. He attempted entrance to the building by a rear door. He carefully removed the lock from the door and tore away the woodwork. As he swung back the wooden door he met a network of heavy iron bars forming a second door and left without any further attempt to enter the building.

REPORTS BRIDGE IS IN DANGEROUS CONDITION

City Engineer Recommends Repair of Structure on Sunset Boulevard.

Storm Drain for Pico Street

City Engineer Stafford has called the attention of the council to the condition of the bridge or underground passage way on Sunset boulevard near the extension of Philoe street. The city engineer says the bridge is giving way and is in a condition that endangers life and property.

The bridge is under a large fill on the line of the Los Angeles Pacific railway and was built by the railroad under the terms of an agreement with the city. The city is under no obligation to maintain the bridge or keep it in repair.

Mr. Stafford says the manner in which the bridge is giving way endangers the traffic passing above and he recommends that the railroad people be notified to repair the structure at once. In the event that the bridge is not repaired as suggested the city engineer recommends that the city order the opening filled up. The case will be considered by the board of public works at its meeting tomorrow.

Plans and specifications have been completed by the city engineer for a storm drain on Pico street between Arapahoe and the alley one-half block west. This drain is part of the general system, the construction of which has been provided for by the city.

The drain is an extension of that recently built in the alley between Arapahoe street and Magnolia avenue. The city clerk was directed to advertise for bids for the work.

PLANS LAID FOR WATER CONGRESS

COMMERCE BOARD FAVORS PROPOSAL

Members of the directorate of the chamber of commerce think feasible a proposal for a water congress to discuss the water situation in Southern California, and in all probability such a meeting will be held in the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce building at no distant date. The proposal came from A. J. Cook, conductor of farmers' institutes for Southern California, and the plan is to have the various phases of the question discussed by those who have studied and are directly interested in the subject.

Another important action resulting from the meeting of the board yesterday afternoon was that in connection with the purchase of a new site and the erection of new buildings for a state normal school. C. D. Willard, in behalf of the state normal board, asked for an indorsement of the proposition it has in hand, and the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, that the chamber of commerce recommends to the members of the legislature that they give favorable consideration to the project to remove the state normal school in this city to its present location on a hill to some other more suitable site, and the construction of a set of buildings better adapted to its uses than those at present occupied."

A communication was also received from the California promotion committee of San Francisco asking the chamber of commerce to indorse a proposition made by the San Benito County Improvement club, asking that the Van Couver pinnacles near Hollister be set apart for a national park, and requesting the chamber to indorse the proposition. The matter was referred to the committee on parks and boulevards.

This subject has been thoroughly canvassed by Dr. David Starr Jordan, Dr. Dudley and Prof. Kellogg of Stanford university and a favorable recommendation made to the United States government. The committee on law and legislation to whom was referred the proposed bill to be submitted to the legislature on the regulation of employment and hours of labor for children and prohibiting the employment of minors under certain age reported favorably. The recommendation was adopted.

The same committee reported favorably on the bill relative to the depositing of state, county and city funds. The chamber has already taken action favoring the proposition.

The committee on publications and statistics reported favorably to supplying literature advertising Shasta Springs for distribution at the bureau of information during the Lewis and Clark exposition at Portland. The secretary was instructed, however, to apply for more definite information as to how the distribution was to be made and under what restrictions, and also to ascertain what arrangement could be made for an exhibit of our Southern California products during that period.

The following were elected to membership: Frank J. Hildebrand, A. P. Fleming, Westlake Stables company, W. L. Brent and J. R. Luddy.

SAYS JAPAN HAS EYES IN CHINA

AMBITION IS ORIENTALIZATION OF HER NEIGHBOR

Capt. James Archibald, Lately Returned from the Far East, Believes Plan is Already Under Way

"The 'yellow peril' is neither in the Chinese nor in the Japanese alone but the real danger lies in the former being led by the latter. This is what is being attempted today and there is no denial of the fact by the Japanese. Besides, their actions are conclusive proof."

This is the opinion of Captain James F. J. Archibald, war correspondent of Collier's weekly, who arrived in Los Angeles last night. Mr. Archibald has spent the last twelve months in the orient and had unprecedented opportunities not only to study the various war movements but also the motives which are now actuating Japan and which will probably continue to do so in the future.

"Japan's ambition," he continued, "is the orientalization of the orient, and should the future see the accomplishment of their purpose, with the Chinese under the control of the Japanese, foreigners might just as well move out."

"Already this plan is being put into execution and Japan has emissaries in every province, city and village of China. There are one hundred school boys going every month from Peking to Tokio where they receive military training and every month the same number of youths go back to their own country fully trained to take command of troops of their own nationality."

"In furtherance of the plan, is the exclusion act which has recently gone into effect in Japan. This law, which acts more directly against Americans and Germans, prohibits foreigners from holding land in their own names, from entering into any business in their own name and from practicing any profession or teaching in any school or university."

"Why is not business conducted in the names of Japanese? Because they cannot be trusted. They do not even trust each other. There is not a single large business house or important firm in Japan which does not have as its cashier a Chinese. They are a notably dishonest people in business, although the moral standard is being raised at the present time. This is not to say that I am finding fault with the Japanese, for in many respects I believe them to be most wonderful people in the world."

"Russia's complaints that China is openly violating the promise to remain neutral are only too true. Supplies are being sent constantly through Chinese territory and over the Chinese Imperial railway from New Chang to the Japanese army quartered along the Liao river."

To Lecture on Present War
Captain Archibald will lecture tonight at Simpson's auditorium on the recent events of the Russian war in Manchuria. Captain Archibald, who is one of the war correspondents of Collier's weekly, is one of the three Americans who left the United States before the outbreak of the war and were able to accompany the Russian forces in Manchuria. His lecture is illustrated with stereopticon views prepared from photographs taken at the scene of action.

LEGAL FIGHT WAGED FOR AFFECTION OF CHILD

Woman Asserts That God-Daughter's Mind Has Been Prejudiced Against Her

Charging that the mind of her god child has been poisoned against her, Madam Pascaline Carricaburu, through her attorney, E. L. Hutchison, yesterday filed a petition in the superior court for the purpose of regaining the custody of Pascaline San Pedro.

The petition says the child has been in the affiant's custody since the month of October, 1894, at which time Mrs. Carricaburu brought her from Urepele, France.

She says she placed the infant in the position of companion to the children of Count Y. Zvonsky, whereupon she complains that Zvonsky began to prejudice and poison the mind of the child against her.

Mrs. Carricaburu says Zvonsky imprisoned the child against her will, and even went so far as to barricade the doors of his home against the affiant. Justice Pierce appeared in behalf of Zvonsky and asked for time within which to answer.

Judge Wilbur continued the case until January 27, and in the meantime the child will remain in the custody of Mrs. Josefa Pellissier.
