

EDEY DIAMONDS ARE RECOVERED

FOUND BURIED IN GROUNDS OF HOTEL RAYMOND

THREE BELL BOYS ARRESTED

Chief Freeman and Capt. Austin of Pasadena Police Department Confident They Have Perpetrators of Big Robbery

Buried at the roots of a pepper tree in the grounds of the Raymond hotel, the $20,000 worth of diamonds stolen Friday from the room of Mrs. William S. Edey at the Hotel Maryland were uncovered at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Chief of Police W. W. Freeman and Captain W. C. Austin of the Pasadena police department.

At 12 o'clock last night Gaston, the head bellboy at the Maryland hotel; Carl Wilson, a bellboy at the same hotel, and John Morgan, a bellboy at the Raymond hotel, sat in the office of Chief Freeman, confessing, fact by fact, under a heavy crossfire of questions, their parts in the largest and most cleverly planned diamond robbery ever committed in Southern California.

Wilson was arrested yesterday morning at the Hotel Maryland and Morgan was arrested yesterday afternoon in Pasadena, where he had gone from Los Angeles to procure legal counsel for his friends.

Turned State's Evidence Chief Freeman says that the facts in the case have been worked, little by little, from the three men they have in custody, but it is believed that one of them has turned state's evidence, and the sweating process which went on until early this morning is for the purpose of drawing a confession from the other two of their own accord.

It is said by the police that Morgan is wanted by the police in San Francisco and that the name is an assumed one. Who Wilson is they refuse to say, but it is believed that he also has a record.

Chief Freeman believes that he has captured three of a gang of hotel thieves operating on the Pacific coast, and that within a few days the stolen jewelry would have been dug up and sent east, to be disposed of there.

At 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon Mr. Edey was notified of the discovery of his wife's property, and after examining the contents of the box, said that not only was there nothing missing, but there were several valuable trinkets which his wife did not know had been stolen.

Wilson Committed Robbery The police say Carl Wilson is the one who robbed the casket, Gaston or Doyle was the one who planned the robbery and gave Wilson the opportunity to do the work, while Morgan is the man who received the valuables after they had been stolen and secreted them under the pepper tree, where they were found yesterday afternoon.

"At every opportunity," said Chief of Police Freeman last night, "Gaston sent Wilson to the rooms occupied by the Edeys. In five or six days, Wilson managed to make impressions of the keys which unlock the trunk which contained the diamonds and Friday afternoon, between 4 and 5 o'clock, when Mrs. Edey was in Los Angeles, Wilson brought the plan of theft to a successful culmination. He handed over the stolen property to Doyle. Doyle placed the diamonds in a cigar box filled with tissue paper to keep them from rattling. He then wrapped the box in paper and, an hour after the theft, addressed the package to 'Harry Kellam Black, Monrovia,' and placed it in the postoffice as third-class matter.

"Wilson, with the hope of throwing the blame on others, when he left the room, dropped an embroidered handkerchief, a button-hook and a photograph of a young woman, and after the police had started to work on the case both he and Doyle sought to incriminate those with whom they were working.

Morgan Receives Jewels Morgan was well able to take care of himself. "Early Saturday morning he called for the package at Monrovia and received it from the postmaster. From Monrovia he went to Los Angeles and thence to the Hotel Raymond. The stolen property he buried early Sunday morning a quarter of a mile from the hotel and to mark the place placed an empty orange box over the spot.

"We have traced his every movement from the time he received the package at Monrovia and in that way we have arrived at the place where the diamonds were concealed. When Captain Austin kicked aside the box we saw that the earth under it had been lately disturbed and after digging a hole ten inches deep we came upon the cigar box."

Secured Job at the Maryland Morgan came to Los Angeles with Doyle and roomed with him at the Lealand hotel in Los Angeles before either of them had found work in the hotels at Pasadena. After Doyle obtained the position of head bell boy at the Hotel Maryland by giving false credentials and representing himself to be F. A. Gaston of Bowie, Ky., Morgan procured a position as bellboy at the same hotel.

WORKMEN HURLED FROM SCAFFOLD

FORM CRASHES THROUGH THE ROOF OF DRUG STORE

CUSTOMERS PANIC STRIKEN

Victims of Accident Lie Crushed and Bleeding Until Ambulance Arrives—Injuries May Prove Fatal

By the breaking of a scaffold, swung near the top of the new Mason building at the corner of Fourth street and Broadway, two painters employed by the Zohm Contracting company were hurled downward to almost certain death yesterday afternoon.

They were William Wells, aged 26 years, living at Rivera, and Frank Woolford, aged 48 years, of Los Angeles. Both are severely if not fatally injured.

Wells dropped about fifty feet to the roof of the inner court, sustaining injuries which are dangerous. Woolford, being at the other end of the scaffold, in falling crashed through the glass skylight above the Homeopathic drug store at 404 South Broadway. This checked the fall and probably saved him from instant death. His body broke through the skylight and struck the top of the prescription case inside the drug store, ricocheted and demolished a display of bottled olive oil. Prescription Clerk Peebles was standing at the counter when the man's body came crashing through, head foremost, scattering bottles, glass and fluid drugs in every direction.

People in the drug store were thrown into consternation. Several women fled, screaming, from the soda fountain. An old man, feeble and unable to run, was white and speechless.

Woolford was removed to the receiving hospital in an ambulance. From the nature and location of his wounds it was evident he fell head foremost. His shoulder was dislocated and his face was severely cut and gashed. There is a possible chance of his recovery. Wells was taken into Dr. Maloney's office in the building. His injuries are considered dangerous, being internal. He also sustained a compound fracture of the left leg. After being attended he was sent to the home of his sister at Rivera. Woolford was removed last night to the California hospital.

It is said that a crack was noticed in the scaffold or ladder and that the men's attention was called to it. They wrapped the broken part, using a piece of wood as a splice, but the wire which they depended on to hold it intact broke. Woolford fell about seventy feet, while Wells fell only fifty feet.

The suicide of the cashier who shot himself is said to be due to business worry. Upon application of the directors a receiver has been appointed. The run has practically stopped and the doors of the bank have been closed. The assets are given by Attorney Howard at $250,000; liabilities $423,600, of which $384,400 are individual deposits.

ALL RUSSIA IN THROES OF REVOLT! WORKMEN MASSING FOR STRUGGLE!

FORCE OF COSSACKS CHARGING ON THE RUSSIAN POPULACE IN ST. PETERSBURG

CHOOSE MEN FOR PROVISIONAL RULE

REFORM LEADERS ORGANIZE RUSSIA'S GOVERNMENT

These Are Now Waiting for the Turn of Events Which Shall Lead Them to Power or to Death

LONDON, Jan. 24.—The Daily Telegraph's St. Petersburg correspondent reports that as the outcome of the meeting of the reform party of Gorky, Annensky, Arsenieff and others and their adherents Saturday night and Sunday a body of men has been constituted who regard themselves as the future provisional government of Russia.

As yet, the correspondent says, they are political cliphers, but they hope some sudden stroke of luck will enable them to overturn the existing regime, and at the same time they recognize the fact that non-success may lead them to Siberia or the tomb. The correspondent adds:

"I am not permitted to reveal their identity. They are not adventurers, but men of standing, whose names are widely known and deeply respected here and abroad. They have requested me to state that their financial policy will be to respect all Russian loans and obligations entered into before January 22, but to repudiate any foreign loans contracted in the future. "They have decided, in conjunction with the strike leaders, to appeal to English speaking peoples throughout the world for financial assistance to enable them to continue the struggle for freedom."

GERMAN OFFICIALS SAY REBELS LACK SUFFICIENT LEADERSHIP TO SUCCEED

BERLIN, Jan. 23.—Emporer William and the members of his entourage sat up late last night receiving press and private telegrams from St. Petersburg. While the outbreak is looked upon as one which proceeded from the hearts of the people, the foreign office does not believe that it presages a revolution, because it lacks efficient leadership and is without adequate support among the bulk of the people throughout the empire. Government control of the telegraph lines and railroads makes co-operation of the rest of the empire impossible.

The official view is that although any friends of Russia must be sorrowful over the internal situation, the Russian government dare not drop the reins or the horses will run away. The government, to avoid anarchy, must act stringently.

POPE PRAYS THAT PEACE MAY BE RESTORED IN DOMAINS OF THE CZAR

ROME, Jan. 23.—The pope received today in private audience O. M. Narychkin, the new Russian minister accredited to the Vatican, with his wife and daughters. The pope is ardently praying for the pacification of Russia.

Workmen of Moscow, Frenzied by Massacre, Join the Revolutionists

Employees of Iron Works Go Out and Parade the Manufacturing District, Inducing Others to Join Them—Serious Events Feared

MOSCOW, Jan. 23.—An invitation from the workmen of St. Petersburg to join in a general strike has been accepted here.

Five thousand employees of the Bronley Iron works met during the noon hour today and adopted a resolution declaring it was impossible to continue working in the face of the appeal from their co-workers in the capital.

Men then paraded through the manufacturing district and called upon others to join them. A majority immediately responded and joined the paraders.

Several works have been closed, including the printing works of M. Sylen, a millionaire, whose place is the largest of its kind in Moscow.

A general strike will be formally declared Thursday next, when a demonstration is expected. It is rumored that military preparations have already been made for handling it.

The artillery will be used. There is considerable anxiety in the city. It is known that the workmen generally are provided with firearms, despite the regulations forbidding them having them.

Moscow's Greatest Menace

Moscow has more workmen and less troops than St. Petersburg, and besides is just now the heart of the Liberal movement, and the danger of bloodier occurrences here than have been witnessed there are proportionately greater. A rising at Moscow is also more likely to have greater results industrially and politically than that of St. Petersburg.

According to private reports, the workmen in several other big cities, notably Kharkoff, where large locomotive works are located, already have completed plans for a general suspension of work.

Moreover, reports are current that the workmen, who otherwise would soon be forced back into the shops or starve, have received assurances of financial support from the sources which hitherto have furnished the sinews of war to the Liberal and revolutionary agitation, but have not before been in touch with the labor movement. If the strike becomes general all over Russia, and especially if the railroads are drawn in, it might immediately force the nation to make peace with Japan.

Situation Everywhere Grave

The situation appears grave from every standpoint, but the authorities, although apparently somewhat bewildered, declare their purpose to stand firm, maintaining that it is their first duty to preserve order, scouting the idea of actual revolution. Seemingly, the ministers are most concerned over the effect of the present situation abroad, where, they declare, exaggerated reports create a false impression. What if any steps have been taken to relieve the general situation, however, has not been yet disclosed, but there

GOPON AND WITTE ONCE SWINEHERDS

COINCIDENCE IN LIVES OF PRIEST AND STATESMAN

Leader of Russian Populace Possesses Remarkably Magnetic Personality—Born of Peasant Parents in Poltava

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Christian Brinton, an art critic, who has spent many years in Russia as a student and observer of social conditions, gave an interesting account today of Father Gopon, whom he has frequently seen and heard speak. Brinton said he never met a more magnetic personality than Gopon, and continued:

"The early career of this priest is shrouded more or less in a mystery. He was born in Poltava in 1839 and is a son of a poor peasant family. When he was able to toddle about he was assigned to the care of pigs and geese. It may be a coincidence, but Father Gopon and Witte began life herding pigs and geese. Each is an admirer of the other, though differing on many material points of view.

"As a youth Gopon exhibited such promise that his friends determined to send him into the priesthood. All the while he was studying socialism and discussed the social conditions of his country.

"While studying for the priesthood at a seminary he gave voice to such radical views that he was expelled before being graduated. He finally managed to be admitted to the priesthood under general limitations which did not permit him to have a general pastorate."

"The general ordered his coachman to drive on, when he was instantly struck on the head by a well-dressed individual in a sable fur coat. The general was then thrown out of the sledge, beaten and trampled to death.

RUSSIAN NEWSPAPER EDITORS SAY THEY WILL DEFY THE CENSORSHIP

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 23.—The editors of four newspapers, the Russ, the Vedomosti, the Novosti and the Grashdanin, declare their intention as soon as the printers return to work, and they are able to resume publication, openly to defy the censorship in the matter of strike news and Sunday's affair.

It is reported that a number of mills and factories will start up tomorrow. Some of the industrial managers believe that the worst is over here. Father Gopon's message to his followers tonight was:

"The czar does not exist. No longer pray for liberty."

ADMIRALTY WORKS AT SEVASTOPOL BURNED BY INCENDIARIES

SEVASTOPOL, Jan. 23.—The vast admiralty works here are ablaze. The fire broke out immediately after the signal for beginning work at 7 a. m. The flames burst simultaneously from different parts of the works, and the whole building was so quickly involved that men in the modeling department barely escaped by jumping out of the windows. Energetic measures prevented the flames extending to the docks. The fire was under control at 1:40 p. m.

Strikers Will Reply to Massacre With Dynamite

AWFUL BLOODSHED IS ANTICIPATED

Bombs Already Playing Growsome Part in Revolution

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 24, 9 a. m.—Three small riots occurred in different parts of the city this (Tuesday) morning, but were promptly suppressed by the police and soldiers with very little bloodshed, although many arrests were made.

It is reported that Father Gopon has been arrested. It is known that the strikers have obtained great quantities of arms, and it is feared if further outbreaks occur the slaughter on both sides will be terrible.

REVOLUTIONISTS MEET MASSACRE WITH DYNAMITE

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 24, 5 a. m.—If widespread and united perpetration of violence against the government constitutes revolution, then revolution has begun in Russia.

This has been a fearful night. The tramp and clatter of soldiers, who, armed to the teeth, patrolled the streets, have mingled with the sound of occasional shots and the detonation of deeper and more sinister explosions.

For revolution, challenged with massacre, has replied with dynamite. Everywhere in the suburbs where there are soldiers or government buildings bombs are being thrown. A state of siege prevails and the people have been warned that they leave their houses at the risk of being shot.

People Flying From Horrors

Many frightened inhabitants are flying from worse horrors that impend or are barricading themselves in their houses. Others are marooned in hotels. Armed bodies of men are marching hither from various quarters. Twelve thousand strikers are on their way from the Caploff works. They have beaten back a detachment of troops told off to deal with them and are advancing on St. Petersburg.

A bomb was thrown among a regiment of Cossacks near the Winter palace and killed several troopers. The revolutionists hourly grow bolder. There seems every prospect of a revolution throughout the empire, and this unhappy city is threatened with a reign of terror that may equal that of the French revolution. The dynasty's one hope is in the troops, who are still staunch.

Soldiers Killed by Bombs

A bomb was thrown among a group of soldiers at the corner of Sadovaya and Vosmerensky streets at half past 7 last evening and several soldiers were killed. The temper of the populace is such that it is dangerous for
