

THE BE BILLS
STATE JUD BILL
DECLARES HE DOESN'T CARE
WHAT BECOMES OF IT

Amendment Will Probably Be Agreed
On and Measure Will Be Passed in Its Modified
Form

Special to The Herald.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Senator Beveridge, having realized that the statehood bill in its present form cannot pass the senate, and the management of the measure having been practically taken away from him, he has thrown up his hands and declares he does not care what becomes of it. This means probably that the amendment to the bill making it acceptable to a majority of the senate, Democrats and Republicans, will be agreed on and the bill put through in this amended form. Negotiations for such an agreement on amendments to the bill have been under way for several days, and it is now thought altogether likely that the result sought will be arrived at. It is expected that the amendment will take the form of that proposed by Senator Foraker, allowing the people of New Mexico and Arizona the privilege of a separate vote on the question of joint statehood, and requiring that there shall be a majority in each territory for it before it shall prevail. The talk now is that an arrangement will be made for a vote on the amendments and the bill on February 4. The Republican managers want to get the measure out of the way of other business, and they think that a vote should be had on it in deference to the declaration of the Chicago platform. The senate today passed a bill authorizing the use of earth, stone and timber on the public lands and forest reserves of the United States in the construction of works under the national irrigation law. The regulations for such use are to be prescribed by the secretary of the interior or secretary of agriculture. Senator Perkins' bill appropriating $50,000 for the construction of a light and fog signal station at or near Point Cabrillo, Cal., was favorably reported to the senate today. The senate today passed the house bill transferring to the Sierra forest reserve a certain portion of the Yosemite National park.

Army Bill Passed; Miles Protected
WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—The senate today passed the army appropriation bill, after modifying the provision concerning the assignment of retired army officers to active service with military organizations. The effect of the change is to relieve General Miles from its application.

AGREE ON HARBOR BILL
House Committee Approves Expenditure of Over Seventeen Millions
WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—The house committee on rivers and harbors today agreed on a bill providing for river and harbor work. The bill carries an aggregate appropriation of $17,091,875 and authorizes expenditures for continuing contracts aggregating $16,734,657. From the total of cash appropriated it is to be deducted the sum of $2,188,942, the unexpended balance of the appropriation carried in the emergency act of last year. Only a few new projects are provided for. Among the items are the following: California: Wilmington harbor, $100,000, and for continuing contracts $150,000; San Luis Obispo, $25,000; Oakland harbor, $100,000, and for continuing contracts, $150,000.

FIRE COMMISSION RESIGNS
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26.—Fire Commissioner Boyne filed his resignation with Mayor Schmitz today. He assigned no reason for his action. According to reports in political circles, his resignation presages a number of changes in the personnel of local office holders. It is said that Boyne will become secretary of the police commission and that Supervisor Finn will be appointed to the vacancy caused by Boyne's resignation. Gossip slates Election Commissioner Devoll for Finn's supervisory chair, the mayor being credited with the desire to have a strong representative on the board. A successor to former Police Commissioner Hutton has not been named.

WHY WE CAN
So Fearlessly Guarantee Vinol

"It is true," said a member of the Owl Drug Co., "we stand ready to refund money paid up for Vinol every time it fails to do what we claim for it, and when we tell you that Vinol actually has a record of succeeding in ninety-eight cases out of every hundred you can see why it is we are so ready to do this. There is absolutely nothing that will act as a general restorer, strength restorer and flesh creator for old people, children, weak people and during convalescence equal to Vinol. The reason for this is that Vinol contains in a highly concentrated form those important medicinal elements that have always made cod liver oil famous, but it is far superior to cod liver oil and emulsions inasmuch as it contains none of the grease or oil to upset the stomach and retard its work, and it is delicious to the taste. Mrs. W. C. Parker of Jackson, Miss., writes: 'I have been sick and all run down for over a year, have taken all kinds of medicines and treated with our best physicians but received no benefit. I was so weak and nervous that I could not sleep or bear the slightest noise. Friends recommended Vinol. I took two bottles of it, and cannot recommend it too highly after what it has done for me. My nervousness is gone, I have gained in flesh and strength and sleep well, I wish every woman suffering as I did would try Vinol.' 'What Vinol did for Mrs. Parker it will do for every sufferer in Los Angeles who is in her condition. We cheerfully refund your money every time it fails.' The Owl Drug Co., 288 S. Spring St.

Atlantic Shipping Terribly Battered—Steamer Strikes on Nantucket Shoals

land coast indicate that the great storm of yesterday had lost its severity during the night, but at the same time news that four schooners and one steamer had been driven ashore at Cape Cod was received. The steamer was the Georgetown of the Atlantic Steamship company's line, which struck on Great Point, on Nantucket shoals. The crew reached shore, but the steamer is reported to be in a bad position. Of the schooners two were five-masted, a third was a four-masted, while the fourth was the two-masted fishing schooner Monitor of Provincetown, which struck during the night on Sagamore Beach bar, off Sandwich. The crew of four men was driven to the rigging, where they spent the night with intense suffering until daylight, when the falling tide permitted them to escape to shore. Gale Drives Ships Ashore
Of the larger schooners, one of the five-masted went ashore on Yarmouth Flats, while the second five-masted and the four-masted grounded on the flats near North Dennis. The schooner reported last night as ashore off Provincetown still was in distress today and her identity had not been learned. The sudden veering of the gale from northeast to northwest was the indirect cause of the casting ashore of so many craft at points where they had sought shelter. Today's reports indicate that in New England the greatest force of the storm was felt on the southern shore. Inland the disturbance was far less severe. The mercury early today registered 5 above zero in Boston. There was much suffering from exposure, which was the direct cause of two deaths in the city.

Official Version of Storm
WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—The Atlantic coast storm, according to reports to the weather bureau, has moved more rapidly since Wednesday morning, and today is central south of Nova Scotia. The great wave of high pressure in the interior is slowly giving way, although the temperatures are still decidedly below the seasonal average east of the Rocky mountains.

Trains Blocked at Philadelphia
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26.—Bitter cold weather today followed the snow storm of yesterday. During the night the wind reached a velocity of forty miles an hour and the temperature was at zero. The storm has brought about a condition on the railroads that has not existed since the blizzard of 1888. Up to 11 o'clock today not one through train had arrived from the south or north on the Pennsylvania railroad.

Aground on Maryland Coast
BALTIMORE, Jan. 26.—The weather here continues intensely cold, the thermometer marking 4 degrees below zero. The steamer Lord Erne, which went ashore on Bodkin's Point yesterday, is still aground.

Warmer at Kansas City
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 26.—The weather in the southwest had moderated today, the temperature showing a rise of 20 degrees in the past twenty-four hours.

La Crosse Grows Colder
LA CROSSE, Wis., Jan. 26.—Today is even colder than yesterday, thermometers generally registered 18 degrees below zero or lower in this vicinity. Passenger trains on all roads are from two to six hours late. No attempt is being made to run freight trains.

Much Suffering in Iowa
DES MOINES, Iowa, Jan. 26.—The continued cold of seventy-two hours' duration was slightly broken today, when the wind shifted to the south and the mercury climbed slowly upward to 4 degrees below zero. Much suffering is reported from all parts of the state.

DEATHS OF THE DAY

Charles Lockhart, Pittsburg
PITTSBURG, Jan. 26.—Charles Lockhart, a director of the Standard Oil company, and at one time president of the corporation, died today of old age. Mr. Lockhart was one of the oil kings of the country and with John D. Rockefeller, William G. Warden and Henry M. Flagler laid the foundation for the Standard Oil company. His wealth was estimated at from $75,000,000 to $100,000,000.
Mother of Turkish Minister Dead
WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Nearin Hanon, mother of Chekh Bey, minister of Turkey in this country, is dead at the Turkish legation in this city.
Santa Fe Attorney Ill
TOPEKA, Jan. 26.—A. A. Hurd, general attorney of the Santa Fe, is very low tonight with pneumonia, having suffered a relapse. His recovery seems doubtful.

GIANT SWINDLES
ARE UNEARTHED

kept well secluded in the background. Meyer, when questioned, declared that Groves had influenced him to act as plaintiff in the suit by informing him that he (Meyer) was interested in one of the pieces of property, and that the whole proceeding was a matter of form to quiet the titles.

"Attorney McMahon declared he knew nothing about the case except that Groves had asked him to appear as attorney and draw up the papers. "Inquiry brought to light the discovery that the papers in the suit were never filed in the sheriff's office. There was no such deputy sheriff as C. B. Spencer, and the return on the summons that the papers had been served personally upon all of the defendants, it is alleged, was a forgery.

Indictment Returned
"As the case was reported to the Portland grand jury and an indictment was returned against Groves, charging him with forgery, he was called before the grand jury as a witness, and by this means was apprised of what was going on. "He hurriedly disposed of his personal effects and left Portland before a warrant for his arrest was issued, and a diligent search failed to disclose his hiding place."

A telegram received by Deputy District Attorney Fleming last night said: "An indictment is still hanging over A. F. Groves."

Upon receiving this information from the sheriff at Portland Deputy District Attorney Fleming immediately telegraphed to that officer in relation to the case, and it is possible Groves may be taken back to Oregon to face the charges that now confront him in Portland.

The district attorney has also telegraphed the officers at Seattle, where it is charged he operated his alleged swindle.

Unearths Swindles
Deputy District Attorney Fleming, who up to the present time has had sole charge of the case, spent the entire day yesterday in unearthing damaging evidence against the accused man in the records of this county.

Four additional transfers of property were discovered yesterday by the deputy district attorney, two of which took place at Whittier.

The mysterious woman in the case, "P. Hackett," declares that she participated in the alleged swindle at the instigation of Groves and Charles H. Brooks, the latter formerly proprietor of the Van Nuys Broadway hotel, and who is now a fugitive from justice.

She said yesterday that all the deeds were signed at Groves' office, and that she was unacquainted with the names appearing in the instruments.

Says She Believed Him
Groves is the woman's brother-in-law, and for this reason she says she placed implicit confidence in his manipulations. It was also discovered by Deputy District Attorney Fleming that Groves was formerly employed by Charles H. Brooks as his attorney while he was in good standing in Los Angeles.

The discovery made yesterday of the additional forged instruments also led to the apparent corroboration of guilt on the part of the accused by reason of the fact that they were all mailed to "Box 144, station C, Los Angeles," which box was rented last February by the attorney.

James Hasson and R. C. Milliken are the names contained in the alleged crooked deeds unearthed in the Los Angeles record of property transfers, while Emma Nelson and James Hasson appear in the deeds touching the Whittier property.

When the case was called for preliminary trial yesterday morning in Justice Austin's court, Groves was not ready to proceed, and a continuance was granted until February 3.

Deputy District Attorney Fleming said last night he would continue the investigation today, and he expressed an opinion that it is possible there may be found over one hundred "crooked" transactions in this county alone.

In the meantime Groves refuses to say anything in relation to his case. When seen by a Herald reporter last night in the city jail, he stoutly denied having ever been in the state of Oregon, and he insisted that it was unfair to question him in regard to the case.

The most startling revelation made in the case yesterday, aside from Groves' alleged irregular deals in Oregon and elsewhere, is the entry into the case of the name of Charles H. Brooks, who is now being sought after by the United States authorities in every city of the United States.

His name is connected with the alleged swindle by Groves' sister-in-law. His relations with Brooks will be investigated and interesting developments along this line are looked for.

"UNFAIR," SAYS THE PRISONER
Groves Refuses to Talk of His Life in Portland
In the city jail Groves refused to talk when an interview was sought by a Herald reporter.

"How about the Portland affair?" Groves was asked. "My attorney told me to keep still."

"But you were in Portland during the nineties?" insisted the reporter. "It is not fair to attempt to worm this information out of me," said the prisoner.

Groves was apparently nervous, but refused to answer any questions. To Mr. Fleming Groves denied he was ever in Oregon. However the deputy district attorney received information later to the effect that Groves was indicted by the grand jury in Portland.

DEATH INVADERS
M'MAHON HOME

SISTER-IN-LAW OF JOCKEY
DIES IN NORTH
Serious Illness of Baby Prevents Attendance of Mrs. McMahon at Funeral—Much Sympathy Expressed

Death and sickness have invaded the family circle of Jockey Harold McMahon, the steeplechase rider who was recently suspended, and whose case has caused no little public interest.

Mrs. McMahon received a telegram early yesterday morning carrying the sad information of the death of her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Vincent, in San Francisco.

The message urged the attendance of the McMahon family at the funeral. It was the intention of the unfortunate jockey's wife to leave for the north on the owl last night, but during the day, the McMahon baby, who has been suffering from a severe cold, developed alarming symptoms, this necessitating the abandonment of the trip.

Much sympathy was expressed for the unfortunate couple yesterday, and another effort will be made today to secure a reopening of the deceased rider's case.

STRIKE EXTENDS TO MANY CITIES

smaller establishments are reported to have resumed business short-handed. Knowledge of the existence of the proclamation, however, was not general among the workmen until they read it on the bulletin boards where many of them angrily turned away, muttering refusals to listen to the government's promises. Others appeared to hesitate as to what course to pursue. The workmen appear to lack leadership. The authorities believe if the majority of the workmen resume work the strike movement will be broken and then the only thing feared is a recrudescence of bomb throwing. The government is also encouraged by the comparative quiet at Moscow yesterday, and they hope no serious trouble will occur there.

Not the slightest disorder has been reported anywhere during the day. The burial of more prominent strike victims, which it was alleged might lead to demonstrations, occurred by direction of the police during the night and early this morning.

AUTHOR MEREDITH IS CONVINCED THE REIGN OF DESOTISM IS DOOMED
By Associated Press.
LONDON, Jan. 27.—George Meredith, the author, in the course of an interview given to the Chronicle yesterday expressed a strong conviction that the "long reign of despotism which blocks eastern Europe is slowly but surely coming to an end."

"The emperor is a poor, weak creature," said Mr. Meredith. "We must all pity him in his fall. He has no will of his own; but as for the grand dukes, they are the enemies of human kind. Nobody in the world will regret their disappearance. They are the real authors of the terrible events in St. Petersburg and Moscow. We know now that it is the bureaucracy, with the grand dukes at its head, that rules Russia. By meeting the petitioners the emperor might have averted bloodshed and delayed revolution for a few years; but nothing, I imagine, can now prevent the early downfall of the government."

"I do not think the rising will be immediately successful. The revolutionaries are scattered and have few leaders. The poor creatures cannot hope to resist the troops. If the latter remain loyal to their superstition the revolution will be crushed now, but not killed. I think events will take the following course: The strike will stop preparations for carrying on the war; the necessity of dragging the people into submission will prevent reinforcing the army in Manchuria; Kuropatkin, with reinforcements and supplies cut off, will have no choice but to attempt a stroke which, I am convinced, will fail; the failure will send a wave back upon St. Petersburg which will overwhelm the emperor and the grand dukes. In that way the revolution will be effected."

In conclusion, Mr. Meredith contended that it is impossible that Russia can longer escape the spirit of liberalism that has overswept Europe, and said: "The emperor's message, like himself, is weak. It means nothing after the appointment of such a man as Treppoff. Sympathizing Englishmen should give practical support in the shape of money to the Russian reformers."

STRIKERS OF MOSCOW
REMAIN WITHIN DOORS
AND CLASHES ARE FEW
By Associated Press.
MOSCOW, Jan. 26.—The day passed with complete quiet, the strikers generally remaining indoors and not visiting the heart of the city. The Tverskaya and other principal thoroughfares have resumed their normal appearance. Several mills are reported to have offered an increase of wages to their employees.

No factories were in operation today in the whole industrial region south of the river with the exception of one large establishment, which was amply guarded in order to prevent possible intimidation of workmen, but there was no attempt at such intimidation. Although the strike is steadily spreading, the movement thus far has not been accompanied by collisions of great gravity.

Today's events were restricted to minor skirmishes on the northern and eastern outskirts of the city, in which the troops successfully resisted all efforts of the crowds to break through the cordon. No bloodshed is reported. Both the authorities and the masters have shown admirable coolness in the face of the situation, the former avoiding provocation by studiously concealing the troops, and the latter by displaying a readiness to meet the men's demands.

During the Associated Press correspondent's visit to the factories south of the river, which employ hundreds of thousands of men, he saw no more than 200 workmen in the streets, and discovered that the men are all staying indoors. It appears that when the strikers made the round of the mills calling on their comrades to quit work under threat of wrecking the plants, the masters decided to allow the men to take a holiday with full pay, provided they remained in their dwellings, and the workmen generally consented.

In the meanwhile the workmen and the masters are negotiating for a settlement of their differences. Several firms already have offered an advance in wages, which would bring up the average earnings of their workmen to $10 per month and lodgings. One firm has offered to knock off one hour from the legal workday of eleven hours, but this is a burning question, on which the majority of the masters are unwilling or unable to agree to concessions.

The Danielowsky textile factory alone continues working. The district across the Moskva river is heavily guarded; the authorities remain so confident that the police patrols have been reduced. The situation is none the less uncertain, as it is still a question whether the workmen will remain quiescent if the strike becomes general.

GENDARME SHOT DEAD
WHILE TRYING TO WREST
FLAG FROM A STRIKER
By Associated Press.
LIBAU, Russia, Jan. 26.—The workmen here are being compelled to leave the factories and mills by the more militant faction of the strikers. The telegraph lines have been damaged. A strike has also begun at the wire works.

Men singing songs and blowing trumpets went from factory to factory, calling out the workers. Some of the mills are still working.

A gendarme was shot dead today while in the act of wresting a flag from a strike leader. Troops are now patrolling the town, but no collision with the strikers has occurred. The telegraph and telephone lines have been restored.

THIRTY WORKMEN KILLED AND SOLDIERS WOUNDED
IN A CLASH AT RIGA
By Associated Press.
LONDON, Jan. 26.—A dispatch to a news agency from Riga, Russia, filed at 5:30 p. m., says the strikers in the suburban factories there attempted to enter the town but were opposed by troops, who fired. Thirty workmen were killed or wounded and a sub-chief of police and two soldiers were mortally wounded. The strikers were dispersed.

The encounter occurred near the Tukum railroad station. The strikers attacked the troops and attempted to disarm them, when the order was given to fire. All the workshops and factories are closed. The strikers are parading the streets and forcing all workmen to join in the procession.

Police Disperse Strikers

REVEL, Russia, Jan. 26.—Negotiations are going on between the strikers and their employers. The government is participating in the exchange of views.

Polish Situation Quiet
By Associated Press.
VIENNA, Jan. 26.—Dispatches received here from Warsaw say the situation there is quiet and that no Polish uprising is imminent. The newspapers there only publish official reports of events in Russia, but the wildest rumors are current regarding the situation in that country.

Finns Welcome Returned Exiles
By Associated Press.
HELSINGFORS, Finland, Jan. 26.—Thousands of people gathered at the railway station here today to welcome several persons who have returned from banishment under the decree permitting exiles to re-enter Finland. Two others, the Counts Creutz, father and son, have not arrived, having been arrested while they were on the way hither.

One of the workmen was wounded in the collision between Cossacks and crowds Wednesday evening and died today.

FAVORS RALSTON'S PRIZEFIGHT BILL
Special to The Herald.
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 26.—The senate committee on public morals met immediately after the adjournment of the senate tonight to take up the consideration of Senator Ralston's anti-prize fight bill. William Green Harrison, president of the Olympic Athletic club of San Francisco, addressed the committee in favor of the bill. He scored professional prize fighting as it exists in San Francisco and said that it was debauching the youth and was a menace to public morals. During the course of his remarks President Harrison said: "I am here to express my unqualified support of the Ralston bill. Professional prize fighting is debauching the youth of San Francisco. The Olympic club has been compelled to give up all attempts at clean amateur boxing contests because the young boxers in our club are lured into the professional field by the so-called amateur boxing clubs which have sprung up all over the city and which are fakes pure and simple.
