

MUSIC FEATURE OF BIG REVIVAL

LOS ANGELES TO BE SWEEPED BY EVANGELISM

Services Are to Be Held in Every District, With a Monster Meeting in the Central District

Throughout Los Angeles the sweeping revival will hold sway today. In every district meetings will be held, and at the central meeting the work of the campaign will be outlined more fully.

Prominent in the work now being carried on is R. N. Jeffrey, chorister and soloist. Upon him the leader, J. Wilbur Chapman, depends to arrange the musical features of the meetings. Mr. Jeffrey is assisted in each district by singers.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA

V. Pachmann, the Pianist

BY JEAN DE CHAUVENET. Vladimir de Pachmann, who will play at Simpson auditorium the 30th, is the greatest living pianist. The keystone of a pianist is the touch. It is the cleverness, skill and tender beauty of his touch that makes him the high priest consecrated with power to evoke from the esthetic vibrations of sound, a spirit which is the essence of music itself.

Many pianists can conceive of what they are playing but fail in their musical expression. De Pachmann more than any other living pianist has this magic, he paints a picture in which no two notes are colored the same; for each note is made to vibrate with a passion of his heart, which in turn re-echo in the heart's blood of the listener.

Liszt said to him, "After I am gone, you alone will cause my touch to be remembered."

As to teachers he boasts of none for he says, "Each man is his own teacher." He understands the power of being in tune with the universal creation and does not restrict the piano to the soul of man alone, but expresses the infinite through transcendental manifestation in art, bringing as he does the soul of auditor to the same realization.

Yet after all his versatility in dramatic emotions and touch never fail to impress on all the genius of his inborn nature.

OFFICER PLEADS FOR BOY WHOM HE HAD ARRESTED

Charged With Cruelty to Horse, the Youth is Fined, but Court Deals Leniently With Him

After arresting a young man on a charge of most inhuman treatment to a crippled horse, yesterday morning, Officer Zimmer of the local society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, went before Justice Austin and after stating the case, moved with compassion for the boy's widowed mother, appealed to the court for a suspended sentence in the case of the youth.

The story told by the officer to the court is a pathetic one. Several days ago a horse belonging to a man named Phelps was struck by a car near the junction of Temple and Newhall streets. The horse was so badly injured that the owner gave the animal to E. T. McAbee, a young man who lives in a small cottage at the junction of the two streets.

McAbee took the crippled animal and failing to understand the terrible condition of the beast, turned it out to pasture in a nearby lot.

When the horse was found it was dying from the terrible wounds and was quickly put out of misery. McAbee was arrested.

In making his plea for the young man, Officer Zimmer said, "While the offense committed by this young man in allowing the horse to remain unattended for several days was a most cruel one, yet the circumstances surrounding the case are such as demand some leniency towards this boy. His mother is aged and without other support and this young man has been keeping her in food and shelter. At the present time he is paying off a mortgage upon his little home and with these facts to consider, I beg the leniency of the court in giving sentence."

After making the plea in behalf of the man he was prosecuting, Officer Zimmer withdrew and the court imposed a fine of $10, but suspended the sentence upon promise of good behavior.

JAPANESE BURNED BY EXPLOSION OF OIL STOVE

Victim Rushes From Building but is Saved From Death by His Friends

George Kishi, a Japanese, of 1439 DeLong street, was severely if not fatally burned last night by the explosion of an oil stove. His entire body was fearfully scorched and injuries from which he will probably die resulted from the explosion. Kishi is employed by Ben Kishi as a cook. In lighting an oil stove yesterday he spilled oil on his clothing, which was ignited. Kishi fled from the premises, and was saved from death by burning by friends who caught him and extinguished the flames. Even before they could rescue him he was seriously burned and it is thought that his injuries will prove fatal. He was taken to the Receiving hospital.

JOYOUS DAY FOR SICK CHILDREN

REMODELED HOSPITAL IS OPENED

Society Women Furnish Wards for Relief of Suffering—Flowers Provided for Every Patient

Sorrow made way for joy, and pain was forestalled by pleasure at the Children's hospital yesterday when the board of managers opened the doors for the first reception.

For several months past workmen have been turning the old structure at the corner of Alpine and Castalar streets into a model hospital, and it was this building that the guests were invited to inspect yesterday afternoon and evening.

The rooms, which are all finished in white, were beautifully decorated in blossoms of every hue sent in by members of the board. In the dining room, where a tea table was presided over by Mrs. John Banning and Mrs. Scott Helm, yellow jonquils and hyacinths were used. Snow white Easter lilies were banked on the mantel and ferns were used in profusion. All these flowers were sent by Mrs. George Patton and had been used at her reception the day before. Poinsettias and carnations were used in the other rooms.

On the lower floor of the main building the reception room, hall, dining room, butler's pantry and kitchen are located, and off from these is the operating room, the sterilizing room and the antiseptic room. These have been fitted up with all modern appliances.

The annex is joined to the main building by a veranda extending around a court, which is being planted with flowers and grass. One end of the porch is enclosed in glass to form a glass room for convalescing patients.

The main ward is in this building, and the beds provided by the Friday Morning club, the Independent church, Terminal Island and the Ackersons are in this room. Little children of all ages—many of them suffering from painful diseases—were there yesterday. Some were tucked away in little white cots and others were playing on the floor with toys and blocks. Flowers were used to decorate this room, and each little tot was given a bouquet.

At the opposite side of the hall a beautiful little room with a brass plate on the door bore the name Virgie. This room has been fitted up by Mrs. Andrew Glassell in memory of her 12-year-old daughter. Virgie died four years ago, and now there is to be a chance for many a little girl to be nursed back to life or to have her dying hours made brighter. The room is fitted up in blue and white. The linen has been embroidered in blue and the name worked on each piece. The mirror was wreathed in a frame of violets and smilax and large bunches of the flowers were placed in the room. The windows are the most remarkable part and represent hours of work. Around each one there is a frame of transparencies.

Mrs. Glassell's Kindness The pictures were taken by Mrs. Glassell and include views of beautiful spots and many fancy pictures. Little Virgie appears in many of them and is dressed in fancy costume in some. There are her dogs and her birds and all the other things which go to make up the interests of a little girl's life. The glass plates have been fitted into the window inside of little square frames and form a most unique and original feature. There is a little Mexican child in the room at present, who has pneumonia. He does not know a word of English, and but for the pictures, which keep him amused, he would be very unhappy.

The room back of this represents the love and work and thought of thirty-two girls. The name plate on the door announces that it is the Maria Louise room. It has been fitted up by a band of girls who are known as the Maria Louise society.

Little Girls Furnish Room The girls were the playmates of Maria Louise Holliday, and the room has been named for her. The members of the society range in age from 6 to 16 years, but each, from the youngest to the oldest, has been doing her best to make this room worthy of the friend whom they all loved.

Two fairs have been held and the children have made over $600. They hope to be able to raise the sum to $5000, so that the room may be perpetually endowed. Birdseye maple furniture is used in this room and the linen is embroidered in blue. M. L. S. appears on every piece. The bed was presented by Anita Thomas. It belonged to her grandmother, who for many years was an invalid. Before she died she gave the bed to Anita, and the little girl thought that the best use that could be made of it was to put it where some other child could be benefited. It has been remodeled and looks as if it had just come from the factory.

The nurses have quarters in the upstairs of the main building, and over the annex there is a roof garden where the children can spend their time in the sunshine.

Many very useful gifts were received yesterday by the board of managers, including a food carriage presented by Joseph Banning, linen from Mrs. N. B. Blackstone, silver and china from Mrs. C. Foy, Mrs. William Johnson, Mrs. Joe Banning and Mrs. T. F. Miller. A range for the kitchen and one for the laundry were presented by Joseph Schoeder and William Banning and a sewing machine by Mrs. M. Kerr.

Those in charge of the reception yesterday were: Mrs. W. M. Johnson, Mrs. Stephen M. Dorsey, Mrs. C. C. Carpenter, Mrs. E. R. Brainard, Mrs. J. B. Banning, Mrs. A. L. Wells, Mrs. J. R. Newberry, Mrs. A. Glassell, Mrs. Frank Burnett, Mrs. E. T. Earl, Mrs. John Littig, Mrs. Belman, Miss Marian Hooker, Mrs. C. C. Vellie, Mrs. Ban Murphy, Mrs. Y. B. Blackstone, Mrs. E. G. Smead, Mrs. Neuladt, Mrs. Hobbs, Miss M. F. Willis, Mrs. Scott Helm and Miss Amelia Smead.

$20,000 FOR MUSIC

Neil Moret, Who Got $10,000 for "Hiawatha," Gets $20,000 for the Latest Musical Sensation, "Moonlight"

BOSTON, Jan. 28.—Everybody knows the unprecedented success of "Hiawatha," an air which swept the world, and which has become a household word everywhere. Novelists have paid tribute to its fame by naming the air in popular stories. It will be remembered that $10,000 was paid Neil Moret for it. This grand composer, however, has just written a two-step serenade which has taken hold of the popular heart as no former production has ever done. The composition is entitled "Moonlight," and it is so exceedingly beautiful and melodious that it at once thrilled every auditor. The unparalleled sum of $20,000 was paid Neil Moret for "Moonlight" by the Whitney-Wagner Publishing company. This firm are the largest publishers of popular music in the world, and they have given to the public every striking musical hit of the past ten years. Their judgment is singularly correct, and in no instance has this fact been better illustrated than in the price they paid for "Moonlight"—the delightful, entrancing and world-thrilling composition for which all music lovers will certainly thank them. Mr. Moret, who resides in this city, is the recipient of universal congratulations upon his latest stupendous success.

CONSUMES DAY SELECTING JURY

TALESMEN CHALLENGED IN WEBER TRIAL

Only Two More Jurors Accepted. Defense Objects to Citizens of Auburn—Counsel Has Frequent Clashes

By Associated Press.

AUBURN, Cal., Jan. 28.—The selection of a jury in the trial of Adolph Weber for the murder of his mother was resumed this morning. The attendance of spectators has fallen off considerably. In all forty-eight talesmen have been examined so far, many being excused for cause. At present the prosecution has exercised six of its peremptory challenges and the defense nine of the number allowed it.

Only two more jurors were accepted out of a number examined this morning. They are James Doherty of Forest Hill and F. E. Colburn of Sunny South. Judge Prewett made order just before adjournment for drawing an extra venire of seventeen talesmen, as prospect was that the ninety already drawn would not be sufficient to complete the jury. The venire was made returnable Tuesday morning in order that the officers would have time to reach talesmen at some distance.

The court hopes by this means to avoid loss of time and inconvenience to jurors and witnesses as well as expense to the county. The judge suggested this morning that in order to avoid loss of time and trouble in questioning talesmen who had heard the case discussed by witnesses, to eliminate all names of talesmen residing in Auburn precinct. Attorney General Webb said: "Your Honor, we have already lost one of our peremptory challenges on an Auburn man and I would like to see the defense lose some of theirs to make things even. It places us at a disadvantage."

The counsel for the defense retorted that the prosecution was liable to lose some more if it kept Auburn residents on the list, but the attorney general said he would take the risk. However, a little later the prosecution announced that after two names had been drawn it would consent to eliminate the Auburn talesmen, but the defense refused to consent. The court then adjourned until Monday morning at 9 a. m.

MUSLIN SHIRT WAISTS LURE WOMEN TO DEATH

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Unofficial advice from representatives of the government in the Panama canal zone dated at the end of the first week in January are to the effect that while the current reports of the prevalence of yellow fever on the isthmus are exaggerated, the pest does exist and some apprehension is expressed that if it continues to spread there will be an exodus of the canal builders.

The cases so far developed are said to probably have been preventable had proper precautions been adopted. But the large influx of people of the north unacquainted with tropical climatic dangers and the best means to avoid them, probably has afforded great opportunity for the spread of the fever. American women particularly are said to be careless and they don the lightest muslin shirt waists in the evening and are surely bitten by fever bearing mosquitoes.

INCREASE IN IMMIGRATION

Russia Responsible for Majority of the Added Influx

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—An immense, almost startling increase in immigration, is shown by the figures for the month of December, which have been compiled by Commissioner of Immigration Sargent. The increase in the number of immigrants from both Russia and Austria-Hungary is particularly noteworthy and the increase from Russia is considered especially significant. In December, 1902, the number of immigrants arriving from Russia was 10,184; in December, 1903, 10,431, and in December, 1904, 15,992.

The immigration from Austria-Hungary in December shows an increase of 12,730 over that of December 1903, aggregating 23,433. From the whole of Europe the immigration last December was 50,928, an increase of 17,578 over December a year ago.

CONSTRUCTS NEW LINE

Santa Fe Engaged in Building Important Line Along Gila River

By Associated Press.

TOPEKA, Kas., Jan. 28.—The Santa Fe is now engaged in the construction of a very important line through Arizona which will practically follow the Gila river through the territory. The building of this line will give the Santa Fe two trunk lines from the Missouri river to the coast.

A new road is now being built from a point 25 miles west of Albuquerque, known as the Belen cut-off, which will connect with the Pecos valley and the Santa Fe line going north from Pecos, Tex., up through Oklahoma and the Indian Territory.

PRESIDENT AND WASHINGTON

Principal of Tuskegee and Mr. Roosevelt Discuss Personal Matter

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Booker T. Washington, principal of Tuskegee institute at Tuskegee, Ala., had a conference with President Roosevelt today. Professor Washington's call was induced by the desire of the president to talk to him about a matter of purely personal concern.

KISSED ALL BABIES AND GOT AWAY WITH LOOT

New Style of Burglar Made a Decided Hit With the Harlem Mothers

Special to The Herald.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—The next man who kisses a baby in the apartment house at 38 West One Hundred and Thirty-eighth street is going to get hurt. In fact, he will be lucky if he escapes with his life.

A dapper, good-looking, blond-mustached thief, after looting the apartments of Mrs. John Grierson, kissed his way downstairs through five floors of babies. He didn't miss one. So popular was he with the mothers of some of the young hopefuls that he might easily have osculated with those of maturer years, but he contented himself with the children.

"What a beautiful child!" exclaimed the blond burglar as he encountered a fond mother with her offspring in her arms. He had just stepped from the Grierson flat and his pockets were bulging with plunder. "Ah, madam, you should be a proud mother to possess such an infant. What is so sweet as innocent childhood? I trust you will permit me to kiss the darling. Believe me, it is a great privilege," and as he edged to the stairs he kissed the baby with all the fervor of a district politician looking for votes.

There were three or four little ones on the floor below, and the osculatory thief started in with a will.

"Children are the flowers that make the pathway of life sweet and rosy," he exclaimed. "I could live all my life with only children for companions. They enable me and make me long for a better life. It makes me long to be like them."

Thereupon he planted chaste salutes on the more or less dirty faces of the youngsters.

At the door he turned and wafted back kisses from his finger tips.

"Good-by, my little friends. I hope you will miss me when I am gone," he said.

And they did miss him, too. Also Mrs. Grierson about the same time missed many articles of jewelry and silverware.

COWBOY CAVALCADE AT INAUGURATION

Special to The Herald.

DEADWOOD, S. D., Jan. 28.—Thirty prominent mining men, merchants and cattle owners of one of the richest mining districts in the world have completed their plans to give President Roosevelt, on the day of his inauguration, a western testimonial such as no president ever received before.

These thirty men, each individually wealthy now, but all originally cowboys—men of the range—have organized under the direction of Captain Seth Bullock, government forest reserve supervisor of South Dakota, a western company of honor for the inauguration day celebration at Washington.

Each man has provided himself with the finest specimen of a western horse that he can purchase; the accoutrements have all been selected from western points of view and along the line of what the president himself used when he was a cowboy at Chimney Butte, northwest of "Little Misery," better known now as Medora.

The week preceding the inauguration these thirty men, by special train, will leave Deadwood for Washington, and on inauguration day will be in the van of the parade and will give a special exhibition on the streets of Washington as to how a western man takes care of himself when in the saddle.

YOU CAN INTEREST HIM

Any Man Over Fifty

You can interest any man over fifty years of age in anything that will make him feel better, because while he may not as yet have any positive organic disease he no longer feels the buoyancy and vigor of twenty-five nor the freedom from aches and pains he enjoyed in earlier years, and he very naturally examines with interest any proposition looking to the improvement and preservation of his health.

He will notice among other things that the stomach of fifty is a very different thing from the stomach he possessed at twenty-five. That greatest care must be exercised as to what is eaten and how much of it, and even with the best of care, there will be increasing digestive weakness with advancing years.

A proposition to perfect or improve the digestion and assimilation of food is one which interests not only every man of fifty but every man, woman and child of any age, because the whole secret of good health, good blood, strong nerves, is to have a stomach which will promptly and thoroughly digest wholesome food because blood, nerves, brain tissue and every other constituent of the body are entirely the product of digestion, and no medicine or "health" food can possibly create pure blood or restore shaky nerves, when a weak stomach is replenishing the daily wear and tear of the body from a mass of fermenting half-digested food.

No, the stomach itself wants help and in no round-about way, either; it wants direct, unmistakable assistance, such as is given by one or two Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal. These tablets cure stomach trouble because they give the stomach a chance to rest and recuperate; one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contains digestive elements sufficient to digest 3,000 grains of ordinary food, such as bread, meat, eggs, etc.

The plan of dieting is simply another name for starvation, and the use of prepared foods and new fangled breakfast foods simply makes matters worse, as any dyspeptic who has tried them knows.

As Dr. Bennett says, the only reason I can imagine why Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not universally used by everybody who is troubled in any way with poor digestion is because many people seem to think that because a medicine is advertised or is sold in drug stores, or is protected by a trade mark must be a humbug, whereas as a matter of fact any druggist who is honest knows that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have cured more people of indigestion, heartburn, heart trouble, nervous prostration and run-down condition generally than all the patent medicines and "doctors' prescriptions" for stomach trouble combined.
