OFFICIALS AND WATCHERS

Many Ballots Never Got Into the Box
Foreign-Born Voters Called on to Identify Their Votes

By Associated Press.
DENVER, Colo., Feb. 2.—One of the mysteries of the ballot box stuffing at the election last November was cleared up by a witness in the Peabody-Adams gubernatorial contest before the joint legislative committee this afternoon. The experts in a number of precincts have declared that a number of ballots were probably illegal because not creased in such a manner as to be passed through the slot in the boxes. Alderman A. D. Nauff was called by the Democratic attorney simply to identify his ballot. He was successful in this and on cross-examination he was asked to show how he folded his ballot to put it through the slot. This brought out the statement that many of the ballots in that precinct had never been in the ballot box because there was not room for them. Instead, with the consent of the election officials and the supreme court watchers, they were cast in the outside casing of the box and were not folded in the same manner as those put in the ballot box proper.

Most of the witnesses examined this afternoon were foreign born persons residing in Elyria, a suburb of this city, whose ballots had been declared by the Peabody experts to be fraudulent. They identified their ballots when they were shown them, but were unable to pick them out with any certainty after the ballots had been mixed up by the attorneys. Each witness was asked to write the word "Democratic" as he had written it on the ballot, and in each case the handwriting was identical with that on the ballots. The unsealers of ballots reported on a number which the experts had testified were written by the same hand. In one of the bunches of ballots alleged to be in the same handwriting were found those voted by John C. Trombley, formerly postmaster of Denver, and Milton Aufanger, a Republican state senator, and two members of his family.

Boston Physician Notes Down All Dying Symptoms

By Associated Press.
BOSTON, Feb. 2.—Dr. W. R. Read, a graduate of Edinburgh university and of the University of Pennsylvania, is dead here at the age of 70 years. He was found sitting in a chair beside a table, upon which lay a note showing that he had diagnosed his own case as the attack came on. It read as follows:

"Nothing suspicious. I died of rheumatism of the heart. My effects go to my wife, Annie Read, Hickory, N. C. The pain is terrible. The rheumatism has reached the vital organs."

SAN PEDRO FISHERS SAFE:
SEARCHERS NOW MISSING

Rough Weather Forced Pleasure Seekers to Fly to Cover and Shelter for the Night

Special to The Herald.
SAN PEDRO, Feb. 2.—Three men who left here Tuesday morning for a day's fishing cruise in a small sloop, and were believed to have been lost at sea, have returned. They reached port at 5 p. m. and, aside from being considerably fatigued from their battle with the waves, they are none the worse for their adventure. The party was made up of Duncan Baxter, Thomas Hagerty and Charles Johnson. Early yesterday morning a launch left San Pedro to search for the sloop, hoping to find it in one of the numerous coves around Portuguese bend. The fishing party were driven into a cove beyond Portuguese bend where the men were able to make a landing. They went inland some distance and found a small unoccupied house where they took shelter Wednesday night. They remained there until noon today when they were able to work their small craft out to sea. Although there has been great anxiety felt for the safety of the men they claim that at no time were they in great danger. The searching party in the launch was still out at 9 p. m., they having in some way missed seeing the sloop when it came down the coast.

ASSEMBLY PASSES
YOSEMITE BILL

SENATE AMENDS BELSHAW'S MEASURE

Provides That After Recession California Will Be Relieved of All Further Cost in Caring for Valley

By Associated Press.
SACRAMENTO, Feb. 2.—Assemblyman Estudillo of Riverside today opened the final debate on the passage of the Yosemite recession bill, of which he is the author, in the assembly. Nearly three hours' oratory held sway, the bill finally passing by 45 yeas to 20 nays. Jones of Tuolumne gave notice of a motion to reconsider. Fourteen members of the assembly were absent.

Coghlan of San Francisco led the opposition against what he termed a "pernicious measure." When Belshaw's Yosemite recession bill came up for final passage in the senate this morning the author offered an important amendment to the measure, which was adopted by an almost unanimous vote. In offering the amendment, Belshaw said it was intended to remedy some defects that have been complained of by the opponents of the bill. The original bill provided that the act should take effect from and after acceptance of the regrant by the United States. Senator Belshaw's amendment provides that in making the recession, California will be relieved from all further cost of caring for the Yosemite valley.

It also requires that the United States shall forever hold the valley and the Mariposa grove for purposes of recreation, and that no vested rights shall be interfered with. By an almost unanimous vote the Belshaw amendment was adopted. An amendment by Anderson, providing that the United States shall accept the state's gift on or before January 1, 1907, was also adopted. The bill will be finally considered in its amended form next Monday morning.

PULITZER WISHES
ACTION DELAYED

SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM TO AWAIT HIS DEATH

Ample Funds Have Been Paid Over and Invested, but Plans require Time in Which to Mature

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—The Tribune tomorrow will say that the actual establishment of the school of journalism at Columbia university which Joseph Pulitzer endowed will be deferred until the donor's death. The Tribune publishes a letter from a correspondent asking if the rumor is true that the president of Columbia could not agree with the donor as to the advisory board suggested by Mr. Pulitzer, which comprised such men as President Elliot, Whitehall Reid, Andrew D. White and John Hay, and that in consequence of this the project had been delayed by the benefactor. The Tribune will say: "Joseph Pulitzer is spending the winter at Jekyll Island. Bradford Merrill, financial manager of the World, felt authorized in his absence to make the following statement to the Tribune: "Originally it was the intention of the founder to have Columbia university proceed with the establishment of the College of Journalism at once. There were some differences of opinion with President Butler as to the founder's right to constitute the advisory board. This was the original cause of delay. That difference does not now exist. Mr. Pulitzer is alone responsible for the present delay. He regretted it at first, but in the time that has elapsed he has come to believe that in this case delay was not dangerous, but on the contrary fortunate. His present determination is that the actual establishment of the College of Journalism shall be postponed until his death."

"The precarious state of his health and his consequent inability to give to the subject that attention required by the obligations imposed is one of his reasons. Another reason in the founder's mind is that he wishes an innocent and great public institution may not suffer from his prejudice, personal or professional. He hopes that time will divert these prejudices."

"To avoid all uncertainties or misconception, I may add that the endowment of the college is absolutely irrevocable and its establishment beyond a shadow of doubt. The first million dollars is already in the actual possession of Columbia, the second million is legally provided for, as well as a still further voluntary sum not mentioned in any agreement. Even the nomination of the advisory board is made in an instrument that will take effect instantaneously at Mr. Pulitzer's death."

Blackmailing Citizens

LONDON, Feb. 2.—Wholesale blackmail by the police of Warsaw is reported by the correspondent in that city of the Daily Mail, who asserts that citizens are stopped in the streets at night and arrested unless they give the officers money. It is also charged that the police have been brutally whipping prisoners and then liberating them on the payment of $5 to the police sergeant. The correspondent adds that the conditions of the prisoners in Warsaw is scandalous, the prisoners being herded in small cells devoid of all sanitary appliances.

WORKMEN KILLING ROBBERS

Warsaw Strikers Search Criminal Resorts for Stolen Goods
By Associated Press.
WARSAW, Feb. 2.—All the bodies of those killed in the riots have been removed from their homes to police stations. The relatives are not permitted to bury them. From the police station in the Novi Sviat district alone the corpses of fifty men and two women were taken Monday night in four hospital vans to the Jewish, Lutheran and Catholic cemeteries, and will remain there for identification until Tuesday. Twenty-one bodies are still unidentified.

During the riots of Sunday and Monday the workmen's residence district was unprotected by police, and the hoodlums seized the opportunity to plunder many dwellings. A large body of workmen yesterday went to a suburb where criminals abound and instituted a rigorous search of their houses. Wherever they were able to identify stolen property, the workmen promptly killed the persons who had it in their possession.

About a hundred criminals were injured in fighting with the workmen. The latter were not only actuated by revenge for their losses, but were enraged because the hoodlum element brought discredit upon the strike movement.

Newspaper Editors Resume Publication Tomorrow. The local newspapers resume publication tomorrow. The editors met this morning and agreed that, as the censor would not permit them to tell the truth regarding the disturbances, they would absolutely refrain from mentioning the subject except in the official reports, which they are compelled to publish.

In pursuance of the governor general's proclamation of a state of siege, orders have been issued prohibiting assemblages in the streets or meetings in private houses, and directing the police and military to disperse all street gatherings. Any one found in possession of weapons and selling arms without permission is liable to punishment. In the event of disturbances balconies and windows adjacent to the scene of the disorders must be vacated and closed.

The occupants of houses will be held responsible should stones or leaden balls be thrown therefrom, as well as those actually guilty of throwing them. All violations will be punished by fines or imprisonment. These orders will be enforced in the cities of Warsaw and Lodz and throughout the governments of Warsaw and Petrokow.

A telegram from Czesochowa, Russian Poland, says all the factories there are closed and serious disturbances are reported to have occurred. The Socialists are very strong there. The Warsaw-Vienna railroad shops are closed. At Pruszkow this morning 1200 men struck. All the factories are closed at Kalisz. The strike at Lodz continues without disorder. A deputation of strikers requested the authorities to close all the liquor stores, as otherwise the workmen would not be responsible if disturbances occurred. The workmen themselves are watching liquor stores to prevent drunkenness.

INQUIRY WELCOME
SAYS MITCHELL

DECLARES INNOCENT ACTS ARE MISCONSTRUED

Says He Has Not the Slightest Fear of the Final Outcome of the Investigation Into His Conduct

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Senator John Mitchell of Oregon, who was indicted by the United States grand jury at Portland yesterday for bribery in connection with the land frauds investigation, has made a statement in which he says he welcomes the most searching investigation of the charges against him and asserts that only "misconstrued innocent acts" and "unwarrantable inferences" can connect him with the land frauds. He further says:

"Of the final outcome I have not the slightest fear, but in the meantime I assert in the most positive manner that I never in my life had any conversation with Frederick R. Kribs whatever in reference to any lands or any other business matter. I am very positive in the statement that I never at any time or any place received from him, Frederick R. Kribs, or from any other person for him, directly or indirectly, any check or checks for any amount whatever, either on a Roseburg bank or any other bank, in consideration for any services rendered or to be rendered by me as senator or otherwise or for any purpose whatever. "I further assert that Frederick R. Kribs never in his life contracted with me for the services of A. H. Tanner and myself, or agreed with me to pay for services alleged to have been rendered in part by me in appearing before and persuading Binger Hermann, commissioner of the general land office, to make special or recommend the issue of any patents; nor do I believe he ever made any such contract with A. H. Tanner, for the reason that by the articles of our co-partnership it was expressly stipulated that I could not be in any manner interested in any department business. But as to what business matters Judge Tanner may have had, if any, with Kribs, Judge Tanner can himself speak, as I have no knowledge of them whatever, nor do I know that there were any."

Charges of Habitual Drunkenness Made and Denied—Wife Vigorously Opposes Action Taken Against Her Husband

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Argument upon the application of B. Lawrence Duke, son of Brodie L. Duke of Durham, N. C., for the appointment of a commission to inquire into the mental condition of his father, was heard today by Justice Leventritt in the supreme court. In support of the application DeLancey Nicoll presented affidavits of two physicians who examined Duke while he was confined in Bellevue hospital and at a Long Island sanitarium. Mr. Nicoll declared that Duke was insane and that he was an habitual drunkard.

The motion was opposed by Louis S. Phillips, who represents Mr. Duke and who maintained that his client's condition was perfectly sane and that the allegations in his son's petition were untrue. Henry W. Younger, counsel for Mrs. Alice L. Webb-Duke, whom Duke married last December, also appeared to oppose the motion.

During his argument in opposition to the appointment of a commission, Lawyer Phillips presented an affidavit from Duke which began: "I do not think I am a drinking man." Mr. Nicoll objected to the presentation of the affidavit, claiming that it was from an alleged incompetent and could not be entertained. Justice Leventritt adjourned the hearing, until he could decide on the admissibility of the affidavit.

OYAMA RELATES BATTLE

Japanese Legation in Washington Learns Details of Engagements

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The Japanese legation has received a report made by Field Marshal Oyama, giving details of the fighting from January 25 to January 29, when the Russians were driven from the right of the Hun river. The marshal says that the enemy consisted of the First Siberian corps, one mixed army corps, the Second and Fifth brigades of the sharpshooters, part of the Eighth army corps, the Sixth and First Siberian reserve divisions, some chasseurs, etc., making a total of at least seven divisions, one of which was a cavalry division. The Japanese casualties were about 7000. Prisoners state that four regiments of Russian infantry were nearly annihilated. Many of the companies of these regiments were reduced to from twenty to thirty men each. The field marshal expresses the opinion that the Russian casualties must have totaled at least 10,000.

Weather Still Severe

By Associated Press.
HEADQUARTERS OF GENERAL OKU, Feb. 2. (noon).—The Russian force remains opposite the Japanese left wing, occasionally firing, but no serious attacks are attempted.

Some movement of the Russians is noticeable along their entire front and the bombardment of the Japanese lines is continued at intervals. The Japanese seldom reply to the Russian fire.

It is evident that both armies are preparing for a battle when the weather moderates. The temperature was 13 degrees below zero (fahrenheit) last night. It is believed that the present period of cold weather will be the last of the season.

REPUTATION OF
WITNESS ASSAILED

was called to order by Chairman Belshaw.
"You are willing to have witnesses brought here who will swear to the good character of the witnesses who have testified for the prosecution, would you not, Mr. Copeland?" asked Senator Belshaw.

"Yes, if they could be found," was Copeland's reply which brought a loud laugh from the spectators, who had to be called to order by the chairman's gavel.

Attorney Gould held that the examination of character of witnesses should be conducted on strictly legal lines.

Debate on Character Testimony
A long legal quibble was then indulged in by the opposing counsel, the debate all hinging on the question of introducing character of witnesses. Chairman Ralston volunteered at an opportune moment the belief that the findings of the investigation committee might be entirely ignored, as most of the members of the senate were in attendance at the inquiry might wish to make their own decision as to the guilt or innocence of the accused statesmen.

Disappointment was pictured on the faces of the spectators who were present from sheer curiosity when it was evident that no sensational testimony was to be heard during the night. Regret was expressed among the members of the upper house that the inquiry was of necessity to consume so much time.

Senator Simpson's motion that strict rules of evidence, as employed in the courts of California, be applied to all testimony regarding character of witnesses was adopted by the committee.

The proceedings were closed for the night at 9:40 p. m., when an adjournment was taken until next Monday night at 8 o'clock.

Following a conference with the senate committee investigating the bribery charges, Sergeant-At-Arms Louis Martin stated tonight that the task of securing further witnesses would be commenced at once. Tomorrow morning Martin will leave for Los Angeles, armed with several subpoenas, while Assistant Sergeants-At-Arms Bowley and George Elder will be sent on the first morning train for Downville and Bakersfield respectively.

After a brief executive session tonight the senate committee appointed to investigate the Continental Building and Loan association and corporations organized along similar lines, decided to postpone its inquiry until the case of alleged bribery involving the four senators is concluded.
The committee effected its organization, the members being Senators Woodward, chairman; Curtin, Lynch, Hahn and Anderson.
