TO ATTACK ASCOT RACING

Ministers Call Great Mass Meeting to Plead Campaign

An attack on Ascot park racing is planned by the evangelists. Los Angeles ministers have called a mass meeting to be held Saturday afternoon in Temple auditorium to arrange for a concerted attack on what is termed the "Ascot park racing and gambling inquiry."

Following is the call for the meeting: To the Citizens of Los Angeles:

The clergymen of this city, are represented by a committee, to express their opposition to the Ascot park racing and gambling inquiry, which is becoming notorious. This committee representing all the churches, and including many prominent laymen of the city, have arranged for a great mass meeting to be held in Temple auditorium on Saturday, at 1 o'clock, where the sentiment against this growing inquiry may be expressed.

All who are interested in entering a protest against this nefarious business, which is affecting all phases of our municipal life, domestic, moral and financial, are urged most earnestly to be present at this meeting, and to see that all whom they can induce to come are there, to lend the force of their presence and influence to this movement which means so much for the good name of our fair city.

C. C. PIERCE, Secretary for the Committee.

ADDRESSES IMMENSE AUDIENCE

Dr. Chapman Speaks to Four Thousand Persons

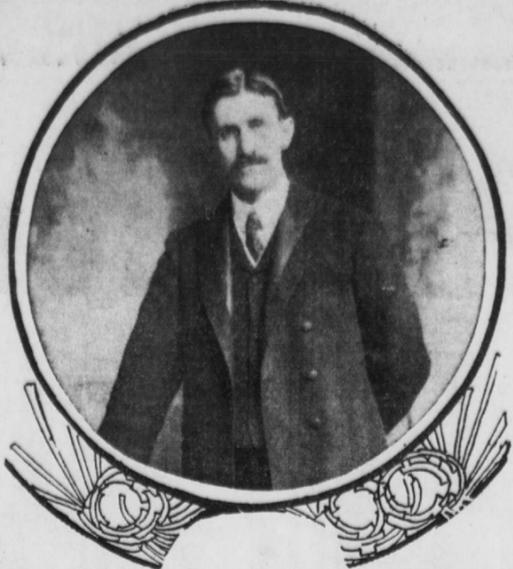

The work of last night was a fitting forerunner for the work which is expected to be accomplished today.

When Dr. Chapman took his place on the platform an audience which numbered no less than four thousand people was seated in the auditorium. There was not even standing room in the Temple auditorium, and before the doors were opened at 7 o'clock there were more people waiting than the building could accommodate. An overflow meeting was held at the German Methodist church across the street from the auditorium and even the seating capacity in this building was taxed. Chairs which have been stored in the basement were carried to the balcony in order that no one should be turned away.

Fred Butler sang "The Holy City" at the big meeting and afterwards sang in the overflow meeting. Rev. J. H. Thompson, who was associated with Evangelist Torry in New Zealand, was the speaker at the latter meeting.

After Dr. Chapman's address 150 persons signed cards stating that they would become Christians. Twenty-five conversions resulted from the overflow meeting.

Dr. Chapman's subject was Judas Iscariot, and he said in part: "And Judas Iscariot." Mark 3:19. "There is something about the name of this miserable man which rivets our attention at once. There is a sort of fascination about his wickedness, and when we begin his story it is difficult to give it up until we have come to its awful end. It is rather significant, it would seem to me, that his name should come last in the list of the apostles, and the text, 'And Judas Iscariot,' would suggest to me not only that his name was last but that it was there for some special reason, as I am sure we shall find it was.

"The natural question that comes to every student of the life of Judas must be, 'Why was he chosen?' but as Joseph Parker said, 'We may well ask why are we chosen ourselves, knowing our hearts as we do and appreciating our weakness as we must?' It has been said by Joseph Parker that if we study the apostles we will find them representing all kinds of human nature, which would go to show that if we but yield ourselves to God, whatever we may be naturally, he can use us for his glory. It was here that Judas failed. 'I have heard it said that Jesus did not know his real character and that he was surprised when he turned out to be the disciple that he was, but let none of us have this spirit in the consideration of Jesus Christ. Let no man in these days limit his knowledge, for he is omniscient and knoweth all things.

"However much of a warning he may serve to the people of the world I am fully persuaded that there are four things which may be said concerning him."

ONE WAY TO SALVATION

Rev. Mr. Walton Preaches on "The Great Name"

An evangelist who has been meeting with unusual success is Rev. R. A. Walton, who speaks every night at the Advance Buggy company's building to an audience which crowds the house. The speaker is an attractive man, full of enthusiasm, and he has a gift of imparting some of it to his hearers. He is assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Pugh and their little daughter Gladys.

"The Great Name" was the subject of Dr. Walton's sermon last night. "Jesus, the sweetest name on mortal tongue, the sweetest name ever sung; Jesus, blessed Jesus."

This name the speaker declared was the fulfillment of the prophecy, the great purpose of God in all the ages. The sermon traced the thought of the one way to salvation.

"Christ was the only one in the universe found worthy to undertake the work of salvation, and he is now the only one who owns the right to bring sinners into glory. The one question of all in this world today is the question of salvation.

"The honor of God is wrapped up in his obligation to punish sin for the satisfaction of the broken law. When Jesus died and purchased salvation it was then specially declared that through him the sins of man are forgiven.

"The name of Jesus admits the world's worst sinner into God's kingdom. 'By believing in his name—only that. What a simple way. 'The richest man in the government can make the poorest as rich by simply allowing the use of his name.'

"The speaker pointed out that in the commercial world the resources of the rich man would become exhausted, but that the resources of Christ were limitless.

"The honor that his death paid to the law is now enough for the needs of all mankind. He is able to do exceedingly, abundantly above all we can ask. 'The wisdom of man or of God could not have devised a simpler plan.

"The one great name, Jesus, the sweetest name on mortal tongue, the sweetest name ever sung; Jesus, blessed Jesus."

TOYS ILLUSTRATE SERMON

Novel Appeal is Made at the Children's Service

"Dolls" was the subject at the children's meeting at the First Congregational church yesterday, and Rev. C. T. Schaeffer used the little toys which delight the hearts of the children to explain to them their duty to the people of other countries.

usual song service participated in by a choir of boys and girls seated on the platform. Little Gladys Pugh, the 4-year-old evangelist who has been singing her way into the hearts of the grown folks at the meetings, completely won the hundreds of young ones. She sang a little song in which she told about her dolly in such a sweet way that both boys and girls were on their feet clapping and calling for more. For almost five minutes they kept up their cheers and the child was again lifted to the platform.

After the singing Rev. C. T. Schaeffer spoke from the text, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel." He told the children that they were not only bound to help their American brother and sister, but also the child who lives in Africa and the one who lives in India.

To illustrate this a child came on the stage dressed as an Eskimo, in suit and cap of white. A little girl was called from the choir and an Eskimo doll put into her hand. After the relation of the Christian to the people of the northland had been explained a child dressed to represent an Indian was put on the platform and a similar doll was held up by another child. In turn each of the nations was represented until the platform was filled with gaily dressed little ones. Five banners bearing mottoes were held up by five boys and the children were asked to read the verses on them. The top word on each banner formed a sentence which the children were asked to read. "Jesus for all the world" was the device which caught the eye. When this had been read in concert the signs were reversed to read, "All the world for Jesus." Flags of every nation were unfurled by the other members of the chorus and the meeting closed with the singing of the old missionary hymn and the signing of little heart-shaped cards by the ones who wanted to lead Christian lives.

A doll was awarded to the little girl who succeeded in bringing the largest number of children who had never been to one of the meetings before. The child who won it had succeeded in inducing fifteen of her companions to accompany her.

"GOD'S WAY OF PEACE"

What the Sinner Must Do to Be Converted

The enthusiasm and interest steadily deepens in the fifth district, where Dr. J. H. Elliott speaks and Mr. Rykert sings. Rain or shine the house is well filled.

Last night Dr. Elliott spoke on "God's Way of Peace," from Acts, 3:19. "Repent ye therefore and be converted."

Among other things he said, "How self-conceit, pride and prejudice blinds the eyes and clouds the mind to God's way of salvation. One says, 'If I do the best I can I will come out all right.' No, not of necessity. Your best may lead you the faster and the farther astray if you are not doing the right thing.

"Another says, 'But if I am in earnest it will be all right.' No, not simply because you are in earnest. If you are headed the wrong way your earnestness will only lead you the faster and farther astray.

"The statement of the text is clear and explicit. It points out three things. First, what the sinner must do; second, what God will do, and third, the result consequent thereon.

"The sinner must repent. This does not mean sorrow or remorse alone, but it does mean such a turning away from sin as will mean forsaking it and breaking with the wrong for all time. 'God will convert. The expression seems to denote outside help. A touch of power outside of ourselves. In one of the great steel manufacturing works they were testing a new and secret chemical method for making steel. Asking for a description of it one of the workmen said, 'In that building they have a huge retort called a converter and into it was put the crude iron ore and then by the secret chemical process it is changed into steel, and so when the steel is yielded to God he changes this crude material we offer to him into the shining steel of the kingdom by that secret process known only to heaven.'

MANY RESPOND TO CALL

Over Fifty Arise at Immanuel Church Meeting

Rev. Henry Ostrom of the second district spoke to an audience which crowded Immanuel church last night. "Losing the Keen Edge Off Your Faith" was the topic chosen by the speaker.

"Men who trust in God for destiny and do not trust in him for bread lose the keen edge off their faith.

"Men who allow trouble to blot out of their memory the fact of God's existence lose the keen edge off their faith.

"Men who seek bad associations lose the keen edge off their faith."

These three were the principal points made by the speaker. When he had finished his evening message he asked all those who had been Christians and had drifted away by losing the keen edge off their faith to stand. About twenty responded to that call, and it was followed by a request for all those who were not Christians and wanted to be to stand. Over fifty arose this last time.

Blindness of Mankind

The services of the West Washington district are proving very successful. Rev. Tilman Hobson, the evangelist, spoke last evening to a large congregation on "Blindness," comparing the blindness of the blind man who asked the help of Christ to the blindness of mankind today. He said: "The blind man of the Bible called to Jesus as he was passing by, but there are blind men in the world today who, having eyes, yet do not know the beauty of the sunset or the landscape. If you should ask them to even describe their own children the result would be ludicrous. There is spiritual blindness. 'Jesus Christ healed the blind man for the reason that he asked his assistance. If you will acknowledge that you need Christ's assistance to the joys of the Christian life he will open your eyes.'

Rev. A. D. Holley, evangelist, will preach at the service this evening, which will be held in the Olivet Congregational church. Rev. Mr. Holley will also speak at the service Sunday morning.

Meeting in University District

Rev. William Edward Biederwolf greeted a similar audience to those which gathered at the other churches last night when he addressed the meeting of the University district at the University M. E. church.

Rev. Mr. Biederwolf preached a strong sermon from the text, Romans 9:3: "I could wish myself accursed from Christ for my brethren."

After his sermon there was an after meeting at which over one hundred persons expressed a desire to lead a Christian life.

RAIN GENERAL THROUGH SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

According to Forecaster Franklin more rain is coming toward Southern California. The low area has spread over Nevada and extends so far south the bureau predicts rain down the coast as far as the Mexican line.

Rain ceased falling about daylight yesterday morning, but not until the gauge showed a precipitation of 1.30 inches for Los Angeles and vicinity. Just before midnight the storm reached its height and for half an hour the water came down in torrents, flooding the streets and doing considerable damage to the thoroughfares in the hilly section of the city.

Like most of the storms of this year the rain fell steadily, but for the most part gently, thus doing great good to crops without the damage which always accompanies a deluge.

All of Southern California received a generous share of the rain and at San Diego .90 of an inch fell. At San Luis Obispo 3.20 was the record.

When this 1.30 inches is added to what has already fallen this season the result shows a rainfall to date of 7.46 inches. Up to this time last year the record was .57 inches.

According to the weather bureau officials the storm just passed came in from the ocean, striking the coast just south of the Columbia river and from that point working south rapidly.

During the rain, and preceeding it the wind at Los Angeles was southeast and steady, while the barometer fell slowly. These are local signs favorable to rain according to Forecaster Franklin.

The weather department has had southwest storm signals out on the south coast for two days.

On the street the discussion is as to whether this rain should be accredited to Franklin or Hatfield, with Franklin the favorite, as he saw it first.

Gives Banquet to Employees

Thirty-five employees of the Owl Drug company banqueted at Levy's cafe last night as the guests of the president of the company, D. W. Kirkland. The object of the banquet was to bring a closer relationship between the employer and his employees, and during the evening there were a number of short talks by many whom Mr. Kirkland asked to give their opinions as to how present existing conditions in their line of work might be improved.

Steals Watch and Money

In the absence of the family last night a burglar entered the home of R. Daniels, 250 South Hope street, and ransacked the house, securing a gold watch, some rings and a small sum of money. The thief effected an entrance by means of a false key.

When you cannot sleep for coughing, it is hardly necessary that any one should tell you that you need a few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to allay the irritation of the throat and make sleep possible. It is good.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA

"Travelogues" on Russia

This afternoon and tonight Burton Holmes will give two travelogues, both on the same subject, that of Russia. Mr. Holmes has made three journeys the entire length of that great empire. His motion pictures give the social life and the famous military pageantry of this great nation.

It is Mr. Holmes' desire to bring Russia vividly before his audience by a new travelogue descriptive of a journey across the empire from sea to sea. The subject for tomorrow afternoon is "Beautiful Ireland," closing his series in this city on Saturday night with "Japan" for his subject.

Seats for "The Rivals"

Seats are now on sale at the Mason box office for the coming visit of Joseph Jefferson, jr., and Thomas Jefferson, who will appear in Sheridan's "The Rivals" at the Mason on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

Symphony Concert Postponed

Owing to the great mass of scenery and properties in use by the big "Mother Goose" company at the Mason, the stage is unavailable this afternoon for the Symphony orchestra, and the fourth concert of the season, instead of taking place today, has been postponed until next Friday afternoon, February 10.

De Pachmann's Farewell Concert

Tonight will be the last opportunity this season in Los Angeles to hear Vladimir De Pachmann. This evening Mr. De Pachmann desires to show his Los Angeles audience that he is equally at home with the Mozart, and Beethoven compositions as with those of Schumann and Chopin. It is to be a diversified program and will undoubtedly be given in Mr. De Pachmann's inimitable style. The program for tonight is a most interesting one.

Ellery Concert

It is a rare program which Mr. Ellery has announced for this evening at the band concert in the Chutes theater, and many large theater parties will be present to enjoy it. The compositions of Richard Wagner will be in the ascendant on the list and will include "Tristan and Isolde," "The Prelied" from "Die Meistersinger," "The Albulanz" and the dramatic overture, "Rienzi," which the band will play for the first time and which, under Ferullo's leadership, will take on new beauties. The concert will conclude with the "Lucia" sextet.

HUNDREDS GRADUATE FROM GRAMMAR SCHOOLS

Largest Number of Pupils in History of Los Angeles Prepared to Enter High School

Four hundred and forty-eight pupils of the eighth grades of the Los Angeles public schools have successfully passed examinations which permit entrance into the high school, and Superintendent Foshey signed diplomas yesterday until his fingers were cramped. This is the largest number that has ever graduated at the end of the winter term, and of the 448 pupils, it is expected that 300 will continue their work in the high school.

Yesterday graduation exercises were held in many of the thirty-seven ward schools. Others will hold exercises today.

At the Second street school the exercises took on a general character in which all the grades and departments of the school were represented. The annual exhibition was moved ahead some months and took place yesterday instead of early in June as has been the custom heretofore.

C. C. Davis, Emmet Wilson, J. M. Guin of the board of education, Superintendent Foshey and others took luncheon at the school building. The young women of the cooking department were the hostesses and had in charge the preparation and serving of the menu. Following this the visitors were shown the various displays of student handiwork.

The exhibition consisted of examples of stloyd work, comprising over 500 pieces, drawings, literary note books illustrated, specimens of writing and examples of what is being done along all the other branches of the school work.

Members of the school board and Superintendent Foshey after their inspection gave it as their opinion that the exhibit was one of the finest of its kind ever seen in Los Angeles and warmly commended the work of the exhibitors.

Tired, Nervous Mothers

Make Unhappy Homes—Their Condition Irritates Both Husband and Children—How Thousands of Mothers Have Been Saved From Nervous Prostration and Made Strong and Well.

Mrs. Chester Curry Mrs. Chas. F. Brown

A nervous, irritable mother, often on the verge of hysterics, is unfit to care for children; it ruins a child's disposition and reacts upon herself. The trouble between children and their mothers too often is due to the fact that the mother has some female weakness, and she is entirely unfit to bear the strain upon her nerves that governing children involves; it is impossible for her to do anything calmly.

The ills of women act like a firebrand upon the nerves, consequently nine-tenths of the nervous prostration, nervous despondency, the blues, sleeplessness, and nervous irritability of women arise from some derangement of the female organism.

Do you experience fits of depression with restlessness, alternating with extreme irritability? Are your spirits easily affected, so that one minute you laugh, and the next minute you feel like crying?

Do you feel something like a ball rising in your throat and threatening to choke you; all the senses perverted, morbidly sensitive to light and sound; pain in the ovaries, and especially between the shoulders; bearing down pains; nervous dyspepsia, and almost continually cross and snappy?

If so, your nerves are in a shattered condition, and you are threatened with nervous prostration.

Proof is monumental that nothing in the world is better for nervous prostration than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; thousands and thousands of women testify to this fact.

FINANCE COMMITTEE WANTS CENSUS TAKEN

Council Proposes to Join Board of Education in Count of City's Inhabitants

The finance committee of the council yesterday directed the council clerk to request the city board of education to appoint a committee to confer with the finance committee at its meeting next Thursday. The subject of discussion will be the request of Postmaster Flint that the city arrange to have an official census of the inhabitants of the city taken.

The postoffice is hampered by an insufficient number of letter carriers. The rules of the department require the postmaster to forward a sworn statement of the number of inhabitants in the city with his application for an increase in the force of carriers.

As Postmaster Flint was unable to answer the population question correctly, he asked the city to render assistance in securing a census. The city in turn asked the board of education to co-operate in making the count.

The board of education annually takes a census of the number of children of school age in the city, together with the heads of families. This year it is proposed by the council, if the board of education concurs, to broaden the scope of the count. All the inhabitants of the city will be counted under the new plan and the schedules provided by the school department will be arranged to cover the additional propositions.

SEVEN YEARS FOR ONE; COMPANION GOES FREE

Seven years in the penitentiary for one and freedom for the other, by reason of the peculiar condition of the criminal law, is the mixed fate that befell George Carrier and William Pierce yesterday in Judge Smith's department of the superior court.

The men were charged jointly with the crime of assaulting and robbing Warren Clapper, a Pasadena contractor, November 8, on the road to Pasadena.

Yesterday was the day set for the trial, but since the arrest Pierce has been out on bail and in the meantime has turned state's evidence, as is provided for under a section of the code. Upon learning of the action taken by his "pal" Carrier insisted upon pleading "guilty" to the charge against him. It had been communicated to the court that Carrier's attorneys would ask the court to allow their client to go on probation and to avoid taking up unnecessary time.

According to the attorney's statement, Carrier came to Los Angeles about two years ago from Perry, Oklahoma.

In mitigation of the crime, the attorney asserted that the holdup was the result of a drunken spree in which all of the men participated.

Carrier was sentenced to serve seven years in the penitentiary at San Quentin, while Pierce will be allowed to go free.
