

LOS ANGELES, CAL., SUNDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 26, 1905.

Society

A party of young women who enjoyed a banquet at the Hollenbeck Friday evening included Misses Marie Peterson, Stella Cardwell, Mabel Clawson, Lottie Alf, Edith Stegler, Eva Sanders, Anna Ehrenhart, Amelia Ehrenhart, Caroline Moore, Grace Bowner and Stella Pinyan.

The performances of Ramona to be given at the Mason opera house next week promise to be a great success from the social standpoint. Prominent people in Los Angeles and also in the surrounding towns are manifesting a great interest in the production of the romantic California story and the young woman who will give to one of California's favorite characters, dramatic form. On Monday night probably the largest number will be present. In the boxes will be seen Dr. and Mrs. Milbank Johnson, Kall Braden and Sam Clover, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Obeir, Col. Jim Lankershim, Dr. and Mrs. O. S. Barnum and Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Lummis. Large parties will be chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Fielding J. Stilson, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank King, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Clark, Mr. and Mrs. John Parkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Sumner P. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver C. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. William Anderson, Mrs. Calhoun, Mr. and Mrs. Gail Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Frazier and Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Gage and a large party from Ocean Park. Mr. and Mrs. A. S. C. Forbes, Mr. and Mrs. Abbott Kinney, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Cowles, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Mueller, Pio Pico and friends and Mrs. Arthur Bandini, the Winston and Baker clans, representatives of the proud old Spanish families.

The Jonathan club is issuing invitations for a reception and house warming to be given in the new quarters on March 15. Elaborate preparations are being made and it will undoubtedly be a social event of importance. Byron Eckenbrecker is the chairman of the committee in charge of invitations and J. T. Fitzgerald chairman of a committee on entertainment. Gen. M. H. Sherman is chairman of the reception committee.

Mr and Mrs. Ross Smith have moved to 1982 West Twenty-second street. Mrs. Smith's mother, Mrs. W. H. Davenport of San Francisco, is visiting them.

Madame Modjeska will be the guest of Mrs. J. C. McCoy of Barnard Park on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week.

Peje Storck's recital which will take place Wednesday evening, March 15, at Dobinson auditorium will be an interesting Lenten social event. Mr. Storck, who has won an international reputation as a pianist, has been a resident of Los Angeles for a year and in that time he has made many friends. Added to his extraordinary musical talent he has the broad culture and intellectual poise that give him wide sympathies in every line of art.

The patronesses of the musical are: Mrs. Cole of Colegrove, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Modini Wood, Mrs. Arthur Lettis, Mrs. Col-Brown, Mrs. Charles Wellington Rand, Mrs. George A. Dobinson, Mrs. W. J. School, Mrs. W. W. Neur, Mrs. Jamison, Mrs. Phillip Forve, Mrs. F. Rindge, Mrs. Willoughby Rodman, Mrs. William Lacy, Mrs. R. B. Williamson, Mrs. F. W. Braun, Mrs. John R. Haynes.

It is whispered that when Mr. Charles F. Lummis went to see President Roosevelt recently he was like the old lady who forgot her cap and therefore could not make the appearance she "would have wished to have made." Mr. Lummis who, as everybody knows, has original ideas about dress, provided himself with a new best suit of corduroy, dark green in color, and of fine quality. This he had packed in his trunk with his shirts and neckties, his latest Indian hat and his most costly sombrero. When he reached Washington his trunk could not be found. It had been lost in transit and so Mr. Lummis had to wear his everyday corduroys when he went to the White House. Since his return he has been trying to trace his lost luggage but until last week he could hear nothing of his green corduroys. Now he has discovered that his trunk was delivered to a theatrical company which mistook the green corduroys for a toreador costume.

Women are queer, contrary creatures sometimes. At least one young man came to this conclusion last week. He spent $4 for seats for the opera and then invited the loveliest girl he ever met to go with him. He had been desirous of hearing "Fosca" because he did not like Wagnerian music and when the bill was changed to "Lohengrin" he wanted to get his money back. He hinted to that effect but the girl calmly decided to stay in her place in the parquet.

"I have gone to the trouble of wearing my new evening gown and I don't want to waste it," she explained. "Wouldn't you like to hear 'La Boheme'?" the young man asked. "We can come again Friday evening." "Oh, that will be lovely!" the girl exclaimed.

The young man looked for his hat but when he had risen to his feet his companion remarked: "I did not expect to see two operas."

MME. MODJESKA, WHO WILL REAPPEAR FOR CHARITY

Madame Modjeska begins this week rehearsal for her newest role, Hermione, in "The Winter's Tale," which she is to give on the evening of March 6 at the Mason, at the benefit for the Home of the Good Shepherd.

Outside of the social aspect of the affair, which is to be one of the most notable of the season, there will be the added attraction of Madame Modjeska's first appearance in the part which has been a success d' amour for so many of the distinguished actresses, including Mary Anderson. Viola Allen is now making secure her position in Shakespearean ranks in the same role in the east.

Although active rehearsals of the whole cast do not begin until this week the younger members have been at it for months past under Madame Modjeska's general directions.

Her own appearance is the outcome of a desire that needed only such an occasion as this for its realization. Madame Modjeska is the vice president of the ladies' auxiliary of the institution and she is actively interested in the work of the sisters who have devoted their lives to reclaiming and protecting girls inclined to waywardness. She was first to suggest the idea of the "Winter's Tale." Her Hermione is likely to rank as one of the most important as she has given odd hours of study to it for years awaiting an opportunity to appear in it. The subsidiary parts are to be taken by the pupils of the Cummoek school.

Before the play, which is to begin somewhat later than the usual hour, an informal reception will be held in the foyer of the theater by those in charge of the affair.

The Sisters of the Good Shepherd now occupy the old Child house on Main street. Since the home was established through the efforts of Bishop Conaty, fifty girls have been received. The present quarters are scarcely adequate for the needs of the institution and a new and permanent building is now being erected on Arlington heights.

They went to attend the wedding of Miss Alice Bacon and Thomas Driscoll.

Society is soon to lose two of its popular members, Mrs. Elizabeth Prewitt and Miss Evelyn Prewitt, who will leave on the eleventh of March for a European trip. They have closed their homes in St. James park and will stay at Hermosa beach until the time set for their departure.

The Woman's club house was the scene of a brilliant luncheon yesterday afternoon at which Mrs. George A. Caswell of 865 West Twenty-third street, and Mrs. Enoch Knight of 22, Chester place, were hostesses. Covers were laid for forty-two guests at small tables, each of which was decorated with a different variety of flower. Mrs. Caswell and Mrs. Knight were assisted by Mesdames Arthur G. Wells, Henry T. Lee, Shelley Tolhurst, J. H. Johnson and Rea Smith.

Members of the Students' Musical club were entertained yesterday afternoon with a card party and musical given by Miss Marguerite Seymour of 1019 South Figueroa street. Dainty refreshments were served in the dining room, which was decorated with violets and yellow jonquils. Corsage bouquets of violets were at each place. The musical program consisted of a duet, "See the Pale Moon." Mrs. W. J. Wrenn and Miss Alice Atwell; piano solo, "Spanish Caprice," Miss Lucille Roberts; "The Flatterers," Miss Marguerite Seymour; "Love's Old Sweet Song," Mrs. Wrenn. Scores were kept on cards cut in the shape of spades and ornamented with sketches of daffodils. The same idea was carried out in the prizes, which were a rose bowl ornamented in violets and daffodils, and a china plate with a violet design on it. Mrs. L. O. Shaw and Miss Mignonette Hutton were special guests and members who were present are Mesdames Walter J. Wrenn, E. H. Graham, O. L. Bromley, C. Heller, the Misses Burdette and Ora Wilson, Frances Whartelle, Alice Atwell, Stella Nadeau, Florence Whelan, Lucile Roberts, Ethelwyn Walker, Lella Morrison, Octavia Cobb, Alberta Blanchard, Drevna Thompson, Mamma Young, Pearl Mesmer, Alma Bradley, Ethel and May Rehman, Frances and Grace Crowder, Lydia and Alma Kellam.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Solano and their house guest, Miss Margaret Eweet of Buffalo, N. Y., will leave for San Francisco today.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Randolph Miner will leave Monday evening for a week's visit in San Francisco.

Mrs. Otto Sweet of 1817 Harvard boulevard gave a reception Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Cosmo Morgan of 2244 West Twenty-fourth street have returned from a trip abroad.

Mrs. Jarro von Schmidt of Chester place gave a delightful luncheon on Friday entertaining Mesdames John Women's Dress Equipment...

The art of dressing women correctly, tastefully and economically is one of the duties of this establishment. Whether you be in quest of materials by the yard or finished, ready-to-wear apparel, our constant aim is to show the best and the newest in Fashion's realm. The spring and summer lines are now sufficiently well in hand to make the choosing of the new dress an easy task. As a hint of the late arrivals we quote:

Cloth Coats

Silk Coats

For automobiling, traveling or rainy-day wear, this new collection is most satisfying. There are rainproof cravenetted cloths in fine mixtures; fancy suiting cloths in quarter-inch checks and shepherd plaids. Plain blouse models, shirred mutton-leg sleeve, shirred back, belts with handsome buckles behind. Others cut straight, full skirted without belt. Oxfords, tans, light gray mixtures and castors. Priced from $10.00 to $40.00.

There is a sample here of every new silk coat idea, for tomorrow's visitors. Black taffeta coats in the short, the three-quarters and the long redingote styles. Box models, close fitting or loose effects. Trimmings are of fancy colored or black braid; some with stitched straps or deep cape effect with ruffled edge. Prices up from $12.50. Opera wraps of allover lace in white, ecru or black; entirely new in every particular; rich, elegant, elaborate affairs.

Cloth Suits

Neat, stylish, dressy looking tailored suits of Panama cloth, coverts, tweeds, mohairs, plain serges, fancy mixtures, shepherd and hair-lined checks. There are etons, blouse jackets and ridingcoats. Large, new sleeve, plain taffeta or fancy braid trimmings. Skirts very full with many plaitings. Greens, browns, blues, grays, black and fancy mixtures, at $20.00, $22.50, $25.00, $27.50, $30.00, $40.00 and up.

This Style $20.00

Prettily made suit of navy Panama cloth; silk lined blouse jacket with plaits over the shoulder, leg-o'-mutton sleeves with deep, turn-back cuffs. Skirt full and plaited, cut walking length, $20.00.

Silk Suits

Dresses of silk—dependable silk; designed and finished by artists in their line. All the best and newest features are embodied in these new creations.

There are street dresses, shirt-waist suits, or demi-costumes elaborately trimmed in lace. Blouse waists, shirred mutton-leg sleeves, deep cuffs, plaiting or strap trimmings. Browns, greens, all the new blues and black. Priced at $18.00, $25.00, $30.00, $35.00, $37.50 and up.

This Style $18.00

Shirt-waist suit of nice, soft, changeable taffeta; box-plaited blouse waist, full leg-o'-mutton sleeves, deep plaited cuffs, front finished, with French knots. Skirt full flare with shirred gores, $18.00.

Wool Goods

The new spring woollens should please the most particular dressers. There's an air of good taste and refinement, and a look of reliability about them that will attract. And whether your purse calls for an expenditure of fifty cents a yard or a dollar-fifty, or two-fifty, the result will be the same—satisfaction.

All the new materials including mohairs in black and white, blue and white, green and white, and brown and white checks, plaids, hair lines, mixtures, over-plaids and bars; plain colors with little spots, tartan checks in the Scotch colorings. Plain veilings and batistes—dozens to pick from at yard, 50c.

Imported mohairs in pin-head checks, shepherd plaids and tartans; changeable illuminated effects in all the best colorings. Plain self-colored loom-made checks. Eoliennes and Paris crepes for dressy gowns in the softer, daintier shadings—Parsifal, cadet royal and navy blues; reseda, tan, fox brown, French gray, apple and hunter's green. Splendid styles up from yard, $1.00.

New Silks

We pride ourselves on this exhibit of dress silks; on the wondrous varieties, their beauty and unquestionable style; and upon values that we believe will not be matched. As a rule they come to us in but one or two dress lengths, so in order to see the unbroken assortment, we would urge upon you promptness.

Among the fancies one may choose from fine Louisines and soft chiffon taffetas. Every size and manner of check, plain or broken, overplaids, bars and figured checks, changeable and chameleon effects, jacquards and broches, hair-line checks or stripes. Every color or color combination that's proper; light or dark, strong or delicate, suited to all demands. For jacket or shirt-waist suits, street or traveling dresses, demi-costumes or evening gowns. Up from yard, $1.00.

Plain colors or changeable tones in Palette de Soie, Chiffon Faille, Gros de Londres and Chiffon Taffetas in any color your taste may elect, up from yard, $1.00.

E. Plater, M. J. Connell, H. L. Bixby, E. A. Bryant, Hugh Macnell, Kate Vosburg, Frederick T. Griffith and F. C. Soule of Syracuse, N. Y.

Mrs. Caroline M. Severance of 806 West Adams street gave an informal reception yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Ella Wheeler Wilcox, Mrs. Cordelia Severance of St. Paul and Miss Lee of Boston. The house was attractively decorated with yellow flowers and ferns and many friends called during the afternoon.

A party of forty-four were entertained by James Slauson with a trolley trip to Bolsa Chico and luncheon at the gun club.

Home Wedding

Miss Helen M. Foster, the adopted daughter of Mrs. A. B. Mitchell and niece of Col. E. R. Fox, was married on Tuesday evening to Stanley M. Frew, son of the late Major John M. Frew. Owing to a recent death in the family of the bride it was deemed best to have a quiet home wedding at the residence, 951 Orange street. Only relatives and intimate friends were present. The house was decorated with ferns, amilax, flowers and wedding bells, the parlors in white, the library in pink and the dining room in red. Dean Wilkins of St. Paul's cathedral united the couple and Dr. Foster, the bride's father, gave her away. Miss Dodge played the wedding march while the bride and groom descended the stairs and took their places in the front bay window at the improvised altar. Miss Werner sang "O Promise Me," and later "The Sweetest Story Ever Told." Miss Dumble also gave a piano solo. Congratulations, refreshments and a happy send-off to the young couple followed. After the first of March Mrs. Frew will receive her friends on Thursdays at her new home, 750 South Hill-street.

Receive Officers

The members of Los Angeles hive No. 1, L. O. T. M., gave a reception for the officers and guards of the hive at the hive at the regular review last Wednesday evening. A George Washington tree contest for the officers was conducted by Mrs. Hattie E. Walker, who also presented, in behalf of the hive, to several of the past commanders beautiful gold badges emblematic of the order. One of the surprises of the evening was the presentation of hand-painted pictures to each of the twenty-four guards and to Mrs. Mary Merry, the drill mistress of the team, by Mrs. Jennie Fay, one of the popular commanders of the hive. Dainty refreshments were served. One hundred and fifty members were present.

Dancing Party

Mrs. F. E. Moore of 833 West Eighteenth street entertained last Friday evening with a delightful dancing party in honor of her daughter, Miss Gladys Moore, who is a pupil at the Girls' Collegiate school. The rooms on the lower floor were elaborately decorated in American flags and pennants, the dance programs were artistic hatchets decorated in red, white and blue, the whole scheme of decorations was suggestive of Washington's birthday. The verandah was enclosed and cosily fitted up and there punch was served throughout the evening. Later a dainty supper was served. Mrs. Moore was assisted in entertaining the young people by Mrs. F. E. Rich and Mrs. Howard. Those who enjoyed the evening were: Misses Gladys Rich,
