

program the entire company adjourned to the home of Mrs. Botford, 1213 Orange street, just opposite the Martindale residence, where they were entertained with violin solos by Miss Thresher, and vocal numbers of Mrs. Botford's composition given in pleasing style by Miss Atkinson. A particularly enjoyable feature of the afternoon was the presentation by Mrs. Botford and Miss Letha Lewis of "Enoch Arden."

Mrs. J. C. McCoy and Madame Modjeska were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Martindale at the Bispham concert yesterday afternoon. Madame Modjeska will leave for New York where she will attend a testimonial to be given for her at which Paderewski and other prominent artists will be present.

Altar Guild Sale

The annual pre-Lenten linen sale of the Altar guild of St. Paul's cathedral was held yesterday afternoon and evening in the parlors of the Angelus hotel.

The management of the affair was in the hands of Miss Crissey McLemore, vice president of the guild. Among the attractions was a table of hand-made handkerchiefs which was presided over by Misses Sarah Boothe and Catherine Millmore. A table of all sorts of aprons, from kitchen aprons to the daintiest of sewing and afternoon aprons, was presided over by Misses Crissey McLemore and Sybil Scott, assisted by the Misses Blanche de Longpre, Alice Hill and Kate Ebbert. A table of fancy articles and useful things for men was in charge of Misses Washburn and Marriott and Mrs. A. J. Downs. The candy table was in charge of Miss Shirley Kuhns, assisted by Miss Frances Dodge, and proved attractive, as the candy was made by members of the guild. A new feature was a flower table, in charge of Miss Mabelle Hatch, assisted by Misses Sophie Laing and Greta Deane Hatch. Fruit punch was served by Mrs. M. C. McLemore, assisted by the Misses Cora Boisford, Dorothy Simpson, Ella Cates, Helen and Agnes Fitzsimmons, Kate Jordan, Marjorie Langmuir and Agnes Chandler. An orchestra furnished music throughout the evening.

Hermosa Club

The members of the Hermosa club were entertained on Thursday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Heim at 1320 Carroll avenue. The house was beautifully decorated with potted plants and cut flowers. Whist was the game of the evening and prizes were won by Miss L. Worrall, Miss A. Brown, T. Brown and H. L. Tracy. Consolations were awarded to Mrs. F. H. Heim and L. Leopold. Fine refreshments were served. Tables were removed and Prof. Nat Franco impersonated different characters. Instrumental and vocal music was rendered by Mrs. F. H. Heim. Those present were Mesdames L. P. Paulson, H. L. Tracy, Geo. Holman, Bain, Russell, A. H. Lapham, Litton, McCarthy and B. Young, Misses A. Brown, Petie and Mergell, and Messrs. Geo. Porter, T. Brown, F. Chandler, L. Wilson, Wm. McCracken, Hall, Nat Franco, Leo Leopold, C. N. McFarland. The next meeting will be held on March 16 at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Paulson.

Ancient Books

Mrs. W. R. Myers and her mother, Mrs. O. N. Williams, gave an at home yesterday at their home, 306 North avenue Sixty-six, Garvanza, to about seventy of their women friends. Mrs. H. N. Clough gave a talk on "Books of Secrets," bearing the date of 1559. Mrs. Williams gave a talk on the following ancient books: "The Book of Mormon," a book in surgery, and an old Dutch Bible. Besides these books, Mrs. Myers possesses four large portfolios entitled, "The history of the Art of Writing," and also several volumes of the "Historian's History of the World." The books are the works of Mrs. Myers' brother, Henry Smith Williams, B. Sc., M. D., L. L. D., author of various scientific works. These works created much interest yesterday. Those who assisted in receiving were: Mrs. F. I. Wheat, Mrs. H. N. Clough, Misses Mary and Helen Howell, Neva and Helen Myers. The rooms were prettily decorated with acaea and poppies.

Birthdays Celebration

Mrs. George L. Bruce of 2717 East Fourth street entertained Monday afternoon, February 27, in honor of her daughter, Lucile, the occasion being her ninth birthday. Refreshments were served and the decorations were carried out in commemoration of the first president. Covers were laid for twenty-four. In the center of the table was a chocolate cherry tree, well laden with crystallized cherries. A beautiful birthday cake was a present from an uncle in Boston. It was an elaborate affair, frosted in white and gayly decorated with nine red roses and candles, also the little lady's name, day of the month and year. In lieu of place cards were dainty bonbon baskets with hatchets attached, tied with the national colors. In the course of the afternoon a George Washington game was played for prizes. Miss Lucile was the recipient of numerous presents from her friends, both young and old.

Aloha Euchre Club

The guests of Mrs. Isaac Barman, 1420 South Union avenue, were surprised by a number of novel games at the monthly meeting of the Aloha Euchre club Friday afternoon. Prize winners were Mrs. William E. Brewster-Smith, Mrs. George Horst and Mrs. Edwin Clark. The decorations were of ferns and pink geraniums, artistically arranged in the parlors, while red roses were used in the dining room. Mrs. Arbo Frost, 455 West Jefferson street, will entertain the club the first Friday in April. Following are members: Mesdames L. M. Powers, Arthur Bagby, L. Otis Shaw, C. B. McCarthy, Sarah Smith, Bert Sterns, E. J. Vawter, C. E. Dieter, Edward Eison, Will Baker, George Horst, George W. Jordan, William E. Brew-

PROMINENT WOMAN INTRODUCES MASTER OF MUSIC

MRS. CHARLES W. RAND

SOCIETY GREET'S MASTER OF MUSIC

FORMER PUPIL INTRODUCES SIGNOR JANOTTA

Mrs. Charles Wellington Rand Entertains Teacher of Famous Opera and Oratorio Singers Who Are Sojourning Here

Mrs. Charles Wellington Rand is rejoicing in the arrival of her music master, Signor Janotta, in Los Angeles. The white-haired, black-eyed Italian whom she is introducing to her many friends has a most winsome personality. He looks distinguished and one is not surprised to learn that much of his musical work has been among the leading opera singers of the day who are still devoted to him and who joyfully praise his training. The many music lovers in Los Angeles who lived in Boston, Cincinnati, St. Paul or Chicago during Signor Janotta's residence in those cities are giving him a royal welcome to California.

Warm hearts of old-time associates, balmy air, blue skies and sunshine are doing everything possible to rejuvenate and delight him. "It is like Italy to me—this beautiful western world!" exclaimed the Signor. "What a glorious place for such artists as Paul de Longpre; such poets as Ella Wheeler Wilcox; such pianists as Peje Storck! They meet appreciation, and they have not only the inspiration that comes from that but they have the advantages of this wonderful climate. And then when you think of singers—who should they not excel in tone-production here, unless they have already ruined their vocal organs before coming to California? There must, it seems to me, be a great future for Southern California as a center of art, and Los Angeles as a musical metropolis. Indeed, there is not only a wonderful future but a most remarkable present. It makes me very happy to be in this artistic, poetic and musical atmosphere."

Every Wanted Weave —IN—
Wash Dress Stuffs

While this stock includes an exhaustive variety of every wanted weave, from the richest French novelties at $2.50 a yard down to the ordinary calicoes, we are particularly anxious to show you the costume fabrics at 35c to $1 a yard.

A few of the many:

- Embroidered Swiss linens in light and medium weights—35c to $1.
- 30-inch printed tulle—white and tinted grounds with handsome floral designs—dollar a yard.
- 27-inch mercerized ginghams in neat checks and fancy plaids—35c and 40c.
- Danish cloth—a half-wool fabric in solid colors 23-inch, 15c a yard; 36-inch width—called Poplar cloth—25c a yard.
- 36-inch white costume

Parasol Stock Complete

Spring stock is all in. And none too soon—the past week's uncommonly warm weather has made you feel the need of them.

Coaching effects have the preference—the fluffy, fussy, trimmed sorts don't appear this season.

Pongee silks, both plain and embroidered, will be much used. Small checked, dotted and figured silks, in styles to harmonize with the new shirt waist suits, will also be in high favor with the more conservative dressers.

The extremists will be delighted with some of these pronounced novelties in deep green-and-red combinations.

Veilings At Half $3 to $6.50
Belts $2

Possibly a hundred of this season's leather belts, and hardly two alike—it's a maker's line of samples. And that's why we happen to be selling them at less than half their average worth. If we'd paid regular prices we would have to charge $3 to $6.50.

Splendid showing of Chenille veils at 75c to $1.50—just half their early-season prices. Black-and-white as well as colors. All 1 1/2 yards long.

Tuxedo veiling in black or black-and-white, 15c a yard; regularly 25c to 50c.

Linens For Household and Personal Use

Whatever your linen needs may be, whether for housekeeping or for personal use, this Linen Department is equipped to supply every wanted article.

Nothing that is worthy a place in a high-class Linen store is missing from this stock. Nothing is priced a penny too high.

- 72 and 90-inch linen sheeting, for shirtwaists and shirtwaist suits, $1.75 to $3 a yard.
- 19x38-inch hemstitched huck towels with damask borders, 25c each.
- Bleached and brown linen bath towels of excellent quality, 75c to $1 each.
- Remnants of table linens—11-2 to 31-2 yard lengths—at a full third under regular prices when cut from the piece; various grades.
- Shirtwaist linens in the coarse basket weaves as well as the finer qualities, 30c to $1.50 a yard.
- Sole agents for "Magic" silver and glass polishing cloth. 15c.

More Street Hats Are Ready

Not a great many—in fact, a very limited exhibit compared with what we will have later—but enough to show the tendency of the styles and the class of millinery this store deals in.

Splendid showing of flowers and foliage—not the commonplace sorts, but the cleverest imitations man is capable of producing. So life-like in appearance they'd almost deceive a bee.
