Outdoor Section of the Civic League Hears Reports on the Coming of the Celebration

At the meeting of the outdoor section of the Civic League, held at the assembly hall of the chamber of commerce yesterday morning, two subjects of importance were discussed, Arbor day and the garbage question.

The latter subject, while being discussed at some length, was laid aside for the coming of the great tree planting on Friday, March 31, at 2:30 p. m., in Elysian park.

J. A. Haskett acted as chairman at the session and Mrs. A. S. C. Forbes as secretary.

From the committee reports read, there is no doubt of the exercises not only being well attended, but of everything being in waiting for the final planting.

Superintendent Morley of the park commission stated that, owing to Arbor day having been postponed from March 17, trees will be planted in Elysian park only. Mr. Morley will have ready the trees which are to be used and which will include palms, eucalyptus, pines, in point of fact, trees of every variety boasting flowers and foliage.

Names in order will be announced from the platform and as the name is announced the organization will come forward and each plant a tree, making appropriate speeches.

Trees for school children may be obtained from Mrs. Chalmers Smith, who has this section in charge.

CLEVER CROOK IS AT WORK IN LOS ANGELES

Police Have Clew of Individual Who Has Been Robbing Rooming Houses

The police are looking for a clever individual who is working a new form of burglary on the proprietors of different lodging houses in Los Angeles.

The stranger, with confiding ways, goes into a house and acquaints the proprietor with the fact that he is looking for apartments. After being shown to the room, and left alone for a few minutes, the new lodger proceeds to appropriate everything of value he can find and then departs.

This was the scheme worked on J. O. Lushington, who conducts a rooming house at 926 South Hill street.

About 8 o'clock last night a young man went to Lushington's place and asked to be shown to a room. When the proprietor had conducted him to the best he had the stranger decided to keep the apartment and said he desired to occupy it at once.

Lushington left him alone for a few minutes and when he returned the stranger was gone, along with one ruby and one emerald ring, a watch chain and $1.75.

The case was reported to the police, who have issued a warning to all lodging house keepers to be on their guard. This is the second time the scheme has been successfully worked in less than a week here.

CO-EDS SMASH TRACK RECORDS

OCCIDENTAL GIRLS HOLD BIG ATHLETIC MEET

All Men Are Barred From Bleachers by Order of Faculty, and Knot Holes Are at a Premium

Safely hidden from the gaze of inquisitive eyes by a high board fence, and otherwise safeguarded by mandates of the faculty to the effect that no man should be allowed to penetrate that sacred precinct enclosed by the four board walls, co-eds of Occidental college yesterday held a real track meet.

But knot holes were at a premium. Never before in the annals of athletics has there been a track meet that could quite equal this one, for every feat accomplished by the college man, and several others never attempted, were done successfully by his sister.

Old records were smashed and new ones were made with a rapidity that might have started the hardy athletes of Coach Merrill's squad if they could have found a knot hole in the board fence. From the first crack of the pistol which signaled the start of the hurdle race until darkness put a stop to the sport, there was not a pause, and it was not until the last paper medal and the relay cup had been awarded that the cheers ceased.

Two Teams on Field The contestants were divided into two teams, the "preps" and sophomores against the freshmen. Miss Bertha Boal was captain of the Freshmen squad and Miss Vera Brooke of the other, and just before the opening of the first race the captains gathered their "men" together for final instructions.

Lining the seats on the sides of the track, which on other occasions served as a basketball court, were the supporters of the teams, girls from all the different classes who had come to lend the aid of their voices and furnish inspiration to the ones who were brave enough to venture in the event.

At 4:25 the captains marshaled their teams into the field, and at 4:29, one minute before the time scheduled for opening, the starter, who stood at the head of the field with pistol in hand, fired the first shot as a signal for the high hurdles and four young women clad in bloomer costumes were off.

First one hurdle and then another was cleared in safety by the three leaders, and when they reached the thirty-yard mark the stop watch registered just 5 seconds. The two baptnas were running against each other in this race, and Bertha Boal took first place. Vera Brooke was close behind her for second, and Fern Gordon came in third. May Darling, who was the other contestant, landed with the first hurdle on the ground.

Puts Shot Twenty-Two and Half Feet The result of the shot put was considered remarkable, and the 22½ feet which Miss Brooke succeeded in making was voted a most unusual accomplishment. And, as one of the on-lookers declared, the little ball "weighed seven whole pounds." Miss Darling came second and Fern Gordon and Bess Pope third and fourth respectively.

The thirty-yard dash was won by Bertha Boal in 4 seconds, May Darling and Etta Lee taking second and third. Vera Brooke was the winner of the high jump, and she succeeded in clearing the pole at 3 feet 7 inches. May Darling won second and Etta Lee and Florence Wilson tied for third place.

Among other interesting events was the three-legged race, not as well known to modern athletes as some of the others but no less appreciated by the spectators. Abba McCready and Katherine Darling were the winners of this unique event.

The 440-yard dash was thrown out on account of a dispute which arose over a mistake of the starter, and the relay race concluded the program with

A GOOD DEAL OF NONSENSE

About "Blood Purifiers" and Tonics.

Every drop of blood, every bone, nerve and tissue in the body can be renewed in but one way, and that is, from wholesome food properly digested. There is no other way and the idea that a medicine in itself can purify the blood or supply new tissues and strong nerves is ridiculous and on a par with the fol-de-rol that dyspepsia or indigestion is a germ disease, or that other fallacy, that a weak stomach which refuses to digest food can be made to do so by irritating and inflaming the bowels by pills and cathartics.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cure indigestion, sour stomach, gas and bloating after meals, because they furnish the digestive principles which weak stomachs lack, and, unless the deficiency of pepsin and diastase is supplied, it is useless to attempt to cure stomach trouble by the use of "tonics," "pills" and "cathartics" which have absolutely no digestive power, and their only effect is to give a temporary stimulation.

One grain of the active principle in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 2000 grains of meat, eggs and similar foods, and experiments have shown that they will do this in a glass bottle at proper temperature, but of course are much more effective in the stomach.

There is probably no remedy so universally used as Stuart's Tablets, because it is not only the sick and ailing, but well people who use them at every meal to insure perfect digestion and assimilation of food.

People who enjoy fair health take Stuart's Tablets as regularly as they take their meals, because they want to keep well; prevention is better than cure, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do both; they prevent indigestion, and they remove it where it exists. The regular use of one or two of them after meals will demonstrate their merit and efficiency better than any other argument.

Darkness prevented the try out for the broad jump and Hagerman's record was saved.

The presentation of the relay cup to the freshmen by Lillian Merrill made the climax in which she commended the contestants for their bravery in action and wonderful powers of endurance.

IN OLDEN TIMES

People Were Content to Take Things Easier Than Now

If our forefathers could behold the modern automotive automobiles and motor cars, they would hold up their hands in astonishment.

The stage-coach was fast enough then—people were more content to take things easy.

They used to be satisfied with any sort of a hair lotion that came along—if it did not prevent baldness, they thought it was because baldness could not be prevented.

It's different now. People know that germs cause baldness, and that Newbro's Herbicide kills the germ, thus curing dandruff and preventing baldness.

FIVE SUSPECTS ARRESTED

Identity of Murdered Bakersfield Man Not Yet Established

BAKERSFIELD, March 28.—Five men have been arrested on suspicion of having been implicated in the murder which was committed yesterday morning, when an unknown man was killed with a club and robbed on one of the main streets. Three of the arrests were made in Kern and two at Tehachapi.

What is believed to be the most important capture is that of a one-armed man giving the name of Mike Larkin, who is known to have begged money from the murdered man and used threatening language toward him. He was confronted with the body this afternoon, the object of the sheriff being to see how he would act. He showed no sign of being disturbed.

The identity of the murdered man has not yet been fully established. He is thought to be named James Terrace, employed as blacksmith in the canyon. He was seen with nearly $200 Saturday night. When found his pockets were turned inside out.
