Standing of the Clubs

Team	Played	Won	Lost	P. C.
San Francisco	5	3	2	1.000
Oakland	5	3	2	.600
Los Angeles	5	2	3	.400
Portland	4	2	2	.500
Tacoma	5	1	4	.200
Seattle	5	0	5	.000

Michael Angelo Fisher's squad of diamond artists will arrive in Los Angeles this morning and will immediately tie out to Chutes park to prepare for the afternoon's combat with the Seraphs. It will not be the terrible Bengal squad that created such havoc last year, the "champs" having been thoroughly tamed both in body and mind by their unfortunate experience with the Athenian host.

The Tacoma manager, however, expresses himself as confident that when the pennant possessors return to San Francisco for their first interview with Hank Harris' men that his sphere chasers will occupy a distinctly more satisfying notch in the percentage column. Tacoma played a series of five games with Oakland on the Athenians' diamond and when hostilities ended Sunday the Tigers had captured two and lost the remainder to the enemy.

Six Game Series

Los Angeles and Tacoma will play a six-game series on the Chutes park diamond and the results of the bingle-fests mean much to both contingents of ball busters. With Seattle out of the reckoning, Tacoma is at the bottom of the heap, a position that is hardly conducive to the dignity and peace of mind of a team that walked away with the pennant last year.

Tacoma's pennant winning infield will all be in action this afternoon. Nordyke, the sticking first baseman that did such consistent work last season, will again appear on the initial corner for the Fisherites and Casey will guard the territory immediately contiguous to the second patch. On the third corner Tommy Sheehan will handle the work of the difficult sack. Tommy emulated Ollie Twist in holding out for "more" when called upon to affix his signature to a document confining his services to the Tacoma baseball club for another season, but Fisher was determined not to permit the little second baseman to seek other fields and pastures new and the momentous question was finally "compromised" to the satisfaction of the Tacoma fans. So Tommy will be there today.

Charlie Graham will stop the twisters for Tacoma today. Graham is again the leader of the northerners, his all-around ball playing ability making him a valuable asset of the Tacoma squad.

Eagan at Short

Truck Eagan, the man with the four-base stick, is doing the short-stop turn for Tacoma again this year. Eagan fractured an arm while trying to nip the second bag in a game with the Seraphs during the latter part of the season of 1904 and was unable to wear the mit during the deciding sprint for the bunting. That the big Tacoma shortstop still has his optic on the ball is proven by the fact that he lifted out a homer and a bunch of base hits during the series with Oakland.

Doyle, McLaughlin and Lynch will care for the Tacoma outer gardens and form a trio hard to beat when it comes to connecting with the lifts that leave the diamond behind.

Bobby Keefe or Fitzgerald will toss over the slants for the men of Fisher this afternoon. Ovie Overall will be missed from the Tiger twirling staff, but the loss of the big collegian should militate but little against the chances of Tacoma to repeat their performance of last season. But things have changed since then and the supporters of Tacoma may be destined to experience bitter disappointment when the day of reckoning arrives. It looks so, indeed.

Roy Toren or "Bones" Baum will do the slab work for the Seraphs this afternoon. Both of the twirlers pitched one of the two losing games against Portland and one of them will be given the desired opportunity of mowing down the terrible Tiger swatsmen today.

Perrine is billed to manipulate the indicator. The game will be called promptly at 2:30.

Queer Burial Custom

A very curious old custom is associated with interments in the cemetery of Labruck, Connemara, Ireland. A box of pipes—short clay—is brought with the coffin, and a pipe with tobacco is served out to each mourner. The pipes are smoked in silence after the earth has been filled in and a mound of stones raised above the grave; the ashes are solemnly knocked out on the top and the pipes broken or left behind. The origin of this custom is unknown, but it is thought to be emblematic of "ashes to ashes, dust to dust." Empty black bottles are also to be found scattered about the site.

MANAGER FISHER AND RIGHT FIELDER DOYLE OF TACOMA

BIG THINGS DUE IN AUTO RACING

NEW FIVE-MILE TRACK TO BE BUILT

Year 1906 Should Be Long Remembered Among Speed Merchants Throughout the World

The year 1906 should be the banner one of automobile racing in the United States. Before the Ormond-Daytona races next year it is expected that all of the speed owners of surplus thousands now in the auto racing game will have either disposed of the cars they own and which proved more or less disappointing last month on the Florida beach course, or will have made extensive alterations which will result in greater speed.

It is now generally admitted that the men in control of this year's racing at Ormond and Daytona were not experts. That the handling of races of such importance was beyond them is conceded by all who became discouraged at the delays which occurred time and again.

The feeling of dissatisfaction which manifested itself early, owing to the manner in which the races were handled, or, rather, were not handled, resulted in the organization of a new association to control racing in Florida in future. This association must be recognized by the American Automobile association before its races will be sanctioned, but with men like H. M. Flagler back of it, this recognition should not be long in forthcoming.

The new association has placed the management of its races in the hands of W. J. Morgan, familiarly known as "Senator," whose long experience with the bicycle and automobile racing game has given him the necessary education to run races on a business basis and with general satisfaction.

In addition to running the 1906 races in Florida, "Senator" Morgan will be general manager of the new five-mile track to be constructed next year near Barnegat bay, twelve miles south of Lakewood, N. J.

This track, if it comes up to the hope of the promoters, should be the fastest in the world. It is proposed to build it of approximately triangular form, 120 feet wide, with a mile straightaway, where the flyers can go after mile records.

Opposite the mile stretch a grandstand with capacity for 10,000 will be built. On the bay a clubhouse will be erected, and a landing provided where boats drawing not more than eight feet of water can land passengers.

CORBETT MAKES POOR SHOWING AGAINST ERNE

Former Champion Unable to Win From a Fourth Rate

By Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, April 3.—Young Corbett of Denver and Young Erne of this city sparred six rounds at the West Washington Sporting club tonight. Corbett was fat and fought wildly, frequently misjudging his distance, and many of his blows landed on the back of his opponent's head. Erne, while active, was timid, and much of the time was wasted in clinches and huggings.

In the third round Erne was cut over the eye and in the sixth Corbett's mouth was bleeding. In the same round Corbett rushed Erne through the ropes. Erne landed the greater number of blows. He jabbed Corbett frequently and ran away from the swings of his opponent. Corbett tried to stop Erne repeatedly and several times countered on Erne's jaw, but his blows lacked strength. Under the law no decision can be given in this city, but the spectators appeared to be of the opinion that the fight was a draw.

HIGH SCHOOL AND WHITTIER WIN

CAPTURE BASKETBALL GAMES AT U. S. C. GYM

Preparatory School Five Triumph Over St. Vincent's Men, and Whittier Collegians Defeat Santa Monica Players

The two basketball games played at the University of Southern California gymnasium last evening to decide the team to play in the finals for the championship of the Southern California league resulted in victory for the Los Angeles high school over the team from St. Vincent's college and the defeat of the Santa Monica Reliance squad at the hands of the speedy little players from Whittier college. The final score in the High School-St. Vincent's game was 25 to 13 and in the Whittier-Reliance bout 30 to 12.

The high school and St. Vincent's played the first game and the lovers of the sport witnessed one of the snappiest games played in the south for several weeks. The plucky little high school lads played rings around their heavy college opponents and outplayed them in team work so decisively that the Catholic students were at no time in the lead. Samples, St. Vincent's speedy forward, was held down with comparative ease by Johnson. Wilhoit and Irvine played the major part of the game for the orange and white and both men did good work.

Captained by Hussey, the high school team has developed into one of the fastest five in Southern California and stand well in the way of taking the championship of the league.

The result of last night's games puts St. Vincent's out of the running for first place and will leave Los Angeles high school and Whittier college tied for the championship.

The tie will probably be played off the latter part of this month.

The teams line up as follows:

L. A. H. S.	St. Vincent's
Cortelyou	F..... Samples
Hussey	F..... Lamer
Mitchell	M..... Irvine
Johnson	C..... Andreas
Mitchell	S..... G..... Wilhoit
Whittier	Reliance
Osborne	F..... Hinderer
Adams	F..... Hart
Brown	C..... Robinson
Marshall	G..... Swink
Todd	G..... Rowe

UMPIRE'S WORK IS AN UMPIRE'S BUTT FOR BULLYING JEERS OF BLEACHERITES

Peculiar Fascination in the Official's Work—Men Anxious for the Position, With All of Its Drawbacks

The average citizen finds it hard to understand how anything but dire necessity can drive a man to be an umpire. Of course, rather than starve to death almost anyone would consent to become a butt for the bullying jeers and insinuations of the bleacherites, a target for pop bottles and the common enemy of ball players.

But it isn't the prospect of starvation that fills the umpire's ranks, for an umpire must be a man who has brains enough to get along at some other kind of a job, if he chooses. Why he doesn't choose another more humble, but certainly less terrifying, branch of labor is the mystery. There must be a peculiar fascination about setting one's self up in opposition to the world. League presidents are deluged with applications from would-be judges of play.

So far as quantity goes the supply is greater than the demand. As for the quality, that is another story. The fact remains that there are plenty of good men who seem to prefer to take their lives in their hands and run the risk of battle, murder and sudden death on the ball field rather than enter some quieter and safer employment.

One big reason is that a good umpire makes fair money, enough to keep him comfortably through the winter. Even in the class A and B minor leagues the judges of play draw from $200 to $300 a month, besides their traveling expenses. That helps a good deal.

Then there are lots of men who enjoy the position of authority, even if it is accompanied by the frequent antagonism of players and fans. They look upon their work as honorable, and a healthy love of the game is another inducement to keep at it.

Umpires, as a rule, look forward to the opening of the season as eagerly as the players.

Above all things, an umpire must be strictly on the level. One false move and it is all over with him. It speaks well for the character of the men in the business that an attempt to fix the umpire is rarely thought of—never in the bigger leagues.

A man makes a big mistake in being what is known as a home umpire; that is, in making a practice of giving the home team the best of the close decisions. He may curry temporary favor with the local fans, but they soon learn to despise him. As for the players, they have nothing but contempt for such a man. On the field they try their best to get him to give decisions in their favor, but at heart they despise him if he favors them unfairly as much as they hate him if he gives them the worst of it.

Blackburn Wins by Knockout

By Associated Press.
SOUTH SHARON, Pa., April 3.—Jack Blackburn, colored of Philadelphia, knocked out Dick Fitzpatrick, white of Chicago, in the second round of what was to have been a twelve-round bout here tonight.

Jack Young of New Castle and Paul Moore of Pittsburgh went ten rounds to a draw. A preliminary between Charles Presley and John Matti was also a draw.

Senior B's Win

All of the Greek letter fraternities of the Los Angeles high school combined and formed a baseball team to do battle against the senior B class team yesterday afternoon at Fiesta park.

The class team won by the score of 11 to 7.

Size of an Atom

How large is an atom? "Perhaps the simplest, though the most exact, way of arriving at a rough estimate of the size of atoms is by measuring the thickness of a soap bubble film, where it is as thin as possible, just before it bursts," says a writer. "Such a film, if composed of atoms, must be something like a pebble wall. Now, a pebble wall would not stand if it were not several pebbles thick, and if we had reason to suppose that it was about a dozen pebbles thick we could easily make an estimate of the size of the pebble by measuring the thickness of the wall."

"That is the case with the thinnest region of a soap film. It is found to have a very definite and uniform thickness. It is the thinnest thing known, and by refined optical means its thickness can be accurately measured. It must contain not less than something like a dozen atoms in its thickness, and yet it is only about the twenty-millionth of an inch in thickness by direct measurement. So that the diameter of an atom comes out between one two-hundred-millionth and one three-hundred-millionth of an inch. In other words, from about 200,000,000 to 300,000,000 of atoms can lie edge to edge in a linear inch.—Science.

HORSES FINISH NOSE AND NOSE

FIVE BUNCHED IN FOURTH RACE AT OAKLAND

Jack Little, Who Appeared to Have Won, Not Placed in the Money.

Bonner is Finally Ruled Off

By Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 3.—The closest finish of the season occurred in the fourth race. Five horses finished heads and noses apart. From the press stand it looked as if Jack Little had won, but the judges decided that he did not finish in the money. They placed Augie first, Evca G. second and Cinnabar third.

CHICAGO, April 3.—A readjustment of the racing dates for the St. Louis tracks so that as much racing as possible can be had before the anti-racing bill in Missouri goes into effect, and the admission of the Denver Overland Racing association to membership was the principal business transacted here today by the board of stewards of the Western Jockey club at their monthly meeting. The new dates assigned to St. Louis are:

Kinloch Breeders' association, April 15 to 23, inclusive.

Delmar Jockey club, April 29 to May 19, inclusive.

$2000 FOR DOG'S OUTFIT

Shameful Extravagance of Women Who Own Costly Pets

Cleveland Moffett in his series "The Shameful Misuse of Wealth," now running in Success Magazine, is making some startling exposures of the manner in which our idle rich waste their money. He quite caps the climax, however, with the following information regarding the willful waste on the pet dogs of the women:

"There are pet dogs in New York," I insisted, "worth $5000. There are St. Bernards worth $7000. There are women in New York who spend $1000 a year on clothes for their poodles."

"On clothes for their poodles?"

"Certainly; on house coats, walking coats, dusters, sweaters, coats lined with ermine at $200 each, automobile coats with hoods and goggles, and each coat fitted with a pocket for the poodle's handkerchief of fine linen or lace."

"I never heard of such a thing."

"It is absolutely true. Furthermore, these women buy for their pet dogs boots of different colored leather to match the coats, house boots, street boots, etc., that lace up neatly to the knee and cost from $5 to $8 a pair. They buy half a dozen pairs at a time. And they buy collars, set with rubies, pearls or diamonds at several hundred dollars each. A man who makes a specialty of such collars told me of a woman who imported from Paris a complete outfit for her poodle costing $2000. And one lady had a house built for her dog, the exact model of a Queen Anne cottage, with rooms papered and carpeted and the windows hung with lace curtains. Every morning a woman calls (a sort of dog governess) to bathe and comb and curl and perfume the little darling, and then take him out for his walk. He eats and drinks from silver dishes and if he gets a stomach ache a specialist is promptly summoned."

"What, a dog specialist?"

"Precisely. New York has its fashionable dog doctors, who get $10 a visit and sleep with a telephone at their bedside for night calls, like regular practitioners. One lady whom I know summoned a specialist from New York to Newport and kept him there for a week, at $100 a day, because her poodle was ailing."

Dr. Joseph B. Moore, an old resident of Washington, remembers hunting quail in Lafayette park, opposite the White House.

COLLEGE MEN TO BINGLE BALL

PREPARE FOR ANOTHER SEASON OF HOSTILITIES

St. Vincent's Expected to Win the Championship Again—U. S. C. Will Stay With the Game

Things are beginning to "look up" in the collegiate baseball world. All of the Southern California institutions will put representative nines in the field this year, and the indications point to one of the most successful seasons ever experienced in the local amateur game.

The outlook is not, however, very promising for the University of Southern California in a baseball way. The majority of the Methodists who were anxious to represent the college on the diamond this season have unfortunately fallen under the eligibility clause of the intercollegiate agreement and will consequently be unable to pursue the sphere this year at least.

While entertaining no hope of putting a winning nine in the field Coach Holmes of the university is determined to play out the regular schedule with the material at hand and not give up the idea of a baseball team entirely, simply because U. S. C. can hardly hope for anything better than a passable showing against their athletic enemies.

St. Vincent's seems to be the most likely contender for final honors again this year. The Catholics had things all their own way last season and are again embarrassed by the quantity of riches in the baseball line. St. Vincent's was anything but successful during the track and football season, although neither piskin nor cinder path was discouraged by its succession of defeats, but stayed with the game for sport's sake.

St. Vincent's will not have the Morlarity brothers back this year, the two young ball players having graduated from the Catholic academy. Talty and several others of the old guard will be back in the game and form the nucleus about which Coach Haggerty will form his nine.

Occidental will put a fast, promising squad in the field. Roth and Thatcher will again don the mitts for the Presbyterian school and Merrill is not worrying over the prospects of his pupils.

Pomona was not depleted to any great extent by the graduations of baseball players and should be able to make St. Vincent's play their best ball to win.

All of the aspirants for a position on the college teams are now practicing daily and the race for position is as keen and uncertain as among the artists who play for filthy lucre and that alone.

William Miller Collier, who has been nominated to be minister to Spain, is a native of New York, who has traveled extensively both abroad and at home.

OLD PEOPLE Their Pains and Ailments

Any taint of the blood quickly shows itself with old people, and troubles, which a younger, more vigorous constitution holds in check, take possession of those of advanced years. A mole, wart or pimple often begins to inflame and fester, terminating in a sore that refuses to heal. Wandering pains of a rheumatic character are almost constant, the joints get stiff and the muscles sore, while sleeplessness and nervousness make life a burden. The natural activity of the body is not so great in old age and all the organs get dull and sluggish, failing to carry out the waste matters and poisons accumulating in the system and they are taken up and absorbed by the blood, rendering it weak and unable to properly nourish the system. There is no reason why old age should not be as healthy as youth if the blood is kept pure and strong. S. S. S. is purely vegetable and is the safest and best blood purifier and tonic for old people, because it is gentle, but at the same time thorough in its action, purifying the blood of all poisons and foreign matter, strengthening it and toning up the entire system by its fine tonic effect. Almost from the first dose the appetite increases, the general health begins to improve and the pains and ailments pass away.

I had a severe attack of La Grippe, which left me almost a physical wreck. To add to my wretched condition, Rheumatism developed. In a short time after beginning S. S. S. I was relieved of the pains and have gained in flesh and strength and my general health is better than for years. I heartily recommend S. S. S. for all blood diseases.
