Pasadena

Following the unusual social activity of last week with its horse show and many attending festivities, this week has been unusually quiet, with many small but no large functions in the leading social circles. At the hotels many of the guests are leaving for their eastern or northern homes, and there will probably not be any very important affairs this month. Immediately after Easter several weddings are to occur, and there will be many pre-nuptial affairs to give life and color socially to the latter days of April.

Mrs. John Campion entertained a few friends delightfully with an informal luncheon Tuesday in the cafe of the Green. Pink Shirley poppies were used upon the table, which, with its appointments of silver and crystal, presented a fine appearance. Covers were laid for seven.

Mrs. Flora Goodale Bland was the hostess at a very pretty dinner on Tuesday evening given in compliment to her sister, Mrs. Keyle of Menlo Park. Covers were laid for eight and the table was most attractive with its decorations of pink Duchess roses. In the living room and drawing rooms, bright scarlet geraniums were used with ferns.

Invitations have been issued by Mrs. John Bradshaw for the marriage of her daughter, Susan Fisher, to William St. John Ranney. The wedding will be one of the notable ones of the Easter tide, and will take place at All Saints' church on Wednesday afternoon, April 26, at half past two o'clock.

A merry party of friends of Roy Turner surprised him at his home on North Lake avenue Tuesday evening, the occasion of his birthday. The surprise was complete, and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed. The friends included: Mr. and Mrs. Lester Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. John Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kirkpatrick, Miss Katherine Kirkpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. John Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Means, Mr. and Mrs. MacIntyre, Mr. Ross Jones, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Thralls, Charles, John and Ernest Thralls and Miss Viola Thralls.

Revel Lindsay English, the popular baritone, gave a song recital Thursday afternoon in Elks' hall, which was largely attended by music lovers of the society set. He was assisted by Mrs. Bertha Winslow Fitch, a lyric soprano of New York City. Miss Millicent Bowser acted as accompanist, and also gave a piano solo.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wood of North Madison avenue entertained Tuesday evening for their son Ralph and Homer Taulmun, who left on the next day for High River, Alberta, Northwest territory. Music and games made an enjoyable evening, and later dainty refreshments were served. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wood, Mrs. T. T. Rood, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kloekner, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vore, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Robinson, Misses Odell, Chase, Spinney, Salter, Rood, Emogene Rood, Wood, Laura Wood; Messrs. Messinger, Torrey, Taulmun, Upton, Rood, Pennel and Wood. The most of this same company were at the train on Wednesday evening to see the boys off on their long journey.

Mrs. Robert Ford was the hostess Friday afternoon at a delightful (triple party) in honor of Miss Katherine Pearl Wickens, who is to be married in May to James Edward Devoe of Detroit. Some twenty-five friends of Miss Wickens were Mrs. Ford's guests and a very pleasant afternoon was enjoyed. In the plans for Miss Wickens' wedding, a number of quaintly pretty ideas will be carried out. As she is the only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Louis E. Wickens of North Madison avenue, she will wear her mother's wedding gown, a dainty, old-fashioned cream silk, with satin and pearl garniture. It is also Miss Wickens' desire to be married in the old Wickens' home in Detroit and it is probable that with several members of her family she will go east and be wedded upon the marriage anniversary of her father and mother, May 27. Mr. Devoe is the only son of Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Devoe of Detroit. Miss Wickens has a host of friends here who are planning many social affairs in her honor.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Daniels, who recently sold their beautiful Orange Grove avenue home, leave Sunday for Chicago, their former home. Mrs. Daniels, who is the clever author of "The Warners," is known better by her literary name of Gertrude Potter Daniels than by her husband's. The Daniels have spent several winters in Pasadena and at Coronado, but will remain east next winter. Mrs. Daniels speaks in the highest praise of the Pasadena society women, whom she thinks are remarkably cordial and bright.

Mrs. Dorothy Masters, formerly of Chicago, gave a dinner Thursday evening complimentary to her friend, Miss Josephine Bostedo, who returns to Chicago next week. The table was very tastefully decorated in lavender and white, Miss Bostedo's sorority colors. The guests were Miss Genevieve Stehman, Miss Aurora Miller, Miss Alice Nichols and Miss Jessie French.

Mrs. Adelbert Fenyes gave one of the most charmingly appointed luncheons of the week Tuesday at the Country club in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Curtin of Denver, who is her guest. Mrs. Curtin was formerly Miss Leonora Muse, one of the most popular girls of local society. The tables were beautifully ornamented with red sweet peas and acacia. Corsage bouquets of the fragrant blossoms were laid at each plate and the place cards were in the form of sweet peas, tinted daintily with water colors. The rooms in which the luncheon was served were decorated with palms and massed acacia, and trailing branches of Lady Banksia roses. The guests list included: Mesdames A. Kingsley Macomber, Edward Groenendyke, Oliver Picher, E. J. Pyle, Charles Burton Scoville, Henry Vilas, Fred Elmer Wilcox, H. Page Warden, W. E. Kerr, John S. Cravens, Albert E. Carroll, Walter Raymond, Joseph Pugh, Charles Wilhelm, W. R. Staats, W. E. Grattan, Freeman Ford; Misses Marion McGillivray, Angie Holmes, Tressa Cloud, Hannah Nevin, Atwood, the Misses Craig, Mrs. Homer Loughlin, Jr., Mrs. William Garland, Misses Lungren and Overton of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Wood of Denver. Music furnished by Miss Gertrude Cohen added to the afternoon's pleasure.

Mrs. Dorothea Houghlin-Hayden has issued invitations for three Lenten recitals for April 13, 18 and 20. The first and second are to be held at the Crawford home on North Euclid avenue. Mrs. Sweet presents at the first Browning's Saul and Miss Crawford will give Tennyson's Enoch Arden, with Strauss music by Miss Ames. The last morning Miss Bridgion is to present Booth Tarkington's Monsieur Beaucaire at Mrs. Hayden's Altadena home, corner of Santa Clara and Alameda streets. The leading society women of this city are invited.
