Narrowly Escapes Bullet A stray bullet struck the window of the room occupied by B. J. Hull at his home, 268 Kensington place, early this morning. The window screen stayed the progress of the leaden missile, which, after cracking the pane, lodged on the sill. Mr. Hull was in the room and directly in the path of the bullet. His attention to it was attracted by the crashing of the glass. He did not hear the report of the gun, and an investigation failed to locate the careless person who fired the shot.

DOG POISONER ABROAD Sixteen Monrovia Watchdogs Have Died Since Tuesday Last Special to The Herald. MONROVIA, April 22.—The poisoning of sixteen valuable dogs in this city since last Tuesday has so alarmed the people that there is a movement on foot to deputize a night watchman. John Baxter's bulldog died yesterday, almost immediately after picking up something thrown to him by a suspiciously acting stranger, whom the city marshal believes to have done all the work. The common curs have escaped, while faithful watchdogs have been the victims of what seems to be a systematic effort to rob the town of its only night watchers. J. M. C. Charbonnel, manager of the foreign department of the Equitable Life in Los Angeles, has purchased the Sexton place, south of Arcadia. His father and mother and three children will live there. MORE TOWNSITE LOTS SOLD AT OCEAN PARK Special to The Herald. OCEAN PARK, April 22.—Several hundred persons took advantage of a free excursion, lunch and music to attend today's auction sale of townsite lots held by the United Land and Water company. The sales came up to the hopes of the promoters, more than two-thirds of the tract having been sold before dark. The new townsite is located in an ideal location and bids fair to rival many of the adjoining settlements. Another sale, which will probably be the last, is now contemplated. The Ladies' Afternoon club will meet at the residence of Mrs. George H. Hutton on Upper Second street Wednesday afternoon, April 26. Albert Jackson, son of Constable Steve Jackson, fell and broke his left arm in two places while climbing about in the rafters of an old barn yesterday evening. The boy is only eight years old, but he stood the pain of having the breaks set without a whimper.

NEW RAILROAD TO SEARCHLIGHT LINE TO BE CONSTRUCTED FROM NEEDLES WORK TO BE BEGUN SOON Salt Lake Road to Build a Roundhouse at Otis, a Station Near Daggett—Mexican in Trouble Special to The Herald. SAN BERNARDINO, April 22.—Word has been received here that the extension of the railroad from Needles to Searchlight district is an assured fact. The money has all been subscribed and the construction will be commenced in the near future. This will make Needles a center for four railroads, over all of which there is a large travel. Miguel Roise, a Highland Mexican, is in the county jail on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon on a fellow countryman, U. Spinoso. There would probably have been a fatal shooting affray had not spectators interfered and prevented Roise from using his pistol. The Salt Lake road has closed a contract with Olmsted & Poulson of Los Angeles for the construction of an eighteen-stall roundhouse at Otis, a new station on the line of the Salt Lake, four miles beyond Daggett. The structure will cost about $25,000 and must be completed by September 1. At this same point small repair shops will also be maintained by the road. The Easter spirit now pervades everything here and tomorrow will be generally celebrated by the churches of the city. Elaborate programs have been prepared for the church services and the houses of worship will be appropriately decorated.

WOMEN BUYERS VISIT GOLDFIELD SURPRISED AT ACTIVITY OF MINING CAMP EULOGIZE ITS ORDERLINESS Strike on Silver Tip Claim of Empire Company's Group Proves of More Importance Than Anticipated. Special to The Herald. GOLDFIELD, Nev., April 22.—Mrs. V. S. Terry and Mrs. A. L. McCauley, both of Los Angeles, are the first Southern California women to take an active interest in Goldfield. Yesterday, under the chaperonage of Charles H. Treat, a Los Angeles broker, the two ladies arrived in the camp to look over some properties purchased by them in this district some weeks ago. The property is the Terry group, near McLaughlin's wells, and consists of four excellent claims, well situated and with good showings. Both the ladies are enthusiastic about Goldfield and its prospects. "I am surprised at the size and activity of this district," said Mrs. McCauley, "but more than that I am very much surprised at the air of a bustling metropolis that the town of Goldfield has assumed in its short year of existence. I find most of the conveniences of home here and at prices surprisingly similar to those demanded in Los Angeles. There is another feature of the camp that naturally receives the attention of a woman and that is the quiet and order maintained on the streets and in the saloons, both day and night. While I have not investigated carefully I have seen enough to convince me that a woman is perfectly safe here at any time of the day. There is an absence of the worthless loafers that hang about cigar stands and saloons in Los Angeles that puts my home town to shame."

The Big Anti-Trust Store More Cut Prices There is only one big furniture concern in Southern California that is not a member of the Trust. It's Brent's. All other big establishments are forced to ask fixed prices for their goods—that is to say, they cannot under any circumstances vary them beyond certain fixed limitations. Brent's is selling all classes of furniture, carpets, draperies, stoves, refrigerators and other wholesale furnishings at 25 to 40 per cent below the Trust. This is an actual fact which any housekeeper can demonstrate by visiting our establishment. All goods are marked in plain figures. We have plenty of everything we advertise. We shall soon have another store—the largest mercantile building in the city—at Seventh and Main streets, which will be the largest and finest home furnishing establishment on the Pacific coast. That's what the Trust did for us. Brent's 530-532-534 South Spring
