

HITT PITCHES WINNING BALL DOES FINE WORK IN FIRST GAME FOR SEALS SERAPHS GET THREE HITS

Former State League Twirler Shuts Out Morley's Stickers—Hall Injured in Third Inning and Goodwin Takes Place

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—If the pun be not too atrocious, it might be said that Pitcher Hitt was all that his name implies in today's baseball game at Oakland between the Seals and the Angels.

The lad from the brush was on the mound for Uncle Henry and aside from a bit of wildness in the opening innings, he twirled a splendid game of ball, allowing Morley's men but three safe hits during the nine frames.

In addition to this laudable work in the box, Hitt copped off a timely single and won his own game. Both at that crucial moment and at the times when he was dishing up to the bunts himself he "made a hit."

In the fateful eighth, Parky Wilson slammed a nasty one down Brashear's way. Brashear fumbled and Parke was safe on the error. Gochbauer laid one down at the plate and reached the initial while Goodwin and Spies were extracting themselves from a tangle. Wilson stealing third. Hitt hit, Wilson scored.

Pitcher Hall went out of the game at the end of the third inning with a split finger.

THE "BAKING POWDER KING," as Ziegler was known in the business world, was born in Beaver county, Pennsylvania, in 1843.

DRAMA DEALS WITH LIFE OF THE VIRGIN Sacred Play Beautifully Performed by Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Joseph's Church

The Last Days of the Blessed Virgin, a sacred drama in three acts, was presented for the first time in Los Angeles last evening by the Young Ladies' sodality of St. Joseph's church.

Baking Powder King This was at the time when the value of quick rising baking powders, composed of cream of tartar and similar ingredients, was just becoming known.

Expeditions to Arctic Regions It is probable that the name of William Ziegler will remain best known as the foremost patron in America of that ever-fascinating field of research, Arctic exploration.

To Take Up Father's Work "The big task of my life is to find the north pole," said the youth recently.

Relatives Not Satisfied It is said that some of the deceased millionaire's relatives are not altogether satisfied with the provisions contained in the will.

After the North Pole During the last five years of his life Ziegler's chief interest lay in the discovery of the North Pole.
