

RUSSIAN PRESS WAXES JUBILANT GREETING CZAR'S SPEECH WITH JOYFUL ACCLAIM

WAR LOSSES ARE FORGOTTEN Prince Troubetzkoy Talked in Plain but Perfectly Loyal Fashion, Telling Nicholas He Was Being Deceived

By Associated Press. ST. PETERSBURG, June 21.—The impression produced by Emperor Nicholas' speech Monday at Peterhof to the delegation representing the all-Russian congress of zemstvos and mayors which assembled at Moscow is reflected in the joyful acclaim with which it has been received by the Russian press. The question of peace and the reports that another great battle has begun in Manchuria have become of secondary importance in the public mind to the great fact that the emperor has again pledged himself to popular representation. The Russ declares that the history of representative government in Russia dates from White Monday.

Shows Czar His Position

The text of Prince Troubetzkoy's address to the emperor when his majesty received the delegation which the latter headed, is now published. It reveals the plain spoken, yet withal perfectly loyal fashion in which he spoke to the emperor, telling him of the universal distrust which pervaded all classes, attributable to the conviction that his majesty was being deceived by those about him who were interested not in the realization but in the destruction of the proposed reforms.

In conclusion the prince declared it was absolutely necessary that facilities should be afforded, both in the press and at public meetings, for the discussion of a reform which so closely touched the people not only after the representatives meet but now. The renovation of the government, he pointed out, must be built on confidence.

FIRE ON PROCESSION

Eighteen Killed and One Hundred Wounded at Lodz By Associated Press. LODZ, Russian Poland, June 21.—Eighteen persons were killed and 100 wounded tonight by volleys fired by dragons and cossacks on a procession of 50,000 workmen which had been organized as a demonstration against the government.

The demonstration had been quietly arranged. At 8 o'clock the workmen, 50,000 strong, with thirty red flags, marched through Piotrkowska street, shouting "Down with despotism!" They gathered in the old market place, where speeches were made by Socialists.

Up to this point the police had not interfered. At 9 o'clock the procession reformed and was marching up Glowna street, when suddenly the cossacks and dragons rushed from the side streets

(Continued from Page One.) riding in this car, and at least six of the number are dead. Engineer Tyler of the train was taken from under the side of the engine dead and horribly mangled, about two hours after the wreck. Fire departments from Mentor and Painesville were called and were at work trying to extinguish the flames in the combination car within thirty minutes after the wreck occurred. The injured were taken from the combination car and sent to Cleveland on a special train. The Chicago sleeper, which was behind the combination car, swung from the track and crashed into the freight station, which was completely destroyed. The engine was turned completely around when it struck the freight station. Every car left the track, the rear trucks of the last coach only remaining on the rails.

PHILADELPHIA TRUST COMPANY CLOSES DOORS

Failure Attributed to Losses Through Forgeries Perpetrated by Late Benjamin H. Gaskill By Associated Press. PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The City Trust and Safe Deposit company, for years rated among the most reliable financial institutions in the country, today closed its doors and Albert L. Tabor, a state bank examiner, was appointed temporary receiver. The company will liquidate, and J. Hampton Moore, its president, will probably be appointed permanent receiver. It is the belief of the board of directors, as well as of Receiver Tabor, that all depositors will be paid in full. This, however, will be determined by the permanent receiver. It is believed a new company will be organized. The failure of the company was the direct issue of the forgeries of the late Benjamin H. Gaskill, the banker, who, it was learned yesterday, a month after his death, had raised many certificates from one to 100 shares and borrowed money on them.

SKILLED CLOCKMAKER IS CITY JAIL GUEST

Displays His Remarkable Ability While Serving Time Sentence in Municipal Bastille A skilled clockmaker has been discovered in the city jail by the chief of police and an elegant mission clock now stands in the chief's office as testimony to the prisoner's ability. When the new station on the south side was being built a few months ago the prisoner's ability was demonstrated and the cabinets and desk now in the new station are of his handiwork.

After the work for the new station had been completed by the prisoner, he made the mission clock for the chief's office. The head of the police department purchased the material and told the prisoner what he wished, and the work was completed yesterday afternoon. It is made of plain mahogany and stands six feet from the floor. The hands and numerals are of polished brass.

BURGLARS AND POLICE ENGAGE IN FATAL FIGHT

By Associated Press. CHICAGO, June 21.—In a pistol fight early today between two alleged safe blowers and policemen, Patrolman William McGehegan was probably fatally injured and John Maloney, alleged to have been one of the cracksmen, was wounded in the stomach and leg. The cracksmen attempted to rob a safe in the butcher shop of Davis Schontz in the stockyards' district.

MASSACHUSETTS COURT RULES ON LABOR UNIONS

By Associated Press. BOSTON, June 21.—The Massachusetts supreme court handed down a decision today holding that the attempt to force all laborers to combine in unions is against the policy of the law, because it acts as a monopoly of the labor market.

MITCHELL FACES CRIMINAL TRIAL

HENEY SEVERELY ARRAIGNS AGED SENATOR

JUDGE TANNER TAKES STAND

Prisoner's Counsel Pleads His Long and Honorable Career, and Attempts to Block His Partner's Testimony

By Associated Press. PORTLAND, Ore., June 21.—The trial of United States Senator John H. Mitchell, charged with using his office for private gain in connection with the land frauds in this state, began in Judge De Haven's court today, and for the first time in his life, and at the age of three score and ten, Senator Mitchell faced a jury of his peers.

United States District Attorney Heney's arraignment of Mitchell was most severe. His outline of the case of the government was exhaustive but it contained nothing that has not heretofore been made public through the indictment returned against the aged senator. Attorney A. S. Bennett, counsel for the defendant, denied the allegations of the prosecution, claiming that Senator Mitchell was guileless in intent and that the only mistake the senator had made was in changing the agreement which had existed between himself and his law partner, Judge Tanner, the latter being one of the persons indicted at the instance of the government in connection with the land frauds. Later Judge Tanner made a confession of his and Mitchell's connection in the land transactions.

The work accomplished today consisted of the examination of Frederick Kribs, who is said to have employed Mitchell and Tanner to expedite his claims, and the partial examination of Judge Tanner. Judge Tanner will complete his evidence tomorrow. In addition to the oral testimony, Mr. Heney is introducing a mass of documentary evidence. This includes the alleged agreement entered into between Mitchell & Tanner and Kribs, by which it is alleged, they were to expedite claims held by the latter. He is also producing checks, account books, letters and testimony in support of the indictment.

Judge Bennett and Senator Thurston on the other hand have pleaded the honorable career of their client, have held out the fact that tomorrow he is to pass his seventieth birthday, have entered objections to the introduction of testimony, and made a desperate and spectacular attempt to block the introduction of Judge Tanner's testimony.

Employers Refuse to Confer with Teamsters. Say the Only Way to Settle the Strike is for the Men to Accept Their Terms. CHICAGO, June 21.—A settlement of the teamsters' strike by mediation tonight appears to be as remote as it did a month ago. The committee appointed by the teamsters' joint council, with full power to act, called on J. V. Farwell, representative of the Employers' association, today and requested that the employers grant the committee a conference in an attempt to settle the strike. Mr. Farwell informed the labor men that there was only one way to settle the trouble and that was for the strikers to accept the terms offered by the employers a week ago. The committee requested Mr. Farwell to give them until tomorrow morning to consider the matter.

Governor Deneen has been asked to put an end to the trouble. He has refused to interfere. At the home of Congressman Rockwood Hoar the president had luncheon, and he departed soon afterward for Williamstown, where he is to be given a degree by Williams college.

A feature of the railroad trip to this city was the sending of telegrams by the president to the captains of the Harvard and Yale crews at Gale's Ferry, Conn., through which he had passed earlier in the day while asleep. After the president's departure the police announced that while he was still in this city they had arrested Jennie G. Hirsch, a resident of this city, in the women's waiting room at the Union railroad station. Miss Hirsch, who is about 25 years old, had been writing bits of verse upon the top of a box, which she declared was to be given to the president. She insisted that some person telephone to Holy Cross college and inform Father Hanselmann, president of the college, that the "poetry was waiting for President Roosevelt."

A policeman's attention was called to the woman and he removed her to the police station. Afterward she was taken home in a carriage, her friends having promised to keep her under surveillance.

SUFFERED YEARS WITH STOMACH CATARRH. Pe-ru-na the Medicine That Restored Health. CURE PROVES PERMANENT.

Mrs. Elizabeth Reuther, 107 West 40th street, New York city, member Board of Directors North End Clio Association, writes:

"I am pleased to indorse Peruna as a splendid medicine for catarrh and stomach trouble, from which I suffered for several years. I took it for several months and at the end of that time found my health was restored and have felt splendidly ever since. I now take it when I contract a cold and it soon rids the system of any catarrhal tendencies."

Catarrh of the stomach is usually called dyspepsia. The stomach is lined with mucous membrane the same as the nose or throat. This mucous membrane is liable to catarrh the same as the mucous membrane of the nose or throat. The cause of catarrh of the stomach is usually different than the cause of nasal or throat catarrh. As is well known, the nose and throat are more generally exposed to the influence of the atmosphere. Sudden changes of temperature produce congestion, ordinarily called "a cold."

With the stomach it is different. It is not exposed to the air directly. It is exposed, however, to improper food and drink, irregularities as to the time of eating, or the eating of full meals when one is tired. This all leads to fermentation of food and the formation of gas, which irritates the stomach. Such derangements soon lead to catarrh of the stomach, generally called "dyspepsia."

Something is generally taken to facilitate digestion. Such treatment is sure to lead to disappointment. The first thing that must be done is to remove the catarrh. So long as the catarrh remains, so long will the indigestion and dyspepsia remain.

The diet, of course, should be regulated and everything done to assist the action of Peruna. Peruna cures catarrh wherever located, whether in the head, stomach, or some other organ.

If you suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any kind of stomach trouble do not neglect it. Take Peruna at once. Begin taking a half teaspoonful before meals, diluted with a little water if necessary, and gradually increase the dose to two teaspoonfuls. Should you desire medical advice, write to Dr. Hartman, President of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

CROWDS GREET THE PRESIDENT

RIDES THROUGH WORCESTER IN POURING RAIN

DELIVERS TWO ADDRESSES

Woman Arrested at Railroad Station Charged With Writing Verses to Him on Top of a Bandbox

By Associated Press. WORCESTER, Mass., June 21.—Steadily falling rain drenched the festal drapings of the city and disappointed the people of Worcester, but detracted not at all from the enthusiastic reception which was given President Roosevelt upon the occasion of his visit to Clark university and Holy Cross college. The president responded to the cordiality of the people by riding through the streets of the city in an open carriage, much of the time with his head bare.

The president delivered addresses both at Holy Cross and Clark university, and the former institution conferred upon him the honorary degree of LL. D. At Clark university the president took occasion to pay a tribute to Carroll D. Wright, president of the college, as well as to the late United States Senator George F. Hoar. At Holy Cross he addressed a large body of people on the athletic field, many of whom stood in the rain, a canvas shelter erected there being insufficient to cover the crowd.

At the home of Congressman Rockwood Hoar the president had luncheon, and he departed soon afterward for Williamstown, where he is to be given a degree by Williams college.

A feature of the railroad trip to this city was the sending of telegrams by the president to the captains of the Harvard and Yale crews at Gale's Ferry, Conn., through which he had passed earlier in the day while asleep. OFFICERS IN AUTOMOBILE PURSUING A BROKER

E. L. Mims of San Francisco Accused of Housebreaking in Goldfield

By Associated Press. GOLDFIELD, Nev., June 21.—This afternoon a constable was dispatched in an automobile en route for Hawthorne, in pursuit of E. L. Mims, who is wanted for house breaking. This is the final act in a sensational story. The Mims-Sutro company, brokers, sold a share of its business to the Collin Campbell company. Difficulties arose and two days after Mims, it is alleged, broke into the offices of the company, rifled the safe and took many books and papers, which he dispatched by automobile to Austin, Nev., from where they were sent by Wells-Fargo express to San Francisco.

Among the papers, it is charged, were many in trust, contained in envelopes bearing the different owners' names. One in particular, it is said, represented title to 48,000 acres of land in California valued at $100,000, on which a deal was pending.

MYSTERY DEEPENS AT SANTA MONICA

(Continued from Page One.) he was startled by the crash of glass in a window behind him. A hand was thrust in and a quantity of burning fluid was thrown over his person and scattered about the room, which at once burst into flames.

Struggling to the doorway, Vandercook emptied his revolver in the direction of fleeing footsteps and fell to the sidewalk. An alarm was turned in and the fire was extinguished after it had completely gutted the building and destroyed the contents.

Marshal Barretto at once sought Kennedy and young Lawton. Both indignantly denied any connection with either of the outrages upon Vandercook and the alibis of both were perfect.

Opinion Divided. Opinion here is divided as to whether it is possible that Vandercook is a victim of unknown assailants or whether he is a neurotic, who is subject to singular nervous phenomena.

Dr. G. E. Bahrenburg, who treated Vandercook in Sawtelle for the better part of a year, said last night that the man was suffering with chorea, which is a nervous disease that frequently results in abnormal mental conditions, and, as an abstract opinion, he said it was possible that a patient suffering with this malady might concoct a sensational episode of this kind.

Frank Lawton, father of the accused boy, said that he was convinced that when the facts were finally brought to light it would be found that no outsiders were responsible for the assaults upon Vandercook.

Little Miss Hillard appears to be enjoying the notoriety which has enveloped her. "I wish some Sherlock Holmes were here to solve this riddle," she said last night. "If this doesn't stop soon I
