

GIRLS GRADUATE FROM CONVENT

BISHOP CONATY PRAISES
WORK OF SCHOOL

HIGH SCHOOL PLAYS GIVEN

Much Interest Shown in Exercises of Polytechnic and Senior A's.
Medical Students
Banquet

The commencement exercises of the Convent of the Immaculate Heart of Mary was held yesterday afternoon at the convent on West Pico street. The parlors had been thrown into one large room, the front parlor being banked with ferns, potted plants and cut flowers. Here a program was rendered by the students, as follows: Overture, "Tancredi," (Czerny); "Sion," (Rodney); address of welcome to Bishop Conaty, Miss Isabelle Hayden; "Ungharische Tanz," (Brahms); recitation, with solo and invisible chorus, "The Vision of Handel," Miss Anna McDermott; "Rigoletto," (Liszt); essay, "Influence of Noble Womanhood," Miss Marie Whalen; "Te Deum," (Franz); presentation of certificate from the commercial department to Miss Marie Whalen.

Following the presentation of the certificate to Miss Whalen the following students were given special prizes: Christian Doctrine, Miss Alice Twohy; observance of rules, Miss Bertha Polley; Greek, Miss Anna McDermott; first year Latin, Miss Alma Goodwin; grammar grade, Misses Winifred Twohy and Julia Kearney; music, Misses Ivka Sresovich and Concepcion Molina; improvement, first, Miss Mayme Keller; second, Miss Hazel Tuckfeldt; third, Miss Marie Corella; special prize in elementary theory, Miss Marjorie Symonds.

After the distribution of prizes Bishop Conaty made an address in which he congratulated the sisters and pupils on the rendition of the program and spoke at length upon Christian education and the high standard of womanhood maintained in the convent schools.

The new Convent of the Immaculate Heart at Hollywood is progressing rapidly and the bishop in his address expressed the belief that the commencement exercises of next year would be held in the new building.

POLYTECHNIC SENIORS' PLAY

"Which Is Which" Cleverly Presented by Capable Cast

"Which Is Which" is the title of a clever farce given yesterday afternoon by the representatives of the senior class of the Polytechnic high school at Dobinson hall.

The farce was one of the features of an interesting class day program given in the presence of a large audience. Frank Sharp was seen in the role of a young artist whose only capital was a stock in debts, and H. L. Garren was McGargie, an uncle, while the part of the artist's supply man "Paddles" was taken by H. Malcolm Boswell.

Annie Pestle, the heiress, and her penniless friend, Bertha Bingham, were impersonated by Misses Louise Turley and Carita Loftus respectively. Miss Winifred Stern played the part of the old family servant, Mrs. Mills. The entertainment opened with a cornet solo by C. L. Burattl. The class prophecy was read by Miss Katherine Barnwell and the presentation of Ionian pins was made by James Brewster, the president of the summer class of '05. H. Malcolm Boswell, president of '05, accepted on behalf of the class. The P. H. S. Glee club gave two numbers and the class song was sung by the summer class of '05.

The graduating classes are W. '05—Margaret K. Conway, Joseph Glotzbach, Edna M. Michelson, Bert E. Brooksleper, Frank Richards, Ethel H. May, Will Steinlike, Carl Wirsching, Katharyn E. Austin, Joseph B. Vaccaro, Ethel R. Wilson, Max Levitt, J. S. Bryson, Earnest E. Day, Virgil Dixon, William Rudolph. S. '05—Will C. McLeilan, Frank Gerard Sharp, George R. Coffman, Henry L. Garren, Winifred Steen, H. Malcolm Boswell, Katherine Barnwell, Gertrude May Groat, Carita Loftus, Ida May Hanson, May E. Slaughter, Angeline Mauvezin, Louise Turley, Milton K. Bingham, William Thomas Wilkins.

SENIOR B'S AT BELASCO

Class Day Observed in Charge of Star and Crescent

Senior B day at the high school was celebrated yesterday when the class presented under the direction of the Star and Crescent society an operetta at the Belasco theater.

Frank Stevens presided for the Star and Crescent and Maud Howell read the minutes. The operetta "The Yankee Consul" was presented in two acts and the scene laid as it is at the time of a big fiesta celebration gave a chance for beautiful costuming. The cast included Don Miguel Ortega, governor of San Domingo, Merle Johnson; Captain Leopoldo of the San Domingo army, Harry Wyatt; Abijah Scrooge, American consul, Thurman De Bolt; Lieutenant Jack Morris, United States navy, John Donnell; Donna Teresa, a wealthy widow, Jessie Gee; Bonita, her daughter, Mamie Packard; Papinta, her niece, Lenora Montgomery; Anita, Alice Hardesty; Juanita, Norine Graves; Camellita, Inez McEllan; Mela, Lennie Goodrich; Carmen, James

AGED WOMAN QUARRELS WITH DAUGHTER AND SON-IN-LAW

MRS. AMANDA M. KIGER

BOMB THAT WAS NOT REAL BOMB ALMOST CAUSES PANIC

Bailiff of Superior Court Fears Plot of Some Terrible Assassin Until Harmless Telephone Battery Is Revealed

The scene of conflict between the common people of Russia on the one hand and the nobility of the land on the other was transferred from the snowy fastnesses of the north yesterday afternoon to department four of the superior court, county of Los Angeles, and as a result a rumor passed through the corridors that Bailiff George Conant of the department had narrowly escaped being blown up by a Nihilist bomb.

The department during the quiet hours of the afternoon was laboring through the technicalities of a water suit, and the attorneys for both sides were stripping themselves of several pounds of compressed eloquence which they had been burdened with for the past few weeks and wanted to get out of their systems.

At his desk toward the north wall of the room, the bailiff was reading some of the court records and wondering how long it would be before the florid faced man who sat near him would find it necessary to again scratch his ear.

Finds Supposed Bomb

Suddenly the bailiff moved his foot to insure a more comfortable position, and as he did so it struck something which responded with a dull, heavy sound. The bailiff is a descendant of a prominent house among the legislative nobility of Russia and in a flash the old stories told him of the horrible deaths meted out to some of his distant relatives flashed across his mind.

Burkhalter, Estella, Sue Hunter; Alicia, Edna Hedenberg; Nolita, Claribel Gordon; Francisca, Florine Holman; Espanita, Althea Salver; Mariana, Osa Copeland; friends of Bonita; Alphonso and Roberto, officers under Leopoldo, Douglas Brookman and Gilbert Case. Flower girls, fruit vendors, soldiers, sailors, etc.

The president of the Senior B class made the annual address and presented the Star and Crescent pins, the president of the Senior A class making the response. Class songs concluded the program.

BANQUET TO YOUNG DOCTORS

Faculty of College of Physicians and Surgeons Entertains Class

Members of the faculty of the College of Physicians and Surgeons tendered a banquet to the first graduating class of the institution last evening at the Lankershim hotel in the banquet room. Following the banquet a program of toasts was given and among the speakers were many prominent men of the city.

At 7 o'clock the members of the faculty, the graduating class and guests of honor assembled and partook of a sumptuous repast of nine courses. The tables were artistically arranged; the color scheme being red and white. Red carnations were used in profusion.

Dr. C. B. Nichols, toastmaster, introduced the first of the speakers. Addresses were made by Judge Smith, Earl Rogers, Judge Wilbur, Dr. Booth, W. H. Morton, Dr. Lenard, Dr. Ottwood, Dr. Schutes and members of the class.

MUST PUT UP CASH FOR PULLMAN BERTH

Travelers in Future Will Not Be Allowed to Make Reservations Without Ticket

Beginning with the first of July all Pullman reservations must be accompanied with the money for the berth. This action on the part of the Pullman Sleeping Car company has been necessitated because of the ever increasing failure on the part of the traveling public to claim berths after engaging them.

Slowly he looked and as his eyes gradually became accustomed to the gloom beneath his desk, he discovered the object of terror.

A vicious appearing little instrument of galvanized iron rested snugly against a corner of the desk. From one end of the bomb two small fuse wires, wrapped with prepared tape to make the bomb as effective in water as in air, appeared and as the officer looked closer one of the fuses seemed to be moving as though the slow train of powder was gradually working toward the heavy charge of dynamite.

The bailiff secured a short leave of absence and left the room. Nearly all the spectators were ranchmen and therefore used to being blown up, but the bailiff did not care to be initiated into the mysteries of the process. A quiet rest of a few minutes in the environs of the palace of Joseph, situated near the court house, restored him and he returned to see the effect of the explosion.

The bomb was still in its accustomed place and Clerk Jack Wright was searching through his desk in the hope of finding a piece of valuable evidence which is to be used in a trial within a few days and which, for safe keeping, he had placed beneath the bailiff's desk until he could lock it in a vault.

When called to the attention of Wright, the clerk eagerly clutched the once terrible bomb which, in fact, was a defective make of telephone battery, and hastened toward the vault with it.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA

Apollo Club Concert

The last concert of the season of the Apollo club will be given tonight at the Mason opera house, under the direction of Harry Barnhart. The soloists are Maude Reese-Davis, soprano; Estelle Catherine Heart, contralto; Harry Clifford Lott, baritone; Spencer Robinson, tenor. Miss Ada Showalter is the accompanist. The Apollo orchestra of fifty-six pieces will assist.

Following is the program: Introduction, orchestra; chorus, "Green Vale and Vine Clad Mountain"; recit. tenor, "And Through Earth's Bridal Chamber"; recit. soprano, "Oh! Hear, Thou King of Beauty"; recit. baritone, "Nay, Why Should All My Gladness"; duet, soprano and baritone, "The Roses of Love"; recit. baritone, "Lose Then, the Peace Forever"; duet, soprano and baritone, "Soon As the Mountain-Summits"; recit. tenor, "So Spake the Spring"; chorus, "A Maid More Beautiful Than May"; solo, soprano, "Bloom on, My Rose"; chorus, "Mid the Waving Rose Trees"; recit. soprano, "God Greet Thee"; scena, contralto, "Ask of Yon Ruined Castle"; "Yet Chime They So Sadly"; recit. tenor, "Alas! the Hand Is Thine"; chorus, "Oh! Earth-born Sorrow"; trio—soprano, contralto and baritone, "Hast Thou Wandered"; solo, baritone, "If Thou Hast Aught Beholden"; air, tenor, "The Sleep of Even"; recit. baritone, "Hark! Beneath Her Window"; duet, soprano and tenor, "I Know a Rose Bud Shining"; chorus, "Tis Thy Wedding Morning"; solo, baritone, "When Gloomy Pine Trees Rustle"; recit. tenor, "Far From the Summer Blossoms"; chorus, (male voices), "What Sounds There So Softly"; chorus (female voices), "Farewell, Sleep Thou Lightly"; finale (solo, tenor and chorus), "Yea E'en As Dies the Rose."

Earl Nelson, who is in his 83d year, is the only living peer who was a member of the house of lords when Queen Victoria came to the throne.

The cigar of pleasant memories—Las Palmas.

MOTHER-IN-LAW TOO MUCH HE SAYS

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES CARE FOR AGED WOMAN

TROUBLE IN THE FAMILY

Octogenarian Tells Officers That Her Son and Daughter Mistreated Her—They Deny the Allegation

The police department and associated charities were appealed to yesterday to settle the differences between Mrs. Amanda M. Kiger, eighty-five years old, and her son-in-law, W. A. Ransom, 667 Rampart street, and the woman is now in charge of the charity organization. It is the old, old story of a mother-in-law and a son-in-law who seem to be unable to agree upon many essentials to happy relations and the charity organization has taken the aged woman in charge as the seemingly best method of settling the differences between them.

Mrs. Kiger was born in 1820 "mid the green fields of Virginia" and is a sturdy specimen of proud aristocracy of the "south before the war" period. During the strife between the north and the south in the '60s, she linked her sympathies and fortunes with that of the Dixie land and still clings to the memory of the past with cherished fondness.

After the war she removed north of the Mason and Dixon line and for years resided in Springfield, Ill. Two months ago she accepted an invitation from her daughter, Mrs. Ransom, to make her home with the family in Los Angeles and the offer was accepted.

Differences are said to have arisen between the mother and daughter and the son-in-law it appears became involved to some extent. These differences culminated yesterday in the mother leaving the house and appealing to the police to aid her in finding another home.

The associated charities was notified and that organization has undertaken to provide for her wants.

Mrs. Kiger asserts that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

Mrs. Kiger says that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

ing to the police to aid her in finding another home.

The associated charities was notified and that organization has undertaken to provide for her wants.

Mrs. Kiger asserts that her daughter and son-in-law mistreated her. On the other hand, Ransom says that this is the third time his mother-in-law has attempted to break up his home and that, while she is welcome to return to his home whenever she desires, he is past begging her to return. To quote him, "It is a case of too much mother-in-law."

FLOOD DAMAGE AT IMPERIAL IS SEVERE

High Official of Southern Pacific Intimates Problem Is Difficult to Solve

J. H. Wallace, chief engineer of maintenance of way of the Southern Pacific, passed through Los Angeles yesterday on his return from El Paso to San Francisco. Mr. Wallace said he expected to have a report soon from Epes Randolph, who had been placed in charge of the investigating and solving of the Colorado river problem which has caused the road so much trouble near Yuma.

The recent floods of the Colorado have washed out several miles of road bed and now the company is seeking some solution whereby it can restrain the rampage of the river and make the road bed permanent.

Mr. Wallace said that the damage to the Imperial district by the flood is even greater than first reported, and that the canal in many places must be entirely rebuilt.

FIFTY-FOUR APPLICANTS FOR DENTAL LICENSES

State Board of Examiners Grading Papers and Results May Be Announced Today

Fifty-four applicants for licenses to practice dentistry in California have completed the examination required by the state board of dental examiners and the board is grading the papers.

Incidentally, the board yesterday dismissed the charges against several dentists who were said to be "irregular" in their practice and the affair is now considered a closed incident, although the findings of the board are left to inference rather than any facts made public.

Bull Fight

At Tia Juana
Sunday, July 2

By taking advantage of the San Diego Excursion of July 1st and 2d you can see the last of the Great Bull Fights in Tia Ju