

TEACH BOYS TO TELL THE TRUTH

JUDGE LINDSEY LECTURES TO WOMEN

TELLS OF DUTIES OF PARENTS

California Congress of Mothers at Venice Furnishes Program of Lectures on Practical Questions

"How to Make Bad Boys Good," the problem with which parents are wrestling every day, was the one for which Judge Ben. Lindsey of Denver offered some solutions yesterday morning at the second day's session of club women's week at the Venice assembly.

Judge Lindsey represented the California Congress of Mothers and before he finished speaking it was evident that his title was only to please the people for the judge does not believe that boys are bad.

He admits that there are a few bad boys, but declares that in comparison to the careless or bad parents, they are very few.

"Boys are often deceitful," said he, "when the ones really at fault are the parents. Some parents set their boys up on a pedestal and think they can do no wrong. If the boy commits a theft they would rather have him tell a lie and shut that lie up in his own heart than to have it known and so wound their pride."

Make Boys Truthful
"The best way to make a boy good is to make him truthful."

"The boy who will tell the truth to his mother and father is perfectly safe to go anywhere in any kind of company."

"When a boy commits an offense and is allowed to go out of the court with a successful lie in his heart, he has taken the first step toward the goal of a criminal. He can never get away from that unconquered lie."

Judge Lindsey told of his experiences in laboring for hours with boys to make them tell the truth, with final success, with the result that from that day the boy was his friend.

The speaker criticized the state of California for not having an adult responsibility clause in the juvenile court system, saying that while the juvenile court of Los Angeles is one of the best in the country, it can never have the influence which it should have until a law can be provided which will see to the punishment of the parent who sends his boy into a place where he should not go and the man who helps him into wicked ways.

"This law," said he, "is one of the most important features of the juvenile court system and Judge Wilbur is greatly hampered by the lack of it."

The Juvenile Improvement association was another feature which Judge Lindsey says is most helpful in developing the individuality of the child.

Women for Judges
"The position of juvenile court judge should not be restricted to lawyers. A teacher might make an excellent judge and I believe the time is coming when the best judges will be women. It is a woman's place as well as a man's, and the educator is the one for the place. The educator can do more to reduce crime than all the courts. When the schools and the courts go hand in hand we can skip everything in sight."

Miss Emma Greenleaf of the Cosmos club gave a review of Schley's "Forty-five Years Under the Flag," giving the dramatic history connected with the different expeditions which the author of the book made while serving his country.

The cruise of the Niagara to Japan in 1860, the cruise of the Thetis and the Bear to the Arctic regions to rescue Greely, the trip of the Baltimore to Sweden to carry the body of the inventor of the Monitor, John Ericsson, and the famous victory in Santiago bay.

In closing, Mrs. Greenleaf said:

"Something Doing"

"This is pre-eminently the golden age of the people who do things. 'Something doing' has come to be the slogan of America. Nobody is 'anybody,' unless he has done something, is doing something or gives promise of doing something."

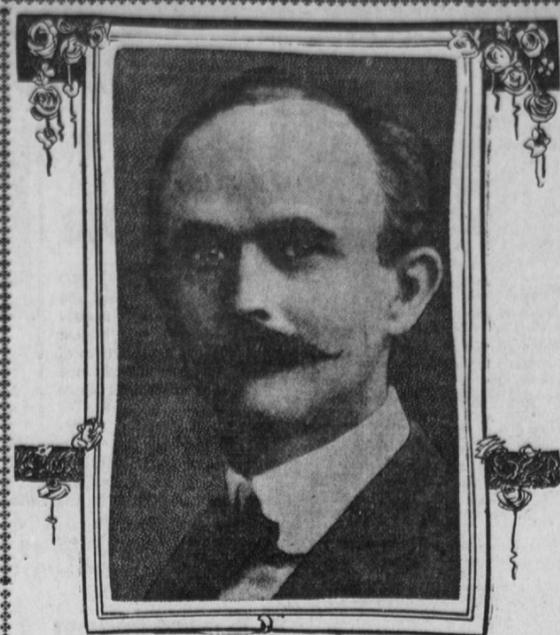

"Grant did things, Dewey did things and Schley did things. Therefore, the American people will ever honor them."

Mrs. J. A. Osgood made a gracious presiding officer for the day. Mrs. J. W. Hendrick will preside today.

Evening With Shakespeare

An evening with Shakespeare was what the club women presented last evening and the program was in charge of the Galpin Shakespeare club, with Mrs. Oliver F. Bryant as president.

Miss Gladys Edmond opened the program by giving a scene from "As You Like It" in a manner that brought forth much well merited applause. William J. Chick gave several delightful Shakespearean songs.

Culture, ethics and the standard of womanhood as they are found in the works of Shakespeare were the subjects discussed by three principal speakers of the evening, Mrs. W. T. S. Hammond, Miss Jessica Lawrence and Mrs. Lambert Elie.

Mrs. Hammond quoted Emerson as saying that "Shakespeare is our meter of culture" and her address was an enlargement of this idea.

"Intimacy with Shakespeare is not to be gained in a day," said she. "It is the work of a lifetime. Shakespeare lays bare the human soul when it is passing through its deepest experiences."

"Shakespeare gives renewed interest in life, renewed love for our fellow man, renewed courage and strength, until we believe with the poet that to know Shakespeare is to know life, humanity, art and thyself."

Miss Jessica Lawrence emphasized the ethical principles which Shakespeare reveals in his works.

Standard of Womanhood
In Mrs. Lambert Elie's address on "The Standard of Womanhood," the characters of different women portrayed by Shakespeare were analyzed.

"Shakespeare's women," said she, "range from the lowest depths of degradation and misery to the most exalted real life types. Shakespeare measured womanhood by the same standard that we measure it today. Truth, justice, charity and power to love were considered then as they are now. In proportion as they possess these qualities, have Shakespeare's women been an inspiration to the lives of those about them."

"Portia was spoken of as the new woman. Lady Macbeth as the life failure, Katherine of Aragon as the perfect wife, Juliet as a daughter true, Cordelia as an ideal of filial devotion and her sisters as the opposite."

ELKS WILL HOLD NEXT REUNION IN DENVER

Fifty Thousand Members of the Order Parade in Drizzling Rain, Watched by Crowds

By Associated Press. BUFFALO, N. Y., July 12.—The twentieth annual reunion of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks will be held in Denver in 1906. Perry of Denver led the winning fight. Denver received twice as many votes as Dallas, which made a strong fight, led by William H. Atwell, United States attorney there. Atlantic City had a few supporters.

Early in the day the whole city was astir, preparing for the great parade. It is estimated that 50,000 Elks marched over the wet streets. The long march was made in a drizzling rain, but the streets were lined with an eager throng that had to be held in check by wires along the entire line of march.

A session of the grand lodge was held tonight. An all-day's session is sure for tomorrow.

A bill has been submitted to the Belgian parliament providing for a complete reorganization of the defenses of Antwerp and immense improvements in its port accommodation. The total cost of the military works is estimated at more than $20,000,000.

TWELVE PERSONS SLAIN BY NEGRO

MURDERED BY STOWAWAY ON STEAMER

THE ASSASSIN IS CAPTURED

Tragedy Takes Place on the Bratten, Flying Between New Orleans and Honduras Ports

By Associated Press. NEW ORLEANS, July 12.—A shocking story of murder, with robbery as the motive, was brought to this city today by Captain Hans Holm of the Norwegian fruit steamer Bratten, which plies between New Orleans and Honduras ports. It was separately confirmed by the officers of the fruit steamer Rosina, which came in later in the evening with additional details. The little island of Utilia, lying off the Honduras coast and whose population is an indiscriminate mixture of whites, Caymanites and Caribs, was the scene of the tragedy in which twelve lives were sacrificed.

The captain of the schooner Olympia was about to make a trip to Ruatan, Truxillo and Belize. She was to buy cattle at Truxillo, to sell at Belize. She carried a crew of four and quite a number of passengers, making the total list of people aboard number thirteen. Among these were two women and two children.

The vessel left the harbor at Utilia at 11 o'clock Friday night, June 30, and after she had been under way less than an hour everybody was aroused by a shot, and rushing on deck found a negro armed with a rifle shooting down the men one after another. This negro was Robert McGill, and as it afterward developed, he had stowed away on board with the intention of robbing the captain and then swimming ashore.

After he had killed all but one of the men he ordered the last survivor to go below and scuttle the ship. When the unfortunate reappeared on deck and reported, the negro shot him dead. He then put the two women, Miss Elsie Morgan and her sister, Mrs. Walter Rose, in the dory with Mrs. Rose's six weeks' old infant, steering for the mainland. He changed his mind about allowing the women to live and killed Mrs. Rose and her infant. Then he began shooting at Miss Morgan, who had leaped overboard and wounded her in the arm. He fired at her ineffectually but his ammunition evidently gave out, for he promised immunity from harm if she would come back to the dory. She started back and when within an oar's length he struck her on the head with an oar, stunning her. Believing she was dead, he rowed away toward the mainland.

Miss Morgan swam back to the island, where she was thrown on the beach in an exhausted condition. She feared that the negro would follow her, so she hid in the bushes and for two days suffered from the heat and exposure until found by a woman from the neighborhood and rescued from starvation.

In the meantime the dory had been washed ashore and there was great excitement on the island, as it was believed the Olympia had gone down with all hands.

When Miss Morgan told her story an immediate search was instituted for McGill and the authorities on the mainland were notified. They caught him at El Porvenir, a little town on the road to Ceiba, and there was a demonstration, but he was protected and his life was saved through the presence of President Bonilla, who was on an inspection tour.

The Honduran warship La Tumbala was brought into service and the murderer placed aboard and sent back to the island. Up to last Sunday he was still alive, though it is firmly believed that he will be tortured to death. The laws of Honduras prohibit the infliction of capital punishment, but the people will take the case into their own hands. Miss Elsie Morgan, the only survivor of the terrible experience, visited New Orleans three years ago and is a well educated, refined woman of 25 years.

Collins told a fellow passenger on the train that he was taking his wife to Canada for the benefit of her health. At the same time he gave this passenger, who had been made aware of his identity in advance, an assumed name.

GEN. BLACKMAR'S TRIP NORTH IS POSTPONED

By Associated Press. BOSTON, July 12.—It was announced at the Grand Army headquarters here today that, owing to the illness of Commander-in-Chief W. W. Blackmar, his proposed visit to the encampment in Washington state and Alaska has been canceled. General Blackmar is at Boise, Idaho, under the care of a physician. Adjutant-General John E. Gilman received a telegram today from Mrs. Blackmar, stating that her husband's condition was favorable.

TWENTY INJURED BY ITALIAN'S MISTAKE

By Associated Press. CINCINNATI, July 12.—Nearly twenty Italian track laborers were injured, three probably fatally, in an accident today near Baldwin, Ohio. In preparing a mess of spaghetti for the Italians the cook called for more water. The man called secured two bucketsful of gasoline and poured them into the kettle, and an explosion followed.

THE SOLDIER-ACTOR

Knows the Value of Peru-na By Many Experiences.

In some points the soldier and the actor have similar experiences. Both are frequently put to test to the full extent of their abilities; both are subject to constant changes and new environments; both are exposed to climate in peculiar ways.

These are not the only points of agreement. Both regard Peru-na as the greatest medicine in the world to prevent catarrhal ailments and to cure catarrhal ills already acquired.

The actor and the soldier are among Peru-na's best friends. Therefore, the Soldier-Actor not only understands the merits of Peru-na in military campaign, but the usefulness of Peru-na to the one who must stand before the footlights every night and face large and critical audiences.

Mortimer Kaphan, the Soldier-Actor, who organized the Soldier's Actor Company which fought in the late Spanish-American War, writes from 1331 Broadway, New York City:

"Being subject to colds and catarrh of the head, I have always resorted to the use of Peru-na, which I have never known to fail to accomplish a speedy cure. I never go on the road without a bottle of the same."

An Army Officer

William T. Johnson, Ex-Capt. U. S. A., writes from Tacoma Park, D. C.: "Please put me down as a thorough believer in Peru-na as a catarrh remedy and as a tonic good for the effects not only of that obnoxious disease, but to tone up the system that has been overtaxed or run down by continued strain, either physical or mental."

What Carleton Macy Says

Mr. Carleton Macy, a prominent actor who has starred successfully for several seasons, sends the following from 146 22d Street, New York City: "I consider Peru-na a great remedy for catarrh. Typhoid fever had left me with chronic catarrh of the bowels. I was induced to try Peru-na and in a month's time I was in a normal state again."

More Than $500 of Stock

The people of Los Angeles can now buy bank stock at only $5 per share. No one will be allowed to purchase more than $500 of stock. Capital is to be increased to $500,000, making a bank of a thousand small stockholders, thereby becoming the people's bank of Los Angeles. The Consolidated Bank of Los Angeles has decided to place its stock with the people, believing that in securing a thousand stockholders it will secure a thousand depositors at the same time. Investors can purchase such stock with absolute safety as to perfect security, and realize a handsome profit therefrom, as has been done by the owners of stock in the various other banks of Los Angeles. This is the only opportunity ever offered the general public to buy stock in a Los Angeles bank at $5 per share. We would rather have 5000 stockholders of $100 each than 1000 of $500 each. We want the greatest number of stockholders, as the more stockholders there are the stronger the bank. All stock fully paid up at Five Dollars per share. Purchasers can buy from 1 to 100 shares at $5 per share, but no one can buy more than $500 of stock. Subscription books just opened. Purchasers can subscribe for 100 shares and pay for the same in weekly payments of Five Dollars, and receive one share of paid-up stock as each $5 payment is made. Searching Facts From Searchlight

Naturally the first consideration to the investor in mining propositions is the holdings of the company.

The property of the Searchlight Treasurer Gold Mining company is right in the heart of the great mineral producing belt of Searchlight, Nev. The property is located on the extensions and immediately adjoining the great wealth bearing veins of the Duplex company's mines, and only a few hundred feet from the Quartette, Good Hope and Cyrus Noble properties, all of which are well known to the public as big producers and making their stockholders wealthy. In fact so near the very center of this great district is the property that a portion of the town of Searchlight is on the company's claims, including some of the large stores that are now becoming important factors in distributing supplies for this rapidly growing district.

The directors purchased the property outright and have shown their confidence in its merit by having the deed pass to the company and they accept the stock of the company in payment therefor, thus starting the company out with clear property, clear title, no debts, no complications; so the company can begin its shaft with the first dollar received from sale of stock. The names of the directors is sufficient guarantee for the able, honest and careful manner in which the development of the property will be made.

MAKING EFFORTS FOR COLLINS' EXTRADITION

San Francisco Grand Jury Summoned to Indict Him for Perjury as Extraditable Offense

By Associated Press. SAN FRANCISCO, July 12.—The local police are convinced that George D. Collins and his second wife fled to Victoria, B. C., and, as it is believed that the lawyer cannot be extradited for trial for alleged bigamy, it has been decided to indict him for perjury. Judge Lawler summoned the grand jury to meet in special session tomorrow and it is said that the indictment for perjury will be made at that time. Under the treaty with Canada, perjury is an extraditable offense.

The indictment will be based on Collins' testimony that Charlotta Collins was not his wife. This testimony was given in the wife's suit for maintenance.

Pending the outcome of the operations instituted to bring Collins back to face a court of justice, the police authorities are devoting their attention to Mrs. Sarah A. McCurdy, who, they believe, is undoubtedly in hiding near this city.

Governor Pardee was on the train that took Collins and Clarice McCurdy to Portland. The governor saw Collins on the train Saturday afternoon after the state of Oregon had been entered and remarked his presence. It appears that the suspicions of the governor were not aroused, as he took no steps to notify the authorities of the movements of the bigamist and made no inquiries.

Collins told a fellow passenger on the train that he was taking his wife to Canada for the benefit of her health. At the same time he gave this passenger, who had been made aware of his identity in advance, an assumed name.
