

GOOD AUDIENCES AT CHAUTAUQUA BEGINS SECOND WEEK WITH LARGE ATTENDANCE FEATURES FILL PROGRAMS

Dr. Gonsaulus Bids Farewell to the Assembly in His Lecture on "Oliver Cromwell and His Times"

Opening sessions of the second week of the Long Beach Chautauqua were well patronized and an exceptional program was rendered.

Rev. R. T. Shepherds, superintendent of missions of the Christian church of California, was in charge of the Bible hour and spoke extensively upon the subject of missions.

Under the head of Child Study Mr. Crosswell took for his subject "Adolescence," treating of the boy and girl of twelve to twenty years of age.

In the art class, Mrs. Malcolm MacLeod has a very interesting group of pupils and it is to be regretted that there is not a suitable studio at the command of the management of the Chautauqua to give them adequate room for their study.

A new entertainer was introduced—a reader of no mean ability—Miss Enid Behymer, a member of the Dobinson school. Her selection was "Papa and the Boy," a cute and laughable story rendered in a most excellent manner by the young lady.

The lecture for the afternoon was a fitting farewell for Dr. Gonsaulus, "Oliver Cromwell and His Times." A splendid work in its diction and striking in its eloquent summing up of the results that have come from Oliver Cromwell's influence in history.

For the evening preludes, the opening number was a soprano solo, "Praise of Tears," from Schubert by Josephine Brown, a Long Beach young woman of exceptional talent.

Miss Luella E. Davis was heard in a soprano solo, "Were My Songs With Wings Provided." The preludes were followed by one of the dramatic events of the sessions—Mrs. Edward H. Kemp of San Francisco in a dramatic reading of Henryk Sienkiewicz's wonderful historical romance, "Quo Vadis."

NEW YORK CROWDED WITH WORSHIPPING ITALIANS

Many Travel Miles Barefoot to Celebrate Feast of Our Lady at Mount Carmel

NEW YORK, July 17.—More than 100,000 Italians today congregated in the "Little Italy" of Harlem to celebrate the Feast of Our Lady at Mount Carmel. They came from as far east as Boston and as far west as Pittsburg.

All day was spent in semi-religious festivities. About the colony were scattered altars of wood and tinsel before which Italians knelt in the streets and on which many of them laid wax reproductions of fingers, limbs or other parts of the body which the prayer to the saint would heal.

At a street parade the rear end was made up of barefooted women and children carrying candles, melting under the combined heat of their own light and the sun. Candles, many of which were expensive importations from Italy, were an important part of the festival and it is estimated that more than seven tons of them were used today.

Hundreds of pilgrims from out-of-town were forced to live in the streets, and 300 patrolmen were detailed to preserve order.

LOS ANGELES GIRL PARTICIPATES IN CHAUTAUQUA

ETHEL LUCRETIA OLCOTT

MISSIONARY OBLIGED TO REFUSE PRESENT

Could Not Accept Property for Mission in China Because People Wanted Idol Worship

NEW YORK, July 17.—To have to refuse the unconditional gift of a building and property estimated to be worth $2000 because of a belief that trouble might be caused among some of the people, was the unpleasant experience of the Rev. A. R. Kepler, a missionary under the Presbyterian foreign board at Soochow, China.

The building was an old temple and was offered to the missionaries by the trustees in order that a day school might be opened there. All the plans were made for the transfer. The mission was to have entire charge of the estate, which has an income of about $300 a year, and the children of the vicinity were to have free tuition, those from other districts paying small fees.

The people who own the temple offered it without solicitation, because they wanted the property used for the education of their children; and it was offered to the missionaries because it was believed that all the income would be used for the purpose, none finding its way to private pockets.

Opposition came from the officials and the gentry of the district in which the temple is. They have no control over it and could not prevent its transfer, but they wanted idol worship continued there, and represented to Mr. Kepler that riot and disturbance on a small scale might result if the missionaries took the property, as people of neighboring villages would seriously object to the change.

To avoid any possibility of trouble the plans for a school were abandoned. Mr. Kepler reports to the officers of the board here that no end of lawsuits and persecutions (imagined and real) might have resulted, and the missionaries decided to keep on the safe side.

"A Household Remedy Of Superior Value," IS DR. McLEWIN'S ESTIMATE OF PE-RU-NA.

DR. E. McLEWIN.

This Prominent Physician Knows From Personal Observation the Curative Properties of PE-RU-NA

PE-RU-NA Popular With the Masses of People

Dr. Ernest McLewin, 115 Archibald street, Ottawa, Can., writes: "I have had ample opportunity to observe the curative value of Peruna, especially in chronic cases of catarrh of the head, respiratory organs, or stomach."

"Catarrh is, as a rule, simply a prolonged cold which affects the mucous membranes of the lungs, or the parts affected."

"Peruna is an effective remedy, as it acts on the vaso-motor system of nerves."

"It increases the tone of the blood vessels and causes them to act in their normal, healthy condition."

"I have been much pleased with the cure that has come under my notice, and am satisfied that you have placed a remedy before the suffering which is at once valuable, reliable and destined to become very popular with the great masses of people who have small means and want to secure a remedy which they can depend upon."

"I therefore consider it a household remedy of superior value."

Occasionally a doctor who discovers the benefits of Peruna is willing to make a public statement of the same.

Dr. McLewin of Ottawa, Can., is one of these doctors.

His testimonial consists of a short, concise description of the effects of Peruna upon the human system.

It should be read with care by those who are interested in Peruna.

As a remedy for catarrhal ailments in all phases and varieties, Peruna has no equal in the world.

TRAIL OF MURDERERS BAFFLES THE SEARCHERS

Six Suspects Have Been Examined, but None is Identified as the Slayer

GLOBE, Ariz., July 17.—Stimulated by the reward a large number of scouts, deputies and volunteers are scouring the country between Livingston and Bowie for traces of the murderers of Plunkett and Kennedy. Six suspects have been examined at the county jail, but not one could be identified. The original clue has proved faulty, and the scouts and trappers have been started back to the point of beginning and the work must all be done over.

Only one man, Eugene Shute, brother-in-law of Plunkett, is really able to identify the two men who worked on the ranch. The Indian trailer who landed Blevins in the famous bullion robbery of some years ago has taken the trail and he has never yet failed to find his man.

It is understood that from Union station on to Calistoga the California Northwestern will use the tracks of the Southern Pacific company. Through trains will be run from Calistoga to Napa and to San Francisco, cutting the present rates and making the time of trains less than at present.

Her majesty delivered a speech, outlining the objects of the organization and appealing to the women of the empire to take up the work. In time of peace, she said, the society would act separately from the war office and the admiralty, but would be under the control of these departments in time of war.
