

PASADENA SEES BUILDING BOOM

GROWING IN DIRECTION OF ALTADENA
MANY NEW HOUSES BEGUN
By the Time Annexation is Accomplished the Two Places Will Be Solidly Built Together

PASADENA, July 23.—Pasadena is not only spreading east and west, but northward there is an unprecedented boom in building homes by people who in the main are new comers and are preparing to stay.

The purchase of a 25-foot lot adjoining 112 West Colorado street by Don Porter and others means the erection of another two-story brick building for that section of the city, and the work will begin as soon as plans are completed.

John Bates is drying his apricot crop at his place on North Los Robles avenue. He reports a fair yield from two orchards and he expects to make quite a large shipment.

Mrs. W. A. White has taken out a permit to make repairs to her six-room cottage at 249 North Marengo, to cost $3000.

Miss Blanche Rousselot, a guest at the Vista del Arroyo, has purchased two lots in the Marathon Heights tract and she will erect a studio and home.

Miss S. F. Austin is to erect a ten-room residence on Palmetto drive near Orange Grove avenue. Architect W. B. Edwards is now drawing the plans.

Company I. N. G. C., has arranged to dedicate its new armory with a military ball on Tuesday evening, August 1.

Mrs. M. A. Ward died at Sierra Madre last night and will be buried at Monrovia tomorrow.

POWER COMPANY MAKES IMPROVEMENTS
Ventura People Are Assured of Better Water and Lighting Service

Special to The Herald.
VENTURA, July 23.—Roy Meyers, son of Sim Meyers, proprietor of Matilija Hot Springs, was kicked by a horse Friday night and suffered a broken arm.

The Ventura Water, Light and Power company is making many needed improvements to its systems here. A new storage reservoir of 2,000,000 gallons capacity is being built on the avenue. It is estimated that this full will supply the city for one week, so that when the river is high in winter this resource may be used while the river is clearing up.

The Polli street pumping plant has been strengthened by a new electric pump to force water to the eastern portion of town. New arc lights of the latest pattern are to be installed. Other minor improvements will be made.

Buena Ventura parlor, Native Daughters, held installation of officers last night. District Deputy Grace Sharpe of Los Pimientos parlor, Santa Paula, conducted the ceremonies. The following officers were installed: Maud McGonigle, president; Mable Blackstock, past president; Lillian Bennett, second vice-president; Minnie Daly, third vice-president; Helen Nidever, recording secretary; Cora McGonigle, financial secretary; Emma Bigg, treasurer; Addie Gandolfo, marshal; Dora Rofferto, inside sentinel; Hattie Ley, outside sentinel; Ida Dawe, organist; Julia Hook, Edith Foster and Belle Cullinan, trustees. VENETIANS PLAN TO ERECT GREAT FOUNTAIN
Subscription Lists Opened for Magnificent Memorial Structure on Canals

Special to The Herald.
VENICE, July 23.—Plans are being drawn for the $50,000 fountain to be erected on the Venetian canals and a subscription list has been started by a number of leading business men to pay for the improvement. The monument is to be raised in honor of the men who have made the dream of Venice a reality and is to be electric lighted throughout. Names of the signers of the subscription list are to be engraved on the tablet at the fountain's base.

Today's program at Venice included a remarkable sermon by Ng Poon Chew, the Chinese editor who so signally defeated Rev. Father Rader in the debate upon the Chinese exclusion act. Ng Poon Chew took for his subject the "Message of the Religions of China."

Today's crowd at Venice was the greatest that the Los Angeles Pacific has handled since the rush of the Fourth of July, and is estimated at 20,000 people.
The program for Suffrage day, August 1, at the Venice assembly is announced to include Rev. Anna D. Shaw, president of the National Suffrage association. In the evening Mrs. Shaw will give a lecture instead of a debate as was previously announced.

Mrs. Susan B. Anthony and her sister, Miss May Anthony, are expected to arrive on July 27.

SANTA MONICA LOOKS FOR COUNTER BOOM
Rumors Afloat That Clarke Interests Are to Inaugurate Period of Activity

SANTA MONICA, July 23.—Since the announcement of the Huntington operation on the south coast, a rumor of counter activity on the part of Clarke has agitated the realty market around Santa Monica. Sales are brisk and prices have stiffened materially. There is also a persistent rumor afloat that Huntington is interested in the sale recently made by Mrs. Arcadia de Baker of 30,000 acres to the Arcadian syndicate.

More sales have been reported during the last fifteen days than have previously been made in the same number of months. J. C. Porter has bought 3 1/2 acres lying between Colorado street and the street railway track, and intends to subdivide. H. W. Keller has sold the Windemere on Ocean Front to Mrs. Borde. Mr. Keller also sold his property at the corner of Oregon avenue and Ocean Front to Mrs. Wilson.

Fishing along the wharves has been unusually good during the last three days, mackerel and pompano being taken in large numbers.
The Santa Monica marines gave an exhibition drill at Venice this afternoon, after which they were entertained at a banquet at the Ship Hotel. "Hotel del Coronado" rates, $17.50 and up.

A CLEANLY AGE
Twentieth Century Ideas Incline Toward Sanitation and Preventatives

Nowadays scientists believe that in cleanliness lies the secret of prevention of diseases.
To prevent a disease remove the cause.
Just as unclean habits breed many diseases, so careless habits will breed dandruff. Improper use of another's brushes, combs, etc., will surely cause dandruff, and, in time, will just as surely cause disease.

It's a microscopic infection, nothing more nor less.
Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ, and causes hair to grow luxuriantly. Herpicide is absolutely free from grease or other injurious substances. Sold by leading druggists. Send for stamps for sample to The Herpicide company, Detroit, Mich.

BIG PARTY IS VISITING COAST
GILLISPIE TOURISTS REACH SANTA BARBARA COUNTY EXPENSE FIGURES

Special to The Herald.
SANTA BARBARA, July 23.—The W. A. Gillispie tourist party, consisting of fifty-four people, mainly from Philadelphia and New York, reached the city yesterday morning in two private Pullman cars attached to No. 10. The Gillispie tourists are on a six weeks' trip to the Pacific coast and through the main resorts of the western states. They are in charge of T. E. Davis of Washington, D. C. They came over the Canadian Pacific and down the coast through Portland and San Francisco, and after a stop of half a day in this city went on to Los Angeles, from whence they will go north again to the Yellowstone.

Santa Barbara county's administrative establishment is reaching large proportions. With this year's figures, just compiled by Auditor Schauer, the county passes the half million dollar mark in receipts and expenditures. Of this amount nearly $175,000 is spent for educational maintenance of the schools and the construction of new school buildings. The total allowance for the fiscal year 1903-4 was $427,676.61, under a tax rate of $1.85. The allowance for the present fiscal year is $508,513.05, under a tax rate of $1.85. The tax rate has been as high as $2 in former years.

Farmers who were in the city yesterday report that the damp weather which has been prevalent here lately has been very beneficial to the bean crop, and the present outlook is that this year's crop will be the best in the history of the valley.
Bert Nidever, the only Santa Barbara representative on the Bennington at the time of the disaster in San Diego harbor, has been heard from and is safe. He was on the boat at the time of the explosion, but escaped without a scratch. His family now reside at Los Angeles, but he has relatives in Santa Barbara, among them a cousin, Grant Leslie of the postoffice force.

LIGHTNING BOLT STARTS FIRE IN KITCHEN STOVE
Goes Down Chimney of Connecticut House and Ignites Kindling

MERIDEN, Conn., July 23.—In a hard thunderstorm last evening the lightning came down the chimney of Alderman W. A. Penfield's house at 49 Randolph avenue, and set fire to some wood and paper that were in the kitchen stove.
There had been no fire in the stove, Mr. Penfield says, for a week or more, and the cooking for the family had all been done on a gas range. Some loose wood, waste paper, etc., had been put into the box and a paper spread over the top of the stove.
The first intimation the occupants of the house had of the prank of the lightning was when they smelled smoke. Some one hastened to the kitchen at once and found that the paper on top of the stove had begun to smoulder. A further investigation showed that a fire was burning briskly in the stove.

In the shower no exceptionally loud clap of thunder was heard by those in the house, but neighbors remember a sharp flash of lightning. The fact that a bolt entered the chimney, ignited the fire and did not disturb the occupants of the house is regarded as marvelous.

IMMENSE TREE FALLS ON BROOKLYN BABY
Rescuers Chop Half an Hour, Then Infant Awakes and Says "Goo"

Special to The Herald.
NEW YORK, July 23.—A Brooklyn baby slept for half an hour yesterday evening while men chopped vigorously at the branches of an immense mulberry tree that had fallen and pinned the baby in its carriage and three women to the ground.

The tree was a mighty one about fifty feet high, and its branches stretched fifteen feet on each side of the trunk. For thirty-five years it had stood in front of 47 Cranberry street, Brooklyn. When it suddenly toppled and fell with a crash last night there were a score or more of children at play around it.
Mrs. Charles Stanley of 76 High street stood in the courtyard of No. 47 with a carriage containing her ten-month-old baby. With her were her two sisters, Agnes and Mary Ryan. The three women were imprisoned by the branches of the tree, but were extricated without injury, although they were slightly shocked.
Policeman Daniel F. Haggerty of the Fulton street station was near by and saw the tree falling. With a whoop he dashed across the street, scattering the children right and left. Two of the children stumbled and fell but Haggerty picked them up and tossed them out of the way of the falling tree.
He then stumbled himself and was caught by the tree just enough to have the heel taken off his shoe and his clothes torn. When he found that the baby was pinned under the tree Haggerty first called an ambulance and then got an ax. Aided by several men he chopped for half an hour.

So still and quiet did the child lie that the rescuers thought it was dead. When they had chopped away the branches and the ambulance surgeon was lifting the baby to examine it the baby opened its eyes, stretched itself, and yawned "Goo." It hadn't a scratch and had slept through all the excitement.
Louis Cross, who planted the tree thirty-five years ago, lives at 45 Cranberry street. He said that several days ago a gang of men employed by the sewer department dug up the street and he thinks that they cut the roots away from the tree.

GRAVEYARD CAUSES MORGAN SEPARATION
Wife Dotes on Historic Mansion and Mausoleum, but Husband Finds Them Extremely Gloomy

Special to The Herald.
RYE, N. Y., July 23.—Warner M. Van Norden, banker of New York, has purchased the historical Jay mansion, on the Boston post road near this town. The mansion was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. D. Percy Morgan until they separated about a year ago.
The testimony offered by Mrs. Morgan in her suit for a decree of separation showed that the old mansion was one of the main causes of their disagreement. Mrs. Morgan wanted to live in the mansion, because it was once the home of John Jay, a signer of the Declaration of Independence.
Every season she entertained numerous charitable societies there, showing them among other things the grave of John Jay, which is in a private cemetery just back of the house.
Mr. Morgan cared nothing about the historical associations. He said the neighborhood was entirely too gloomy for him, and he wanted Mrs. Morgan to reside in New Jersey. When she refused absolutely, he kidnaped the children, which was one of the acts of cruelty alleged in Mrs. Morgan's complaint.

STUDENT STEALS GO-ED'S CLOTHES
EMBARRASSES FAIR SWIMMER AT YALE
MIXED BATHING TABOOED

Special to The Herald.
NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 23.—Because Edwin Clapp, the Yale hurdler, masqueraded in the clothing of one of the pretty co-eds of the Yale summer school, who was in swimming in the gymnasium pool, the faculty has decided to abolish "mixed bathing."
A member of the faculty said today: "We permitted men and women students to bathe in the tank at the gymnasium because we thought there was no more harm in it than in their bathing together at the seashore. Nothing really bad happened, but some of the young men have become decidedly 'fresh' and we have concluded that it would be unwise to allow the practice to continue."
Clapp is one of the summer school faculty. He was in swimming when one of the women bathers dared him to don her clothes. Clapp "took the dare," marched into the office of the gymnasium director, where he impersonated a woman so well that he fooled the director. Then he went to an ice cream saloon and was arrested by a policeman who said a pair of trousers protruded below the skirt.

Since then some of the students, incited by the example of their instructor, have "ducked" some of the pretty co-eds and this had led to unpleasantness.

RUSH FOR NEW BILLS ANNOYS GOVERNMENT
Demand for Crisp Notes Causes Sub-Treasury to Restrict Issue

Special to The Herald.
WASHINGTON, July 22.—There has been such a rush for new bills at the sub-treasury recently that Assistant Treasurer Fish has been compelled to restrict the issue, except in cases of absolute necessity.
Some banks and trust companies have been advertising that they pay new money to their depositors, and the fact has grown so that it has positively become embarrassing to the government. Mr. Fish has found that bills were deliberately mutilated in order to force the government to exchange them for new notes. The mutilation was detected, however, and redemption was refused.
The institution in question was forced to paste the parts of the bills together in order to circulate them. Mr. Fish says he does not attribute the demand for new money to fear of germs; he thinks it is only a fad.

PENNYPACKER IS ANGLERS' ENEMY
PENNSYLVANIA'S GOVERNOR A PURITAN
STOPS ALL SUNDAY FISHING

Workers Complain They Have No Opportunity to Enjoy Sport
Week Days—Many Arrests Made
Special to The Herald.
READING, Pa., July 23.—Fish Warden Will J. Keffer yesterday made a crusade against Sunday fishermen along Tulpehocken creek, one of the favorite resorts for anglers in Berks county. He caught twenty persons enjoying the sport. The fishermen were scattered on both sides of the stream.
Those arrested gave bail before Magistrate Kreider for a hearing.
Keffer, on his way along the banks of the Tulpehocken, met a number of fishermen on their way home with baskets filled with fish, but they were unbothered. Only those caught in the act of fishing were taken in. Anglers in this section are very much incensed over the affair.

Governor Pennypacker is back of the movement to have the law on Sunday fishing enforced. Anglers say that he can't fish, and for this reason he doesn't like to see any one else enjoy it. Many of those arrested are obliged to work and claim that the only day they have for fishing is the Sabbath.
The governor insisted that Fish Commissioner W. E. Meehan act in the matter. The latter's letter to Keffer led to a similar raid on fishermen along the Perkiomen a week ago.

$7500 FINE OR 61 YEARS FOR SELLING LIQUOR
Vermont Man Finds It Doesn't Pay to Violate Local Option Law

Special to The Herald.
MONTPELIER, Vt., July 23.—That it doesn't pay to be caught violating the new local option liquor law in this state has been found out by one man who has been fined $7500. If he doesn't pay up he will be sent to the house of correction in Rutland, where he will be forced to polish marble and make himself otherwise useful for sixty-one years.
The law provides for a fine of $300 for every illegal sale, and when William Caulstone, former proprietor of the Colburn house at Manchester, was convicted in the Bennington county court of making twenty-five sales, Justice Rowell ordered him to pay a fine of $7500.

By a legislative oversight no provision was made in the license law for limiting the alternative sentence in jail, and there was nothing left for the justice to do but notify Caulstone that in case he could not or would not pay he would have to serve three days for every dollar, or 22,500 days. With a percentage deducted for good behavior this would amount to sixty-one years.

SEARCHERS DISCOVER TREASURE OF MISERS
Last of Three Cleveland Brothers Dies, Carefully Concealing Secret of Their United Wealth

Special to The Herald.
CLEVELAND, O., July 23.—Waded into ancient leather pocketbooks so tightly that some were bursting with the pressure and tucked away into twenty different compartments the hoarded wealth of the three Meach brothers, hermits, was found today at Rochester. A Cleveland expert forced the door of the old safe and drew forth nearly $25,000 in bank notes and securities.
There were three brothers—John, Jarvis and Loren—and they lived together, none ever marrying. Two years ago four burglars entered their house and bound and gagged the brothers. While they were trying to blow open the safe, John released himself and killed two of the burglars and wounded another. Then the brothers vowed never to disclose the location of their wealth, and John, the last of them, died two weeks ago, carrying the secret to the grave.
It is known that the brothers had some gold, and now the trustees of the estate will dig on the farm in hopes of finding more wealth.

ITALIAN LAD ROBS CHURCH POOR BOXES
Philadelphia Sexton Captures Boy Who Ingeniously Extracted Coins From Contribution Cases

Special to The Herald.
PHILADELPHIA, July 23.—By leaping over about a dozen pews, one at a time, in the Catholic Church of the Assumption in Spring Garden street, near Twelfth, and running almost two squares, James Mooney, the sexton of the church, succeeded yesterday in capturing Herbert Lilli, a young Italian of Eighth and Montrose streets, whom he saw robbing a poor box in the church.
Mooney was hiding back of a confessional watching for a thief who had robbed several poor boxes in the church, when he saw Lilli at work.
"The method which was used by Lilli to get the money from the poor box was a novel one, which he said was taught him by another Italian, who is now in jail under sentence for robbing poor boxes.
The method requires the use of a thin, flat piece of wire similar to a corset stay, and some shoemaker's wax. The wire is first made sticky with the wax and then inserted in the slot of the poor box. Coins or bills in the box stick to the wire, and it is then an easy matter to extract them.

Lilli was arraigned before Magistrate Koehersperger. In his possession was $14.50, and upon all the money were traces of wax. Lilli was held in $500 bail for trial.

BABY TALKS FINNISH AND ALARMS MOTHER
Pennsylvania Parent Thinks Infant Has Throat Trouble Because She Speaks Scandinavian Tongue

Special to The Herald.
MONESSEN, Pa., July 23.—For a long time Mrs. Jules Ashland has been alarmed because her 3-year-old daughter, Marie, has uttered no word that any one could understand. She feared that the child had some throat trouble. The little one jabbered all the time but it was all unintelligible.
Mrs. Ashland is an invalid and had never been much in the baby's company. Her husband is a traveling man and away from home most of the time. Little Marie has spent all of her three years under the care of a Finnish nurse.
So alarmed did the mother become over the matter that last week she called in a throat specialist to examine Marie. It happened that the specialist understood the Finnish language and the first thing that he heard on entering the house was little Marie delivering a tirade against her mother because she would not talk to her.
The doctor diagnosed the case in an instant. The nurse always had talked to the baby in Finnish and that was the tongue little Marie had learned. There was no one about her to teach her English, the mother having been very ill when she started to talk. Finnish was the only thing she knew.

The nurse is looking for a new place, while Marie is learning to say "papa" and "mamma" under the tutelage of an American girl.

Executive Shows Brilliant Form Decisively Defeating Local Champions in Series of Games

Special to The Herald.
LINCOLN, Neb., July 23.—Gov. J. H. Mickey today put in three hours defeating the local horseshoe pitching champion. The governor, with J. T. Derby, was victorious over the governor's secretary, A. B. Allen and Deputy State Auditor George Anthes by a score of 2 to 1.
Messrs. Allen and Anthes have defeated local players at quilts in numerous contests, and today, owing to the stifling heat, office work was suspended for the contest, which occurred in the rear of the governor's mansion.
The governor had not played a game before in twenty years.

Bank Stock for Sale
At Only $5 Per Share
Plan to Secure 1000 Stockholders.
No One Allowed to Purchase More Than $500 of Stock

The people of Los Angeles can now buy bank stock at only $5 per share. No one will be allowed to purchase more than $500 of stock. Capital is to be increased to $500,000, making a bank of a thousand small stockholders, thereby becoming the people's bank of Los Angeles. The Consolidated Bank of Los Angeles has decided to place its stock with the people, believing that in securing a thousand stockholders it will secure a thousand depositors at the same time. Investors can purchase such stock with absolute safety as to perfect security, and realize a handsome profit therefrom, as has been done by the owners of stock in the various other banks of Los Angeles. This is the only opportunity ever offered the general public to buy stock in a Los Angeles bank at $5 per share. We would rather have 5000 stockholders of $100 each than 1000 of $500 each. We want the greatest number of stockholders, as the more stockholders there are the stronger the bank. All stock fully paid up at Five Dollars per share. Purchasers can buy from 1 to 100 shares at $5 per share, but no one can buy more than $500 of stock. Subscription books just opened. Purchasers can subscribe for 100 shares and pay for the same in weekly payments of Five Dollars, and receive one share of paid-up stock at each $5 payment is made. We want the people to become the stockholders in the people's bank of Los Angeles. Officers: William H. Carlson (ex-mayor of the city of San Diego), president; J. G. Estadillo (ex-state treasurer of California), first vice president; F. H. Dixon (ex-state harbor commissioner of California), second vice president; A. W. Carver, cashier. PROVES SHE DID NOT DIE THIRTY YEARS AGO
Special to The Herald.
READING, Pa., July 22.—That Mrs. Matilda von Linden (nee Sarg) was declared not dead by the Berks county orphans' court today, and that she is to soon come into possession of an inheritance of $50 left to her by a relative in 1897, are due to the finding by the woman of a copy of The North American in a railway station at Jersey City.
In the paper was an item referring to the case of Matilda Sarg, who it was then believed had been dead thirty years.
Mrs. von Linden was fully recognized by her aunt, Mary Arnold, to whom the money was about to be paid. The woman had not seen each other in forty-five years. Mrs. von Linden lives in Newark.
