He was one of a party who went to Yosemite some weeks ago and on the return trip the horse which Mr. Twombly was riding stumbled and fell, pitching the rider forward against the limb of a tree lying in the pathway.

ANNEXATION OF IRWIN HEIGHTS TO BE DECIDED Santa Monica Citizens Reported Generally in Favor of the Measure, but Election Doubtful

SANTA MONICA, July 29.—The question of the annexation of Irwin Heights will be definitely settled Monday. The election called for that date is expected to be decidedly in favor of the measure as far as the residents of Santa Monica are concerned, but the long tax list of the awakening city does not add to the desire of the outsiders, who now reap all benefits without cost, to come in. The Donalds has changed hands again. Less than a week ago W. H. Chambers sold his two-story block on Third street for a consideration of $14,000 and today Boehme & Croster announce the resale of the same property for $1000 advance.

The unknown man killed at Sentous station a few days ago by a Pacific Electric car is without doubt Eli Casey of Company H, Soldiers' Home. Capt. Fischer of that company identified him. The Los Angeles Pacific Railway company is busy doubling the tracks on its Oregon avenue and Third street road.

SANTA BARBARA STARTS CHILDREN'S PLAYGROUND

Chairman Weldon called the meeting to order and in a short speech gave an account of the work already accomplished. The general opinion was in favor of asphalt for the main streets and macadam on cross streets and through the residence district.

Special to The Herald. RIVERSIDE DAY KEPT AT PORTLAND EXPOSITION

Large Quantity of Literature Sent and Numerous Badges Printed for General Distribution

RIVERSIDE, July 29.—This was Riverside day at the Portland fair and Mayor McFarland was the city's official representative on the ground. Secretary Winterbotham sent up a large quantity of literature and O. L. Moorman, who has charge of the Riverside county exhibit, had planned to have a quantity of badges printed for general distribution. Reports from Portland are to the effect that the Riverside county irrigation exhibit is getting a bit sordid, the artificial trees and flowers showing the stress of long use. There is no fruit from here on exhibit at present.

Fred D. King is here from Los Angeles for the purpose of looking after the contest over his little six-year-old son Harold. The contest will be heard before Judge Noyes on August 17. A marriage license was issued today to Charles C. Ryder, aged 26, and Nettie E. Southard, aged 21, both residents of Arlington station.

The committee of ladies appointed to select plans and let the contract for a new parsonage are in a quandary. They had Architect A. B. Benton of Los Angeles draw plans for a parsonage to cost from $4000 to $4500. He prepared plans and specifications for a handsome building that thoroughly delighted both pastor and committee, but when bids were opened it was found that the lowest of the lot was for more than $1000 additional to the amount estimated and pledged. The plans will now have to be amended and some luxuries dispensed with in the new building.

A wrecked freight car this morning on the Santa Fe delayed the San Diego train two hours and prevented connection with the train from Los Angeles. No serious damage was done, only one car leaving the track. Rates from $17.50 up at Coronado.

SAN PEDRO MAN STABBED AS RESULT OF QUARREL

J. H. Slaughter, Popcorn Vender, Inflicts Serious Wound on James Gillespie. SAN PEDRO, July 29.—James Gillespie, a teamster, and J. H. Slaughter, a popcorn vender, got into an altercation this afternoon on the water front and came to blows. Gillespie struck Slaughter on the forehead with his fist, whereupon Slaughter drew a knife and stabbed his adversary over the heart. The wound is an inch deep, but the heart was not reached and the injured man will recover. Slaughter is under arrest. Plans have been drawn by J. M. Saffell for the erection of a 2-story and basement brick structure on Fourth street, adjoining the Sederlund property, for Morris A. Rosenfeld. WOMEN'S GUESTS CREATE SCENE RECEPTION IS MARRIED BY DISCUSSION LIBRARY QUESTION REVIVES

Librarian Lummis Resents Statements in Defense of His Predecessor, and His Remarks Cause Several to Leave. "If Miss Jones were twins or 'thrins' she would not be able to fill the positions which are open to her. Her friends need not fear for her." "The Los Angeles public library is doing some of the best work in America." "The majority of the most effective workers in libraries are women." "This library discussion is not a local question; it will affect the principles of the library system." "I do not believe such a city as Los Angeles can give a decision in this case which will mean a blot on its name for years." "Melvil Dewey."

Melvil Dewey, guest of honor at a reception given by the friends of Miss Jones at the Woman's club house last evening, uttered these words. Prominent men and women of Los Angeles who gathered to hear him made the walls resound with applause. The hostesses were there in charming gowns, Mrs. H. T. Lee, Mrs. Wesley Clark, Mrs. Owen McAleer, Mrs. Margaret Collier Graham, Mrs. Fred Baker, Mrs. G. H. Wadleigh, Mrs. H. B. Wing, Mrs. Ella Enderlein, Mrs. Boynton and Miss Fanny Willis. Guests of Honor The honored guests were Melvil Dewey of Albany, N. Y., librarian of the state library and head of the Albany Training School for Librarians; Dr. Robinson, Mrs. A. H. Jackson, Miss E. P. Chase of Pittsburg, Miss Russell and Miss Wilson of Alliance. Men escorts were there in evening dress, and Charles Lummis also was there in his green corduroys. Melvil Dewey, the man who is known throughout educational circles as one of the most eminent of judges on all subjects pertaining to libraries, delved into the Los Angeles library problem despite the presence of the green corduroys. "I am glad Mr. Lummis is here tonight," said Mr. Dewey. "I am glad, Mr. Lummis, that you may hear what I have to say. I feel that the library question is one which you cannot afford to have a local matter. Libraries are the most necessary factor for education, and when the system is still young principles are being laid down which will affect the whole of America and, in fact, the educated world."

"Politics should never be allowed to enter into such a case and I fear they have entered in this case. It may only be one man but one fly will spoil a whole pot of ointment. There is some element here which ought to be eliminated. A politician must not meddle with libraries or schools. "I can not help thinking there is only one decision which the people of Los Angeles will give. It is impossible to feel that a city like this will allow a decision to go forth which will leave a stain on its name for years. "The Los Angeles public library has been laboring under many disadvantages and in spite of this it has been doing some of the best work done in America. Is it possible that such could be the case unless the librarian was the right one for the place? Three places have asked if it would be possible to get Miss Jones and her friends need fear nothing as she is known all over the country as one of the most efficient of librarians. "Some of the best librarians in the country are women. They are less selfish than men, more sympathetic and more tactful."

Lummis Replies

Before the program could be carried on Mr. Lummis stepped out on the floor. "I have not been invited to speak. I don't need to ask a hearing, for I know it will be given me," said Mr. Lummis, putting his hands in his coat pockets and looking angrily at the audience. "I am not a trained librarian, but I am not alone in believing that the greatest efficiency cannot be obtained from the 'trained librarian.' "I have the misfortune to know something—something—a little something about books, but I'm going to try to serve the library conscientiously, as well as I can; yes, just as well as I can."

Women Leave

Here two women on the front row of seats rose and, resenting the speaker's manner and tone of Mr. Lummis, swept out of the room. "How many women are there at the head of big libraries of over 75,000 volumes in this country?" Mr. Lummis inquired. Here Judge McKinley, the chairman, rose and said: "I cannot permit you to cross-examine this gentleman who has come here as our guest."

Women Leave

"I will have to question the gentleman's statistics," Mr. Lummis continued. "I could tell facts, facts, ladies and gentlemen, but I will not here, I could say many things that scholars

Vacation Time — IS — Pianola Time

Anyone who can afford to have a piano in their home can afford to have music, yet how many piano owners are there today who do not know what it is to have music.

To produce music, in the fullest significance of the word, was the mission of the Pianola. If you have an idle piano—only an ornament to the room—awaken it by placing a Pianola in the home; every member of the family will use the Pianola. It is an educator as well as an entertainer.

If you have no piano, or if you have a piano you think of exchanging, we urge your consideration of the think about trained librarians, but I will not," went on Mr. Lummis. Denies Political Issue "All I will say is that not only are there no politics touching me, but as long as I am in the library there will be no politics there. Who knows my politics? Who has ever seen me identified with politics? You have a new wheel in the library machinery. Try the new wheel until it is found wanting." Fish, because of its tendency rapidly to decompose, holds a peculiar position among foods. In England it is the subject of a special act of parliament. So long ago as 1688 men knew the evil consequences resulting from eating mackerel of uncertain post-mortem age, so they passed an act providing that except during the hours of divine service this fish could be sold on Sunday. That act has never been repealed.
