BENNINGTON TO BE REMEMBERED

SAN DIEGO CITIZENS RAISE MEMORIAL FUND

Only Four of the Forty-Nine Cases Now in Hospital Considered As Being At All Serious

Special to The Herald. SAN DIEGO, Aug. 2.—The two sessions a day of the court of inquiry into the cause of the disaster on board the Bennington continue, but what is being done on the inside of the court room is not being divulged.

Captain J. F. Drake left this morning to return to his home at Mare Island. He stated that he did not doubt that the United States government would provide and erect a monument to the Bennington dead at the military cemetery at the top of Point Loma.

This action of the government need not stop any effort that the people of San Diego are making toward raising a fund for a monument or memorial building.

The board of control of the Bennington Memorial association met yesterday at the chamber of commerce rooms and elected the following officers:

President, Col. R. V. Dodge; vice president, Roscoe Howard; secretary, J. Clyde Hizar; treasurer, L. J. Wilde.

Subscriptions are coming in and the sentiment of the subscribers seems to be for a memorial home or sailors' club house rather than a monument.

PACIFIC ELECTRIC CAR CLAIMS ANOTHER VICTIM

LONG BEACH, Aug. 2.—Pacific Electric line this morning struck an old man named Pillsbury at Asbury, west of this city, and hurled him several feet. The car, a combination passenger and baggage, was in charge of Conductor J. W. Belt and Motorman J. R. Greiner.

It was traveling east at a medium rate of speed and Greiner had slowed up to take the curve when he saw the old man. He rang his gong, but Pillsbury was deaf and did not hear the bell.

Greiner was not able to stop before the man was struck.

The victim was brought to this city and attended by Dr. J. W. Wood, who found that two vertebrae of the spinal column had been fractured and that there was small hope for the man's survival.

Pillsbury was sent to the county hospital at Los Angeles. He had been living in a tent at Seaside Park. His home is 129 East Walnut street, Pasadena.

Pete Labourdetta, a wine dealer of Los Alamitos, and a Belgian named Honore von Sternberg were arraigned before Justice Brayton this morning charged with deadly assault last Saturday night at Los Alamitos on Domingo Silvais.

Silvais' story is that he was riding a bicycle to visit his sweetheart when he met Labourdetta and von Sternberg in a buggy. He says Labourdetta jumped from his buggy and asked him if he wanted to fight.

Silvais declined, telling Labourdetta he was drunk. Then, it is alleged, Pete struck Silvais, who hit back, knocking his assailant down.

Then the Belgian joined in the fight and it is alleged the two knocked Silvais down, kicked him into insensibility and broke several of his ribs.

The two were held in the sum of $1000 each and their preliminary examination was set for August 12. Both furnished bail.

About 2 o'clock this morning Wharfinger Beattie noticed a man walking along the pier and acting in a peculiar manner and followed him.

The man walked to the edge of the structure where he either jumped or fell into the ocean. Beattie seized a life preserver and threw it to the man, who seized it and was hauled to the deck.

He at once took to his heels and ran ashore, the officer being unable to capture him.

CITY ASSESSMENT SHOWS A SUBSTANTIAL INCREASE

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 2.—A substantial increase in the city assessment of San Bernardino is shown by the rolls just completed by City Assessor Samuel Rolfe.

The total assessment for this year is $4,317,573, an increase of $275,250 over that of last year.

This increase is nearly all in building improvements, very little being added to the real estate values by the assessor, though the city has experienced a marked rise in values during the year.

It is expected that numerous suits will soon be begun against property owners in this city by holders of street improvement bonds of the series of 1891, of which there are thousands of dollars still unpaid.

There has always been some question as to the legality of these bonds but for some reason the question has never been satisfactorily settled by the courts.

A considerable portion of the bonds are held outside the city, but some are held by local people, who are also property owners, against whose property others hold bonds.

This condition has led to a rather delicate situation, as these parties are insisting the bonds they hold shall be paid in full, while they desire to settle their bonds on a percentage basis.

The newly organized Young Men's Christian club is preparing to secure larger quarters where it will be possible to establish a well equipped gymnasium.

A lease has been taken on a brick block opposite the public library and it will be at once remodeled to suit the requirements of the club.

The annual Southern California camp meeting of the Reorganized Church of the Latter Day Saints will be held in this city, beginning August 4 and lasting over August 13.

A number of notable speakers will be present.

SELLS OUT THE STOCK

Ocean Park Clerk Acts Promptly to Get His Money

OCEAN PARK, Aug. 2.—Having become wearied of waiting for the return of his employer, to whom he had loaned $100, and against whom he had a bill for $50, wages due, F. G. Van Houghton today sold out the stock of the "Greater New York Five and Ten Cent store" at prices that startled the community and caused every other woman in town to buy.

Just as Van Houghton sold the last washtub full of merchandise to a woman for fifteen cents a couple of deputy sheriffs arrived on the scene, armed with an attachment by the Los Angeles board of trade for $474.

Other creditors then put in an appearance but as "Van" had disposed of about everything but the fixtures there was nothing left for them to levy on.

When it was suggested to the clerk that his employer might yet return he shrugged his shoulders. The erstwhile proprietor, Paul Meur, has not been seen since last Sunday morning, at which time he spoke of going to San Francisco for some new goods.

A report that he had taken a train for New York instead caused his clerk to take the only means he could see of getting his money.

G. W. MADDOCK LAID TO REST IN RIVERSIDE

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 2.—The coroner's jury in the case of G. W. Maddock, who died suddenly at Casa Blanca Monday night, reported that he died from valvular disease of the heart.

Funeral services in charge of the Grand Army were held this afternoon at Evergreen cemetery.

The Sherman Institute Indian band returned this afternoon from the Portland fair, where they played a six weeks' engagement.

G. W. Haines of Los Angeles has gone suit against J. N. Hagins of Riverside to secure possession of ten bonds of the denomination of $1000 each of the Enterprise Oil company of Southern California.

Haines complains that the bonds are rightfully his, but that Hagins has converted them to his own use and now threatens to sell them.

"Bud" Waller of Perris was arraigned before Justice Stephenson of Riverside this morning on the charge of violating the county prohibition ordinance. He was given until Monday to plead. Waller is charged with selling two bottles of whisky to Dan Marsh, who shot himself at Winchester on Sunday as a result of being drunk. Waller has been convicted of liquor selling before in this county.

"Hotel del Coronado" always please.

BRICK COMPANY WILL CONTEST ANNEXATION

Santa Monica Firm to Take Advantage of Eligibility Question and Contest Election

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 2.—It has been discovered that R. P. Elliott, one of the men who served as an election judge in the territory that was annexed to this municipality last Monday, was not registered and could not have lawfully held that position.

In consequence, it is asserted, the Simons Brick company, having strenuously opposed annexation, will now contest the legality of the election.

The receipts at the local postoffice for July were $1,151.94, a gain of $344 over the corresponding month last year.

This showing should help some in the cause of free delivery and is a matter of much satisfaction to merchants and residents alike.

The board of city trustees will convene at the city hall at 10 o'clock next Monday morning, when as a board of equalization they will endeavor to pacify those persons whose assessments are unsatisfactory.

The board will hold daily sessions until August 28, or until all complaints are heard.

The Catholic Sisterhood will hold its annual session here, beginning Monday August 7. The meetings will last one week and will be open to the public.

It is expected that not less than 150 teaching sisters will attend.

The "J. O. C." club of the Methodist Episcopal church gave a successful and highly entertaining lawn party last evening. The church grounds were lighted with Japanese lanterns and refreshments were served.

Coronado temperature, 63 degrees.

"CITIZEN" CALLED DOWN BY WOMAN'S RIGHTS DEFENDER

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 30, 1905.—(Editor Herald): I would like to have the testimony of the mother of the man who subscribes himself "Citizen". Is she responsible for this particular product?

Most assuredly we would deny that our system of government is conducted upon the principle that the family is the unit. If that were true, why is not each family given one vote regardless of the sex of its members?

I know a family that consists of one woman, her three sons of voting age and her husband. The woman differs in her political convictions from her husband and sons. There are four votes in that family and still the woman's view is not represented.

I know still another family, a widowed mother with three daughters, all of voting age. Is that family represented?

"If men are bad they may thank women for it" says "Citizen". I have frequently been told that women were responsible for many evils. But now I learn that it is hopeless to seek for comfort anywhere; that we are not only responsible for our own sins, but upon our souls rests the burden as well of all the sins of all the men of the world.

"Citizen" says further: "In view of this overwhelming evidence of their incompetence (i. e., their inability to make men good), on what reasonable ground can they ask for the men's jobs?" I imagine, however, that "Citizen" wished to inquire upon "what reasonable ground" women could ask for the "men's job" of voting. In the first place, if women voted they would not be taking anything away from men. Their "job" would still be there. In the second place, I plead ignorance. I did not know that voting was a "job". Is it work for "Citizen" to vote? And does he get paid for it? I had thought it to be a social duty and a human right. He wishes to know upon what ground we base our claim to vote. Upon every ground upon which men may base their claim. "Government inheres in the people." Women are people.

"Citizen" says that women object to the punishment of women criminals. I hope that women do object to it. I know that I for one do. If the family is the unit and the man is that unit, why should not he be responsible for the acts of his family? If men are not willing to accept the responsibility of the errors of the women of their family they should cease to assume to think for them. When women are punished for crime what becomes of the guarantee that citizens shall be tried by a jury of their peers? Women are imprisoned, tried and judged by their political rulers. So long as women are excluded from voting no man has a right to sit on a jury when a woman is on trial.

COOKING WITH GAS

The relation of gas to people has always been difficult; 90 cents a 1000, good gas, and good service, seem to have settled it here in Los Angeles.
