LOS ANGELES FAIR FAVORED BY CLARK

VICE PRESIDENT OF SALT LAKE HOME FROM NORTH

EXPOSITION GREAT BENEFIT

Railroad Official Says Portland Has Had Advertising of Inestimable Value and Thinks South Might Attempt Show

J. Ross Clark, vice president of the Salt Lake road, returned to Los Angeles yesterday after a three weeks' trip in the north, ten days of which was spent at the Portland exposition.

"The benefits of such an exposition as I saw them demonstrated at Portland came as a revelation to me," said Mr. Clark at his office in the Huntington building yesterday. "Portland has undoubtedly received more advertising in the past three months than she has received in that number of years trebled."

"I have always been wary of fairs and expositions, but after this trip, I shall have to confess that I have changed my mind, and look upon them with favor, provided they are managed properly. On this score nothing but praise can be given Portland."

"I think a similar enterprise would be a good thing for Los Angeles, if undertaken in the right manner and provided the United States government could be brought to a recognition of the plan. At this time an exposition would not be a profitable proposition, but say in five or six years, the interim giving opportunity for today's exposition fever to die out."

"Los Angeles has now the finest kind of railroad facilities and the advertising the city would gain would be of inestimable value. Speaking of railroads and the Portland fair, the lines centering in that city are doing a tremendous business and taking the best possible care of their patrons. The exposition has helped the entire Pacific coast, and Southern California is not being given a back seat. The railroads here are doing a regular winter tourist business."

"When does the Salt Lake expect to begin its through train service to the east?" he was asked.

"The time has not been definitely settled," he replied, "but the preliminary details are now being arranged. It seems to me that the service would be justified at almost any time now."

CITY MUST WAIT FOR NEW CHIEF OF POLICE

Mayor McAleer Declares Commissioner James' Vacation Compels a Delay in the Appointment

"The police commission will not name a new chief of police for at least two weeks," said Mayor McAleer yesterday. "Commissioner James is out of the city on a vacation and will not return until after the first of the month."

"Where a question of such importance is involved we think it best to have the entire commission present. The restaurant licenses will also be continued over until we have a full commission to consider the motion which is now before the board to revoke the licenses of the Palace, Imperial and Bristol cafes."

This is the first definite statement given out by the mayor. The appointment of a chief to succeed Chief W. A. Hammel has been delayed until Commissioner James' return.

Those familiar with conditions say that with one member of the "solid three" missing nothing can be worked through the commission over the heads of Commissioners Mason and Johnson, for with the commission evenly divided the blockade is effective in either direction.

HILL SENTENCE SUSTAINED; MUST SERVE IN PRISON

Through a decision handed down by the appellate court yesterday the life sentence imposed upon Archie Hill, a negro, on a charge of murder of a Pasadena conductor, was sustained and the man will be sent north for commitment. Hill was married in jail to a young mulatto woman several months ago and later tried to commit suicide by cutting his throat and wrists.

LEAVES ST. VINCENT'S FOR PASTORAL WORK IN THE EAST

REV. E. A. ANTILL

Rev. E. A. Antill, C. M., treasurer of St. Vincent's college and assistant pastor of St. Vincent's church, will leave Thursday for La Salle, Ill., to become assistant pastor of St. Patrick's church.

The transfer of Father Antill comes as a great surprise to his many friends in Los Angeles. He left last week for a short vacation at Catalina, from which he will return today. He had been at St. Vincent's college six years, the past four of which he had been assistant pastor and director of the Sunday school.

In his new field of labor he will give up teaching, in which he had been very successful here, and take up parochial work. During his directorate of the local Sunday school, he had endeared himself to the children as well as the boys of the college.

TWO ROADS MAY PLAN A NEW UNION DEPOT

J. KRUTTSCHNITT COMING TO LOS ANGELES

High Official of Harriman System Will Inspect Local Property and May Meet Officers of Salt Lake Road in Conference

J. Kruttschnitt, director of maintenance and operation of the Harriman system of railroads, will arrive in Los Angeles tomorrow morning from San Francisco and will spend the day here before continuing his journey to his general headquarters in Chicago. General Manager Calvin of the Southern Pacific will accompany Mr. Kruttschnitt as far as Los Angeles.

In company with General Superintendent R. H. Ingram and Superintendent H. V. Platt they will spend the day in looking over the Southern Pacific properties at this point, one of Mr. Kruttschnitt's objects, it is said, in coming by the southern route being a desire to inspect the improvements now being made at San Pedro harbor.

It is barely possible that a conference may be held with the Salt Lake management concerning the building of a new union station to take the place of the present train shed of the Southern Pacific and the barn-like structure now in use by the Clark road.

When the Salt Lake road was opened for traffic May 1 Senator Clark, in an interview, said that whether or not there would be a combination with the Southern Pacific for the building of a station to be used in common by the two roads would be determined later, but that if such was not the case the present Salt Lake station would have to be considerably enlarged and improved to accommodate the transcontinental business.

As the traffic of the Clark road is constantly increasing and as yet it has made no visible improvements on its First street property an announcement in the near future of a union station for the two roads will come as no great surprise in railroad circles.

FRANCHISE FOR OIL PIPE LINE SOLD FOR $1000

Amalgamated Company's First Bid Considered Too Low and a Better Offer is Made

A franchise for an oil pipe line extending from Alameda and Alhambra streets throughout the manufacturing district was sold by the council yesterday to the Amalgamated Oil company for $1000.

W. C. Price appeared for the company and when bids were opened his bid for $250 was the only one received. A motion was made to reject all bids, and Price offered to raise his bid 10 per cent, making it $275.

This did not appear sufficient to the council, however, and the question was laid over until afternoon. During the intermission Price held a consultation with Councilmen Smith, Hiller and Hammond and at their suggestion agreed to make a supplementary bid of $1000 for the franchise. Upon his making such a bid the franchise was formally awarded to the Amalgamated Oil company.
