RUSTIC TABLE MAY BEAR FRUIT

ORANGEWOOD ORNAMENT IS SPROUTING

BRANCHES ENTWINE ITS LEGS

Mrs. Jeannie Harris of Sawtells presents Unique Piece of Furniture to Chamber of Commerce.

An unique gift was made to the chamber of commerce a few days ago by Mrs. Jeannie Harris of Sawtells, being an orangewood table with branches sprouting from the legs and top in various places, eighteen tiny, vine-like twigs protruding from the carved wood, and buds are appearing, which leads to the belief that later an average crop of oranges will be borne.

The table is gilded and painted, and it is believed that this process of finishing its beauty stopped the pores of the wood. Later, the wood became water-soaked, and this caused the "live" wood to shoot forth the sprouts, and if the life continues there will doubtless be a crop of oranges harvested every "occasionally" in the chamber of commerce.

H. B. Curley, assistant secretary of the chamber, is quite proud of the latest acquisition to the chamber of commerce horticultural display, to which division the table was removed when the sprouts were noted. He suggests the idea that it might be possible for some enterprising cabinet maker to build a table of the branches of orange, apple, apricot, peach, lemon and fig trees and thereby provide a continuous and bountiful supply of fruit upon the dinner table in all seasons.

CREDIT MEN'S BUREAU SOON TO BE LAUNCHED

NEW ORGANIZATION WILL UNITE BUSINESS INTERESTS

Los Angeles Board of Trade and Wholesalers' Board of Trade Will Be Superseded by an Association to Carry on Work at Least Expense

Members of the committee appointed to arrange the details of an organization which shall take the place of the Los Angeles board of trade and the wholesalers' board of trade expect that within the next few days they will have completed their work and out of the ruins will arise a new association to transact the business of its predecessors.

The new organization is to be known as the adjustment bureau of the Credit Men's association. In effect it will be but the consolidation of the interests of the two boards of trade which are soon to pass out of existence.

"The adjustment bureau will simply unify the interests of all at a minimum of expense," said a prominent member of the Credit Men's association yesterday. "The bureau will accomplish exactly the same things that the two boards of trade have achieved. The work of the Los Angeles board of trade and the work of the wholesalers' board of trade has been competitive. This has been detrimental to the merchants who have been the first to feel the effects.

Advantages of New Plan "This, I believe, has been understood by the members of the two associations, but neither felt that it wished to be swallowed up by the other. The Credit Men's association is composed of the members of the other two organizations. The new plan can bring no hard feelings to any one. "The bureau will have its own president and its own board of directors because it will handle business entirely different from that of the Credit Men's association. "The scheme which we are now pursuing has been followed identically in Pittsburg, Chicago, Denver and other of the large cities and has met with perfect success. The consolidation will result in one strong, well handled, well managed board."

NEVADA WOULD TRADE IN SOUTH

BULLFROG CITIZENS SEND A MEMORIAL

SUGGEST CO-OPERATIVE PLAN

Assert Their State is Being Discriminated Against by Railroads Favoring San Francisco—Want to Divert Business

Bullfrog (Nev.) merchants and business men have opened a crusade against high freight rates and alleged discrimination against the state of Nevada by the railroads. Their animosity is directed against San Francisco and the railroad lines centering in that city.

A memorial from the business men of Bullfrog to the business men and merchants of Los Angeles has been mailed to the several trade organizations of Los Angeles, from which the following extracts are made:

"The country is destitute of wood or fuel of any kind for power. The distance from here to San Francisco is about 600 miles, while it is about seventy miles from here to Goldfield, where the Western railroad stops. Freight from San Francisco are enormously high. Everything coming from the east, in addition to the freight from New York or Chicago, must pay local rates to San Francisco and back to its destination in Nevada. The merchants of San Francisco demand this in order to give them a monopoly of the trade in Nevada, and the Southern Pacific railroad has always conceded it to them, to the impoverishment of our state.

Los Angeles' Territory "Southern and Eastern Nevada and Utah are naturally trade tributaries to your city. Location, grades and distance point to Los Angeles. "We must have timber for mining purposes and lumber for building. Nearly all the lumber of the Sierra Nevadas available for such purposes has been already exhausted for the Comstock and other localities and we must look to Oregon and Washington for timber to supply our needs, which could well pass through Los Angeles on its way to us. "The oil wells of Kern, San Bernardino and your own county can furnish oil for cheap power, which must come to us from that source or not at all. "The location of Los Angeles is admirable for large smelting works and ores of every description can be furnished by Southern Nevada. "You can patronize either or both of them, population and business enterprise give you the power. You are no more the slave of a railroad than is San Francisco.

Isthmus Routes Open "The government has thrown open the Panama railroad for general business. A strong company has reconstructed the Tehuantepec route, which is much shorter than the Panama, and it also is open to the trade of the world. "You can patronize either or both of these routes to your advantage and to the detriment of all railroads. It may be that one of either of the two roads, the Southern Pacific or the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, will build branches into Nevada and allow trade to flow in its natural channels. "Give your business to whichever road will first do this, withholding it from the road which will work against your city in the interest of San Francisco merchants.

"Feeling that the prosperity of our section of the country depends upon the stand taken by you, the merchants and business men of Los Angeles, in allowing us to do business with you, we earnestly appeal to you for prompt and vigorous action in the line we indicate." The following names are signed to the memorial: F. H. Stickney, cashier Southern Nevada Banking company; F. P. Kerns, general manager of The Bullfrog Townsite, Water & Ice company; L. P. McGarry & Co.; A. L. Leitch, of J. D. Lothrop & Co.; Kibler & Co.; H. G. Ballou, cashier of Gold Exchange Bank of Nevada; T. M. Gronen, cashier of The Bullfrog Bank & Trust company; J. E. TWO TOURING MISSOURIANS

Prominent Democrat Who is Seeing Southern California

Hon. George C. Orchard of Poplar Bluff, Mo., one of the prominent and active working Democrats of that state, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday, accompanied by Robert Davis, a merchant of Poplar Bluff.

Mr. Orchard is county clerk of Butler county and proprietor of the Poplar Bluff Daily Citizen. He has been a member of the Missouri state Democratic committee and one of its best workers. He says he likes Los Angeles, and although a loyal Missourian he already entertains half a notion that some day he will come out to California and live.

Mr. Orchard and Mr. Davis have been attending the Portland exposition. Today they will run over to Catalina and listen to the sea wave waves.

SANTA ANA ELECTRIC LINE OPENS OCTOBER 1

Grading and Overhead Wiring Nearly Completed—Sierra Madre Route Almost Finished

General Superintendent A. D. Schindler of the Pacific Electric company yesterday said that he believed the Santa Ana line would be open for operation by October 1. A large portion of the overhead wiring is already in place and much grading outside the Los Angeles city limits has been done. A large construction gang, however, was put to work yesterday morning.

On the Sierra Madre line, which runs from Lamanda park to the base of Mount Wilson, most of the cement work has been put in place and grading is now in progress. It is announced that this road will also be completed by October 1.

Molasses, tacks and flypaper, liberally applied, have been suggested as a preventative of the trouble, but the Santa Fe officials have looked at the question from the mothers' standpoint and have come to the conclusion that this solution of the problem would be "real mean."

HOEGEE'S Handsome Hammocks

For Hot Sept'r

The contractors have boarded up the entrances and exits of the escapes, but this has not spoiled them of their utility as pleasure makers. Safety ladders have been placed on the outside of each cylinder and by the aid of these the children climb to the top, thence with glad shrieks of pleasure go sliding to the bottom.

The fire escapes are of the Kirker Bender patent, the first to be erected in Los Angeles, and consist of a cylindrical steel shell containing a spiral incline. The new hospital has three of them, one forty feet in height and the other two with an altitude of thirty feet.

Sliding down the escape is more fun than swimming or playing ball or even going to the circus, according to the unanimous verdict of the neighborhood youngsters, and so popular has the sport become that its fame has spread throughout that entire portion of the city.

Spiral Slides Erected at Santa Fe Hospital Furnish Exhilarating Sport for Boys, Despite Efforts to Prevent Them

Santa Fe officials have a grave question for solution. It is how to prevent the boys in the neighborhood of Sixth and St. Louis streets from sliding down the fire escapes of the new Santa Fe hospital building, which is in process of construction.

The fire escapes are of the Kirker Bender patent, the first to be erected in Los Angeles, and consist of a cylindrical steel shell containing a spiral incline. The new hospital has three of them, one forty feet in height and the other two with an altitude of thirty feet.
