

TUPPER CHOSEN FOR PRESIDENT

BECOMES HEAD OF INSURANCE COMPANY

COCHRAN IS VICE PRESIDENT

Conservative Life Directors Elect Officers to Fill Vacancies Caused by the Death of Frederick H. Rindge

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Conservative Life Insurance company yesterday morning, at which all directors were present, namely, John R. Haynes, Joseph H. Clark, W. W. Beckett, H. G. Brainerd, Wilbur S. Tupper and George I. Cochran, appropriate reference was made to the great personal loss in the death of the late Frederick H. Rindge.

Wilbur S. Tupper was unanimously chosen president of the company to succeed the late Mr. Rindge. George I. Cochran was unanimously selected as first vice president to succeed Mr. Tupper.

"This action was in strict accordance with the wishes of Mr. Rindge, frequently expressed during his lifetime," said one of the directors yesterday. "In view of the fact that Mr. Rindge, although fully posted on all the conditions and business of the company, did not participate actively in its management, but acted in an honorary and advisory capacity only, his decease will not affect or change the management of the Conservative Life Insurance company in any particular."

"The business of the company under the direction of the board of directors has always been conducted by an executive committee, consisting of Messrs. Rindge, Tupper and Cochran. Mr. Tupper will continue to look after the insurance interests of the company and Mr. Cochran will conduct the financial and business interests."

SIMPLE SERVICES SAID AT THE THORPE FUNERAL

Body of Former Police Commissioner Interred in Private in Rosedale Cemetery

Simplicity characterized the funeral services over the body of Spencer Roan Thorpe held at the family residence, 333 South Bunker Hill avenue, yesterday morning. Rev. D. Milton of St. Paul's church conducted the services in the presence of a gathering of friends and relatives of the family. The body was interred privately at Rosedale cemetery.

Major Thorpe was prominent in business and political life in Los Angeles. During the civil war he served the confederacy, being captain of a Kentucky regiment under command of General Morgan.

Under Mayor Snyder he served as police commissioner. He was prominently identified with the United Confederate Veterans and served as Pacific coast division commander in the organization. He was also a member of the Sons of Colonial Wars. He was 63 years old.

GOAT GIVES ALARM AND FRUSTRATES INCENDIARIES

Butts Against Walls of Burning Barn, Arousing Master With the Racket

Butting against the wooden wall of a barn in the rear of Salvatore Gallano's residence, 1229 Lemon street, Valani, the pet goat, attracted the attention of his master to a fire raging inside and frustrated incendiaries Sunday night.

Immediately before the families in the district on Lemon street known as "Little Italy" had retired the furious racket made by Valani aroused the neighbors. Investigations led to the discovery of a pile of wood and a can of oil affixed against the side of Gallano's barn. After the fire had been extinguished it was ascertained that the barn had been sprinkled with oil.

Whether the incendiaries intended destruction of Gallano's property or the entire neighborhood is not known. Two men were seen running down the alley a few minutes previous to the discovery of fire.

SAYS FIVE CENTS A BAG TOO MUCH FOR PEANUTS

Searchlight Miner Thought Vender Was Trying to Bunco Him—Is Now in Jail

"Bill" Burgis came to town yesterday to celebrate Labor day. Burgis lives in a small mining camp out the Searchlight way and though he is not a union man, he thought he had a day of recreation coming to him as he has labored a year without even stopping to celebrate Christmas.

Late in the afternoon he felt the need of some peanuts and accordingly began to barter for some. "Wall," said Bill to the policeman, "bein' as I hain't bought none since I wuz back in Ohler I did not know the price. And when he told me to cough up a nickle fer one bag I reckoned as how he was tryin' to cheat me. Back whar I came from I could get two bags fur five cents. I just threw the peanuts at him—and now I'm in jail."

One of the wonders of the world is the crater (now active) of Kilauea, and this is only one of many attractions of a trip to Hawaii. The Oceanic Steamship Co.'s excursion Steamship Alameda, sailing Sept. 9 from San Francisco, makes reduced round trip rate to Honolulu only $12.

OFFICERS WHO WILL BE AT HEAD OF CONSERVATIVE LIFE

WILBUR S. TUPPER, PRESIDENT, AT THE LEFT, AND GEORGE COCHRAN, VICE PRESIDENT

URGES ALL TO VOTE FOR BONDS

WATER IS NECESSARY SAYS COUNCILMAN SMITH

LOS ANGELES WILL LEAD

Metropolis of Southern California Will Have Greater Supply Per Capita Than Any Other Municipality in the World

"The water bonds will carry I believe, but it is the duty of every citizen of Los Angeles who has the best interests of his home and this section at heart to overlook the little inconvenience it may cause him and go to the polls and vote for the bonds, for those opposed to them will be out in force," declares George A. Smith, councilman from the Fifth ward and chairman of the finance committee.

Mr. Smith has been all over the ground and knows the Owens river and the district well. He has been in and out of the valley for the past fifteen years and knows whereof he speaks when he declares the water first-class and the supply large, and that it is of absolute vital importance to the city to secure the water.

All over the city men are discussing the proposition and politicians predict a heavy vote. In these discussions the point is taken that no city can be great without a sufficient supply of water and many comparisons with other cities along this line are being made.

Otto Benz of 137 South Flower street has made an exhaustive study of this subject and in a statement to the Herald yesterday said:

Los Angeles Will Lead
"If Los Angeles brings the Owens river into the city as a water supply it will give the city a per capita supply of 1250 gallons. What will this mean to the city? It means that Los Angeles will always be ahead of the whole world."

"I have been making a study of conditions existing in other cities and have secured a table from a recapitulation of information obtained from Frederick Converse Beach, editor in chief of the Encyclopedia Americana and the Scientific American. These figures are for the year 1900:

City	Supply daily Gals. per Cap.
New York	245,700,000
Chicago	323,000,000
Philadelphia	287,158,000
Brooklyn	35,900,000
Boston	80,000,000
Cleveland	66,900,000
St. Louis	63,539,000
San Francisco	25,900,000
Cincinnati	39,600,000
Detroit	44,800,000
Milwaukee	24,000,000
New Orleans	13,820,000
Minneapolis	18,813,000
Providence	10,130,000
Indianapolis	15,400,000

To Gain in Population
"This table plainly shows that when Los Angeles gets a per capita supply of 1250 gallons that it will have plenty of opportunities to grow. The present population can multiply many times and yet there will be water enough and to spare. And the value of water cannot be overestimated."

"Aside from having plenty of water for domestic use there will be enough to make Los Angeles the cleanest city in the world. There will also be an abundance for park use and the watering of yards."

ELKS WILL HOLD TWO DAYS' ANNUAL SESSION

"The biggest event in Elksdom" will be the annual reunion of 1905, which begins with the theater party at Burbank's Friday night, continues with barbecue and sport and athletic program at Santa Monica canyon all day Saturday, and ends with a social session at Elks' hall Saturday evening.

THIEVES STEAL FLUTE IN DALY STREET CHURCH

Sacred religious thieves broke into the Congregational church on Daly street Sunday evening and stole a solid silver flute belonging to J. Velzy, 242 North Eastlake street. The robbers ransacked the church but nothing but the flute was taken.

CAFES TO ESCAPE, GENERAL BELIEF

BOARD MAY NOT REVOKE LICENSES

QUESTION SETTLED TODAY

Business Men and Politicians Say the Palace, the Bristol and the Imperial Will Go Unscathed

Will the police commission revoke the licenses of the Palace, Bristol and Imperial cafes at today's session? This is the question over which many citizens of Los Angeles are worrying at the present time.

"Well, hardly," answers the business man. "Not on your life," says the politician. These are two answers which were made to the above question yesterday by men prominent in civic affairs in Los Angeles.

It is charged by certain temperance workers that young women are made drunk in these cafes. The question has been hanging fire for many weeks, but the police commissioners have promised to settle it today.

Every once in a while for years representatives of certain organizations have appeared before the police commission and read communications to the board which alleged that an investigation by the organization showed that several hundred young women were made drunk in these cafes every night.

On the other side, it is said investigations by more conservative organizations failed utterly to establish these allegations. That there will be a large attendance at today's session of the commission is a foregone conclusion. The temperance forces will be there in large numbers according to the program mapped out. There will be others there also, and not liquor dealers, either.

In Los Angeles there are many citizens who believe that under the constitution of the state any man or woman has a right to use liquor if he or she chooses, and who also object to the closing of resorts which are conducted in an orderly manner, for the reason that such closing means that these same people who frequent places that are now orderly and law abiding will be forced to go to so called "blind pigs."

A well known attorney said yesterday: "I cannot see what right the police commission has to force a woman to buy a meal before she can buy a drink. The city exists under the constitution of the state and such a rule by the police commission cannot be constitutional. It would be just as logical to make a rule forcing the restaurant keepers to charge women double prices for drinks. The constitution gives every man and woman certain rights and these rights are inalienable."

If Not There, Where?
The publisher had reached his office late and there were signs upon his face that he had just passed through a strenuous experience.

"The trouble is," he said peevishly to the waiting author, "that you don't make the marriages in your novels happy ones."

He sighed. "And the Lord knows," he continued, "that we've got to have happy marriages somewhere!"—Smart Set.

PRISONER TRIES TO KILL HIMSELF

BATTERS HIS HEAD AGAINST JAIL BARS

SUBDUED BY SIX POLICEMEN

Dane Braithwait, After a Week's Debauch, Is Seized With Temporary Dementia and Attempts to Commit Suicide

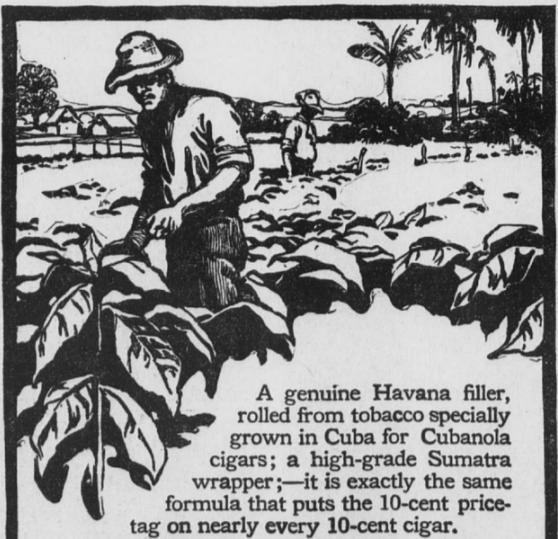

Dane Braithwait, inmate of the city jail, was attacked with a temporary dementia yesterday afternoon and during his delirium attempted to commit suicide by dashing his head against the iron bars of his cell.

The demented prisoner threw his weight against the bars twice before a jail trusty could enter the cell to prevent his self-destruction. The trusty leaped on the frenzied man's back to prevent him from doing himself further violence, but not before Braithwait had inflicted several severe wounds on his head and forehead.

The strength exhibited by Braithwait as he struggled was so great that six men were required to subdue him and tie him to a bed. When the struggling man found that resistance was useless, he lay back on the bed and shouted defiance to his supposed tormentors, whom he declared were either going to hang him or scald him to death.

Braithwait was arrested shortly after midnight yesterday morning after a week of high life in Los Angeles. He showed no symptoms of insanity until yesterday afternoon. The police surgeon believes the man is on the verge of delirium tremens.

An Early Bargain Sale
Master—What fault did Joseph's brothers commit in selling him?
Pupil—They led 'im go too cheap!—The Bystander.

CUBANOLA CIGAR—5c.

A genuine Havana filler, rolled from tobacco specially grown in Cuba for Cubanola cigars; a high-grade Sumatra wrapper;—it is exactly the same formula that puts the 10-cent pricetag on nearly every 10-cent cigar.

The difference between the price of the Cubanola and of the average ten-cent cigar is due solely to quantity and to the American Cigar Company's systematic methods of preparation and manufacture. The Cubanola is brought through each successive process from the curing of the leaf in half-million lots. There is no other cigar just like it—and there is no other smoke under ten cents that a Cubanola smoker can be interested in.

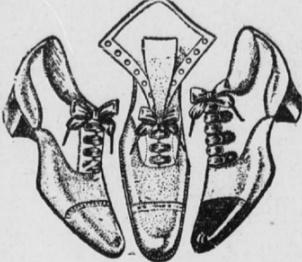

Delivered to the dealer in perfect condition, every box separately cased in a dust-tight, weather-proof, paraffine wrapper. TRADE SUPPLIED BY GEO. W. WALKER, Los Angeles, Cal.

Crowding Six Days' Business Into Five

Short Prices for a Short Week to Shorten Stocks

A bold assertion but nevertheless true. This doesn't mean we are going to try and crowd the extra day's selling into five, it means WE WILL.
