

MUST PAY TAX OR GO TO JAIL

HUMANE SOCIETY TO ARREST DELINQUENTS

Nervous Actor Thought It a Holdup. Refuse to Let Children Mix With Orphans—Pasadena Briefs

PASADENA, Sept. 21.—Humane Officer Sherwin has in his possession seven warrants for as many citizens who have either neglected or refused to pay the required license fee for dogs. These warrants will be served in a day or two and the several owners haled into the police court. Under the city ordinance every owner of a dog must pay a yearly license fee of $1.50. If he does not he is guilty of a misdemeanor and can be fined up to $50. The city council has placed the enforcement of this ordinance in the hands of the Humane society with the request that the tax be collected without fear or favor. Officer Sherwin has made up a list of over three hundred citizens owning or harboring dogs, who show no disposition to pay the required license fee. He is taking the list as near as possible in alphabetical order and intends sooner or later to bring every offender to court. If the case goes that far a $5 fine is likely to be imposed. It is interesting to note that Deputy Sheriff Wallis and ex-Street Superintendent C. C. Brown have their names among the offenders, as do a great many other leading citizens.

German M. E. Conference

Bishop Berry presided at the first session of the California conference of the German Methodist Episcopal church this morning and the formal business of the gathering was entered upon. The following officers were chosen: Rev. G. J. Schultz of Stockton, secretary; Rev. F. H. Hollmann of Pasadena, assistant secretary; Rev. Schultdt of San Francisco, statistical secretary; Rev. R. D. Kamp of Fruitvale, assistant; Rev. R. Steinbach of San Francisco, treasurer. The characters of the members of the conference were examined and passed, the benevolent collections of the year reported, the usual standing committee appointed and the annual report of the Deaconesses' hospital at Los Angeles as presented by the superintendent, Rev. Otto Wilke, received. A number of visiting ministers were introduced to the conference and Rev. H. D. Kamp was on vote readmitted to membership in this conference. Tonight was observed as the anniversary of the church missionary society, the address being given by Rev. Dr. Carroll of Pomona. Routine business will occupy tomorrow and in the evening the annual Epworth league anniversary address will be delivered by Bishop Barry.

Among the delegates attending the conference are the following: Rev. R. S. Steinbach, Rev. W. Schultdt, Rev. G. Guth, Rev. W. Schmutzler, all of San Francisco; Rev. F. A. Werth, Rev. G. W. Schroeder of Los Angeles, Rev. J. W. Riedmann of Prospect Park, Rev. G. J. Schultz of Stockton, Rev. F. W. Meyer of East Oakland, Rev. J. Schneider of Oakland, Rev. F. H. Hollmann of Pasadena, Rev. A. F. Hilmer of Anaheim, Rev. W. Rogatzky of South Berkeley, Rev. C. F. Kuhnle of San Diego and Rev. R. Zurbuchen of Santa Cruz.

While the great Alexanders were playing at the Northwestern Family theater last night Constable Newell edged into the box office and reached for the cash drawer. A member of the company present believed that he was witnessing a hold-up, and with a yell dashed out in search of a policeman. But the policeman took in the situation and let the constable take the money. It was simply a case of attachment. It appears that the manager of the Alexanders engaged an actor a week ago, and when he did not satisfy them dropped him. The actor claimed a week's salary and went to law for it. It is expected that the affair will be settled out of court.

Refuse to Mix With Waifs

Lincoln Park residents are offering serious objections to school arrangements which require children in the first three grades to attend school in the Lincoln Park building. It is asserted that they do not care to have their children associate with the Orphans' home children who attend this school. There are about 100 inmates of the home who are of school age, and the school trustees do not feel able to provide a separate building and teachers for them. Some of the Lincoln Park patrons say they will send their children either to Garvanza or to Pasadena to school rather than have them associate with the waifs.

It developed today that nearly a month ago the city council passed an ordinance requiring all buildings of three stories or over situated in any part of the city to be provided with substantial fire escapes. Neither the fire commissioners nor the fire chief had yet been made aware of the new ordinance, but now that the matter is definitely known steps will be taken at once to enforce what is admitted to be a wise change. The former ordinance required fire escapes upon buildings in what was known as the fire limits. The present ordinance will affect several of the city's big hotels as well as a number of the fine new business blocks recently erected.

Frank Tardy, a linen peddler from Los Angeles was arrested today by Officer Pierce for selling his goods about the city without a license. He made a cash deposit of $5 as a guarantee of his appearance in police court tomorrow morning.

The fire department made two hard runs today, one to North Galena avenue where a fire in a vacant lot was spreading beyond control and threatening the fine residences of the neighborhood, the other in response to a call from South Raymond avenue near the ice company's plant, only to discover that the alarm was a false one.

Clarence L. Day, for several years engaged upon the Evening News, has purchased a half interest in the Long Beach Press and removed with his family to make his home in the beach city. Mr. Day gained an enviable reputation in this city as a painstaking newspaper man and leaves many friends here who wish him success in his new venture.

Secretary Coolidge of the board of trade received a letter from parties in Martinsville, Ind., today announcing that ten or fifteen persons from that place are coming to Pasadena this winter to locate. This letter is only one of many which bear out the claim that the tide of tourists and settlers will be larger this winter than usual.

Work on the Sierra Madre extension of the Pacific Electric railway is being delayed by a scarcity of help, a shortage of iron for re-enforced cement and a cement famine. The extreme time limit is January next, but it has been hoped that the line could be put in running order three full months earlier. It is reported now that the road will be open by the first of November if nothing else happens to delay the work of construction.

VOGT IN SANTA BARBARA

International Secretary of Christian Endeavor Societies Is Coming to Los Angeles

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 21.—Von Ogden Vogt, the international secretary of the Christian Endeavor societies, arrived from the north tonight and will remain until tomorrow morning, when he will go south to Los Angeles.

The Santa Barbara County Christian Endeavor convention met in the Presbyterian church for a session this afternoon. Considerable business was transacted. A union meeting of the Endeavor societies of this city was held at the Grace Methodist church tonight. Secretary Vogt was the principal speaker. The church choir united their forces and there was chorus music under the leadership of C. E. Arnold.

Tomorrow morning Secretary Vogt will be taken over the mountain drive by members of the local city union and will be entertained by them until his departure in the afternoon.

The most important point made in the Careaga case up to date was brought up by Mrs. Sammann's attorneys shortly before court adjourned this afternoon. Attorney Roach submitted a copy of the judgment roll of the divorce proceedings between Figueroa and his wife in 1877, saying that by it he would show that in the complaint Mrs. Figueroa stated under oath that the only children of her union with Figueroa were her eldest son Tony and her daughter Josepha, now Mrs. Harris of Los Angeles. Having proved by witnesses that Juan Careaga was cognizant with all the points of the divorce, and had actually employed and paid the attorney who prosecuted the action for Mrs. Figueroa, this document would be of the greatest value to the intervenor and would go a long way toward proving that Mrs. Samman is the daughter of Careaga and not of Figueroa.

NEWS OF SAN DIEGO

Local Canton, Patriarchs Militant, Perfecting Themselves in Drill. Women to Slay Bulls

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 21.—The Odd Fellows of Canton San Diego, Patriarchs Militant, are out drilling daily, for while they do not intend to enter the competition for medals or prizes, they do want to make a good appearance along with others and possibly show them what could be done if San Diego did not happen to be host on this occasion. Reports continue to come in that in a measure increase the estimate that the committee makes of the number expected here the first week in October.

The woman bullfighters who appeared in the ring at Tia Juana last Sunday announce a repetition of the exhibition next Sunday, when the five girls will fight five bulls and will slay two of them. The two will be killed by Marie and Elvira Segovia, two sisters who are the sword handlers of the combination.

WILL NAME FREEHOLDERS

Mayor Dudley Selects Committee of Four to Decide on Candidates for Santa Monica Board

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 21.—At a well attended mass meeting of citizens held in the city hall last night for the purpose of taking action on the nomination of a board of freeholders, Mayor T. H. Dudley was unanimously chosen to act as chairman of a committee of five, he to select four associates, and the committee in turn to decide on the ten remaining candidates necessary to complete the board. Some fear was expressed that all parts of the city might not receive just representation but this was dispelled today when the mayor announced his selection as follows: C. A. Stilson of Hill street and Speedway; R. R. Tanner, 148 Fourth street; G. D. Snyder, Lake street and Ashland avenue, and G. H. Hutton, 734 Second street. The committee will make the remaining appointments at once and will tender a report of its action at a meeting to be held tomorrow evening.

FRUIT CIRCLES MUCH AGITATED

SAN BERNARDINO EXCHANGE LOSES MEMBERSHIP

East Highlands and Redlands Fruit Growers' Associations Withdraw and Form an Independent Organization

SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 21.—A move in fruit circles has been made in this valley that is believed by many fruit men to portend the complete disruption of the County Fruit exchange, one of the links in the chain of the Southern California Fruit exchange.

This week the East Highland Fruit Growers' association and the Redlands Fruit Growers' association have announced their withdrawal from the San Bernardino County Fruit exchange, and have organized the Redlands-Highland Fruit exchange, which will be affiliated directly with the Southern California Fruit exchange.

The new exchange controls about 1000 cars of oranges, or nearly one-half the fruit formerly controlled by the county exchange. The movers in this plan state that their action is taken not because they do not like the county exchange, but because they wish to get in closer touch with the main offices than was possible through the county exchange. It is also said they desire to have their fruit featured more in the market.

An effort is being made to get the Bryn Mawr and Drew associations into the new organization, and this would take about 200 more cars away from the county exchange. Inducements were held out to the Highland Orange Growers' association, but its contracts would not permit withdrawal. The head offices of the new organization will be in Redlands.

Rialto colony yesterday afternoon had a narrow escape from a brush fire which started five miles west and traveled toward the village at a rapid pace, being fanned by the stiff west breeze. The entire populace turned out in response to the alarm and fire fighting was in order for two or three hours. The fire department aided in the work, and a hard battle was necessary to save the public school building and several residences and barns along the west side of town. The Rialto cemetery was entirely burned over.

A gold strike that reads like a fairy tale comes from an old San Bernardino prospector named Ernest Oughton at Chloride Flat, N. M. He and a man named Taylor opened up a pocket deposit, from which they sold one ton of the ore that brought them $30,000 in cold spot cash. There is considerable more of the rock in the pocket, but the deposit is limited. Oughton was one of the men who in the famous Calico rush some years ago woke up one morning to find themselves fabulously rich and a short time later discovered that their wealth had vanished.

The preliminary hearing of Fred Eldridge, charged with the murder of Fred Romo near Van Ness Springs in the mountains, is in progress.

MEXICAN ACCUSED BY WIFE

Henry Magee Arrested at Rincon on Charge of Assault to Commit Murder

CORONA, Sept. 21.—Constable Sargent was summoned to Rincon yesterday to take into custody a Mexican named Henry Magee, who his wife claims attempted to kill her. Magee was brought to this city and locked up. The charge preferred against the Mexican is assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill. His bonds have been fixed at $5000, which up to the present time he has not furnished. The prisoner's preliminary examination will take place before Justice Cummins tomorrow morning. As is usual in such cases among Mexicans when the trial takes place the prisoner's wife may not testify against him. There are other witnesses, however. Magee several years ago killed a fellow countryman he claimed in self-defense, for which act he was arrested, tried and acquitted.

SOLDIERS' HOME BREVITIES

SOLDIERS' HOME, Sept. 21.—Maj. Henry E. Hasse, for many years surgeon-in-chief of the Pacific branch, has tendered his resignation, to take effect November 1. He served during the Civil War in the Army of the Cumberland as surgeon of the Twenty-third Wisconsin infantry, the regiment commanded by Col. William F. Vilas, who was postmaster general in Grover Cleveland's cabinet.

Herman E. Rheinhardt, who was killed in Los Angeles last Friday night, was brought out to the home and given a military funeral this afternoon. He served five years in the regular army from 1851, and during the Civil War in company C, First Washington Territory infantry. He was a native of Germany and eighty-three years of age.

BELL ORGANIZING BAND

BELL, Sept. 21.—Bell is promised music for the coming winter, a cornet band of twelve pieces having been organized under the leadership of Prof. A. C. Scholes. It consists of six ladies and an equal number of gentlemen. The instruments have arrived and weekly practice will be commenced. W. Barger is secretary and J. I. Johnson is manager.

STEAMER NELLIE ASHORE

Panic Ensues Among Passengers Bound for Long Beach, but No Serious Damage Is Done

LONG BEACH, Sept. 21.—Last night, in the heavy fog which lay over the harbor, the Nelson-Napier steamer Nellie, with a load of passengers bound from San Pedro for Long Beach, ran on the rocks at the outer end of Deadman's island. A panic among the passengers resulted, but all quieted down when the crew had investigated carefully and found that the boat had not been stove in. Without much difficulty she was backed off the rocks and continued on her course to this city. She was examined at the ship yards this morning, but as nothing was amiss she has made her regular trips today.

While trimming a tree near the residence of Mr. Darrow on West First street today, Robert Ramsay fell from a ladder on which he was standing and suffered painful though not serious injuries.

Thomas Trever, while bathing about a mile down the beach today, was so unfortunate as to step on a full sized stingaree. The wound inflicted by the fish was a most painful one. He made his way back to Long Beach, where he called on Dr. J. W. Wood, who dressed the wound. After a rest Trever left for his home in Los Angeles.

WOMAN FASTS THIRTY DAYS

Ocean Park Resident Finds That Abstinence From Food Improves Her Health

OCEAN PARK, Sept. 21.—After having spent considerable time and money in a fruitless endeavor to relieve herself of a nervous disorder, Mrs. N. C. Eymann of 19 Navy avenue, the wife of a prominent realty dealer, instituted a thirty days' fast, which ended tonight, leaving her, she claims, greatly benefited. During the fast Mrs. Eymann lost ten pounds in weight.

At a meeting of the Mothers' Child Study circle held at the Washington Street school today officers to serve during the ensuing term were elected as follows: President, Mrs. E. J. Vawter; vice president, Mrs. August Miller; secretary, Miss Loe McClure; treasurer, Mrs. P. Snyder.

Ramacio Ramariz Will Be Sentenced Monday for Looting Southern Pacific Wreck

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 21.—Ramacio Ramariz was today found guilty of robbing the Southern Pacific wreck at Beaumont on Saturday and will be sentenced on Monday.

K. Sanborn is building two flats on the corner of Lemon and Twelfth streets.

Bachelors and benedicts of the Y. M. C. A. will play another game of indoor baseball on the outdoor field Wednesday.

DOMESTICS WRAPPERS UNDERMUSLINS

Interesting Business

This getting ready to open; like a combination of Christmas time and the house-cleaning season all rolled into one—all the joys of Christmas and all the troubles that go with house-cleaning. Workmen are everywhere, all over the building, tinting walls, setting cases, laying carpets, polishing counters, hanging lights, finishing the stairways and putting the last finishing touches here and there.

The employes are everywhere also, opening cases, marking goods and arranging stocks. Everywhere is rush, hustle and activity—everywhere a good-natured rivalry as to who shall accomplish the most and who shall get his stock quickest into shape.

As things are rounding into shape more and more, and as the completed whole is emerging from the chaotic confusion of the early stages, enthusiasm is reaching a high pitch. There is enough, too, to make anybody enthusiastic to see everything coming out so splendidly; to see the fine lot of people associated together in this enterprise; to see the magnificent bargains coming out of bale, case and bundle.

You ought to see the Souvenirs for the Opening—49 great cases of them. They are the prettiest you—but then you will see them and possess them at the time of the Opening.

We are anxious to have you share this enthusiasm with us. You will be as appreciative as the rest when you see the perfection of detail and arrangement and the money-saving bargains these last few days are bringing forth.

WHITE GOODS CHILDREN'S DRESSES SILKS

SENT TO CHILDREN'S HOME Children's home of Los Angeles. The child is the daughter of Mrs. May Janson, who lives in a tent on the beach and is incapable of giving her child proper care. The mother testified that she was addicted to the use of morphine and that she smoked cigarettes and drank liquor. Although the mother pleaded for her child the court decided that she be sent to the Children's home. The Native Daughters' holiday fair on Friday and Saturday evenings promises to be a brilliant affair. Extensive preparations are being made and a good program will be rendered each evening, followed by a dance.

Corina Olivas Ordered to Be Taken From the Custody of Morphine Consuming Mother

Cubanola quality is not an accident. It is not just a lucky purchase of a few bales of extra good leaf that produces it. The whole process, from seed to smoker, is figured out and carried out as thoroughly as the building of a ship.

CUBANOLA CIGAR—5c.

The Cubanola Cigar at five cents is a perfect result of the American Cigar Company's scientific modern system of cigar production—which includes direct control and supervision of the plantations. The Cubanola filler is genuine Havana, harvested and blended in 100-bale lots, and firmly rolled in a selected binder and rolled in a genuine Sumatra wrapper. It is a straight ten-cent cigar all through from match to ashes—all except the price-tag.

Cubanola Cigars are delivered to the dealer in perfect condition, direct from the humidors,—every box separately cased in a dust-tight, weather-proof, paraffine wrapper. The Triangle A on the Cubanola box stands for perfect cigars. It is a merit-mark that means science, system and cleanliness in every process, and better cigars for less money.
