

ANGELI KNOCKS CORDELL OUT

CROWD WITNESSES FIVE FAIR FIGHTS

Kid Solomon Wins From Billy Walsh in Four Fast and Furious Rounds—Rube Jeffries Defeats Bell

With a stinging right to the jaw Joe Angeli laid Jack Cordell low in the sixth round of their whirlwind go last night and closed a thirty-two round exhibition in which much of the amateur entered into the sport.

Cleverness was not a superabundant quality but enough grueling work occurred to satisfy the fair sized crowd that gathered within the pavilion. With the exception of Gorman-Mayfield go, which at times appeared tame, the men fought with a will.

As a fight, the Solomon-Walsh mill was the prettiest while it lasted, but the "Ghetto Kid" showed too strong for the game little Walsh lad and when he staggered bewildered to his corner after the fourth round, the sponge went into the ring.

Rube Jeffries has a easy time. Rube Jeffries took a round and a half to dispose of William Bell, and it was only the gong that saved the wrestler in the first round, for he hit the floor three times before the whaling blows of the lanky Rube.

Jack "Twain" Sullivan was the first, and in response to calls for a speech said, "Gentlemen, I am willing to meet any middleweight in the world."

Tommy Burns was the next, and though he received a loud invitation was not equal to the occasion and slipped out of the ring without saying who it was he wanted.

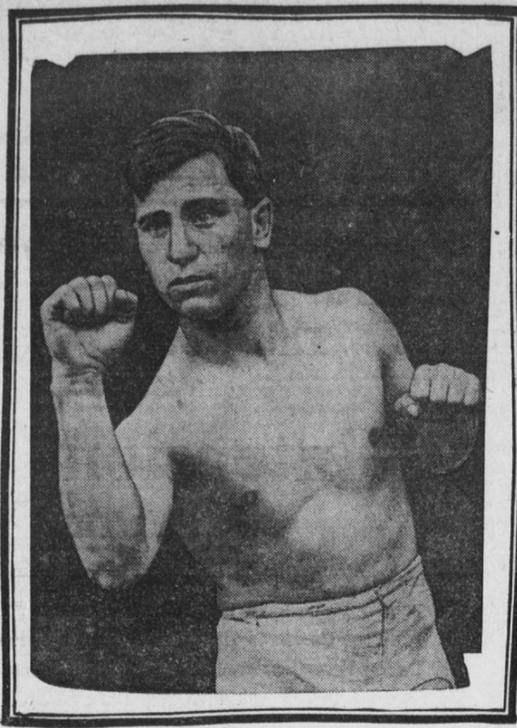

Steve Harbin stated that he desired to meet the winner of the Solomon-Walsh fight—that was before the fight.

Jack Johnson was introduced as the champion negro heavyweight of the world, hailing from Australia, though the house insisted that Arizona was his home.

Both Solomon and Walsh received a good hand as they entered the ring and after considerable play for an opening started into a furious mixup, both using a right hand wallop.

Referee Eytan had all he could do in tearing the men apart. Walsh threw some telling rights to the Kid's body and for a brief moment Solomon looked anxious. He came back strong with the same kind and the gong found them both fighting strongly.

The fourth round saw Solomon using his left and he forced Walsh to the ropes with a left to the body and a smashing right to the head. Walsh danced away and landed several right jabs before the round ended.

Solomon put up a clever fight. Jim Jeffries was cheered to the echu as he made a brief appearance in the ring, and upon being presented by the corpulent Al who does the announcing would only say:

"Gentlemen, I'm much obliged but I'd rather let Fat talk."

After the excitement attendant upon Jeffries' appearance had subsided Kid Gorman and Frank Mayfield went on and somewhat disappointed the crowd, who were looking for a fierce mixup.

Joe Angeli and Jack Cordell won instant favor with the house. From the tap of the gong and until the knock-out in the sixth both men fought for all there was in them.

Soon after the opening the tall fellow returned and the round ended in a grueling mix-up. The remainder of the contest was slow, with the crowd yelling "Fight!" Referee Eytan rendered the decision in favor of Gorman.

CRIPPLED SEALS TAKE A GAME

SLAM TOZER'S CURVES FOR SEVEN RUNS

Angels Unable to Win Despite Good Hitting of Ross and the Pitcher—Jimmy Whalen Wins One

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—The Seals, crippled by the absence of Nealon and Irwin, were fortunate in winning the Idora park game today from the Angels by a score of 7 to 4.

It was Jimmy Whalen's tenth try for a winning game since his sale to New York and he would probably have been tagged with another defeat had Tozer not gone into the air in the sixth inning, allowing Uncle Henry's men five hits and six runs.

The San Franciscans broke things up in the sixth when, after Williams had fanned and Houliholder drawn a pass, they commenced to send Tozer's curves in all directions until six runs were tallied.

In the Angel's half of the ninth, Ross led off with a two-bagger and scored on Tozer's triple to the right field fence but the run getting ended there.

ship give his friends unqualified faith in his ability to dispose of the Mexican. Hanlon has experienced but two knockouts in his short career, the first being administered by Abe Attell in the fourth round of their fight at San Francisco in 1901.

Eddie has fought nearly all his battles against topnotchers and has made probably the best record of any of the little fighters on the coast, which earned for him the title of "Pride of California."

Both Hanlon and Herrera will train here and are expected to arrive within the next ten days or two weeks and begin active training.

Herrera's record shows probably more knockouts than any other fighter in recent years. His "mule kick" is famous for its effectiveness when once it permeates along the sleep line of his opponent's face.

Terry McGovern won from Herrera in five rounds at Frisco in 1901. Tim Hagerty got a decision at the end of twenty rounds of whirlwind fighting at Berkeley the same year, Billy DeCoursey did likewise at Los Angeles, making three successive defeats for the Mexican in that year.

Abe Attel got a decision in fifteen rounds at Oakland in 1902 and Jack Cordell won in fifteen rounds at Oakland in 1903.

Get a Good Piano

How many people buy more than one piano in a lifetime? Very few. Buying a piano is a rare event—it requires time—it requires thought—it requires investigation. It pays to get a good piano at the start. For instance

The Ludwig

Is a piano that fills every requirement of the student and the musical artist. It is handsome in design, perfect in tone, faultless in action. It has all the best features of other pianos. It has exclusive features of its own. It retains its original brilliancy of tone much longer than the average instrument.

We are agents for the Ludwig Piano and have a good assortment to select from. Besides the Ludwig we sell the Knabe, Packard, Mason & Hamlin, Smith & Barnes, Fischer and many other reliable makes ranging in price from
