

UTAH PROCEEDS TRAVEL IN STATE CROSS PLAINS, BUT NOT IN PRAIRIE SCHOONERS

Picturesque Party From Utah Guests of Senator W. A. Clark, President of the Salt Lake Road

Traveling in a magnificent train over the route covered fifty years ago in "prairie schooners," thirty pioneers of the Mormon church arrived in Los Angeles yesterday.

Grizzled and bowed though many of them are, they are renewing their youth and enjoying their vacation from school.

Among the party are representatives of the highest councils in the Mormon church, and nearly all were intimate friends and acquaintances of Brigham Young, the greatest pioneer of the Mormon church.

Other picturesque members of the party are: Nathan Tanner, the oldest Mormon in Utah. He built what is now the oldest house in San Bernardino, in 1851.

W. C. A. Smoot, junior and senior, are nephew and brother respectively of United States Senator W. R. Smoot.

Phil Marjette, the oldest and best loved actor in Utah, was not one of the pioneers, properly speaking, but as he was engineer on the first train that ran into the state of Utah, it was thought by Senator Clark that he deserved a place in the party.

To Ruel Barnes belongs the distinction of being the subject of the first daguerrotype taken in the west. His picture was taken by that process in 1839.

Charles Crismon built the first mill in the San Bernardino valley in 1854. It was a flour mill and stood for many years near the site of the present city of San Bernardino.

The party is being entertained at the Lexington hotel. A program embracing many of the trips around Los Angeles, has been prepared for the pioneers.

Today at one o'clock the party will take over the beach line of the Salt Lake, in a parlor car provided for them by the management of the road.

The directors of the chamber of commerce have appointed A. W. Skinner, W. H. Workman, Maj. E. W. Jones and Maj. J. M. Guinn as a committee to act at the reception to be given to the Salt Lake pioneers in the rooms of the chamber of commerce tomorrow afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock.

The special train carrying 1000 white ribbons will arrive in Los Angeles Tuesday, Oct. 24. Automobiles, carriages and special cars will be in waiting to take the delegates to the various homes where they will be entertained.

On the evening of that day the chamber of commerce will give a reception in their honor.

Conferences and general convention sessions will be held in the afternoon most of the time until Friday, November 3. Friday is Pasadena day and a delegation of at least 600 will go to the Crown City. The women will be given tickets stating at what hour they are to leave Los Angeles; 2:30 will go at 9 o'clock, another 2:00 at 10 o'clock and the last relay at 11 o'clock. The Pasadena board of trade will have carriages waiting at Hotel Green and the women will spend an hour driving around the city.

The board of trade assisted by members of the council, ministers and leading club women will give a reception, and immediately following, luncheon will be served by the W. C. T. U. Many of the delegates will go to Mount Lowe in the afternoon and a reception will be given in the evening to the Y. W. C. T. U.

Saturday will be Santa Monica day. The delegates will go around the balloon route stopping first at Paul de Longpre's home. At Santa Monica they will be met by Mrs. H. C. Eaton, Eaton and Mrs. Sarah Howe Morris, who will give a lawn fete and luncheon. In the afternoon they will complete the balloon route, stopping at the beaches along the way.

The attractions at Long Beach will be an automobile ride on the sand, a boat ride to San Pedro and return, luncheon and a reception.

The supervisors of Orange county have donated $100 toward a Santa Ana County day and the people of Santa Ana are making elaborate preparations for entertainment.

OLD ROBBERY RECALLED Papers Stolen From Postoffice in Alameda County in 1852 Are Unearthed

OAKLAND, Oct. 11.—What is believed to be the clew to a postoffice burglary which occurred fifty-two years ago in Alameda county was discovered today by workmen engaged in demolishing an old building at East Twelfth street and Twelfth avenue, east Oakland.

In 1853 the building in question was occupied by the Clinton post-office and an express office. In December of that year burglars robbed both offices, taking several thousands of dollars in gold slugs.

Uncle Sam's mail sack was rifled and its contents disappeared. The thief was never apprehended, nor was the mail recovered. Today a moldy bundle of letters and papers was found when the wall of the old building was torn down.

There was a draft for $100 addressed to Francis Stead from the New Orleans banking house of Brace Bean & Co. It is dated September 20, 1853, and was never paid. The draft was drawn on Jacob Little & Company, New York.

Other letters, which are only in part decipherable, making inquiries about the Californian gold fields, were in the bundle.

YOKOHAMA, Oct. 11.—The British squadron of twelve vessels, under the command of Vice Admiral Sir Gerald Noel, arrived here this morning and was officially welcomed amid scenes of the greatest enthusiasm by Vice Admiral Shimamura.

Salutes were exchanged between the Japanese flagships Iwate and the British flagships Diadem, Admiral Shimamura then went on board the Diadem, accompanied by the governor and other local authorities and a representative of Sir Claude McDonald, the British minister at Tokio.

After these ceremonies had been concluded Admiral Noel and 1300 officers and men landed and paraded through a cheering multitude to a garden party given by the municipality, at which they were entertained by dancing, feats of juggling and wrestling. Day fireworks were displayed and the entire city was appropriately decorated.

At a banquet this evening Maj. Ichahira proposed a toast to "King Edward, Queen Alexandra and the British navy," and welcomed the visit of the squadron as strengthening the Anglo-Japanese alliance for the peaceful industrial development of the far east and the civilization of the far east.

He referred to the presence of the United States battleship Wisconsin in the port of Yokohama and cordially extended to the Japanese shores, Admiral Noel and his staff will leave tomorrow morning for Tokio.

This is regarded as the most remarkable, because it was the first time the Colorado had fired her guns in target practice, and because her gun crews are but newly organized.

BODY IS DEDICATED TO CAUSE OF SCIENCE GEORGE W. CATT'S CORPSE TO BE DISSECTED

He Was the Husband of Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Former President of the National Woman's Suffrage Association

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—In accordance with the provisions of his will the body of George William Catt, husband of Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, former president of the National Woman's Suffrage association and president of the International Council of Women's association, will be dissected for the advancement of medical and surgical knowledge.

Mr. Catt died on Sunday at his home, 205 West Fifty-seventh street, following an operation for gall stones and a special permit was issued by the health department and the body taken to Cornell university and Bellevue Hospital Medical college yesterday afternoon after the funeral at his home.

Various portions of the human body have been dissected at the New York from time to time, and it has not been unusual for men of science to will their brains to such institutions, but this is the first time in the remembrance of doctors in this city that a man of good position and generally normal physique has given his body to the body for the advancement of medical knowledge.

The study of Mr. Catt's body is expected to be of unusual benefit, because, except for the disease from which he died, it was in all respects normal and healthy. This disposition of the body was directed by section six of his will, which read: "It is my wish that my body be given to a medical college in which anatomy would be taught, and that it be placed in my demise to be used in such a manner as will be most to the advancement of medical knowledge."

Mr. Catt, who was a civil engineer of national repute, and a member of various scientific societies here and abroad, died in 1897. He was engaged in discussing the matter with his wife and frequently expressing his regret that medical colleges seldom had an opportunity to dissect the body of a healthy, intelligent man, he gained her consent to bequeath his body to science.

Mr. Catt was born in Davenport, Iowa, in 1860. He was graduated in civil engineering from the Iowa State college in 1882. In 1893 he organized and became president of the New York Dredging company which engaged in various harbor improvements for the United States government, for private parties along the Atlantic and gulf coasts, including a seven-mile ship canal at Galveston, Texas.

He organized the Atlantic Gulf and Pacific company, an association of engineers and contractors of which he was president. The company has a $3,000,000 contract for harbor work in the Philippine islands and $2,000,000 worth of coast work.

Mr. Catt was married to Mrs. Carrie Lane Chapman of Seattle in 1890. They have no children.

ARGUMENTS ON EMMONS CASE JURY ADDRESSED BY JOHNSON AND SEYMOUR

Lawyer for Defense Finishes His Speech and District Attorney Opens for the Prosecution—Makes Dramatic Appeal

By Associated Press. SACRAMENTO, Oct. 11.—In the Emmons bribery trial before Judge Hart this morning Grove L. Johnson resumed his argument to the jury for the defense. The courtroom was crowded to its full capacity and several times the sheriff had to call for order when the auditors responded by laughter to Mr. Johnson's sallies.

The attorney went rapidly over the whole case as presented by the testimony to illustrate his claim that neither Jordan, Bunkers nor Lee had been corroborated.

He implored the jury to discover, if it could, any testimony corroborative of either Bunkers, the confessed perjurer and felon, or Jordan, the alleged co-briber. He assailed the Continental Building and Loan association as the real plaintiff in the case, the institution he said being corrupt and debauched and operated in the interest of schemers; that Corbin had overdrawn and defrauded the company.

Mr. Johnson declared that there was ample cause for investigation of that company and held that it feared investigation and entered into a scheme to forestall investigation and stand off exposure by turning upon the defendant with an accusation that should serve to distract attention from its own corruption and cover its own villainies.

At 3:15 District Attorney Seymour began his concluding address to the jury. He opened with a tribute to the state and the manhood and womanhood that had built the commonwealth. "But a shame had come upon it when a senator was brought up on the bar of justice for wantonly violating his sacred trust."

"Lee, the negro," he said, "was not an accomplice, but an accessory after the fact, and does not require corroboration. In legislative bribery the question is what did the briber intend, not what did the briber contemplate."

"Was Emmons a senator and did he receive money to bar and defeat investigation of the building companies? These are all the things needful to be proved and they have been proved beyond the shadow of a possibility of a doubt," said the speaker.

"Shall the cost of the trial weigh against the honor and life of the state? Shall Emmons be acquitted because other men walk the streets who are guilty and go unpunished? Shall all murders go free because some are not detected? Why should not Sacramento be the moral clearing house of the state? It is the capital and here the laws are made and it must meet its responsibilities."

"Wife and child are pleased to see Emmons, but hearts had to be saved against it, that duty might be done and corruption punished, no matter how hard it may be."

At this point the court adjourned until tomorrow morning.
