

SAINTS TO MEET THE OCCIDENTALS

FIRST COLLEGIATE GAME OF SEASON TODAY

Coaches Haggerty and Merrill Are Each Confident of Victory in Gridiron Battle at Highland Park

COACHES' STATEMENTS Occidental will realize that it has been in a football game, and its individual members must exert themselves to the limit if they expect to win.—Coach Haggerty of St. Vincent.

The St. Vincent and Occidental eleven will meet at Highland Park this afternoon in the first collegiate game of the season, and an exciting contest is expected, as both teams are in fine fettle and are evenly matched as to weight.

Since their game with High School the Occidentals have been strengthened by the weak spots and Coach Merrill has expressed himself as confident that his men will win.

The Vincentians are also expecting a victory and believe they will take the game by a comfortable margin. Coach Haggerty says that his team will be in the best of condition, barring Acker, who is still suffering with a painful ankle from the northern games.

In the line neither eleven has much of an advantage, as rather rugged ball has been displayed by both sets of forwards in the contests with High School.

St. Vincent has the stronger back field, with Cunningham, Acker and Andrews the surer men at ground gaining. McDonald in his game against the Academics exhibited better judgment in directing the play of the team than did Spaulding in Saturday's struggle, and at present standing the Saints appear able to get the most out of their strength.

In Petty and Weiman, whom Merrill says are the best tackles in the south, the backbones of the Occidental line is found. A Merrill at end played a strong game last Saturday and gives promise of developing into one of the fastest men in his position before the season closes.

A rumor has been floating to the effect that Haggerty is to lose E. McDonald, his line-tearing tackle. McDonald possibly may not play this afternoon, and with him out of the game the Occidentals will have an advantage that they probably have not been expecting.

The St. Vincent men ceased hard practice Friday evening and last night devoted themselves to blackboard work.

On the showing thus far St. Vincent should win by at least a small score. The Berkeley men, who arrive this morning from the north, are expected to be the guests of the management at to-day's game.

ANGELS BAT OUT ANOTHER VICTORY

WINNING STREAK CONTINUES UNBROKEN

Tigers Take Early Lead, but Are Unable to Hold It—Baum Allows Them Only Three Hits

Los Angeles, 4; Tacoma, 3

It's the same old story, Los Angeles won. Bones Baum was one too many for the Orphans and they could connect safely but three times. Baum's puzzlers were not disturbed after the first inning, except once in the fourth inning, when Lynch managed to get a scratch safely to left.

As usual, the Wanderers began the game like they meant business, scoring three runs, but the Angels went about the winning process in the same old way and when the end of the journey was reached they had scored one too many for their opponents from the frigid zone.

Doyle led off for the Tigers with a single. Sheehan took four wide ones and Nordyke forced Doyle in an attempt at sacrificing. Eagan singled, scoring Sheehan and McLaughlin hit to Tomman, who was a trifle slow in throwing to the plate, allowing Nordyke to score. Lynch went out, Tomman to Dillon, Eagan crossing the path and Nordyke loitered to wait for third and was tagged.

For Los Angeles, Bernard singled to left. Flood followed suit and Smith was safe on an error by Casey. With the bases jammed, Dillon got in the way of one of Fitzgerald's easy ones and took first, forcing Bernard across the plate. Cravath hit a high one to the plate. Bernard hit a high one to the plate. Flood beat the throw in. Ross flew to center and Tomman dropped an easy one to Casey.

Bones settled down in the second inning and the Tigers' run-getting was put to an end for the remainder of the game. Fitzgerald attempted the same feat, but the Angels fell onto his feet, but the Angels fell onto his feet, but the Angels fell onto his feet.

Ross singled in the eighth but was doubled with Tomman a moment later. Eager singled to left and Baum doubled. Bernard was safe on a wild throw by Eagan to first. Ross failed to see the necessity for further monkey business and fouled to Hogan. The next three Tigers were dead easy and went out one, two, three. Thus the story is told.

BERKELEY TEAM ARRIVES TODAY

ARE TO BATTLE INDIANS TOMORROW

Southern California Is Given Opportunity of Learning Relative Strength of Possible Rivals for Gridiron Championship

The Berkeley eleven will arrive on the Owl this morning and register at the Angelus. In the game with the Indians tomorrow afternoon, and the contest between Stanford and the Indians a week later, Southern California will obtain the first real line on the respective abilities of both university teams.

The great game of the north is the Stanford-Berkeley struggle and the eleven of the two universities devote the efforts to winning the contest which has always entailed the championship of California.

The games immediately preceding the event of the year in northern circles do not exhibit the strength of the teams, as the men are held back for fear of a possible injury.

The coming games are far in advance to warrant a let-out to the limit and the actual playing powers of the two elevens should be shown in the games of tomorrow and next Saturday.

Predictions are rife as to the outcome and, while many favor the Indians, the fact remains that the teams of the north are in the main stronger than the southland aggregation, over which the Indians score at will.

Berkeley has had this year the advantage of two of the best coaches in the country, men who have participated in games against the greatest elevens of the east and who have been aroused by the California men to the spirit of aggressiveness that marks the whirlwind style of ball which characterizes the eastern play.

Those in a position to know, claim that the Indians must give way before the training and coaching of the Berkeley men and are looking for a Galliey men and are looking for a Galliey men and are looking for a Galliey men.

Stamina of Redskins The Indians, with their natural hardihood, round to form in short order and the feature of the contests in which they have taken part has been the stamina of the Redskins.

With the two teams in the finest physical condition, the game should center to the real football knowledge of Sherman and California, with science winning out.

Coleman, the Indian center, is a substitute of last year and by his aggressive play on offense and defense, has earned a place on the first eleven. Blackthorn at right guard is one of the heaviest men on the team and his work during past seasons has placed him on a par, if not above, any guard of the south.

Lubo and Lugo at tackles are ahead of any pair in southern California and as ground gainers, equal their strength as defensive players.

Kennedy, at left end, played for several seasons on Carlisle and is entering for his first year at the game in Southern California.

Shoulder, captain and right end, has been a fixture on the Sherman team since the institution put out an eleven many years ago.

Tortes, the left half back, was a sub last season, and his development lifted him into one of his speediest men.

Coleman and Bullock are the quarterbacks, and in experience the former has the advantage, with Bullock showing better at handling the men.

Magee, formerly right half, has been switched to full and promises to make the all-Southern California team in his position.

Ben Neapah has probably been the greatest favorite of the southern gridiron, and his removal from quarter to half, thus relieving him of any responsibility as to the direction of the Sherman men, may mean an advantage to the Sherman men.

The officials have been selected and Kenneth Hamilton of Berkeley will act as umpire, with Traeger refereeing. Haggerty will be head linesman.

SPORTING GOSSIP

Kick-in-the-Face Signed

Carlisle has added to its roster of gridiron warriors Mr. Kick-in-the-Face, a new student, who comes to the institution with high recommendations as to his ability to land his pedal extremities in the facial appearance of his foes.

Walsh vs. Soloman Billy Walsh, who was defeated by Kid Soloman in Tom McCarrey's extravaganza recently, issued a challenge Tuesday night to Kid Soloman for a return engagement. Walsh has been working out for some time at the pavilion and believes he is now able to solve the Ghetto Kid and administer that which no other has been able to do in Los Angeles.

Sullivan-Burns Again Tommy Burns is far from being satisfied with the verdict against him Tuesday night and pleads that the extraordinary efforts in tearing away weight weakened him so that he could deliver no effective blows.

Mike Challenges Gans This week's Police Gazette publishes a challenge from Mike Twin Sullivan to any 135-pounder in the business. Mike went into the ring Tuesday night and made known his desire to meet any man in the world who would challenge him and he has money to back his challenge.

Baseball Attendance With the Angels playing in championship form and winning with regularity, Manager Morley is unable to account of the slim attendance at Chutes park. Less than 500 fans were out yesterday to see the uphill and victorious struggle of the home team, and that with the Seraphic squad only five points from the top rung.

Attell Defies Erne Abe Attell is making the nights and days hideous in the east with his attempts at getting a return fight with Young Erne, who recently polished the Hebrew off according to the latest methods. Erne now wants Able to go to the top line and fight it out.

O'Brien vs. Kauffman The next battle of importance to be switched to full and promises to make the all-Southern California team in his position.

Ben Neapah has probably been the greatest favorite of the southern gridiron, and his removal from quarter to half, thus relieving him of any responsibility as to the direction of the Sherman men, may mean an advantage to the Sherman men.

The officials have been selected and Kenneth Hamilton of Berkeley will act as umpire, with Traeger refereeing. Haggerty will be head linesman.
