

the Orr Patterson, from Greenville, S. C., was also one of the wedding guests. After a short wedding trip and a few weeks spent in Los Angeles Mr. and Mrs. Peoples will leave for Anderson, S. C. where they have a beautiful new home that has just been completed for them. The beautiful young bride is only seventeen years of age and the bridegroom just one year her senior.

Choir Members to Receive

One of the social events in Catholic circles will be the reception next Thursday evening tendered by the choir of the Cathedral of St. Vibiana to the Young Ladies' sodality and Young Men's society of the parish. The receiving hours will be from 8 to 11 o'clock. An informal musical program will be given, vocal numbers being contributed by Misses Scanlon, Masonave, Klinkhammer, Fahey, Mrs. Clement and Messrs. Fox, Hopkins, Pond, McHale, Collins and Pla. Misses Dilger and Bell will give instrumental solos.

The reception committee will be composed of Mr. and Mrs. J. X. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. James Sheridan, Mr. and Mrs. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. James Fox and Mr. and Mrs. W. Fearon. Rev. T. P. Fahey, diocesan choir master, is in charge, being also director of the Young Ladies' sodality.

One Round of Social Gaiety

Miss Vida Randolph has been the center of many delightful gatherings, and there has not been a day during the past week when she has not been the honored guest at some delightful little affair. Yesterday afternoon Miss Beatrice Duff of 1017 South Alvarado was the hostess at a luncheon given for her. The pretty home was decorated in yellow and white chrysanthemums, that being the flower which Miss Randolph and Mr. Carruthers have chosen to decorate this church and the bride's home on the wedding day. Young women who were entertained by Miss Duff yesterday afternoon were Misses Dorothy Macleish, Semone Ruch, Beth Coulter, Helen Macleish, Mary Bernini, Edith Coombs, Wynette Bailey, Mildred Harrison, Kate Mackechin, Irene Cummins, Helen Coombs, Myrtle Yerxa, Kathleen Hamilton, Florence Thresher, Helen Thresher, Bessie Helyer, Emma Marman, Lucy Lindsey, Adair Leovy, Helen Pitcher, Anna Scott, Ethelwyn Walker and Anita Pitcher.

The Crowded Hotel

The Young Men's sodality of the Cathedral of St. Vibiana will present a play entitled "The Crowded Hotel" at Blanchard hall Friday evening, November 24. The young men of the society are very enthusiastic over the play, which promises to be a great success. Many projects have been whispered to the Chatterer, and if these come true this society will soon add stars to the crown already won.

Anthony Joyce will be the leading lady of the production—in fact the only one. He will take the part of Miss Sally Parkins, a lone and unprotected female from Peppermint Hollow. Rev. George Sleubert, director of the society, will be stage manager and will have charge of the production.

Following is the cast of characters: Seth Hopkins, Yankee keeper of Bimbletown hotel, John O'Shea; Snyder Dingleblender, John Whaling; Mike McFlynn, George Moriarty; Pete Peagreen, James McHale; Miss Sally Parkins, Anthony Joyce.

The committee on arrangements includes T. Dussicy, Clement Boiteux and George Quigley. Following the play dancing will be enjoyed and an orchestra will be in attendance.

"Reporters' Experience Meeting"

The Southern California Woman's Press club will hold its first evening session of the year on Wednesday evening, October 25, at 8 o'clock in the assembly hall, chamber of commerce.

A "reporters' experience meeting" has been arranged under the guidance of Miss Grace H. Fowler of the Pasadena News. Miss Ellis Meredith, newspaper woman and author of Denver, Miss Goodwin of the Pasadena Star, Mrs. Irving Sayford and a number of the reporters on the local papers will relate experiences in an informal way.

Mr. W. D. Turner of the Shakespeare club, Pasadena, will read selections from Paolo and Francesca, and as Miss Tower is a member of both clubs, members of the Shakespeare club have been invited as the guests of the evening.

The Press club holds regularly two sessions a month, the afternoon session on the second Wednesday at 2:30 and the evening session at 8 o'clock on the fourth Wednesday, both in the chamber of commerce.

Poppy Whist Club

The members of the Poppy Whist club were entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Clifford D. Taylor, 1319 Walnut street. Chrysanthemums, carnations and potted plants were gracefully arranged about the rooms. The first prize was awarded to Mrs. E. Todd, the second to Mrs. C. O. Anderson, and the consolation to Mrs. L. E. Paulsen. The guest prize was won by Mrs. McBea. Those present were: Mrs. Holman, E. Todd, W. T. Dalton, L. P. Paulsen, Humphries, A. H. Lapham, C. C. Price, L. G. Wilson, McBea, C. O. Anderson, Taylor and L. G. Mather. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. H. Lapham, 1112 Georgia street, Wednesday, October 25, and the club has accepted the invitation of Mrs. T. T. Dalton to meet at her home, 1900 Central avenue, Wednesday, November 1.

Lakeside Whist Club Meets

Members of the Lakeside Whist club were entertained yesterday afternoon at their first meeting of the season by Mrs. R. Sturgeon of 2657 La Salle avenue. The hostess of the afternoon was chosen president and other members are: Mrs. G. L. Brue, W. H. Foster, J. H. Gingers, Frank Gillespie, J. E. How, A. M. Holt, G. E. Kester, G. E. Loomis, E. G. Luentze, J. McClure, A. F. O'Neil, W. Wirshing, Misses Stewart and Emma Luentze.

Mrs. G. L. Brue of 2717 East Fourth street will be hostess at the next meeting Friday afternoon.

Buckeye High Five Club

Members of the Buckeye High Five club were entertained Thursday afternoon by Mrs. T. J. Darnoddy of 230 East Twenty-fifth street. Scores were kept on cards ornamented with Chinese figures and lanterns. The guests were: Mrs. E. Harris, W. A. Frost, A. Stuts, George Schaffer, Jesse Schaffer, E. Drummond, E. H. Hesse, H. Phelan, Dresser, Corder, Charles Bell, McGinnis, M. Riley and E. Maitland.

Simple Home Wedding

A quiet wedding was celebrated at the home of the bride last Thursday evening, when Mrs. Carrie L. Field of 121 East Thirty-second street was united in marriage to David C. Dack. Rev. W. A. Knights officiated, assisted by Rev. B. C. Cory.

Pine Forest Whist Club

With her accustomed free hearted hospitality Mrs. Thomas Hughes of 1225 Alvarado street opened her beautiful home for the enjoyment of the members of the Pine Forest Whist club Monday afternoon. The prizes, a Haviland china bread plate, decorated with for-

Hallowe'en Dance

Wade Hampton chapter, U. D. C., will open its series of entertainments for this season with a Hallowe'en dance at Kramers' Tuesday evening, October 31. The young women of the chapter are to have charge of the affair and they have enlisted the aid of a number of popular young men. The married women of the chapter will serve on the reception committee, and no effort is being spared to make this dance one of the most enjoyable U. D. C. affairs of the year.

Study Circle Meeting

Mrs. W. W. Murphy addressed the meeting of the Child Study circle of Twentieth street school Wednesday afternoon. "Children and Child Study Circles" was Mrs. Murphy's subject. Much business was transacted.

To View Picture

Miss Pauline Suber, the artist who is here from the east, will give a reception and private view of a recent painting of her's Tuesday afternoon in the bridal suite of the Angelus hotel.

Hundred Year Club to Meet

The initial meeting of the season of the One Hundred Year club will be held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at Hotel Lovejoy.

To Give Dance

The Leonidas club has issued unique invitations for a Hallowe'en dance to be given Friday evening, Oct. 27, at Kramers'.

Social Notes

Mrs. R. E. Wilson of Kansas City, Mo., is the guest at Mrs. W. R. Goswisch. Mrs. Wilson was a delegate to the national U. D. C. convention at San Francisco. She is president of the Stonevale Jackson chapter of Kansas City, and a prominent member of other clubs.

Mrs. King of San Bernardino is visiting her mother, Mrs. Cotton, at 1405 Reid street.

Jessie Smith of 1227 El Molina street has returned after several weeks' spent in Omaha, Neb., and Council Bluffs and Des Moines, Iowa.

J. Masarand of 1405 Harvard boulevard will spend the next few months with friends in San Bernardino.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harlan of 1425 Wilton Place have gone in their automobile to San Jacinto for a few weeks' outing.

The Builder and the Plan class met Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Ellen Coffin on Twelfth street.

Mrs. T. Storey, 1510 Reid street, spent the week at Long Beach, the guest of her daughter, Mrs. H. Enghelm.

Mrs. A. B. Burlingame, from 1124

They had been quietly married by Rev. Robert Renison of St. John's church, San Bernardino.

The parents of the young people had objected to the marriage solely on account of their youth. But "love laughs at locksmiths and bars," and the pretty young bride declares she is as happy as though burdened with a complete wedding trousseau. They have received the parental forgiveness and blessing.

Mr. Simon, who is an architect in the office of B. V. Collins, is planning to purchase a cozy little home for himself and bride.

PASADENA

One of the new features of the Shakespeare club, the musical section, began its fortnightly musicals this week Wednesday before a large audience. Most of the musical members of the club have joined this smaller organization. The winter's work promises many interesting and pleasant afternoons. Gounod's "The Light From Heaven" was sung by Mrs. D. S. Green, whose clear, smooth soprano was especially fitted for the music. Miss Kerr accompanied her with a violin obligato, and Miss Meeker was at the piano. Mrs. Charles H. Stearns played the Scherzo, minuet and presto movements from Beethoven's eighteenth sonata, followed by a "Reverie" of her own composition. This was followed by her paper upon "Music as the Language of the Soul and the Agent of Culture." Mrs. J. G. Rossiter sang a group of songs by Jessie L. Gaynor, "And I" and "A Sleep Song."

Thursday evening Neal Hotelling entertained a number of his high school friends at his parents' home, Ford place. The decorations, games and refreshments were especially adapted to school boy days. Those present were Guy Frampton, Robbins Little, Glen Johnson, Morse Batterson, Raymond Wheeler, Elliott Gibbs, Eugene Kern, Ernest Crawford and Roderick Burnham.

Mr. and Mrs. Walstein Root are expected here early next week. They have taken the same house which they occupied last winter at 210 North Grand avenue, and it is the expectation that again the beautiful home will be the scene of many society affairs.

George Wharton James, who recently returned from a long lecturing tour in the east, gave a charming talk to a few Los Angeles and Pasadena friends upon "John Burroughs" at the James home on North Raymond avenue. A second evening will follow this coming week, when the subject will be "Poetry and Symbolism of Indian Basketry." Mr. James publishes soon a historical and pictorial account of the Franciscan missions, the book being entitled, "In and Out of the Old Missions in California."

The marriage of her daughter, Miss Nina Stonehouse, to J. Porter Gould took place Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Ellen Stonehouse on Palmetto drive. The house was elaborately decorated in green and white by the many friends of the bride. The Misses Maud and Elsie Stonehouse, gowned in white, carried the broad white ribbons which formed an aisle for the bridal party. Miss Nellie Stonehouse, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and wore a pale blue gown. The groom was attended by Stacy Lamb of Los Angeles as best man. The bride's gown was of white embroidered mill, garnished with fine lace. The service was performed by the Rev. Albert Hatcher Smith, and Mrs. J. H. Merriam played the wedding music. The young couple will make their home in a pretty new cottage at Avalon, Catalina island, where Mr. Gould is with the Banning company. The cottage was the gift of the bridegroom's father.

The Emergency league will hold a doll fair this fall, and at a recent meeting of the executive committee it was decided to ask every member of the league to dress a doll for the sale. Every dressmaker in the city has promised to do the same, and a group of competent judges will decide upon the best dressed doll.

A pretty church wedding took place at the First Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening when Miss Edith Lynn Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

I. J. Wilson, and Walter Brian Hill of Santa Barbara were married. The ceremony was artistically decorated for the occasion with a profusion of ferns and palms. About fifty friends were present to witness the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Malcolm James McLeod. Mrs. James D. Caines, herself a bride of a few months, was the matron of honor, while Ossian Terry was the best man. The bride wore a handsome gown of pineapple fiber made over white tulle. Chiffon and lace trimmed the bodice. A wedding veil, fastened with orange blossoms, completed the toilette. After November 18 the young couple will be at home to their friends at 183 East Colorado street.

Miss Harriet Rice, the popular young teacher of music in the public schools, was pleasantly surprised Tuesday evening by a score or more of her friends at her home on North Madison avenue. Music and games filled the merry evening, the occasion being the honoree's birthday.

The first program for the winter of the Woman's club was given Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. W. Stith. A review of the recent popular novels was given by Miss Eleanor Hammack, and a round table discussion of the books followed.

The Woman's Mission circle of the Prospect Park church at its meeting Monday afternoon elected the following officers: President, Mrs. E. P. G. Gird; second vice-president, Mrs. G. Smith; treasurer, Mrs. W. O. Jackson; secretary, Mrs. W. F. Sutton. On Friday, Oct. 27, the women will give a large reception for the popular pastor, Dr. Will A. Knights.

Miss Mabel Browne was the hostess Wednesday evening at a delightful dancing party at the Masonic temple. The hall was prettily decorated in red and green, pepper boughs being used extensively. Her guests were members of the Parish House club of Hollywood and the "Dinky Dinks" of Los Angeles. About fifty were present.

The Poinsettia club met Thursday with Mrs. Geo. Royce for the annual business meeting. The officers elected were: President, Martha P. Brunson; vice-president, Mrs. E. J. Wilber;
