Roiting Breaks Out Near Odessa

Troops Sent to Scene of Disturbance

Peasants Greatly Inflamed Against the Jews and Agitators Are Urging Them on—Touching Scenes in St. Petersburg

By Associated Press.
ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 6.—Fresh disorders were reported at 5 o'clock this afternoon in the suburb of Danilimintzi. Troops have been dispatched there.

The theater of the town of Akkerman, near Odessa, is in flames.

The governor general has requested the editors of all the local newspapers to refrain from publishing accounts of the happenings of last week in order to avoid inflaming the public. The governor general has also requested the editors of all the local newspapers to appear tomorrow afternoon after a nine days' suspension. Anti-semitic disturbances are reported from all the outlying districts. The peasants are greatly excited and are urged on by agitators from Odessa. The president of the board of trade has telegraphed to the minister of finance requesting him to prolong the payment of liabilities for various and to order the state bank not to shorten the credit of merchants and to facilitate the re-discounting of the bills of private banks and banking houses.

The president implores the minister to send a quick answer, as a refusal will entail the greatest commercial distress.

Some of the banks and all the shops have re-opened and the streets are being cleared of debris. It is claimed in some quarters here that estimates higher than 2000 killed and 5000 wounded are exaggerations.

APPOINTMENT OF WITTE

Formal Announcement That He Is President of Ministers' Council

By Associated Press.
ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 7.—The appointment of Count Witte as president of the council of ministers is announced by the Official Messenger this morning.

It is announced that Emperor Nicholas and his family will shortly return to the palace at St. Petersburg. Count Witte today took up his quarters in a wing of the palace, where he will be in constant touch with his majesty.

Progress in the formation of a cabinet is slow. Cabinet positions have been offered to several notables, among whom were Prince Eugene Troubetzky and M. Koni, both of whom declined to accept, the latter stating that he was too old to enter public life at such a critical time.

Many touching scenes were witnessed yesterday when the political prisoners were released under the amnesty decree. At the Schiussberg fortress, up the river, where the most dangerous political prisoners are kept in solitary confinement, a great concourse gathered, looking for loved ones who were released. Disappointed women waiting for sons, husbands or brothers broke down and wept. A man named Fralenko and a comrade, who said they had spent over twenty years in prison, came out with long, white beards. They knew practically nothing about what had occurred during their long imprisonment. Sasonoff, the murderer of Minister of Public Instruction Bogolepoff, Gerollin, the chief of the terrorist conspiracy, and other terrorists were not released. A large body of prisoners released from other prisons later visited various meetings and related their experiences.

On the heels of the announcement of the successful Finnish national movement comes news of a strong revival of the struggle for autonomy in Poland. Dispatches from Kalisz in Poland and Thorn in West Prussia say that flags with the Polish coat of arms have been hoisted in several churches and city buildings.

The first train from Odessa since the present disorders began arrived today after having been thirty days on the way.

The Russ prints a resolution adopted by the St. Petersburg organization of the constitutional monarchists declaring for a program of non-interference with public demonstrations directed against the emperor's person and the orthodox church in furtherance of the demands for various liberties, but in opposition to the idea of a republic with the separation of the border principalities.

Finnish and Russian flags were hoisted this afternoon on the Russian stations in St. Petersburg. Train service will be resumed tomorrow. Everything is quiet in Finland and trade there has been resumed.

President Can Do Nothing to Aid Jews in Russia

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—President Roosevelt has decided that no action can be taken by this government at present which will be of any benefit to the Jews in Russia.

This information was made public at the White House today in the following statement:

"Our State called upon the president this morning, not to ask for action, but to consult with him as to whether there was any possibility that the action which would result in a cessation of the horrors connected with the massacres of the Jews in Russia. The president stated that, of course, he had been watching with the deepest concern the reports of these massacres; that he had been appealed to within the last few weeks to try to take some action not only on behalf of the Jews in Russia, but on behalf of the Armenians, Egyptians and others. The result of the president's inquiries coincides with statements contained in a cablegram from Count Witte to Jacob H. Schiff, shown the president by Mr. Strauss, as follows:

"The government is horrified at these outrages. You know that I don't sympathize with such savage out-

LITHUANIANS WILL COLONIZE ON COAST

Twenty-five Thousand to Settle in the Columbia River Valley

No Other Nationality Will Be Admitted and Membership Fee is Fixed at $100. Factories Will Be Started and Towns Built

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Twenty-five thousand Lithuanians, gathered from all the large eastern cities, Chicago alone contributing ten thousand, will colonize somewhere along the Columbia river region. It is now though the movement westward will begin within three months. The colony will be strictly for Lithuanians, no other nationality being admitted to membership.

The membership fee is set at $100. With 10,000 members at this figure the society will have a capital of $1,000,000 to go to work on. If 25,000 members are secured $2,500,000 will be available for its enterprise.

With even the smaller amount, the originators say, vast lands along the Columbia river can be purchased transportation secured and the colony put on a prosperous footing.

Factories will be started, towns built and the army of workers will settle down into the lives of country people. "The Lithuanians are essentially a country people," said Josef F. Hermanowicz of the board of education, of the Polish National Alliance, and who originated the movement.

"Undoubtedly the most promising field is along the Pacific coast. Land is good and cheap and there are plenty of opportunities for establishing a big colony along a navigable stream, within reach of the railways. The colony will have no restrictions about it. If a man is a Lithuanian that will be sufficient, considering always the laws of this country. This is not a socialist or communistic movement as such, but is only for the betterment of Lithuanians."

Asked concerning the location of the colony, Mr. Hermanowicz said: "We will know better three months from now."

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Honored by the president by an invitation to luncheon informally at the White House, Rear Admiral Prince Louis of Battenburg kept his special train waiting three quarters of an hour this afternoon while the president engaged him in a long personal conversation.

In the morning Prince Louis visited Mount Vernon, making the trip down the Potomac river on the United States personal guest of the president and Commander John Gibbons. As they came to the tomb of Washington each person bared his head while Prince Louis went up to the sepulchre and reverently stood in silence for a few moments. Upon leaving Mount Vernon the prince was presented with an ivy plant, a sprout from the plant which grows about the tomb of Washington.

The prince went first to the British ambassador and Lady Durand, whose guest he has been while in Washington, and a few minutes later went to the White House where he was the personal guest of the president and Mrs. Roosevelt at an informal luncheon.

Before his departure for Annapolis, Prince Louis made a statement in which he expressed his appreciation of the "courtesy, cordiality and consideration that have been shown us by the president, members of the cabinet and officers of the army and navy," and declared that he was much impressed by the American life.

ELECTRIC CAR STRIKES TRAIN

TWO MEN HURT IN CRASH AT MIDNIGHT

Collision Between Salt Lake Train and Freight Carrier on Pacific Electric Results in Serious Injuries

Running at a high rate of speed, Pacific Electric express car No. 1002, bound for Whittier, crashed into an outbound Salt Lake freight train shortly before 1 o'clock this morning at the Salt Lake crossing of the Whittier line.

Motorman A. G. Gulwitz was hurled against the glass front of the car, and H. Delaney, a meter inspector, was thrown through the doorway and seriously injured.

"There was no conductor on the car to run ahead and flag the crossing, so we ran through," muttered Delaney in his half-dazed condition at the receiving hospital an hour later. This, the railroad men believe, is the reason that the accident occurred.

Gulwitz was cut about the head and face by the flying glass but was not seriously injured. In telling of the accident he said: "The train had evidently run fairly across the crossing and we did not notice it. It was a slow freight, and as we were not running fast the collision only pulled our front trucks off the track."

On a special train ordered by the officials of the Salt Lake company two men were brought to Los Angeles from the scene of the accident and taken to the receiving hospital.

According to information received some time after the collision Delaney was standing in the doorway of the car at the time of the crash. He had been sent by his company to Laguna on the Whittier express car. The electrician was thrown out and struck on his head.

After sewing up the cuts on Delaney's face and head he was sent from the receiving hospital to the Sisters' hospital. Gulwitz was sent to his home, 4700 Kester street, from the receiving hospital.

Neither of the men would make any statement of the affair when they were interviewed, but the officers present ordered them not to talk.

Some of the papers about the position were in the hands of Congressman Powers of Houlton, said Sewall yesterday, "and told him I was after the place, and he said he had not decided to support anyone until he knew the will of the president of the United States, and if signatures on a paper count for anything I guess I get it."

"The president knows me pretty well and he has nothing to ask anyone if I am capable of filling the bill. Besides, I think he feels well disposed toward me. Some of the papers said the president told me that I could have the place, but that is not in order."

ANDREWS KILLS HIS COMPANION AND SELF

Bessie Bouton's Slayer Trapped, Cheats Justice With Two Bullets

San Francisco Police Break Into Their Rooms and Find Couple Who Assaulted Ellis the Aus- tralian in Berkeley Recently, Lying Dead

By Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—Trapped in his rooms by the police, and fully aware that his last avenue of escape had been barred, Milton Franklin Andrews, who murdered Mrs. Bessie Bouton on the top of Cutler mountain, Colorado Springs, ten months ago and murderously assaulted and robbed William Ellis, an Australian horseman at Berkeley, tonight shot and killed Nulda Olivia, his last female companion, and then sped a bullet into his own head, causing instant death. That Andrews, for whom the police of the entire country were searching, was fully prepared for the tragedy that closed his career, was shown by the fact that he acted without a moment's hesitation.

Having learned that Andrews and Nulda Olivia were living in an upper flat at 748 McAllister street, the police department tonight sent a detail of two policemen and two detectives to make the arrest. Although certain that the persons wanted were in the two-room apartment they occupied, the officers received no answer to their repeated knocking on the door.

At the moment one of the officers was dispatched for an ax, with which the door was broken open, Andrews fired a shot which ended the career of his companion. The bullet was fired into her right temple and she dropped dead on the bed, falling backward, with her hands clasped over her breast. When the officers gained entrance to the apartment they found Andrews lying on the floor grasping his revolver in one hand and a mirror in the other. The weapon was of 45-caliber and but two of the cartridges had been fired. Extra ammunition was found in his pockets.

On searching Andrews remains the coroner's deputies found $130 in gold and an English sovereign, all the money he had on him. The momentum of the bullet that remained of the time he was lured by Andrews to the latter's cottage in Berkeley. Considerable jewelry was also found on him.

A rambling typewritten statement that had presumably been written by

Andrews, who denied that he had anything to do with the murder of Bessie Bouton at Colorado Springs, was found in one of the dead woman's stockings.

Andrews and his companion had been living at the McAllister street house for three weeks. The landlord stated that he had believed that only the woman occupied the apartments, as the man had never been seen. The police believed that the couple pursued the same hiding tactics here as elsewhere. Andrews remaining entirely within doors and the woman making necessary purchases.

A little over a month ago Andrews and the woman arrived here on a steamer from Australia. On the voyage they formed the acquaintance of William Ellis, a horseman, who was coming to California to attend the winter racing. Ellis was known to have considerable money in his possession. Friendly relations were established and when Andrews and the woman engaged a cottage at Berkeley they invited him to luncheon. During the meal Ellis was struck on the head with a hammer and the woman fired a couple of shots at him, but they missed their mark. Ellis managed to escape and notified the police.

A search of the apartment showed that the pair had made complete preparations for disposing of Ellis' body. Implements for dismembering the corpse, acids for mutilation, and large pieces of cloth for preventing blood stains were discovered. The couple fled immediately after Ellis' escape and were not located until tonight. Photographs of Andrews were obtained and he was positively identified as the man who was a friend of Bessie Bouton, and who had been murdered at Cutler's canyon, Colorado Springs, about ten months ago. The man was then known as Milton Franklin and George Bouton was murdered and later the clothing on the body was saturated with benzine and ignited. When the remains were found they were so badly mutilated that only two gold teeth were left to identify the victim. Rewards aggregating $500 have been offered for the arrest of Andrews.

CITIES MAY REGULATE AUTOMOBILE SPEED LIMIT

JUDGE TAGGART HANDS DOWN IMPORTANT DECISION

Decision of Justice Court at Santa Barbara is Sustained—Ruling Indicates State Law is at Times Unconstitutional

Special to The Herald.
SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 6.—Judge Taggart this morning handed down a decision in the case of the people vs. R. Gano, charged with running an automobile above the speed limit set by city ordinance. The case was an appeal taken by Deming Jarvis, owner of the automobile, who was in the machine when the speedy run was made.

The judge sustains the decision of the justice court and declares that the state automobile law is unconstitutional in that it places a higher speed limit than that allowed by chartered cities. This decision is an important one and will attract attention of many automobile clubs and of city officers interested in enforcing local automobile speed regulations.

ATTEMPT TO WRECK TRAIN AT LOS ALAMOS

DYNAMITE PLACED ON TRACK OF SOUTHERN PACIFIC

Lives of Hundreds of Persons Are Imperiled, but No Casualties Occur—Engine Strikes Explosive and is Badly Damaged

Special to The Herald.
SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 6.—An attempt was made to wreck the first section of Southern Pacific passenger train No. 2 at Los Alamos viaduct, sixty-four miles north of this city, between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning. A quantity of sticks of dynamite being placed on the rails.

The first of the two engines that were pulling the train on its way to San Francisco struck the explosive and exploded. The explosion, which was caused by a serious accident. The bridge spans a ravine one hundred feet below where the bomb was placed, and the lives of hundreds of people were imperiled.

The explosion tore the pilot from the engine, broke several wheels, loosened some of the timbers of the bridge and bent one of the rails out of its line. The momentum of the train carried the entire train over on the other rail, and the bridge was cleared without injury to any one.

Railroad officers are on the lookout for suspicious characters who were seen in that vicinity after the accident, and Sheriff Stewart left this city this morning and is now at the scene of the attempted wreck making a search for evidence that will lead to the capture of the train wreckers. Other attempts have been made to wreck trains on the coast line and a most rigid investigation of this attempt will be made.

JURY OPPOSES FOOTBALL

Inquest at San Jose Results in Recommendation to Abolish the Game

By Associated Press.
SAN JOSE, Nov. 6.—A coroner's inquest was held today over the remains of Clarence Van Bokkelen, the young student who died Saturday evening from injuries received in the annual football game between the high schools of San Jose and Santa Clara.

The jury in its verdict stated the question of a deliberate attempt at injury and recommended "that the faculties of the Santa Clara county public schools discourage football, which is both morally and physically injurious."

The principals of both high schools have announced themselves as opposed to the game and it is probable that the sport will be barred henceforth from these two institutions. Rev. Father Gleason, president of Santa Clara college, has taken a similar stand and has called off all games in which the college team is scheduled.

The dead boy will be buried tomorrow morning and the students of both schools are to turn out in a body.

Parade in San Francisco

Special to The Herald.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—The municipal campaign in San Francisco closed tonight with a street parade and several big meetings by the Schmitz forces. The parade was under the auspices of the Building Trades council and was designed to be a great display for the purpose of influencing the election result. It fell far short of its expected proportions and probably did more harm than good. It is estimated that not more than 7000 persons marched in the parade whereas the organizers of the demonstration had promised all the way from 15,000 to 20,000.

Of the 7000 who actually marched certainly not more than 4500 were voters. The streets were lined with people and in the down town sections there was a lack of enthusiasm which seemed to bode ill for tomorrow's contest. In the upper part of the town the crowd was larger and the enthusiasm greater, but even here the cheers seemed to be largely of the dollar a night variety. Schmitz spoke to a crowd which jammed the hall at the Alhambra theater.

There was a change in the betting odds which seems significant. The odds have wavered from 10 to 6 to 10 to 8 all week. Tonight 10 to 7 will be the general rule with practically no Schmitz money at those figures.

A Partridge bettor could find but $50 Schmitz money at Corbett's pool room.

Chairman D. A. Ryan of the fusion committee declared tonight that the fight for decency had been won and that the Schmitz grafters would be driven to the woods. He predicted victory for Partridge and practically the entire fusion ticket by 8000 majority, and in all probability would run beyond 12,000. He said: "I am absolutely confident of Partridge's election. I have watched the fight closely and know there is deep dissatisfaction among the men who work with the methods of the Schmitz campaigners. They are dissatisfied because the ticket was dictated by Ruff and the laboring men were not consulted. There is an unusual heavy registration and there will be a large vote, which means a large vote for Partridge."

Secretary Berger of the Schmitz campaign committee said he felt confident Schmitz would be elected and that his majority would be in the neighborhood of 8000 and it would not fall below 4000. He said: "There will be little scratching on the Schmitz ticket and consequently I believe the entire labor union ticket will be elected. We have been handicapped somewhat by lack of
