

POLAND WARNED TO KEEP QUIET

Effort to Gain Freedom Will Be Suppressed

Imperial Government Serves Notice That Any Move to Restore Old Kingdom Will Be Put Down With Force

The danger of reaction is hardly worth serious consideration, however. Even the most ardent advocates of the old regime realize that the emperor's step is irrevocable, that he could not withdraw it if he would and that any attempt simply to place him in the attitude of a usurper of the people's liberties would precipitate an immediate crash in his throne.

Fortunately something like a realization of these dangers is coming home to a small but growing class of Liberals. For instance, Prince Eugene Troubetsky, who declined to accept the portfolio of minister of education because of the party with which he is affiliated is committed to a constituent assembly in an open letter to the public.

Agriarian Disorders Threaten The spread of agrarian disorders in Saratoff is a new and threatening phase of the situation, emphasizing the necessity of quieting the country. It is significant in connection with the fear of mutiny among the troops that the council for national defense has taken occasion to issue a public statement to the effect that army reforms for the betterment of the conditions of the men, including the improvement of food and clothing and an increase of pay, are under consideration.

Peasants' Disorders Threaten The retreatment of Count Lamsdorf, minister of foreign affairs, when the duma meets is certain, but he may continue in office until then. He is fitted neither by temperament or training to hold office in a ministry responsible to a parliament of which he would have to reply to impetations. M. G. Iwasovsky, Russian minister at Copenhagen, enjoys great favor with the emperor, but the emperor's personal choice as successor to Count Lamsdorf, but the exigencies of the situation later might compel the selection of another.

administration existing at Cronstadt, which was disclosed by the recent mutiny, has compelled the resignation of Admiral Nikonenk, commandant of the Baltic ports and other officers. The mutineers instead of being subjected to the full penalties of naval regulations, calling for the execution of every fifth man, are to be shipped on a long punitive cruise.

Count Witte has decided for the present to name no new minister of the interior. The announcement is made of the appointment of M. Durnovo as acting minister of the interior and as a member of the council of the empire.

WARSAW, Nov. 12.—The proclamation of martial law in all of the ten governments of Russian Poland has caused surprise and exasperation here and there are apprehensions that it will provoke disturbances worse than those that have already taken place. The city is panic-stricken. There are persistent rumors of the organization of anti-Jewish riots and the houses of Jews are barricaded and watched night and day. The Jews are arming themselves with knives, revolvers and rifles.

CARNEGIE GIVES $10,000 Makes Contribution for Relief of Jews in Russia

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Andrew Carnegie has contributed $10,000 for relief of the Jews in Russia. The gift was sent in a letter to Isadore Strauss of this city in which Mr. Carnegie says: "I am only too glad to send you the enclosed as a contribution to the fund for the relief of your co-religionists in Russia. The terrible crimes being committed there are such as might lead one to lose faith in humanity had not the history of the past shown us scenes equally demonic."

LONDON JEWS MOURN Hold Service in Memory of Those Killed in Russia

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Pathetic scenes were witnessed tonight at a gathering of 10,000 Jews at the East End of London in the great assembly hall at Mile End, where a mammoth service was held for Jews recently killed in Russia. The hall was draped in black and the majority of those in the audience wore emblems of mourning. At the chanting of the first chapter of Lamentations almost all present burst into tears and mournful wailing.

B'NAI BRITH CONTRIBUTES Gives One Thousand Dollars for Relief of Jews in Russia

GEORGE COLUMBIA CHARLES BERLIN SPEYER PRESENTS $50,000 TO UNIVERSITY

Theodore Roosevelt Professorship of American History in German Institution

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Announcement was made today that the trustees of Columbia university, New York, the sum of $50,000 to endow the Theodore Roosevelt professorship of American history and institutions in the University of Berlin, in accordance with a plan approved by the German emperor, who received President Butler in audience at Wilhelmshohe in August last. Incumbent of the Prussian minister of education with the emperor's sanction upon the nomination of the trustees of Columbia university. The term of office of each incumbent will be one year, and incumbents will be so chosen that in successive years the field of American history, American constitutional and administrative law, American economic and social problems and movements, American education and American contributions to science, technology, the arts and literature will be the subjects of instruction. It is proposed in this way to appoint in a series of years to German university students in Columbia university a staff of the Columbia university in any American institution of learning or scholars unattached to any university are eligible for nomination. The German government, in return, will assist the Columbia university a professorship of German history and institutions, to the incumbent of which the same general conditions will apply as to the incumbent of the Theodore Roosevelt professorship.

President Roosevelt assented to the request of Mr. Speyer to attach his name to the chair and the German emperor promptly gave approval to the suggestion. The trustees of Columbia university nominated as the first incumbent of the chair John William Burgess, Ph.D., LL.D., Ruggles professor of political science and constitutional science and dean of the faculty of Columbia university in the winter of 1898-97, and will give his appointment will shortly be made by the Prussian minister of education. Prof. Burgess will enter upon his duties at the University of Berlin in the winter of 1906-07, and will give his appointment in American constitutional history. In making the announcement President Butler of Columbia said, in behalf of the trustees:

"Mr. Speyer's gift seems to us both striking in its originality and splendid in its possibilities. We are not without hope that before long Columbia will be able to place in a position to make similar arrangements with the University of Paris and with an English university, possibly the University of London."

NEVER KISSED BY WOMAN Denver Man Denying Himself the Luxury Until He Meets His Ideal

DENVER, Nov. 11.—It is the boast of Louis K. Mulford that he has never kissed a woman. His mother, he declares, he will not permit himself to indulge in that luxury until he meets the right one.

Never Kissed by Woman Mr. Mulford professes a love for the extraordinary resolution, and, furthermore, he does not care to go into details about the numerous women that he has been close to succumbing to feminine charms. He admits having had one affair which threatened to become serious, but, fortunately, he says, it broke off before it became serious enough to justify a kiss.

"Do you never intend to allow yourself to be kissed?" was asked of Mr. Mulford when he made his unusual admission.

"I will," said he, "when I meet my ideal, but not until then."

He was paying toll of the Western bank at one time and was succeeded by Mark Blair, a protégé of Leonard R. Imboden. The young man is a devout member of the Presbyterian church and devotes his leisure hours to riding over the city in an automobile. He is of an extremely sensitive nature.

WE'RE NOT TURNING RED Noted Anthropologist Says Future Americans Will Change But Little

Special to The Herald. NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Are Americans to turn into Indians, as prophesied by Prof. Frederick Starr of Chicago, or will the typical American be a queer looking mixture of the white, the Jap, the Chinaman and the negro, as prophesied by Bishop Hamilton of the Methodist church?

This question was submitted to Prof. Franz Boas, professor of anthropology in Columbia university. He said: "The mixture of European races, which is in progress in America is entirely in line with the development and intermixture of the various types in Europe, and there is no reason to assume an outcome different from what has taken place in Europe. It would seem that on the whole the physique of the emigrants is a little better than that of those remaining at home; and the more favorable conditions of American life have led to a slight improvement in average physical development. 'The amount of Indian blood that is found among the whites in America is insignificant, and there is no reason why we should believe that the Indian type should influence the American type.'"

"Up to the present time the Chinese and Japanese admixture may be entirely neglected, and there is no evidence of an increased influence of these physical types. 'The question of the final result of mixture between whites and negroes is much more difficult to foretell. Whether, with more favorable social conditions among the negroes, the vitality of the race and of the mulatto may increase is a question which at the present time cannot be answered with any degree of certainty.'"

BAPTIZED AT 102 Veteran Centenarian "Wants to Be Right When the Lord Calls"

WEBB CITY, Mo., Nov. 11.—Immersed in a stream of cold water at 102 years and unharmed by the experience is the unique record of Thomas E. Doherty, who is now a full-fledged member of the Free Will Baptist church.

Center creek was just at the freezing point at the time set for the baptism of this veteran of our army last Monday, but he did not hesitate.

Capt. Sauls was born in Raleigh, N. C., September 18, 1803. He has seen all the presidents except Washington and Roosevelt. He lost count, long ago of his descendants. His only daughter, who was married at the age of 12, is herself a great-grandmother. His first and second wives lived thirteen years. The present Mrs. Sauls became his wife in 1876. She is 76 years old, which is his age of her stepson.

Capt. Sauls served several terms in the Tennessee legislature, and he says it nearly swept his fortune away.

"Beware of the legislature," is his injunction to you men who now are.

"I never was a bad man," said Capt. Sauls to a visitor. "I was in a church once in Illinois, but I—"

"He backed," exclaimed Mrs. Sauls. "No, I didn't just do that exactly. 'Just dropped out. But I wanted to be right when the Lord called, and I thought immersion was the only way.'"

Capt. Sauls first saw service in the Seneca war in Florida, in 1838. He served one year in the Mexican war and four years in the Civil war, in the Sixth Kansas regiment. His company was captured and 127 men went into prison at Camp Ford, Tyler, Texas, and had been prisoners for a month the day when the war ended. He boasts that every man of the 127 came out through his excellent care of them.

The Carthage regiment offered him $50 a month to go to the Spanish-American war as "mascot," but he declined, saying that if he was really needed he would carry a gun.

Sheriff Closed Doors and Said: "No Dancing in This Hotel Tonight." Interesting Theory Advanced by One Who Has Given Subject Much Study

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 11.—Exposed in the bitter evening wind far and away from the city, about thirty young women of McKeesport's smartest set, gowned for a dance that was to take place there, shivered in their wraps while their sheriff-led leaders waited for the sheriff to let them have admission to the Wildwood Inn. The deputy was obdurate, and one of the first of the really select of the city was obliged to leave. McKeesport was finally abandoned. The women who were privileged to attend the dance had been preparing for the event. Everything was in readiness; the ballroom had been decorated with Hallows-eve effects, the orchestra was engaged, the dancing floor waxed to a gage, the dining room and the kitchen ready for the earlier part of the entertainment. During the late afternoon a stranger arrived at the inn and, after out much ado, informed the proprietor that he was a deputy from the office of Sheriff Dickson and that he was empowered to see that nothing was done in that place. He put himself in charge on a process.

Long ago when they came carriages, loaded with women and their escorts. The men were met by the deputy, who informed them that there could be neither supper nor dancing. When the men recovered their breath they pleaded, cajled, pleaded and finally threatened. Seeing that the men were unsuccessful some of the young women hungry for supper and cold from the long delay in the open, tried their luck on the county official, but he refused to see anything but his duty in the matter.

Finally the disgusted merry-makers, reactantly went back to McKeesport. Some of the more energetic tried to hire a hall at the eleventh hour, but found it was impossible. The couples went wearily and hungrily toward the inn. What angered those who were caught in that they learned yesterday that one or two of the prime movers in the affair heard of the closing of the hotel just in time to save them from the trip out there.
