LIVES OF THREE YALE BOYS IN DEADLY PERIL

SPEND 17 HOURS ON ROCK IN LONG ISLAND SOUND While Out Duck Hunting They Are Obligated by Storm to Land On Island—Declare They Have Had a Good Time

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 15.—After spending seventeen hours on a small rock a mile off Branford in Long Island sound, Harold F. Damon of Honolulu, William Baxter Todd of Wilmington and W. H. Cousins of Scranton, Pa., of Yale college, were rescued after a perilous journey from their perilous position by Capt. Edward Baldwin of Branford, who put out from that place in a naphtha launch. The three students were little worse for their day's experience, when they landed on the shore said they had had a fine time. They had gone out hunting in duck-boats. A heavy storm came up and they were obliged to take shelter on Tanton Rock.

His body was found this morning by Dispatcher Simms of the Pacific Coast railway. The bullet entered the right temple. The revolver was found near the body. The deceased came from San Francisco a week ago and was not well known here.

Nurses Appeal to State University

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—An appeal was made yesterday by the California State Nurses' association to the board of regents of the University of California asking that the board voluntarily assume the duties of attending to the registration of graduate nurses according to the bill passed by the last legislature. The appeal was made on the ground that the registration of graduate nurses was an educational matter and should rightly come under the supervision of the state university regents.

ROOSEVELT SCORES HENRY M. WHITNEY

President Declares Bostonian Willfully Misquoted His Remarks

Claims His Confidence Was Violated and His Attitude Misrepresented—Latter Issues Statement Making Entire Denial of Charge

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—President Roosevelt was asked today to use his influence to have the customs duties on hides removed in the interest of all the people of the country. A delegation of boot and shoe and leather manufacturers, headed by Governor W. L. Douglas of Massachusetts, called on the president by appointment and discussed with him pretty fully the proposed repeal of the duty on hides. The delegation numbered twenty-eight men, the minority from the New England states. In the course of the interview the president spoke so frankly and sincerely to his callers that they burst into cheers that made the executive office ring.

After the delegation had presented its views and its desires to the president he told the members that we decided to request the president to assist us in procuring legislation placing hides on the free list and to reduce the duty on sole leather to 10 per cent, where the McKinley law placed it. I think every man present was impressed with the president's desire to do the square thing by us.

"I will go away from here with a good deal of courage that something will be done now that the ball has been started rolling." Subsequent to the departure of the delegation from the White House President Roosevelt authorized the publication of his remarks.

In the course of his remarks he related an experience he had last year with a committee from Massachusetts of whom Mr. Whitney, recently a candidate for lieutenant governor of Massachusetts, was one. He said Mr. Whitney had misquoted him in the campaign which was closed a few days ago and declared that he was "constrained to believe that Mr. Whitney had deliberately misrepresented what had occurred." With this experience in mind, the president declared he would not be misled in the future.

ILLINOIS TO RECOVER LAND FROM CORPORATIONS

SUIT TO REGAIN TRACT WORTH ONE HUNDRED MILLION

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—The state of Illinois, through its Attorney Healy, will shortly institute proceedings to force the restitution of land valued at $100,000,000 along the lake shore which has been appropriated by several large corporations and private individuals. After an exhaustive investigation the state's attorney has arrived at the conclusion that practically the whole lake boundary today being 100 to 300 yards farther out than the meander line of Cook county in 1821.

McALEER'S POLITICAL MACHINE IS SAID TO BE DOING SWEEPING CHANGES. MAYOR IS ACCUSED

Consternation Reigns in Department and Only Friends of Administration Appear to Feel at Ease

Charges that Mayor McAleer is endeavoring to build a personal political machine in the police department are being made with renewed force. Sweeping changes are to be brought about and those on the wrong side of the political fence are trembling in the fear that they are to be derided and possibly dismissed.

Consternation reigns in the department. Since the day on which affairs between former chief Hammel and Mayor McAleer reached a crisis assertions have been made openly that the mayor was building his own political machine. Developments of the past few days are said by politicians to prove the truth of the rumors.

Attempts to secure statements from any of the members of the department have failed. In nearly every case the answer was: "I would like to accompany you but this is no time to talk."

Those who were formerly looked on by their fellow officers as personal friends are now regarded with suspicion. Filled with indignation many are beginning to brand others as "stool pigeons."

Ill feeling between Murphy and the newly appointed captain of detectives, Paul Flammer, is known to have existed for some time. Taking advantage of the fact that Murphy was a patrolman, detailed because of his excellent work, by the request of ex-Chief W. A. Hammel, to the detective department, Flammer is said to have directed his power in that direction.

CAPTAIN THOMPSON APPEALS

Commander of Stranded Vessel Asks for a "Square Deal"

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—Capt. Thompson of the steamer S. A. Kilburn, which was stranded on September 8 on Coos Bay bar, has appealed to Supervising Inspector John Birmingham from the decision of the United States local inspectors, Bolles and Bulger, suspending his license as master for six months. In his application, Capt. Thompson refers to the fact that the license of Capt. Seadart was suspended for only four months. He contends that Capt. Seadart was as much to blame for the stranding of the Santa Barbara as he was for stranding the Kilburn, and he alleges that the damage done to the Santa Barbara was much greater than that done to the Kilburn. Wherefore he prays that he be given a "square deal."

E. H. HARRIMAN DENIES THE STATEMENTS OF HYDE

Says He Defended the Young Man and Advised Him to Do Better and Retrieve Himself

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—E. H. Harriman, chairman of the board of directors of the Union Pacific railroad, former member of the board of directors of the Equitable Life Assurance society and connected with many railroads and financial institutions, former friend of James Hazen Hyde, against whom the latter charged acts of an unfriendly nature in his testimony yesterday, was one of the chief witnesses before the Armstrong committee on insurance investigation today.

Mr. Harriman was called immediately after recess, and his testimony was a series of denials of the charges made by Mr. Hyde.

Mr. Hyde told him that the Odell suit was dangerous to the Mercantile Trust company in that it might induce other suits to be brought by other people who had subscribed to the bonds of the United States Shipbuilding company. Mr. Harriman said he arranged an interview between Governor Odell and Mr. Hyde which was held in Harriman's office.

HYDE'S DIPLOMATIC ASPIRATIONS

"Do you know whether or not Governor Odell wrote a letter either to the president or secretary of state advocating the appointment of Mr. Hyde as French ambassador shortly or immediately after the settlement of the suit against the Mercantile Trust company?" asked Mr. Hughes.

Storm Stops Riots in St. Petersburg

Inhabitants Still in State of Terror

Count Witte and Cabinet Spend Many Hours in Consultation—Strikers Are Gaining Much Public Sympathy

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 16, 12:27 a. m.—A fierce northeast blizzard and snowstorm which blew on St. Petersburg tonight prevented bloodshed in the Russian capital. The bitter cold, did more to preserve order than all the Cossack cavalry patrolling the streets. Heavy military reserves are stationed in all industrial districts, but up to midnight there was no rioting. There were rumors of collisions in different parts of the city, but on investigation they turned out to be false.

The Social Democrats had an impressive meeting on the part of organizations of workmen to demonstrate their solidarity with the struggle of the Polish comrades for the autonomy, and to protest against the execution of the mutinous sailors at Cronstadt. The men walked out of all the big mills and factories, and the employees of the Baltic railways, the railroads, the printers and other classes of laborers struck, but the shops in the center of the city were not closed.

The situation has caused a renewal of the panicky feeling among the inhabitants, whose nerves were already shattered by the events of the last fortnight, and hundreds of persons who had just returned are again leaving for Finland. The foreign residents are
