

CHILD EXECUTES MANY COSSACKS LAD THROWS BOMB AT CROWD OF SOLDIERS

Revolutionists Continue Work of Agitation All Over Russia—Three Armies Fight Soldiers of Czar at Moscow

By Associated Press. LONDON, Dec. 27.—The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph at St. Petersburg, as an instance of the ferocity of the struggle conducted at Khar-koff, relates as follows what he calls a "typical incident": "A little boy was seen approaching on the square where the detachment of Cossacks was stationed. The Cossacks, however, were not allowed to approach unmolested. On arriving at the spot he paused, swung his right hand vigorously and then turned and ran. A violent explosion prevented the Cossacks from noting his further movements. "The boy had thrown a bomb which plowed up the ground. Fragments of horses were all around and some of the Cossacks were convulsed in the agonies of death, while streams of blood were flowing along the torn up roadway."

COMMUNICATIONS ARE BROKEN

Story of Bloodshed at Moscow Is Interrupted by Wire Failure

By Associated Press. ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 27, 11:35 p. m.—There is no further news from Moscow tonight. The Associated Press correspondent there succeeded in getting the St. Petersburg bureau by telephone this evening, but he had only uttered the words, "I am going to tell you a horrible story," when he was cut off.

GOVERNMENT IS HOPEFUL

Czar's Officers Hope to Suppress Rebellion—Trouble Is Spreading

By Associated Press. ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 27, 1:25 p. m.—An implicit statement in the Slovo today says the government expects the revolt at Moscow to be completely crushed within four days. The duration of the rising is explained by the small number of troops available. Most of the troops necessary were employed in guarding the government buildings, leaving a comparatively small number available to cope with the insurgents over the wide area of the disturbance. Fresh troops have now arrived and the end is said to be near. The Slovo says: "The grenadiers have wiped out the stain on their honor with blood, fighting in the front ranks at their own request."

Foresee Baptism of Blood

"When our plenipotentiary sought to prevent the sailing of these vessels through the consuls the latter refused to act, as all the vessels flew foreign flags."

The information of other papers is that while admitting that the revolutionists are showing signs of exhaustion, they do not regard the issue as decided. The Molva (Russ), which re-appears today, fans the flames by holding out encouragement of the success of the revolt. The paper declares that the area of the fighting is increasing instead of diminishing, and asserts that the insurgents are holding six miles of barricades.

"Even if the revolt fails now," the

Molva says, "it will be recommenced in January or February."

This also is the view of the revolutionists here, who, however, have not given up hope of success. In any case they assert they can in the meantime keep the government engaged in suppressing continual uprisings from place to place, believing that each city and town should have its baptism of blood as a preparation for the final upheaval.

Artillery Batters Down Walls

In spite of the bad prospects here, the leaders of the revolutionists are continuing their desperate efforts to bring on a general conflict. At Khar-koff yesterday the flag of armed revolt was raised, but according to reports, the troops, which had been largely reinforced, put down the outbreak mercilessly.

The members of the so-called provisional government, composed of twenty-two delegates, which had been sitting there, were captured early in the day and later when the red flag was raised had barricades erected around the Helfrich engine works, which armed revolutionists were holding, cannon were brought up and the revolutionists given ten minutes in which to surrender. They then sent out an emissary, who was seized by the military commander, who then gave the command to the artillery to open fire on the works, which were literally battered down over the heads of the revolutionists. The latter, although unable to make a defense, held out until three-quarters of their number were killed or wounded, when the remnant, 137 men, surrendered.

Officers Are Captured

Lieutenant General Mischchenko, who commanded a Cossack brigade in Manchuria during the Russo-Japanese war, has arrived at Moscow and may have taken over the command of the troops there. He had a narrow escape from capture by the revolutionists at St. Andrews monastery on the outskirts of the city, where the railroad track was blocked by barricades of freight and passenger cars. The general and his staff were taken to a narrow escape by making a wide detour, but fifty officers returning from Manchuria, who were left behind, were captured and forced to give up their arms. They begged to be allowed to keep the gold sword given them for bravery, but the revolutionists refused their request.

Minor Collisions Between the Troops and Strikers, of whom there are almost 200,000, are taking place constantly in St. Petersburg. Cossack patrols are charging and dispersing workmen whenever they collect. The most serious affairs occurred at the Narva gate and on the Molva canal, in which fifty persons were killed or wounded.

Strike Is Extending

Automatic guns have been mounted on the bridge over the Fontanka canal, from which they can sweep the Nevsky Prospect in either direction and also both ways of the canal. The battery is enclosed in a collapsible iron order not to attract too much attention.

Following the example of the authorities at Moscow about half the police of St. Petersburg are now armed with rifles, and the unwonted spectacle of policemen with bayonets fixed to their rifles adds to the public alarm.

The news from the provinces today shows an alarming extension of the strike. Koknov, a fortress town of Lithuania, having about 80,000 inhabitants, seems absolutely in the hands of the revolutionists, who have summoned the people to an armed rising, and the situation is so serious at Kremenchtug, South Russia, that the governor has declared martial law for the purpose of restoring peace and insuring the elections to the national assembly.

Socialists Control Railways

The employees of the Southwestern railroad did not report for duty yesterday and were dismissed.

At Tiflis, Caucasus, peace has been patched up between the Mussulmans and Armenians. The strike, however, is almost everywhere. The Socialists control the railways.

The situation is really far more serious in the Baltic provinces, Caucasus and other non-Russian provinces where the entire populace is hostile. In the case of the Baltic provinces it is realized that a very necessary step is to practically conquer them. The first divisions of the first army corps, which belongs to the St. Petersburg province, have begun to arrive here from Manchuria, but they are being dispatched to the Baltic provinces without stopping here.

Kropotkin Returns to Russia

It is reported that the strikers this afternoon erected barricades in the vicinity of the Neva gate.

The employees of the Risan-Ural railroad struck today. The Narshad and half a dozen satirical papers have been suppressed and their offices sealed by the police.

Interior Minister Durnovo has issued an order directing the removal of all officials of the ministry of the interior who are actively participating in the Socialist campaign. Among others are four editors of the official Russian News Agency.

The Bourne Gazette announces that Prince Peter Kropotkin, the famous revolutionist leader, is on his way to St. Petersburg, being free under the amnesty decree to return to Russia.

REVOLUTIONISTS FIGHT TROOPS

Agitators Form Three Armies at Moscow and Erect Barricades

By Associated Press. ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 27, 5 p. m.—A brief message from Moscow of today's date says that troops with artillery are pouring into the city, but that the situation has not greatly changed. The revolutionists hold portions of the Moscow-Kazan road.

Desultory firing is taking place. The military police are engaged in guerrilla warfare with the revolutionists, who are seeking refuge on the roofs of houses and in the narrow thoroughfares.

Another message from Moscow says that during the night the artillery worked at destroying the barricades. The revolutionists, this message says, are divided into three "armies." The first, consisting of 800 men, armed with rifles and pikes, is operating between Moscow and Perovo, utilizing the railroad, which is controlled. Artillery and cavalry are being employed against this force.

Women Show Great Bravery

The second "army" is armed with bombs and revolvers and is composed of a thousand persons, in whose ranks are many women, who display not only bravery but ferocity. This force is operating in the region between the Sadovnia district and the Jewish market. It has many barricades and is operating in small groups and is attacking patrols. When pressed these revolutionists disappear into alleys and houses. Artillery, cavalry and infantry are used against this body.

The third and largest army is operating in the region between the Brest railroad station and the Triumphal gate. It also has many barricades and is engaged in guerrilla tactics, making it difficult for the troops to enclose it. Some of the barricades were battered down by artillery, but they were re-erected by the survivors.

The school where the Moscow revolutionaries had held its sessions has been destroyed. The committee managed to escape. The engineers' union here has just received news from revolutionary sources at Moscow that the Rostov regiment has joined the revolutionists.

WARSAW IS MUCH ALARMED

Revolutionists Order All Banks to Close Doors

By Associated Press. WARSAW, Russian Poland, Dec. 27.—The shops in the Jewish district are closed and this afternoon bands of revolutionists ordered the banks to be closed. Alarming rumors of a coming outbreak are in circulation.

Maxim guns have been posted at all the police stations, the police have ordered all the doctors to be locked, the union of physicians has requested its members to be ready for emergency, and sixty ambulance stations have been established throughout the city.

ODESSA EXODUS CONTINUES

Most of Families of Foreign Residents Leave City

By Associated Press. ODESSA, Dec. 27.—The actual outlook is difficult to describe, now that the train service has been discontinued and the frontiers are isolated. The post and telegraph departments are working again, but it is quite uncertain how long they will continue in operation since fresh strikes are declared daily and a general strike is expected every moment. However, popular sentiment here is for a speedy finish of the disorders and street disturbances, which are promptly ended by the military. Already fewer rowdies are met with and apart from the serious tension the city has entirely resumed its normal aspect.

Peasants of the Kherson district are now quiet, as the military sent there had orders to shoot marauders. The exodus from Odessa continues. Most of the families of the foreign residents have already left and the consuls have made arrangements for ships to take the remainder. If such a step becomes necessary, business is at a standstill.

IO PROTECT AMERICANS

Secretary Root Requests Navy Department to Send Ship to Russia

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Because of the serious situation in Russia, Secretary Root yesterday requested the navy department to take measures for the protection of American citizens in St. Petersburg. The state department was informed by the secretary of the navy that, unfortunately, there is no vessel in European waters which can be sent to St. Petersburg before navigation is interrupted. It is expected, however, that a ship will be sent to Europe, certainly to Riga, which is not frozen up.

As Riga is some distance from St. Petersburg, an oversight at that point would be of little value. In case of extreme danger it is expected Secretary Root will ask the good offices of the Swedish or French governments to give what assistance they can to Americans.

General Strike on at Lodz

By Associated Press. LODZ, Russian Poland, Dec. 27.—A general strike has been declared here. The shops and factories are closed. No street cars or cabs are running. The inhabitants are panic-stricken and are leaving the town.

SPENDS VAST SUM ON LEGISLATION

LOBBYISTS KEEP NO RECORD OF FUNDS

Andrew Hamilton, Who Refuses to Return From France to Testify in Insurance Investigation, Sends Statement

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Andrew Hamilton, the legislative agent of the New York Life Insurance company, who, according to testimony, has been entrusted with hundreds of thousands of dollars by the company and has not accounted for $235,000, has been heard from by the legislative committee, but has declined to make an accounting.

A statement by Mr. Hamilton was read today. It was presented by Secretary John McCall of the New York Life, who went to Paris to secure an accounting from Hamilton. In his statement Mr. Hamilton says that he is unable to produce any books or records, because he has undertaken legislative matters for the life insurance company with the express understanding that he was to make no accounting. Absolute secrecy was necessary in retaining assistants; therefore, no checks were used in making payments.

Depended on Hamilton

Mr. Hamilton went into an explanation for the reasons of organizing this confidential service, as he characterized it, covering his methods of work and citing a number of legislative bills in which he had been interested. A list of expenses from 1899 to 1904 was appended to the statement. The sum of $235,000 unaccounted for, he says, would be greatly reduced by his running account, which still is unsettled and open, and as a matter of good faith pending a settlement, he offers to deposit $100,000 with the company.

Secretary McCall was questioned by Mr. Hughes as to what further light he could throw on the statement of Mr. Hamilton, but he said he could give no information. He did not question Mr. Hamilton's figures, nor the large amounts for traveling expenses. He asked Mr. Hamilton for a full statement and relied on his honesty to explain everything. He did not say that Mr. Hamilton produce checks or check books, but Mr. Hamilton said he had none.

Lou Payne Testifies

When Mr. McCall was excused Mr. Henry D. Appleton of the state insurance department was called. He completed his testimony begun last Friday and during the examination was told that Mr. Morgan, former president of the Bankers' Life Insurance company, had testified that Mr. Appleton said it would cost the Bankers' Life $50,000 to reincorporate. Mr. Appleton said:

"If Mr. Morgan said that he is a liar."

Louis F. Payne, former superintendent of insurance of the state of New York, was called. He had been examined a large number of appointments of confidential examiners on the ground of an unusual number of examinations made during his term of office. Mr. Hughes produced a list which was called in 1897 two examinations were made and in 1898 two more were made, while in 1899, the last year of Mr. Payne's administration, the number had not been brought out when adjournment was taken.

The affairs of the Mutual Reserve Life company were taken up with the witness and during this line of examination Mr. Payne stated that he had been opposed to Mr. Burnham as president of the Mutual Reserve and said he tried to get him to go.

Mr. Hughes asked why he had tried to get him out and Mr. Payne replied, "Because I thought him a crook."

SEAMAN HAS TERRIBLE EXPERIENCE ON ISLAND

CAST AWAY AND LIVES LIFE OF CRUDELTY

Norwegian Sailor Picked Up by a Steamer While Clinging to Frail Raft He Had Made to Escape Death From Starvation

By Associated Press. VICTORIA, B. C., Dec. 27.—News was brought by the steamer Tees, from North British Columbia, of the Crusoe-like adventure of S. A. Lundberg, a Norwegian, who was cast away a month ago from a sloop in which he was voyaging from Portland canal to Kitimat.

The sloop was wrecked on Pearce island near Port Simpson and the seaman spent three weeks on the island, living on clams. He hoisted distress signals on a tree by day and by night, endeavoring to attract attention and finally built a raft on which he reached Port Wilson, fifteen miles away, after a most trying voyage, in which he narrowly escaped being washed from his raft. He was finally picked up by the Tees and taken to Hartley bay.

The Tees also brought news of a large part of Mount Pent at Grapple being washed into a lake at Surf Inlet. Some miners who arrived by steamer just passed the scene of the landslide, which they saw caused waves like walls of water. They believe volcanic action is averted by a portion of the mountain to slide into the lake.

JEROME'S PLURALITY GROWS

Figures Raised Nearly 5000 by Official Returns Made by Election Board

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—District Attorney Jerome's plurality was increased by nearly 5000 over the returns made on election night by the official returns made public today by the board of elections. His plurality is 15,954 instead of 11,459 as originally printed.

This gain was the result of corrections made by the board of canvassers and the counting of so-called void and protested ballots before Justice Geigerich.

SAYS BOYCOTT WILL CONTINUE

STATEMENT BY CHINESE REPRESENTATIVE

Dr. F. F. Tong Asserts People of His Empire Are Determined to Force Modification of Exclusion Laws

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Dr. F. F. Tong, the representative of the Chinese government who is here to create a public sentiment against the exclusion law as administered, declared yesterday that there would be no abatement of the boycott in China against American goods until the desired change was made.

He said that his most recent advices indicate that the movement of retaliation had spread to every province of the empire. Everywhere merchants and their customers are working together to shut out goods made in the United States. At Tientsin, he said, mills for the production of cotton and woolen goods have been started, and a flour mill is in operation. Women are heart and soul with the men in the fight against American goods. In purchasing powder for their faces the first question they ask is, "Was it made in America?" If the answer is affirmative they refuse to buy.

"What we are seeking to accomplish," said Dr. Tong, "is an adjustment of the law and its administration that will put a stop to the injustice to which China in this country are constantly subjected."

LEADING CITIZEN PASSES AWAY

Mr. McAlister, whose public spirit has done more than he.

On hearing of the death of Mr. Slauson, Mayor McAlister made the following pronouncement: "It becomes my sorrowful duty to announce the death of Jonathan Sayre Slauson. In the removal of Mr. Slauson, Los Angeles has lost its most eminent citizen. For a generation his splendid abilities, his time and his money have been given with rare generosity to the public welfare. His life is woven into the very fabric of our civic development."

"In every movement looking to the betterment of our public affairs he marched in the forefront. He stood always for the things that are worth while in public enterprise and in private undertaking. Sane in judgment, wise in counsel, clean in character and conduct, generous in word and deed, untiring in public service, Mr. Slauson deservedly received the respect and love of all our citizens. He will be remembered in the years to come as an example of the best in American manhood and as a type of the finest American citizen. The worth of any individual to the community in which he has lived cannot be determined by the official positions he may have held. There are those whose public services refuse to be measured by standards so small as this. Such a one was Jonathan Sayre Slauson."

"I deem it eminently fitting therefore to ask our citizens to join me in requesting the family of our departed friend to permit the body to lie in state at the city hall in order that the people of Los Angeles may take a last and loving farewell from him who has long been their friend and benefactor."

"Done at Los Angeles December 28, 1905."

"OWEN McALEER, Mayor."
