

CLARK'S DEMOCRACY HEARD

HOUSE IS ENTERTAINED BY THE MISSOURIAN

For Three Hours He Expounds His Doctrines on Philippines and Tariff Amid Great Applause

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—"Champ Clark democracy" was expounded to the delight and entertainment of the house for three hours today by Mr. Clark of Missouri and constituted the feature of the debate on the Philippines tariff bill. Mr. Clark's speech took a wide range and he labeled his political beliefs as above, in answer to a question as to what kind of a Democrat he really was. He talked of the Philippines, favored the pending bill; he discussed the general tariff question and in particular the German tariff situation. He reviewed William J. Bryan's record on silver and paid his respects in characteristic oratory to Republican leaders. He ascribed future greatness to what he termed the great "stand pat" disciple and declared that one of these, Secretary Shaw, whose record as secretary of the treasury included, he said, classifying frogs legs as poultry and ponies as "household articles" for the collection of revenue, was a logical Republican presidential possibility unless the mantle should fall on the "gray and grizzled speaker, 'Uncle Joe' Cannon."

Philippine Tariff Bill Debated

Debate on the Philippine tariff bill was continued today. Mr. Clark of Missouri, speaking of the area and productiveness of the islands, said he had never been so much surprised since a Republican beat him for congress in 1874. "You could," he said, "ram the whole island into the congressional district represented by Mr. Stevens of Texas."

Stating the Democratic position on the bill, he said his party would vote for it, although in committee the Democrats had voted against it because the Democratic substitute for absolute free trade had not been supported by the Republicans.

By producing figures showing the acreage and production of beet and cane sugar in this country in comparison with the foreign crop, Mr. Clark reached the conclusion that an acre in sugar produced two or three times the revenue that an acre of corn would.

Mr. Clark spoke from the forum in front of the speaker's desk and as he proceeded he went across to the Republican side and emphasized his statements with gestures directly in the faces of his political opponents. Having his attention called to the sugar trust by a question from Mr. Brossard of Louisiana he declared dramatically: "I'll tell you about the sugar trust; if you beat sugar people over here will vote with us to wipe out the differential tariff of 2 1/2 cents on refined sugar we will kill the sugar trust as dead as a mullet."

He recalled the sugar debate of two years ago and drew Mr. Dalzell of Pennsylvania into the discussion to substantiate his statement that the house organization was "run over rough shod on that day."

"I guess that's so," answered Mr. Dalzell, "but what became of them afterwards?"

"Oh, well," said Mr. Clark, with a gesture, "but if you beat sugar people will bring in a proposition now to abolish the differential or to cut it down one-half I will stand with you."

German Tariff Situation

A question which was immeasurably greater in importance than the Philippine question, Mr. Clark declared, was the German tariff situation and the Dingley tariff in general. He quoted Gov. Cummins of Iowa as saying that all of the insurance stealing and other irregularities was not a title for the steering of it going on under the Dingley tariff law.

"Gov. Cummins is a Republican," asserted Mr. Clark.

"Still he holds some very pronounced Democratic doctrines," interjected Mr. Lacey of Iowa.

"Yes," replied Mr. Clark, and "this sentiment will result in placing 50 per cent of the Republican votes in Iowa in the Democratic column, thank God."

"Then," he continued, "here is Massachusetts, joining hands with Iowa."

Referring to the "stand pat" doctrine held by the Republicans, he said: "That phrase Senator Hanna stole from the poker table. If he were alive he would see that the Republican party has a bottled flush on the tariff question."

He said his respects to Senator Cullom of Illinois, "who prides himself upon a physical resemblance to Abraham Lincoln," and said he had changed from a "stand pat" to a believer in reciprocity.

Senator Lodge, he said, had been stirred to action by the recent election in Massachusetts and wanted reciprocity.

"Would the gentleman support a proposition for free hides coupled with a reduction on leather products?" asked Mr. Gardner of Massachusetts.

"So quick it would make your head swim," replied Mr. Clark. Speaker Cannon had taken a seat directly in front of Mr. Clark, who, looking directly at the speaker, said:

"The newspapers say President Roosevelt and Speaker Cannon have entered into a modus vivendi by which the speaker will permit or facilitate railroad rate legislation during this session if the president will not send in a measure in favor of tariff revision."

"Does the gentleman believe that statement?" asked Mr. Grosvenor after the laugh had quieted. "I am not on the witness stand," was the answer, "but President Roosevelt entered into a modus vivendi with President Morales of Santo Domingo, and Morales has taken to the woods, modus vivendi and all."

Asserting that the attitude of Germany and other European nations on the tariff question mean a general tariff war against the United States, Mr. Clark said it also meant that the price of products in the Mississippi valley would at once depreciate in value.

When Mr. Clark asserted that the Dingley bill was not producing enough revenue to run the government he brought Mr. Grosvenor and Mr. Payne to their feet with denials.

"It is producing a deficit of $1,000,000 a day," declared Mr. Clark. Then, turning to Mr. Grosvenor, he shouted: "Now I want to ask you a question: Are we going to have any river and harbor bill this year?"

Mr. Grosvenor at first asserted that he did not know, whereupon Mr. Clark pictured him for the amusement of the house as one of the "great triumvirate of the house."

"It consists of the speaker, Mr. Dalzell and Gen. Grosvenor," Mr. Clark declared.

When Mr. Payne arose Mr. Clark held out his hand and said:

"Now, I want to ask you a question: 'Are we to have a public building bill this session?'"

"I don't know."

"Well, why don't you?"

"Because I am not interested."

"That's just it. You have got yours." (Laughter.)

Talks to "Kindergartners"

Mr. Clark then addressed himself to the "kindergarten" members of the house, and advised them to take notice. If there was necessity for an appropriation to carry on river and harbor work already begun it might be had, but not a cent for new work on public buildings.

An exhaustive refutation that the present prosperity was due to the Dingley tariff was made by Mr. Clark. Led by questions from Mr. Grosvenor to review the monetary campaign turning to Mr. Grosvenor, he shouted: "Now, I want to ask you a question: 'Are we to have a public building bill this session?'"

"I don't know."

"Well, why don't you?"

"Because I am not interested."

"That's just it. You have got yours." (Laughter.)

Chinese Are Welcomed

Distinguished Orientals Given a Cordial Reception by Public Officials at Honolulu

By Associated Press.
HONOLULU, Jan. 5.—The steamer Siberia arrived here today bringing a party of fifty-nine Chinese, including two commissioners of the emperor of China. They are en route to the United States and other principal countries of the world to study industries and political conditions.

Secretary Root cabled Governor Carter several days ago requesting that the distinguished Chinese visitors be shown courtesies. They were received by the officers of the national guard and escorted to the consulate. The commissioners called on the governor at noon and were received by him, assisted by a delegation of prominent local business men.

This afternoon Judge and Mrs. Dole gave a reception at their residence in honor of the visitors.

The Chinese commissioners are vice-royalty at Canton and Peking and many of the members of the party are young men who will be placed in American educational institutions or in commercial positions.

The Siberia, with the members of the Chinese party, will continue on its trip to San Francisco tomorrow.

FINED FOR HIS LAZINESS

Everybody Works in the Lowder Family but the One Who Should Support It

Special to The Herald.
ST. LOUIS, Jan. 5.—On the complaint of Mrs. Dudley Lowder of Alton, her husband, who is on a warrant charging him with being lazy, slothful and indolent. The man was fined $100, and being unable to furnish the money was sent to jail. He seems well satisfied with his altered condition.

"My husband is good to me," Mrs. Lowder said to Judge Rose, "but he won't work. He is so good natured that I can't get angry at him, but when he is not doing anything he is at home cracking jokes, while I take in washing. There has not been an ounce of fuel in the house for weeks and the children support themselves when they should be in school."

"I know he is a good man," Judge Rose said, "but I thought our marriage would be an inspiration to him. He did work for awhile, but he is lazier than ever now. I got him a job last week, but the first night he did not get up and I had to get up for him. He was not working overtime."

MUST PROVIDE FOR HUSBAND

Woman Ordered to Give Property to Man She Divorced After Poetic Wooing

Special to The Herald.
CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Adolph Hintz, "basement poet and philosopher," today won his fight for possession of part of his wife's property, when Judge Gary decided he was entitled to a half interest in his divorced wife's $35,000 home.

The court's decision settles a remarkable case. Hintz, an eccentric character, won his wife, a wealthy widow, through an ode he composed. Hintz's poem recited his alleged qualities, and called upon women to avail themselves of a bargain husband.

Shortly after his wedding, however, divorce proceedings were brought by Mrs. Hintz. It was related that the wife, assisted by her daughter, threw Hintz into a bath tub and forced him to submit to a thorough cleaning.

Hintz claimed that at the time of the marriage his wife deeded half of the property to him, and Judge Gary sustained the contention.

GADET MARZONI PLACED ON TRIAL

MIDSHIPMAN UNDER CHARGE OF HAZING

Six Different Offenses Alleged Against the Annapolis Man—Many More Cases Are Yet to Come

By Associated Press.
ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 5.—The trial of Midshipman Peter B. Marzoni of Pennsylvania, a member of the first class, on the charge of hazing Midshipman Chester S. Roberts of Joliet, Ill., a member of the fourth class, began this morning after the record of yesterday's proceedings had been read.

The charge is supported by six specifications, each alleging a separate incident of hazing in which Roberts was the victim. Roberts was also alleged to have suffered in the incidents upon which are based all four of the specifications in Foster's case, the trial of which was completed yesterday.

Marzoni is being defended by George H. Mann, an attorney of New York city, who was a member of the class of '85, naval academy. No charge against any other midshipman has been filed as yet, but the academy authorities state that the court will be kept supplied with charges at the termination of each case for an indefinite period.

The first specification alleges the hazing of Chester S. Roberts by compelling him to perform "Number 16." Roberts is the same midshipman whom Foster accused of hazing. Second and third specifications allege that Marzoni hazed Fourth Classman Benjamin W. Tye of Atlanta, Ga., by compelling him to bring the accused's breakfast on different occasions. The last three charges are in connection with the alleged hazing of Midshipman Albert C. Bryant of Canton Bend, Ala., a fourth classman. They are that Marzoni compelled him to bring him his breakfast, stand on his head about twenty minutes and perform "Number 16" about fifty times.

Marzoni was brought before the court and introduced George B. Mann of New York as his counsel, who asked that the trial of the case be delayed until the opening of the court tomorrow, and the request was granted.

Still another midshipman involved in the hazing is Midshipman Louis Dean Causey of the first class. The charge of hazing Fourth Classman Bennett, with the various specifications, was served on Causey this morning, and his case probably will be taken up at the conclusion of Marzoni's case.

Young Causey, who is a son of W. J. Causey of Herwick, Miss., is one of the graduates of the academy. He holds the rank of first lieutenant, Tenth company, in the First Battalion of the brigade of midshipmen at the academy.

Court adjourned until tomorrow.

HAD POEM FOR PRESIDENT

Mrs. Morris Wanted to Read Him Verses on Subject of Insomnia

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Mrs. Minor Morris, who yesterday was ejected from the White House after insisting upon seeing the president, today is in a state of nervous collapse, it is reported. Inquiries sent to her, she said that although she felt keenly the humiliation to which she had been subjected, she proposed to allow the matter to drop. The further information was conveyed that her husband, Dr. Morris, will reach here tomorrow from Ohio.

Mrs. Morris was charged in the police court today with disorderly conduct. Instead of appearing for trial, however, she did not answer to her name and her husband, who was put up for her at the house of detention was declared forfeited.

In a statement made today by Assistant Attorney Barnes at the White House concerning the ejection of Mrs. Morris, he said that the president's mansion, Mr. Barnes stated that after Mrs. Morris' arrest she produced an envelope addressed to the president, which she asked to have delivered to him. The envelope was found to contain a lengthy poem on the subject of insomnia which she said was her own composition. She stated to the officers that she had not slept for seven nights past. The statement concludes as follows:

"There is no truth whatever in the statement made by many of this morning's papers that a negro laid hold of Mrs. Morris and assisted in carrying her. One of the colored messengers of the office followed the policemen and dropped the small articles as were dropped in the woman's struggle, but there was no other foundation whatever for the statement."

HEARING OF OIL SUITS IS BEGUN

ACTION TO OUST STANDARD FROM MISSOURI

Defense Demands That Testimony Be Taken in Long Hand and as a Result Only Two Witnesses Are Heard

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The taking of testimony in two suits brought by the state of Missouri to oust the Standard Oil company of Indiana, the Waters-Pierce Oil company and the Republic Oil company from Missouri and to prevent the carrying out of an alleged pooling agreement among the companies mentioned was begun here today before Frederick W. Sanborn, a special commissioner appointed by Governor Folk. Herbert S. Hadley, attorney general of Missouri, conducted the state's case and attempted to show from the witnesses introduced that the Waters-Pierce and Republic Oil companies were in reality but subsidiary concerns of the Standard Oil company, the Indiana business, which contacts the Standard's business in the west.

During today's hearing there were a number of lively tilts between opposing lawyers, one resulting in a demand by the attorneys for the defendant companies that the testimony be taken down in long hand by the commissioner. Attorney General Hadley agreed to this, saying he could remain at the hearing as long as any one else.

This tedious method of recording testimony permitted the examination of the Indiana witnesses today, some of these were E. L. Bedford, a receiver for the Standard Oil company, who refused absolutely to answer any questions involving the Standard Oil company's affairs. The other witness was A. V. Jockel, formerly a bookkeeper for the Standard Oil company, who said he was transferred to the Waters-Pierce Oil company's office at Oklahoma City without resigning his place with the Standard Oil company. He said he had been instructed to say the Waters-Pierce company was an independent concern, but declared that Waters-Pierce company barrels were filled with oil from Standard barrels.

Attorney General Hadley said he would report recalcitrant witnesses to the supreme court and allow that tribunal to deal with them. The hearing will proceed tomorrow.

CONFERENCE ON MOROCCO

Ambassador White and Minister Gummere Receive Instructions as to Course

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Ambassador Henry White and Minister Gummere have received from the state department full and final instructions for their guidance as representatives of America in the approaching Moroccan conference, which, it is understood, is to be held at Algiers, Spain, near Gibraltar. Custom forbids the advancement of these instructions in advance of the meeting of the conference, but it may be stated on authority that they were drawn with special reference to the attainment of two objects:

First, the maintenance of the open door in Morocco, and second, the discharge of good offices by this country directly in the conference to smooth away asperities and prevent the development of friction between France and Germany.

Fleet Going to Gibraltar

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The announcement that the second squadron of the North Atlantic fleet, in command of Rear Admiral Sigbee, will be at Gibraltar, which is near Algiers, at about the time when the Moroccan conference will assemble, has aroused interest here in diplomatic circles.

ALL DISCUSSING IRELAND

John Morley in a Speech Outlines His Plan for Effective Reform

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Jan. 5.—John Morley, secretary for India, speaking at Arbroath, Scotland, today said that personally he believed the only effective method of reform for Ireland would be an elective representative body, which would have control of Irish affairs under the direction of the imperial parliament.

Former Premier Balfour addressed his constituents at Manchester tonight, but had some difficulty in securing a hearing. His speech was frequently and noisily interrupted.

Ireland's fate in the present election fight is raising an interesting problem. While the Conservatives are doing their utmost to foment feeling in the country, the Liberal party, on the other hand, is also doing its utmost to foment feeling in the country.

LIBRARY BOARDS SQUABBLE

Two Organizations Appointed Under Different Regimes Fight for Balance of Power
Special to The Herald.
SAN DIEGO, Jan. 5.—The new board of library trustees named by Mayor Sehon and confirmed this week met for organization today, though Rev. C. T. Brown, one of the appointees, would not meet with the others. Sam Ferry Smith was elected chairman and Mrs. Davison secretary and librarian. All of the employees were retained. The other board, made up of two who held appointment under Mayor Frary—F. W. Stearns and L. A. Wright—will not battle for possession of the library itself nor hamper the working force of the library, but state that they will take an early opportunity to carry the case into the superior court and get a judicial decision as to the respective claims of the two boards.
