PIANO RECITAL IS SOCIAL EVENT

CONCERT AT BELASCO ATTRACTS SOCIETY LEADERS

Many Women Make Affair Occasion for Entertaining Their Friends. Miss Cohen's Playing Delights All—Social News

Society women and music lovers forgot all their pleasures yesterday afternoon in listening to the strains of beautiful music which a child brought forth from a piano.

Miss Gertrude Cohen's concert given yesterday afternoon at the Belasco theater was the affair of the day and many hostesses availed themselves of the opportunity to entertain their friends.

The talented young pianist, who is soon to leave for Europe to become a pupil of Paderewski, is worthy of the attention which the women bestowed upon her.

Miss Cohen has not been heard in Los Angeles for several months, as she has been residing in New York for this one concert. Her friends expected much of her, but they were not disappointed.

Her technique has improved wonderfully and she puts feeling into her playing worthy one many years her senior. Her program revealed careful selection and much study as well as undoubted talent.

Signor Domenico Russo, who assisted her, was a favorite in Los Angeles, and his fine tenor was heard to good advantage yesterday, as he was in excellent voice.

Following is the program: "Toccata and Fugue, D minor (Bach-Tausig); Sonata Appassionata, op. 57 (Beethoven); Gertrude Cohen; (a) Una furtiva lagrima, from opera "Elixir d'Amor" (Donizetti); (b) "Love Is All in All" (Frederick Stevenson); Signor Russo; (a) No. 27, No. 1 (Chopin); (b) Preludes, op. 28, Nos. 22 and 23 (Chopin); Intermezzo, op. 118, No. 2 (Brahms); Rhapsodie, op. 119, No. 4 (Brahms); Gertrude Cohen; (a) "Call Me Back (Denza); (b) "Because" (Guarneri); Signor Russo; (a) "Cittella (Sternberg); Dialogue (Tschalkowsky); Tarantella (Liszt); Gertrude Cohen; (Venezia e Napoli).

Many Box Parties Mrs. W. J. Scholl, who has taken a great interest in the concert and has aided Miss Cohen in every way, was one of those who had a box yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. W. Neuer entertained a party in her honor of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ralph, who is visiting Mrs. Neuer on her wedding trip, and her daughter, Mrs. Frank Larned, who is also here for a winter visit.

Mrs. Chapman and her daughters were seen in the Doheny box and Mrs. Hamburger entertained a party of six. Mrs. Mary J. Schaller had in a box with her Mrs. H. A. Wilson, Hart and Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Lot.

Mrs. Alexander G. Brodbeck entertained a party of eastern friends and in Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Bolstford's box Mrs. Bolstford, Mrs. M. L. Laus, entertained a party of young women.

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Birkel had as their guests Miss Maud Reese Davis, Tom Earl, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clifford Lot, Mr. Dewey, Miss Luckenbach and Mrs. Frankovsky.

Mrs. J. T. Fitzgerald and a party of friends occupied a box and Mrs. A. J. Scholl, Mrs. Christopher and Miss Mollie Dillon were seen in another.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Wadsworth Schirack had a party which included Mrs. Lewis Clark Carlisle, Mrs. Charles Treat, Miss Maud Elizabeth Richards and Miss Gall Cartmille.

Some of the handsomest afternoon gowns seen in theater this season were noticed yesterday afternoon.

Christen Card Club Mrs. R. W. Darby of 1354 West Thirtieth street entertained members of the Stratford Card club yesterday afternoon.

Very pretty prizes of hand-painted china, the work of Mrs. J. T. Neighbors, were given to Mrs. C. P. Nodie, who received first, Mrs. C. C. Goodrich second and Mrs. H. Gair third.

Mrs. J. T. Neighbors received the consolation prize. Pink flowers and an abundance of ferns served for decorations. A dainty luncheon was afterward served.

The card club is composed of members of the Stratford section of the Wednesday morning club. The club has recently been formed and yesterday's affair was given as a christening celebration. Members of other sections were among the guests.

The Shakespearian Club's Wednesday Morning club met in the morning in the club rooms at the East Side Congregational church and continued the study of Hamlet under the direction of Mrs. H. C. Gover. The music section met later in the day.

Mrs. Decker to Be Guest of Honor There is a treat in store for all club women who have been invited to attend the meeting of the Cliff Dwellers' association to be held at the country residence of the regent, Mrs. Frank Ogilvywood, at "Woodbowl," Alhambra, Saturday afternoon, February 3, at 3 o'clock.

The meeting will be in the nature of a garden party and reception given in honor of Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker, national president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Decker is a charter member of the National Cliff Dwellers' association and will speak on this occasion.

Carriage races at Granada avenue. The music section met later in the day.

Ruskin Club to Entertain Women of the Ruskin Art club are preparing for a reception to be given February 8 in the Ruskin club rooms. Mrs. Scholl is in charge of plans and the affair promises to be a delightful one.

Mrs. Marian Holden Pope addressed the club yesterday morning, giving a charming talk on art.

Luncheon for Eighty-five The Ethel club was the scene of a beautifully appointed luncheon yesterday afternoon, when Mrs. Joanna Murray Rodman and Miss Rodman entertained eighty-five guests.

In the reception room, where the hostess stood with members of the reception room, including Mrs. W. L. Venable, Arthur G. Wells, M. E. Evans, William T. Bishop, Wells Smith, Allan Balch, J. B. True of Pasadena, J. B. Manning, Carl Adam, Wesley Clark, Scott Helm, Charles Barrington, J. H. Bohon, Robert Weed, Miss Banning, Miss Russell and Miss Minor, ferns and other greenery were used exclusively in the decorations.

The hangings of this room are in red and the green formed a pleasing contrast. Luncheon was served at small tables on the second floor, where yellow blossoms and ferns were used. The flowers were arranged in silver and brass vases and contrasted beautifully with the hangings and furnishings of the rooms which are in yellow and various shades of brown.

For Bridal Couple

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Lacey of 690 South Burlington avenue were host and hostess last evening at a dinner party given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Heath, who are in Los Angeles on their wedding trip.

Mr. Heath is a son of Mrs. W. W. Neuer of 843 South Bonnie Brae street and he and his bride are Mrs. Neuer's guests. Covers were laid last evening for Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Neuer, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hutchinson, Mrs. Frank Larned, Mrs. Orestia Hines of Pasadena, Mrs. L. I. Ormsby, Mrs. Emma Rahm and Miss Louise Lacey.

Give Clever Play Graduates and teachers of the Cumnock School of Expression entertained their friends last evening with a presentation of Bronson Howard's drama, "Young Mrs. Winthrop," given under the direction of Miss Jane Butt.

Those who took part and the roles they essayed are: Miss Jane Butt; Alfred Likes, the role of Mr. Douglas Winthrop; Mrs. Winthrop, that of his mother, Mrs. Ruth Winthrop; Miss Lolla Von Ache, his wife, Constance Winthrop; Mr. Homer Donnell, Burton Scott; Mr. Max Parker, Herbert; Miss Eva Johnson, Mrs. Dick Chitwyn; Miss Wilamina Wilkes Edith, sister of Constance; Dr. Shelton; Dr. Melbanke; Miss Fern Palmer, Marie.

Silver Shower Mrs. Oliver P. Posey, Mrs. E. L. Primmer, Mrs. Edgar Swift, Miss Clara Heintz, Louise Payne, Jessie McFarland, Fannie Dexter and Edna Beckinsale were the guests at a silver shower given by Daughters of Christ church yesterday afternoon in the church parlors, corner of Twelfth and Flower streets. A delightful feature of the afternoon was a program of music and readings.

Monna Vanna is Powerful Miss Nance O'Neil in Title Role Pleads for Materlinck's Work

"Monna Vanna," Maurice Materlinck's powerful drama, was given a presentation last evening at the Mason opera house with Nance O'Neil in the title role.

Miss O'Neil, and in fact the members of the entire company, redeemed former failures last evening, and to those who saw them in Macbeth there were many pleasant surprises.

"Monna Vanna" was the play in which Nance O'Neil scored a success in Boston, and lovers of the drama were anxious to see it played here for the first time.

Miss O'Neil did not disappoint. The scene is laid in Italy at the close of the fifteenth century. Pisa is besieged and the people are starving when the captain of the soldiery of Florence sends word that if the wife of the commander of the Pisan garrison will come to his tent alone he will break the siege.

Against the wishes of the husband, Monna Vanna goes to save the people, and finds the captain to be a man who since his boyhood has held in his heart the image of a child he met in a garden. Day by day he has watched the image grow until his conception of Vanna is as the woman. He tells her of his love, and because of that he returns her to the castle unharmed. Her husband refuses to believe in her and she turns from him to her lover, releases him from the prison into which he is thrown and flees with him.

As Monna Vanna Miss O'Neil gives a performance which far surpasses anything else which she has given in Los Angeles. Her conception of the character is good.

The other principal parts are: Guido Colonna, commander of the Pisan garrison, John Glendinning; Marco Colonna, father of Guido, Mario Mori; Prinzivale, captain of the soldiery of Florence, Andrew Robson; Trivulzio, commissary of the Florentine republic, Guido Marjeroni; Borsio, lieutenant to Guido, Lawrence Griffith; Torello, lieutenant to Guido, Arthur Greenaway; Vedio, secretary to Prinzivale, Paul Seardon.

Hall is Opened The addresses were interspersed with music by the choir of the Sacred Heart church and an orchestra. Miss Mary Merrick, soprano soloist of the choir and one of the prominent young women of the parish, rendered a vocal solo.

Following the program a social time was enjoyed, the building being open for inspection.

The hall, which was opened last evening is the climax of extensive improvements carried out by Father McAuliffe in the parish, and is a substantial monument to his energetic work. The upper floor will be used for lodge rooms and has a large assembly hall, which will be used for the parish and social gatherings. The first floor will be used as store rooms, thereby making the property self-supporting.

As a preface to his lecture the bishop warmly commended the work accomplished in the parish and congratulated pastor and people.

A large number of Catholic men of Los Angeles acted as vice presidents of the evening, the reception committee being composed of active members of the parish.

WOMEN DRAGGED BY HORSE Victim of Accident at Fifth and Main Is Slightly Injured on Face and Arms

Mrs. E. Rippey of La Manda Park was knocked down and dragged several feet at Fifth and Main streets last evening by a horse and buggy driven by Axel Peterson of 440 Gladys avenue.

The victim was slightly injured, sustaining lacerations of the face and arms.

According to witnesses to the accident, Mrs. Rippey was crossing Main street at Fifth street when the horse suddenly plunged upon her. Her clothing was caught on the shaft and the woman was dragged for some distance. Mrs. Rippey was removed to a nearby drug store and later to her home.

$1.00 DAILY PRIZE

$1 merchandise order to the best letter written to the Office Boy each day.

I want to tell you about a kid chum of mine that's got a job as office boy over on Broadway. Now he certainly is a peach and he is going to be a member of the firm some day, sure. The first day he was on the job he saw the old man bending over a table looking at the directory. Sunny saw right away that something was wrong, and he didn't want to attract the stenographer's attention, so he slips up further and poked a note into the hands of the boss. The old man opened it and read:

"Honored Sir—Your pants is ripped. Get a new pair at Silverwood's. Their pants don't rip. Yours truly THE OFFICE BOY."

Don't forget that our annual clearance sale is on now. Now in progress $7.50 discount on suits—blue and black not included.

CONATY HALL IS FORMALLY OPENED

THE BUILDING IS BEAUTIFULLY DECORATED

Honored Bishop Delivers Most Entertaining Address Drawing Graphic Word Pictures of His Impressions Abroad

Conaty hall, corner Downey avenue and Daly street, the only parish building of the diocese of Monterey and Los Angeles, was formally opened last evening with elaborate exercises. Bishop Conaty, in whose honor the new building has been named, gave a lecture on "My Impressions Abroad," and in his strong and forceful manner took his hearers to the interesting sights in the old world, and in word pictures outlined the old cathedrals.

The hall had been elaborately decorated for the event. Two large American flags were on either side of the stage. Palms and cut flowers added beauty to the scene. The decorations were arranged by the women of the parish.

Joseph Mesmer acted as chairman of the evening and made a short address in which he commended the work accomplished by Rev. M. McAuliffe, the zealous pastor of the parish.

Father McAuliffe also made a brief address, in which he paid a graceful compliment to the bishop, after whom he had named the building.

Hall is Opened The addresses were interspersed with music by the choir of the Sacred Heart church and an orchestra. Miss Mary Merrick, soprano soloist of the choir and one of the prominent young women of the parish, rendered a vocal solo.
