ONLY ON STAGE WILL HONOR BE MISS DUNKLE'S

Promising Pupil in Dramatic School Goes in Manager Morosco's Company in Viola Allen's Success at the Burbank

Manager Morosco has engaged Miss Marie Dunkle for the part of Countess De Baume in the production of Viola Allen's success, "In the Palace of the King," and the young woman will make her first appearance before a Los Angeles audience tomorrow afternoon when the first performance of the piece will be given.

Miss Dunkle is an advanced pupil of the Leo Cooper School of Dramatic Art. For the past six months the young woman has been under the personal direction of the veteran Shakespearean actor.

Leo Cooper heard that Manager Morosco needed a young, good-looking woman for the role of Countess De Baume and the theatrical manager was invited to witness one of the performances given at the school with the result that he selected Miss Dunkle for the part.

Her advent with the Burbank organization will be watched by her instructor and class mates, for she creates a favorable impression with the small, though important, role given her, she will doubtless be offered a better opportunity with the company.

Miss Dunkle is young, good looking, possesses a pleasing voice and a splendid figure.

Krauss Quartet to Be Feature

The fifth of the Lott-Rogers concert will be given on Thursday evening, April 19, by the Krauss quartet. Mr. Krauss' quartet has been organized several years with but slight change in its personnel. The work at Mrs. Coleman's concert in Pasadena has been of such high order that Mr. and Mrs. Lott hope to receive enough encouragement at this concert to guarantee the engagement of these artists for their concert next season.

CHAIN GANG CONFRONTS HIM

Wife Beating Again Gets M. Bruce Into Trouble With the Police

M. Bruce, arrested by Patrolman Denman Wednesday night, was tried before Police Judge Chambers yesterday on the charge of battery and was given the alternative of paying a fine of $50 or doing fifty days on the chain gang.

According to the police, Bruce has been arrested several times on the same charge.

The particular charge against Bruce yesterday was the beating of his wife some days ago.

"SNOOKERS" IS THE LATEST

Coined by the New York Mayor Who Would Like to Snook a Bit Himself

NEW YORK, April 6.—New York's political lexicon has acquired a new word. It is "snook," and it refers to newspaper attack or ridicule. It was used by Mayor McClellan on Saturday night while he was talking with a group of his friends, including the reporters and Representative Samuel W. McCack at the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick dinner at Delmonico's.

Half a dozen reporters sat facing the mayor just as the speeches were about to begin. Mr. McClellan, who was in a pleasant frame of mind, was telling stories.

"How'd you like to be back in this game?" asked one reporter, referring to the mayor's early training as a newspaper man.

"Well," replied the mayor, smilingly, "I've been snooked by snookers so much recently that I'm beginning to wish I were a snooker once more myself and snook a little against the snookers who're snooking me." Then he laughed.

"Why not jolly them a bit?" suggested Mr. McCack.

"I'm not proficient enough in the art," retorted the mayor with a grin. "That's a science on which the Talleyrands and Machiavellis of Washington must have a monopoly."

Yarde-Buller Gets $20,000

By Associated Press.

OAKLAND, Cal., April 6.—A decree ordering the final distribution of the $80,000 estate of the late Lady Mary Leilah Kirkham Blair Yarde-Buller, was signed today by Judge Melvin Ralph Kirkham Blair of Alameda, the only child of the deceased, will get three-fourths of the estate, and Captain Yarde-Buller of the British army, who makes his home in South Africa, will receive one-fourth. This division is the result of a compromise.

TELLS BY THEIR SLEEP

"I can tell by my little ones' sleep when a cold is coming on," said a mother when speaking of the advance symptoms of colds in children. "They toss about, are restless, their breathing is heavy and there are symptoms of night sweats. The next morning I start with Scott's Emulsion. The chances are that in a day or two they are all over it. Their rest is again peaceful and the breathing normal."

Here's a suggestion for all mothers. Scott's Emulsion always has been almost magical in its action when used as the ounce of prevention. Nothing seems to overcome child weakness quite so effectively and quickly as Scott's Emulsion.

DUN'S REPORT TELLS OF BIG INVESTMENTS

Southern California Is Decidedly Prosperous, the Well-Timed Rains Adding to Her Prospective Crop Profits

R. G. Dun & Co.'s monthly review of trade conditions for March in Southern California is as follows:

"Crop outlook continues good throughout this section. Rain was abundant and well timed. Never has the situation looked better to farmer and orchardist. All mercantile business has good tone. The rush of the tourist season is now on the decline. It has been the heaviest season Southern California has ever known. Not only has the presence of the tourist been felt in general trade channels, but also in the real estate market. Tourists this year have given proof of their appreciation of Southern California's future by paying thousands of dollars in real estate here for investment and future home sites.

The orange market continues strong, the demand is good and supply and distribution have been about right to make profitable prices. Returns have been given by good authority as about 75 per cent in advance of last season. Heavy cash buying still continues. About 3500 carloads of navel are still on the trees. The seedling market has not yet opened. There is a good speculative demand at $1.60 and $1.70 spot cash. There is a very active interest in valencias. Shippers are not quoting prices. It is generally conceded that they will come high this year. It is reported that some have been contracted at 35c and 4c a pound on trees.

Lemons High Lemons are going out at the rate of about twenty carloads a day. The trade is good for this season of the year and California product brings top prices. As the supply of summer lemons from this section this year will be light, and importations of lemons from Mediterranean districts will be 300,000 boxes short for the year, it is predicted that July and August will see the highest prices ever paid for this fruit.

In the cured fruit market quotations generally remain unchanged. The offers of the Packers' association and the California Cannery's company to make a 34c a pound rate for this year's crop of raisins have destroyed any hopes of a successful pool by the raisin growers. Co-operative work in raisin marketing by growers seems to be difficult. Spot market is dull. It is believed summer prices for 2500 tons still remaining in the state will be firm. Interest just now is directed to 1906 fancy seeded crop, although it is early for business in futures. It is said that packers are turning down orders at 6c f. o. b.

Wine Men Jubilant Wine makers are jubilant over the passage of the Needham bill taxing proof brandy. It will advance the price of California stock of sweet wine now on hand.

The bean market is easy. About 150,000 sacks are still in warehouses, but will be out before new crop comes. Santa Barbara and Ventura have put in about the same acreage; Los Angeles and Orange much larger than last year. There is a lighter planting of pinks, as they have been a drug on the market.

A bumper crop of sugar beets is assured, the acreage in this section being the largest ever planted. The three factories will run full capacity and the campaign will be one month longer than usual. It is believed the output will reach a little over 1,000 million pounds. Copious rains have weakened the honey market. Prices, while remaining practically the same, can be shaded. Oil industry is getting into good shape. The demand now equals the supply and the price is advancing. Locally trade is exceedingly good, especially in building and construction lines. Permits for the month passed in value the two million dollar mark.

Failures for month 21. Liabilities $74,000, assets $44,000; same month last year 16 failures, liabilities $51,000, assets $18,400.

ENABLING LAW MAY SOLVE IT

CONSOLIDATION IS NEARER FOR LOS ANGELES

Commission Expects to Draw Up Bill Embodying Right of a Free Holder's Charter

The sentiment that appeared to imbue the members of the city and county consolidation commission, which met in the chamber of commerce last night, was that it will not be necessary to introduce a constitutional amendment into the legislature for the purpose of securing the necessary powers of consolidation.

It is thought probable that a bill providing for an enabling law and embodying the right of a freeholder's charter will be all that is necessary to bring about the desired result.

At present, however, there is some doubt regarding the exact status of affairs.

The report of the committee on law and form of government was accepted by the commission. The boundaries committee had requested that some information be gathered as to what steps should be undertaken in compliance with the law in order to effect the proposed consolidation of the city and county governments.

The committee appointed was unable to find laws sufficiently broad to cover such a consolidation and referred to section 7, article II of the constitution, which says in part:

"City and county governments can be merged into one municipal government with one set of officers, and may be incorporated under general laws, providing organization of corporations for municipal purposes."

The committee instanced that the way to bring about such a consolidation was evolved in the portion of the section, "May be incorporated under general laws, etc."

The efforts of the committee since the last adjournment have been directed in search of such a general law, but the members were unable to find the desired enactment in the statutes of the state.

The nearest approach was found in section 8 of the statutes of 1883, which provide that "two or more contiguous municipal corporations may be consolidated into one after proceedings as required in this section."

Not a Corporation

The committee was unable to proceed under the section because of the fact that Los Angeles is not a municipal corporation.

The committee moved that a bill be prepared and submitted at the next meeting for introduction into the legislature, providing a general law for the consolidation of city and county governments in accordance with the provisions of section 7, article II of the constitution.

The members of the committee are: H. C. Dillon, John G. Mott, M. K. Young, Walter Haas and Oscar Mueller.

Further consideration of the subject will occur at the next meeting of the commission, April 27.

INVALID TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

GERMAN BOOKKEEPER GROWS DESPONDENT

Wife of Charles Krulisch Nearly Demented With Grief When Husband Shoots Himself Through the Heart

Charles Krulisch of Denver, a German, 43 years old, shot himself through the heart yesterday afternoon in the cellar of the rooming house, 841 Sunset boulevard, where he had been living with his wife the past four months. The deed was induced by despondency resulting from brooding over ill health.

Krulisch had been suffering from nervous prostration for a long time. It was to benefit his health the couple came here from Goldfield, after having traveled from place to place in the west.

There was no one in the house excepting the wife at the time he took his life. The landlord and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hamilton, had gone out to attend a meeting in Temperance temple. Krulisch left his wife in their apartment on the first floor and went to the rear of the house. He had been gone half an hour when she became alarmed at his long absence and went to seek him. She found him lying dead in the cellar, far up in one corner, and the revolver with which he had taken his life on the ground by his side.

Mrs. Krulisch's cries brought passers by to the house and she was found sitting on the ground with her dead husband in her arms, calling to him hysterically. The body was taken to Garrett Bros' undertaking establishment, where it will be held until after the inquest.

But little is known of the affairs of the dead man. The couple have had no relatives or friends in the city as far as is known. They kept very much to themselves and did not try to make any friends. From the landlord it was learned that Krulisch was an expert bookkeeper but had not been working regularly since coming to the city.

WILDCATS ATTACK MEN

Thrilling Fight for Life Ends by Driver's Knife Thrusts—Engineer's Dreadful Sprint

CORRY, Pa., April 6.—To be seated in a buggy behind a runaway horse, battling for his life with a wildcat, was the experience of Harvey Jackson, a traveling man from New York. Yesterday afternoon, while he was driving from Irvineton to Youngsville, the rig was passing a lonely stretch of woods, when the beast sprang into the vehicle from a tree, alighting on the driver's lap.

The wildcat tore the robe to pieces and attacked Jackson. He drew a small knife and managed to open it. While the cat was tearing his face and body he jabbed it with his weapon.

The horse had become frightened and was running away, while in the swaying buggy the battle continued.

Jackson was gradually growing weaker, but suddenly the cat dropped to the bottom of the buggy, dead. He had killed it with the knife.

The horse ran almost to Youngsville before Jackson recovered and stopped it. Although badly hurt, the man will recover.

HAD A MANIA FOR MEDICINE LETTER CARRIER'S WIFE ASKS FOR DIVORCE Woman on Route Presents Him With Quantity of Nostrums and Trouble Ensues—Refuses Cough Syrup for His Baby

Accusing her husband of having used his money for the purchase of patent medicines instead of supplying food for his family, Mrs. Lou Arnold is suing Harold Arnold, a letter carrier, for divorce before Judge Wilbur in department eight of the superior court.

The evidence in the case was completed yesterday and attorneys representing both parties will present their arguments to the court Monday.

The Arnolds were married in Los Angeles in 1891 and have one child, a little girl, 10 years of age. Two years ago the husband is alleged to have deserted his wife, but the same charge is brought against the woman by her husband on cross complaint.

Mrs. Arnold's mother proved the chief witness in defense of her daughter.

"I did not exactly know the nature of the trouble between my daughter and my son-in-law," testified the mother, "but I know that Mrs. Arnold left her husband for some reason which she refused to explain and that since that time she has been taking in sewing for a living. Up to the time of the separation I had been living at my own home, but when Arnold was left alone I went to live with him and took care of the child.

Bought Medicines "At first everything was pleasant and Arnold allowed me twenty dollars a month for the support of myself and the little one, but we soon began to have trouble, for Arnold bought great quantities of patent medicines and told me to give the stuff to the baby.

"On one occasion he was dressing to go to the theater and the baby had the croup and he refused to go and get cough syrup for the child. The next day he told me he had met with a great good fortune, since one of the women on his letter route had presented him with ten dollars worth of patent medicines. I became disgusted then and we had little arguments from that time on.

Mrs. Arnold took the stand in her own defense and told how her husband had humiliated her until she was forced to leave him, and how he accused her of every breach of marital trust he could think of.

Toward the close of the evidence the details were of such character that the spectators were excluded from the court room.

The case was finally continued for further hearing.
